

JURY IS DISMISSED

Again County Is Put to Expense Because of Attorney's Acts.

GAY CASE IS POSTPONED.

Again the petit jury reported in the Wayne circuit court this morning and again it was dismissed without being used. Again a continuance of the case at bar was taken after a conference among the attorneys. Again the county must pay the jurors for their services not rendered and for the mileage as allowed by law.

The case of the State vs. Gay had been set for retrial today. It was continued upon the agreement of the attorneys. Judge Fox held out in his refusal to continue until the attorneys for the defendant induced the prosecuting attorney to postpone. John L. Rupe, one of the attorneys for the defense, informed the court he has to be at Indianapolis tomorrow. The prosecutor has to be at the capital city tomorrow also, so the case has been carried ahead on the docket.

As it now stands the Gay case is to be tried next Monday, if another case does not come up for trial. In that case there will be further continuance. Gay is charged with violating the liquor laws.

DENIES WITH FERVOR JOHNSON STATEMENT

Abattoir Company Not Insolvent, Says Officer.

Fred C. Jurgensen, general manager of the Richmond Abattoir company, resents with fervor the allegations made in the Wayne circuit court by attorney Henry U. Johnson yesterday to the effect the concern has been having financial difficulties. Mr. Jurgensen has written the Palladium in regard to the matter as follows: "As manager of the Richmond Abattoir company I want to say that this statement of Mr. Johnson's is without any foundation in fact and is wholly untrue. The Richmond Abattoir company has not considered going into the hands of a receiver under its present management; this company is not insolvent but on the contrary is absolutely solvent and is able to pay every dollar of its debts. The company is not embarrassed financially and under proper management never would have been. Further our accounts receivable from reliable parties are more than enough to cover our entire indebtedness. I refer any party as to the truth of my solvency and present satisfactory condition of the financial affairs of this company to the Union National bank of this city."

The suburbanite was showing his city friend about the village. "Nearly everybody here," said the suburban chap, "lives to be eighty or ninety." "Which would seem to prove that some people get their punishment right here on earth," rejoined the man from the city.—Chicago News.

MAILS INCREASE; MORE CLERKS EMPLOYED

Pittsburg-St. Louis Lines Do Big Business.

On account of the increased volume of mail on the Pittsburg-St. Louis line the employment of additional clerks has become necessary. The volume of mail has been increasing steadily, railway mail officials say, for some months, and it has been known that additional help would be necessary. Fifteen men who have been on the list of eligible candidates for appointment in the mail service have received commissions.

THE THEATER

HUMBAG THEATRE GOERS.

Howard Hunt Stock Company Proves To Be a "Frost."

Richmond theatre goers will patronize a good repertoire company, but those of the caliber of the Howard Hunt Stock company which opened at the Gennett theatre last night—never. The company is decidedly the poorest aggregation of its kind ever appearing in Richmond without an exception.

Last night a full house greeted the organization, if it can properly be termed an organization, but before the curtain had been run down on the first well, producing a play modern in every sense of the word, still retaining all the original intensity and interest found in the book. "Jane Eyre" is booked at the Gennett theatre Saturday matinee and night, Nov. 21.

Vaudeville—New Phillips.

It is a uniformly good bill at the New Phillips this week, presenting a pleasant variety and many novel features. The play, the whistler, the ventriloquists and the acrobats all are good.

"The Toy Detective," a plotless little piece, is nevertheless clever and full of first class humor, and some good music, spiced up with good act-act, several people left the theatre, and at the close of each succeeding act others left. Had Manager Sommers, who does the booking for the Gennett theatre, been present, he could not have helped but hung his head, ashamed to look in the face, the many humiliated people who were present last night.

The production was a conglomeration of unfinished actors, poor scenery and stage effects, and this, coupled with the constant prompting of the actors from behind the scenes, was more than any self respecting audience could bear. "It's rotten," was the general verdict passed upon the company and the play it presented last night.

Mrs. Swisher, resident manager of the Gennett today handed out an ultimatum to the manager of the company, stating if the matinee production was no better than the "feature" bill presented last night, he could take his troupe and baggage and move. As the company did not give much promise of meeting the requirements it was expected that the engagement in Richmond would be brought up short with the performance today.

If Manager Sommers of New York city sends nothing but the better repertoire to Richmond and a better class of plays throughout there need be no fear of poor patronage, but so long as cheaper companies are sent here, poor patronage is sure to result.

"Jane Eyre"—Gennett. Something entirely out of the ordinary is being offered by Rowland and Gifford in their new comedy drama success "Jane Eyre." The play has been written along modern lines, with bright dialogue, up-to-date comedy, compelling situations, powerful climaxes and a series of stage pictures exceptional in beauty and strength. The author, Peter G. Piatti, has done

ing. Charlotte Coate, Marguerite and company, who present it, are capable actors.

