LAW INEFFICIENT SAYS BONAPARTE

Declares People Must Cast Criminal Code If They Rule.

MUST PUNISH QUICKLY.

BENCH AND BAR CRITICISED FOR COUNTEANCING RIDICULOUS DELAYS WHICH INVARIABLY THWART JUSTICE.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 19.—Attorney General Bonaparte last night declared that American criminal law has many serious defects and must be remedied if the American people wish to rule. Mr. Bonaparte delivered his address as president of the National Municipal league, in session here.

Mr. Bonaparte answered Mr. Bryan's campaign slogan, "Shall the people rule?" by saying: "Yes, if and in so far as the people shall be in earnest in the wish and purpose to rule." He declared that the gravest and least excusable deficiency of our criminal law is found in its endless delays, and added that if the people shall demand prompt and unquestioning obedience to the people's laws and shall give this demand an ample sanction in swift, sure, and grievous retribution for all rebellious to those laws, the people's rule will be real.

"Why need there be a forestate of eternity," he asked, "between arrest and indictment, another between indictment and trial, and yet another between trial and actual punishment?"

Bench and Bar Partly to Blame.

This he answered by declaring that it is partly "because the bench and professional opinion among the bar tolerates all kinds of dilatory, frivolous, and often ridiculous proceedings on the part of the unscrupulous counsel, intended to cheat justice of her plain duty; partly because our lawmakers afford almost infinite facilities for review of judicial action to the criminal, although being stingy in allowing them to the government; but mainly because our laws show little sense of the value to society of a speedy administration of justice."

In beginning his address Mr. Bonaparte declared that the question "Shall the people rule?" is pertinent and of moment, because it implies a doubt whether "our form of government, our institutions, and our laws are such that the people's will is, in last resort, the decisive factor in all public problems." He stated that in dealing with the question it must be remembered that when a sovereign is made up of an immense number of individuals, "the mere ascertainment and expression of that sovereign's will is necessarily a cumbersome and intricate process." He declared further that "ever since the days of the three tallors of Tooley street," there has been much dispute as to what is or who are "the people."

Law Fails of Purpose.

The legitimate problems of the criminal law, he said, are two: First, to find out when and by whom the people's will has been disobeyed, and, second, to do deal with the one guilty of such disobedience that others, and ordinarily himself as well, may be taught to obey in the future. "As an instrument to these ends,"

SAYS RUMOR OF SEPARATION IS INCORRECT

MRS. THOS. F. RYAN.

New York, Nov. 19.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says: "Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, sitting in the drawing room of the handsome house which her husband purchased for her in Washington a few years ago, denied that there was any ground for the rumor that they are about to separate."

be given this evening in the Odd Fellows hall by the Ladies Auxiliary of Hibernians.

A euche party will be given this evening in the Odd Fellows hall by the Lady Maccabees. The game will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

he then declared, "I think American criminal law today in large measure fails of its purpose."

Mr. Bonaparte made the assertion that "of all the peculiarities of our modern criminal law which are helpful to 'undesirable citizens' and harmful to the public, in his opinion its gravest and least excusable deficiency is found in its endless delays."

Law Must Punish Quickly.

"We have small judicial districts," he said, "intermittent sessions of our criminal courts, judges sometimes overworked, sometimes indolent, prosecutors sometimes overburdened by their duties, sometimes politicians rather than lawyers. All this makes for delay, and all that makes for delay makes against the efficiency of the criminal law."

"When the people of an American state or the American nation decree death to whomsoever shall do this and this, and let the transgressor live for months and years while lawyers wrangle and juries disagree, and judges reverse each other, there is room for doubt and doubt in fact whether the state or nation does in truth mean business. That sovereign punishes with double efficacy and with triple certainty who punishes while the crime is rank and recent."

HEMENWAY EXPLAINS HIS FIRST DEFEAT

Says Indiana People Lost Sight of All But Temperance Question.

WILL STAY IN POLITICS.

SENATOR IS NOT CAST DOWN BY THE RESULT OF ELECTION AND SAYS PRESENT ECLIPSE IS ONLY TEMPORARY.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Senator James A. Hemenway, of Indiana, has arrived in Washington. The Senator is not cast down by the result of the election in the Hoosier State, which means his defeat for re-election. He takes the accepted view of the cause of Republican defeat in Indiana and said that the failure of the Republicans in the state does not mean his withdrawal from active politics. It was the first time since Senator Hemenway has been a candidate for any office that he has suffered defeat. He has gratification of knowing, he says, that his own county, normally Democratic, gave a Republican majority this year.

