

WHITE GOOD MAN FOR ALL-INDIANA

Only Earlham Player Who Has Made a Good Record
This Season.

SEASON NOT A SUCCESS.

QUAKERS SUFFERED FIVE DEFEATS AND WON BUT TWICE—SEVERAL MEN INJURED EARLY IN SEASON.

By Tort.

Earlham closed its football season Saturday with a record of two victories and five defeats, one of the most lamentable records a Quaker team has made in several years. Earlham's opponents scored a total of 116 points while the Quakers were scoring 32 points. This shows that the Quaker offense was as weak as its defense. The following is the list of games, in the order played, and their results:

Earlham, 6; Antioch, 0.
Earlham, 0; Purdue, 40.
Earlham, 17; Franklin, 9.
Earlham, 6; Wittenberg, 9.
Earlham, 0; Butler, 31.
Earlham, 4; Rose Poly, 26.
Earlham, 0; DePauw, 10.

At the start of the season, Earlham had some good material for Vail to use in building up a crack football machine, but hard luck butted into the game and several of the stars were forced to quit the game and retire to the armory for the remainder of the season. Gaston was dropped for failure to keep up in his studies. Captain Harrell was crippled over half the season. Hancock and Lawrence were out all season and Bruner's record was about the same.

The weakest place in the entire Quaker team was at quarterback. Hill handled the ball nicely, C. Jones did likewise and also handled punts well, but neither of them was a field general and poor judgment in running the team was costly, as instanced by the DePauw game last Saturday.

Vail developed one star that deserves a place on the All-Indiana eleven. White is the name of this player. He is a hard tackler, plays an aggressive game in the back field, is a good sprinter, has plenty of nerve and is a punter who has no superiors in the state and not more than one or two equals. But for White's reliable toe, the total number of points rolled up against Earlham this fall would have greatly exceeded 116. White is also a fairly clever drop kicker. His one weakness is handling punts. Last spring White had the distinction of being the best college pitcher in the state.

EXPECTS A BATTLE

Olson Writes That a Triumph
Over Turk Will Be Hard Earned.

HARD COURSE OF TRAINING.

Charley Olson says he expects to have a hard match with the Turk tomorrow night and that he was lucky to win the first one he had with him. The Palladium today received the following communication from Olson, who is at Indianapolis.

"I expect a hard match with the Turk Wednesday and I am getting in the best possible shape. I did eighteen miles on the route yesterday. I have been told by a Chicago friend that the Turk has been in Chicago training with one of the best men in the business to gain speed and if he has improved any I will have one hard match—but I will be ready."

"The Turk beat me a fall the last match and I was glad when the match was over for I was all in, and was lucky to get away with it."

Manogoff is now in the city and is in excellent condition for the match. He has been doing several miles of road work for the past week.