Ellis Graves, the negro whistler and imitator, is an unusually talented young man, with a good voice. His whistling especially in the two and three part music, was novel and entertaining.

Les Salueres Alberty's, European acrobats, hand and head balances have an entirely original act. Mr. Alberty is wonderfully agile and pulls off some very good stunts. Chief among these, is his act of balancing on his head and playing a long selection on the mandolin.

The ventriloquists, Gill and Aker, have left the trodden paths and have a new entertainment that made a great hit.

Moving pictures and the illustrated song are high class this week.

Ellery's Band—Coliseum.

Here are some Buckeye opinions of the music of the Ellery band which appears here this week at the coliseum: "The Ellery Band plays with a unity that bands rarely achieve. It is as if each instrument were but a separate tube of a great pipe organ and Di Girolamo a master organist."

So said the Canton "Repository" recently and Alice Browne's opinion expressed in the "State Journal" at Columbus is like unto it for the measure of its praise: "There is a flexibility, fluency and smoothness throughout which enraptures rather than distresses the ear." Ella May Smith, the well known musical critic of the Columbus Dispatch, expresses herself with even greater enthusiasm than the others. She writes: "With each succeeding evening, the programs of the Ellery band take on a new attractiveness. Criticism of this matchless organization is no longer in order. It merits only praise."

Big Fin Wonders Whether He Will Get From Taft His Costly Coat

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Friends of Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, will not be surprised if the papers of the Senator's native state publish an advertisement reading about as follows:

"Lost—At Fargo, N. D., on September 28, large fur-lined overcoat, valued at $175. Last seen in possession of William Howard Taft. Of little value to anybody except the owner. Finder will confer a favor by addressing Porter J. McCumber, United States Senator, Cincinnati, Washington, Atlanta and Hot Springs (Va.) papers please copy."

In the second week of his strenuous campaign for the Presidency, Judge Taft invaded North Dakota. He was accompanied by a cold wave that met him at Minneapolis. When Mr. Taft hinted that he had no garment to protect him from the cold, the local committee said they would see to it that he was provided with proper habiliments.

The County Chairman, however, was in despair until it happened to think of Finn Leech, a "bonanza farmer," whose ranch is only a few miles from Fargo. Finn weighs 340 pounds. The delighted County Chairman lost no time in getting in touch with Finn. "Did Finn have an overcoat?" Sure thing, and it was lined with mink and cost $175.

Ten minutes later the overcoat was in the hands of the County Chairman, and Judge Taft was tucked beneath its ample folds as soon as his train reached Fargo. Finn hasn't seen it since.

How is Your Digestion?

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today."

This great tonic and alterative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c. at A. G. Luken & Co. drug store.

A SERIOUS PROBLEM

Six Hundred Men in Reformatory Now Idle Because Of Recent Fire.

MANAGERS IN CONFERENCE.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Nov. 17.—The board of managers of the Indiana Reformatory reached here on the call of Acting Superintendent M. M. Barnard to consider reconstruction plans following the fire of Sunday. Nearly 600 men have been thrown out of employment. All are in their cells. This is one of the most serious problems the management faces. It will be at least March 1 before any work can be done toward rebuilding the foundry, even with anticipated assistance from the Legislature.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. A. G. Luken & Co.

MUST SELL ESTATE TO PAY DEBTS

Administrator Files Petition With Court.

A petition for an order to sell real estate to pay debts has been instituted in the Wayne circuit court by O. B. Fulghum, administrator of the estate of Ella N. Landis, deceased, against C. L. Landis, William A. Byers, et al.

THE NAMES OF STATES.

Majority of Them Were Handed Down From the Indians.

Do you know why your state was so named? Do you know that the majority of the states of the Union were named after the Indians? It is so. See the list:

Ohio is Indian and means "beautiful." Massachusetts, "about great hills." Utah, "mountain home." Texas, from the Indian word "teaches," which means "friends." Kansas gets its name from the Indians, and the word means "smoky waters." The word Wyoming comes from the Indian and means "broad valleys." Nebraska, "black water." Missouri, "muddy water." Iowa, "across." Wisconsin, "rushing waters." Illinois, from "Illini," which means "tribe of men." Kentucky, meaning "at head of river." Oregon, from War-e-gan, "beautiful water." Arizona means "uncertain," because of the desert land where the Indians found game scarce; therefore a journey through that portion of the country was uncertain. New Mexico was named after Mexico proper, and the word comes from "Mexiti" of the ancient Aztecs and signifies "god of war."

The Indians call great lakes "seas," and "seas" in Indian is "Michigan." Mississippi is named after the river which is so called by the red man because of its greatness in width and length. The word means "father of waters."