"The platform of the Democratic party in Indiana was satisfactory to the temperance Democrats," said Senator Hemenway "while the Republican platform was not satisfactory to the liberal Republican element; and this caused our defeat. The liberal Republicans were mad and refused either to vote or voted the Democratic ticket. The voters of the state lost sight of every other issue except the temperance issue, and the result shows that the people did not approve of the attitude of the Republican party on the temperance question. It is only a temporary eclipse."

Cab Hire.

The price that one pays for a taxi today is just a little different from what was paid for, say, the hire of a sedan chair in days of old. In the domestic accounts of "Miss Nell Gwyn" we read: "For chairing you to Mrs. Knight's and to Mrs. Cassell's and to Mrs. Churchill's and to Mrs. Knight's, 4 shillings. For chairing you yesterday and waiting eleven hours, 11 shillings 6 pence. Paid 13th Oct, 1675."—London Chronicle.

A Golfer's Tools.

One of the most striking features of modern golf is the variety of clubs used to persuade the ball into the hole. As a matter of curiosity I kept count of the different putters used by my partners and opponents in the course of a fortnight's play. The total number of species observed is over twenty.—London Post.

GREATEST POLITICAL GAME SOON TO BE PLAYED

Cannon, members fearing that if they opposed Cannon and he won in spite of the opposition they would be made to suffer. Such members are now being told that a firm stand against Cannon and a willingness to abide the consequences of non-success would make them stronger with their constituents than any number of postoffice or river or harbor appropriations. Take your stand in the open, they are urged, and if in punishment you have to return to your people empty-handed, you will be a hero. Then, continuing, the argument runs this wise: If you support Cannon and still fail to get that postoffice your districts expect, you won't have a leg to stand on when you come up for re-election. If you can tell your people that failure to get the postoffice was your punishment for asserting your manhood, you will have a w-a-y-over at the election two years from now.

Congressmen Fearful.

Members of congress are normal human beings who like their jobs. How to keep his job, therefore, is first consideration with each. The Cannon regime has no devoted following outside of the limited inner circle. If a majority of the republican members of the house were convinced their own fortunes would be best served by defeating Cannon, he wouldn't stand the ghost of a show of re-election.

Those who are striving to defeat the speaker are using every possible argument to show members that their political fortunes will be best served by the overthrow of Cannon. One of the points most often made is that with Cannon in command revision of the tariff will not be what the country expects and that public disappointment will manifest itself in the election of a democratic house in 1910. This is one of the most telling arguments Cannon's opponents can make. It is pointed out that while some sort of a tariff bill is bound to pass, with Cannon, Dalzell and Payne in supreme control of the measure the great consuming public, which is asking for relief, will get little consideration.

Opposition Without Leader.

The one serious weakness in the anti Cannon campaign is that it is without a virile leader. There is no one it can pit against Cannon for the speakership who can command a devoted following. Representative Burton of Ohio is the man most often mentioned as Cannon's opponent.

The Twilight of Life.

The muscles of the stomach, a old age are not as strong or active as in youth and in consequence old people are very subject to constipation and indigestion. Many seldom have a bowel movement without artificial aid. Many also, have unpleasant eruptions of gas from the stomach after eating. All this can be avoided by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which permanently regulates the bowels so that passages come naturally, and so strengthens the stomach that food is digested without discomfort. Druggists sell it at 50 cents or $1 a large bottle.

Goes to Fight Opium

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—Dr. Hamilton Wright of Washington sailed yesterday for the Orient to attend the International Opium Association at Shanghai on Jan. 1st, which has for its purpose the assistance of China in the avowed desire of that empire to abolish opium smoking among the Chinese people. Minneapolis (Minn.) Journal.

Why go to China when our own country, even our own city contains not only people addicted to the use of opium, but morphine, cocaine and numerous other drugs as well. People have taken these drugs in prescription to relieve their rheumatic pains but they have been sadly disappointed in the ultimate outcome and are now slaves.

Rheumaline, the greatest cure of the age for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica, Gout and any disorders arising from Uric Acid in the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder, Stomach and Blood, contains none of these drugs and is non-injurious to any organ of the body. It acts as a tonic as well as a cure and your money is returned if you are not benefited. Ritten, the Rheumaline Expert is at A. G. Luken & Co.'s Drug Store, Main street, for a short time to explain the action of Rheumaline and a visit to him will be highly beneficial and instructive. Rheumaline routs the disease and costs $1.00 per bottle. Rheumaline capsules relieve pain and cost 50c per box. Get Rheumaline at once. It removes the cause.