BRUSH DIES AT MICHIGAN HOME

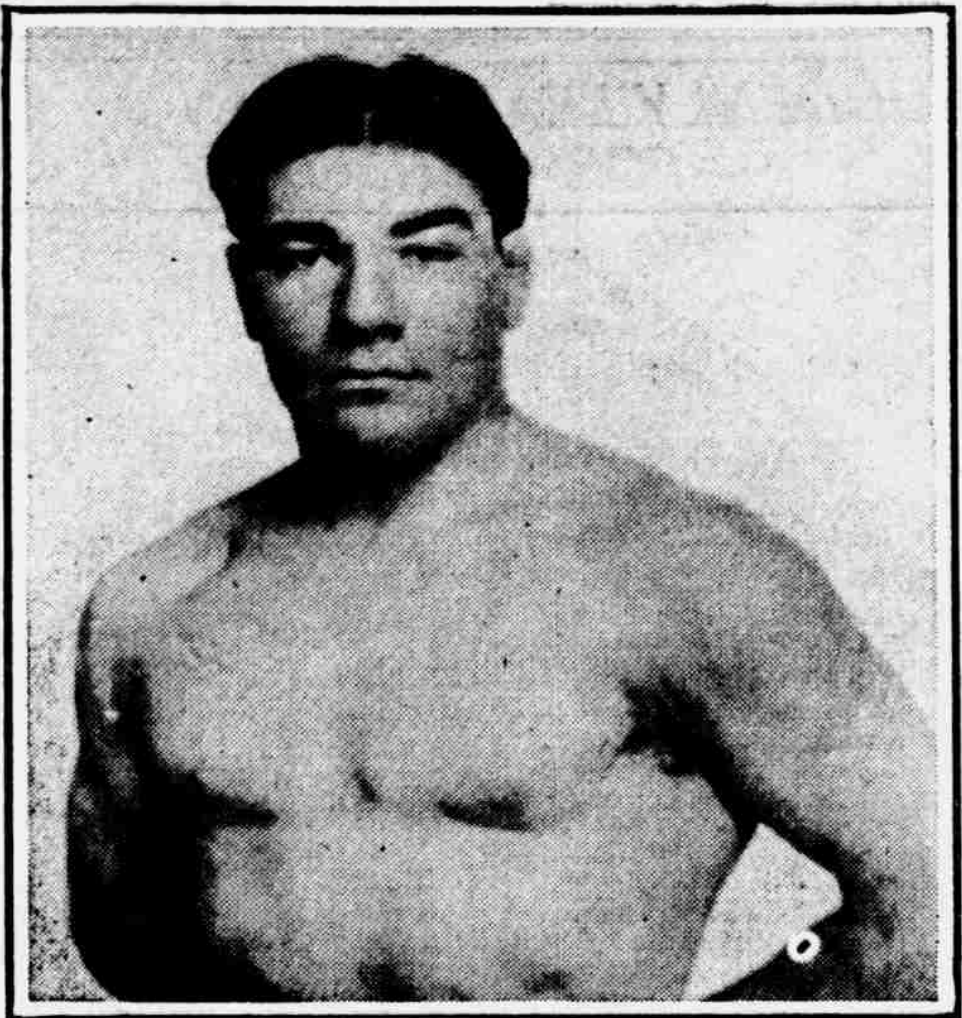

Was Former Resident of Richmond.

The funeral of Joseph Brush, formerly of this city, was held at Tecumseh, Mich., today. The Brush family resided in this city until a few months ago, when Mr. Brush disposed of his property and moved to Michigan. He had been in poor health for some time. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Miss Stella and Mrs. O. C. Krone of this city. The deceased was a veteran of the Civil war and was well known in this city.

HELD TO COURT.

Sherman Wilson, the negro stranger arrested yesterday afternoon, has been held to the circuit court under a charge of larceny. He is accused of the theft of a suit of clothes and hat belonging to John Bryant, colored. The outfit was sold to a second hand dealer.

Will Try to Wrest Light Heavyweight Honors from Olson

THE TERRIBLE TURK.

The wrestling bout between Charley Olson of Indianapolis, and the Terrible Turk will be pulled off at the Coliseum tomorrow night and it is expected to be the best match yet scheduled. The Turk says he is in good physical condition and expects to win over the Indianapolis lad.

Affairs of the Sporting World

By Tort.

Headquarters for all local lovers of sport will be located tomorrow night at the Coliseum. Messrs. Olson and Manogoff will settle a little dispute there. All their friends are invited to witness the proceedings.

Football togs have been wrapped in moth balls and laid along side the base ball spangles, wrestling, amateur polo and indoor games of various sorts in the Y. M. C. A. gym (when it is completed), will occupy the limelight.

It is reported that Captain Harrell of the Earlham team cried Saturday when the game was over. The proper time for him to have burst into tears was when Quakerback Jones called a forward pass on Deauw's twenty yard line.

With the close of each base ball season the talk of big deals springs up. It has already done so this year. Now the gossip is running in just the opposite channel. According to the latest rumors several of the big league teams are to stand pat. Reports state that this is especially true of the four leading teams in the American League—Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis. The managers and owners appear to be pretty well satisfied with their respective personnel as they now stand.

When the National League holds its annual meeting next month it will not be at all surprising if Barney Dreyfuss is in absolute control of the situation. Since the death of Frank De Haas Robinson, owner of the St. Louis club, negotiations have been under way for the sale of that club to a syndicate supposed to be headed by Dreyfuss. It is said that the Cellas, once interested in St. Louis race tracks, are ready to buy the St. Louis club for $200,000 cash, but that the other National League clubs, together with the entire American league, are opposed to such a deal. If Dreyfuss's syndicate gets hold of the Robinson outfit Barney will be a big factor in the old league's councils, as he owns the Pittsburgh club, has stock in the Boston and Philadelphia clubs and is closely allied with Brooklyn and Chicago.