The two Dakotas were so named after the Dakota Indians, which at one time embraced an immense tribe, all the branches of the Sioux.

There are states which do not owe their names to the Indians. California is named after an imaginary island of Spanish romance; Nevada means "snowy." Colorado is so named because of the red granite and sandstone rocks which are everywhere in the mountain regions. Florida means flowers.

FACTS ABOUT FLAGS.

Significance of Various Colors and the Way They Are Used.

To "strike the flag" is to lower the national colors in token of submission. A "flag of truce" is a white flag displayed to an enemy to indicate a desire for a parley or consultation.

The white flag is also a sign of peace. After a battle parties from both sides often go out to the field to rescue the wounded or bury the dead under the protection of the white flag.

The red flag is a sign of defiance and is often used by revolutionists. In our naval service it is a mark of danger and shows a vessel to be receiving or discharging her powder.

The black flag is a sign of piracy. The yellow flag shows a vessel to be in quarantine or is the sign of a contagious disease on board.

A flag at half mast means mourning. Fishing and other vessels return with a flag at half mast to announce the loss or death of one or more of the crew.

Dipping the flag is lowering it slightly and then hoisting it again to salute a vessel or fort.

If the president of the United States goes abroad the American flag is carried in the bow of his barge or hoisted at the main of the vessel on board of which he is.

The president also has a flag—a blue ground with the arms of the United States in the center. This was first used in 1883 by President Arthur.

When a flag is displayed "with the union down"—that is, the flag reversed—it is a signal of distress and a call for assistance.

"Blanche is simply hopeless," said a lady who had been trying to teach a friend to play whist.

"Why?" asked her husband. "I began by asking her if she knew the value of the cards, and she said, 'Why, certainly—about a quarter a pack!'"—Exchange.

HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE

Not an imitation of older magazines. Stands on nothing but the interest, merit and better money's worth of the issue you get TODAY. It is ready, right NOW, to be judged—approved or condemned—in strictest comparison with the value of every other magazine you buy or know.

Here are only a few of the articles and stories, offered for your interest, in Hampton's for December. Which of these would YOU have put first if YOU had written this announcement?

O. Henry. One of the best and o-henriest stories he ever wrote. But the editors have offered a reward of $100.00 for the answer. You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

"The Muck-raking of Christmas." It's been a long time coming, but here it is . . . just about the way Tiny Tim would have written it . . . Anne Hard's story. You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

F. Hopkinson Smith. The best, sweetest, tenderest Christmas story he ever wrote . . . "The Little Gray Lady" . . . You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

Herbert Casson. A man who writes about big achievements, with a knowledge of "the inside of the inside." Tells about . . .

The Jews, and their Nation . . . facts about the practical, tangible growth of the Zionist Movement, and about its recognition by the Powers of Europe,—facts that will surprise you. You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

Charles Edward Russell, . . . who handles knife-edged facts and reasons, about as a surgeon handles his instruments . . . dispassionate, incisive, thorough. . . In the December Hampton's he tells of . . .

"The Passing of the Poorhouse:" . . . the weakness and the strength of the Old Age Pension idea as it is working out in actual practice today. No-matter what opinions you may have formed, by all means you should read what Russell tells. You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

Foraker—"Perverse Corpse"—You'll get a new idea of the good side, and the "other side," of the old fighter who has "buried the funeral party" every time. You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

Admiral Evans. . . . Another of his articles . . . with more of those sledge hammer truths about our Navy, and its management. . . . And some inside glimpses of the "Fight or Frolic" cruise around the world. You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

Mikado's Adviser Predicts War . . . General Viscount Jano Torio, Elder Statesman and Councillor of the Emperor, tells Richard Barry that the Struggle is Inevitable. You can't skip that . . . in HAMPTON'S.

BLIND TIGER CASE IS POSTPONED

Arthur Jones Escapes Arraignment Wednesday.

Owing to the absence of the prosecutor from the city tomorrow, the case of the State vs. Arthur Jones has been continued until Friday in the Wayne circuit court. The postponement was taken upon the agreement of the counsel. Jones is charged with violating the liquor laws under the "blind tiger" section of the statute.

Fish and Phosphorus.

"Ah, fish is a fine thing for the brain!" is a remark frequently heard and believed in, but any one who has studied the subject closely would not hesitate to denounce it as a fallacy.

In the first place, it is the phosphorus in fish which acts as the brain invigorator, and a man might eat a huge quantity of fish every day of his life and at his death the amount of phosphorus consumed, if it could be made visible, wouldn't be enough to tip a couple of matches. Are the northern tribes, who live principally on fish, famous for their brain power? Are our own fisher folk breeders of genius? Men of mark—poets, preachers, lawyers, warriors, philosophers and physicians—have emanated from all classes except that of fishing.

No: fish for the brain is a fallacy.—London Chronicle.