A stray rifle bullet brought injury to George Lloyd, 521 South Sixth street, while hunting Sunday afternoon near the Test farm, south of the city. The person who fired the shot is unknown. Lloyd was struck in the calf of the leg. He attempted to walk home, but fell from weakness. He was found by a party of friends and removed to his home. A physician was summoned and it is not believed the injury will prove serious, unless complications ensue. Lloyd is an employee of the Robinson factory.

RUEF DESIRES A CHANGE OF VENUE

Declared Hearing in San Francisco Cannot Now Be Impartial.

OPERATION IS PERFORMED.

HENEY, THE PROSECUTOR, WHO WAS SHOT DOWN BY MORRIS HAAS, IS RECOVERING. BULLET HAVING BEEN REMOVED.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 17.—Special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney, who was shot down by Morris Haas on Friday during the trial of Abraham Ruef on one of the numerous counts charging him with bribery, underwent an operation for the removal of the bullet, which had lodged in the left lower maxillary. The operation was in every way successful, and it is stated that Mr. Heney's condition is satisfactory.

No Signs of Complications.

Mr. Heney stood the operation well, rallying from the effects of the anesthetic quickly and without sign of weakness or shock. The most careful watching has failed to disclose any sign of complication, and there is every reason to believe Mr. Heney's recovery will be both rapid and complete.

Mrs. Heney, who has been most devoted to her husband since he was struck down, remained at the hospital during the operation, several friends and relatives keeping watch with her. She expressed great relief when the successful outcome of the work of the doctors was made known to her, and resumed her place at her husband's side.

The inquest over the remains of Morris Haas, Mr. Heney's assailant, who committed suicide at the county jail Saturday night, was held today. The mystery surrounding the manner in which Haas secured or concealed the derringer with which he ended his life has created friction in the police department.

Ruef Wants Change of Venue.

The trial of Ruef on the charge of bribery, was resumed, but affidavits were presented setting forth that it would be impossible to secure an impartial trial in the present state of public opinion. The plea for a change of venue resulted in a continuance until today, when the prosecution submitted counter affidavits.

Never before in the history of this city had such police precautions been taken to safeguard a court as when Ruef was brought to the bar Monday. Ten policemen on foot and six mounted men were on guard in front of the court room, and the streets for a block on either side of the building were patrolled. Every person entering the building was scrutinized and many were stopped half a dozen times before reaching the entrance. In the corridors were stationed six policemen and inside the courtroom half a dozen detectives were placed.

DASHES FOR LIBERTY

Elmer Griffin Removes Overcoat and Escapes Officer of Law.

LAD IS NOT RECAPTURED.

Defly removing his overcoat while his captor held his hand in its pocket, Elmer Griffin, broke free and secured his liberty at Main and Fifth streets this afternoon. His captor was Agent McKenzie of the Indiana Reform School for boys, Griffin, who was out of the reform school on parole had been turned over to McKenzie at police headquarters only a few minutes before. The boy has not been retaken and is expected to leave the city.

Griffin was under arrest as an accomplice in the robbery of the O'Brien buggy Saturday night. The Home authorities were notified and sent McKenzie to return the boy to the institution. The lad had bade his father goodbye and was standing at the corner with McKenzie awaiting an inter-urban car. Not anticipating any surprise McKenzie simply had his hand thrust in the pocket of the boy's overcoat. The lad extricated himself from his coat and in an instant was fleeing North on Fifth street. McKenzie, who is aged, was no match for the fugitive. He called for help but none came and Griffin is at liberty. The boy's father claimed his overcoat from McKenzie and the Home attaché returned to Plainfield this afternoon minus boy and coat.

The Griffin lad has been mixed up in a number of petty affairs. His penchant is stealing and the police class him as an expert. This morning he lay on the floor of his cell and sobbed out his agonies, claiming he did not want to return to the home. The police claim he is too old to be under the jurisdiction of the Home and that to keep him away from Jeffersonville his age has been lied about.

Dick—You got engaged last week, old chap, didn't you? Frank—Yes, my boy, but that's all off now. Dick—Why? Incompatibility of temper? Frank—Not at all; rather the reverse. She advised me to practice economy, and I started by getting her an imitation gold ring!

"OPEN THE BOOKS" CRY IS NOTICED

Investigation of County Records to Be Made in Henry County.

BOARD HAS BEEN SELECTED

CONSISTS OF TWO REPUBLICANS AND TWO DEMOCRATS—RECORDS FOR SIX YEARS TO BE EXAMINED.

New Castle, Ind., Nov. 17.—An expert investigation of the books of the county officers, who have been in service for the past six years has been ordered by the county commissioners. The county council has appropriated $1,000 to defray the expense. Claims have been made frequently in recent months that everything in connection with the books of the officials of this county are not as they should be. The books will be audited for only six years, as this is the limit allowed by law.

A non-partisan board composed of two democrats and the same number of republicans has been appointed to supervise the work of the investigation. The board is composed of W. S. Chambers, editor of the New Castle Democrat, W. H. Elliott, editor of the New Castle Courier (Republican), Ed Smith, democrat, and Lynn C. Boyd, republican. The commissioners have agreed to accept the report of the committee. Two men are to be appointed to sit with the board and receive the reports of the expert accountants.

LETTERS REVEAL GUNNESS SYSTEM

clions of Mr. Helgelein, and so he wrote again to Mrs. Guinness, receiving the following reply:

"Laporte, Ind., April 11, 1908.—Mr. A. K. Helgelein: Your letter I have received some days ago, but have not been able to answer in regard to your brother, Andrew. I have tried every which way to find some trace of him. The man who told me he is in South Dakota is named Lamphere, who worked for me for a while. He said he had heard it from some one he knew in Mansfield, and he also had probably told them about the $10,000. I knew right away that it was a lie. "But this Lamphere began to find so many wrong things to talk about until at last they arrested him, and they had three doctors examine him and see if he was sane. They found him not crazy enough to put in a hospital. But perfectly sane he is not."

Says Lamphere Stole Letter.

"He is now out under bonds and is going to have a trial next week, therefore, there is no foundation to the stories told, but one thing I am sure of is that he in one way or another has taken the letter from Andrew he had sent to me."

"Others have told me that Lamphere was jealous of Andrew and for that reason troubled me this way, but to me he did not say anything and I did not mention it to him when Andrew left. This Lamphere drank so much and I got the impression that he was not quite right, and others say the same."

"Andrew had sent to him a lot of money when he was here. Some of this I got for a mortgage which he had made over to him and a lot of cash money, but I do not think it was so much but he had a lot of checks, but as far as I know I think they were all payable to himself, and he had other valuable papers. I knew he had the mortgage he got from me and a lot of others, but I did not pay much particular notice to them and therefore did not know what they contained."

"He did not say anything to me in regard to the farm of creatures, but I think it would be best for you to sell the farm and creatures as soon as you can and come here in May. When Andrew comes up there again, which he no doubt will some time, be sure and do not tell him that I told you this or do not tell it to others either."

"Bella Guinness."

Text of Third Letter.

Following a third inquiry come this letter from the arch-murderer:

Laporte, Ind., April 24, 1908.—Mr. A. K. Helgelein: Your welcome letter I have received, for which I thank you. It is a wonder to me as well as for you as to where Andrew keeps himself. It is strange he should go away with his belongings. However, I will tell you all that I know, and you can be sure that I am telling you the truth. I cannot remember the accurate date he left Laporte, but it was either the 15th or 16th of January. My little daughter, 14 years old, took him to the street cars then. He went by way of Michigan City, as he had a desire to see that little town. He did not stay here more than a day. "Two or three days afterward I had a letter from him in Chicago, saying he had hunted for his brother but did not find him and that the next day he would look around the board of trade and see how it was, also to get track of his brother. If he could not find him he would go to New York and find out if he had gone to Norway. If such was the case I think he would go to Norway, too."

"That Lamphere was here and he probably took the letter, but that part of a letter which I spoke of we found in the barn door in the evening when he was around. I will send it to you. I recognize Andrew's writing and I think you do, too, and I believe that the letter was addressed to me, as I do not think Andrew would write to any other woman."

"I assure you I will do all I can if you will take a trip down here to see what we could do to find him, but I don't understand what keeps him away so long."

"Bella Guinness."

The following is a copy of the piece of letter referred to in the letter: "My Best Friend: I am well and the spring is here, as the snow is going fast. My creatures, most of them, slept outside yesterday and tonight without cover. The cows who have calves, I have them inside, also those who expect to 'calve' soon. I am happy every time I write you. I think I can come to you in the month of May."
