

"UNKNOWN" WOULD WRESTLE OLSON

Young Beel Has a Man He Thinks Can Defeat Indianapolis Boy.

DOUBLE HEADER MONDAY.

WRESTLING PARTNER OF HACKEN-SCHMIDT WILL MEET OLSON AND YOUNG BEEL WILL WRESTLE ROBER.

By Tort.

Young Beel, who was defeated last week at Anderson by Bob Manogoff, has a demon unknown he would like to match against Olson, the fight to be pulled off in this city. Young Beel says that the dark mystery can cripple a cage of catamounts. The following literature has been received from Young Beel:

"I wrestled at Anderson the other night and was beaten by the Turk by a close margin. I have written to Manager Charlson and to Olson and I also made a trip to Richmond to challenge Olson on behalf of an unknown. I stand ready to back this unknown against Olson, the Turk or any other wrestler for any part of $500, to wrestle public or private.

"I have been told that my man would not draw a good crowd. If that is true, and I do not believe it is, any wrestler can make a nice little war if he can beat my unknown in private. I stand ready to wrestle any 165 pound man in the country."

The match Monday night of next week between Olson and Winkelhoefer former wrestling partner of Hackenschmidt, will completely overshadow the most interesting match that has hitherto been held in this city, the one last week between Olson and Bob Manogoff. Winkelhoefer tips the scale at 210 pounds, is all muscle and is as quick and skillful as Olson. The odds will all be in his favor. The odds will be fought catch-as-catch-can.

Preceding this match will be one between Young Beel and Dick Rober, two of the best men in the country. These two matches can be seen for the usual price of admission. Last year Young Beel won renown by defeating Americus at Baltimore, incidentally winning a side bet of $900.

Brasch, the wife murderer was not electrocuted this morning according to schedule, the government and the insanity commission having taken the matter under advisement. The verse was fairly well written.

J. W. SPAULDING DIES IN ILLINOIS

Was a Former Richmond Resident.

Will Spaulding of this city, has received word from Champaign, Ill., of the death of his brother, J. W. Spaulding, who was a former and well known resident of Richmond. He was a member of the Richmond lodge of Odd Fellows.

POSTOFFICE SAFE BLOWN.

$100 Was Taken at Seeleyville in the Night.

Brazil, Ind., Nov. 23.—The postoffice safe at Seeleyville was blown during the night and $100 in cash taken. The work was evidently that of professionals. There is no clue.

Affairs of the Sporting World

Having been spanked enthusiastically and vigorously both by Pennsylvania and Syracuse, it is highly probable that Michigan's desire to associate with select eastern teams, rather than those rude western teams, has been more than gratified and next year the Wolverines will be found rough-housing with teams of their class—which are to be found exclusively this side of Steubenville.

Tip to bad managers—The next time produce harmony at the coliseum, run a wrestling match or a polo game for a side issue, that is if you want the box office to work over time.

Clark Griffith has notified President Hermann of the Cincinnati Reds that he will not manage that team next season. Why not continue the old policy of allowing the Cincinnati Enquirer to manage the team?

Captain Steffen of the Chicago team is the idol of the Windy City. In the game with Wisconsin Saturday, the score standing 12 to 12, Steffen seized the ball on the kickoff and ran one hundred yards through a broken field for a touchdown. It was Steffen's last game of his football career.

Packey McFarland will have to put a little venom in his punch if he is going to bowl over the lightweights.

ARMY AGAINST NAVY

Annual Football Game Promises to Be the Most Spectacular Struggle.

TEAMS WELL BALANCED.

The football season of 1908 will formally close when the football eleven of the army and navy meet on Franklin field, Philadelphia, on Nov. 28 in their annual struggle on the gridiron. The game arouses widespread interest, not only in football, but in both branches of the service far and near.

From the showing made by West Point and Annapolis this fall, the annual game at Franklin field will in all probability be a corker. The two eleven appear evenly matched, with chances slightly favoring the army team on their good showing against Princeton and Yale. The middies made good against Harvard with a tie score, but were beaten 16 to 6 by the Indians.

Captain Northcroft, the navy's tackle, is a born leader. He knows the game thoroughly and is into every play. His recent feat of kicking a goal from the field from the forty-five yard line was a great performance. Quarterback Lange has All American aspirations. He is heady, gets everything out of the men behind him, kicks fearlessly and is one of the greatest runners on a broken field today.

Taft-Roosevelt BOUT PLANNED.

Clarksdale, Miss., Nov. 23.—John Leonard, wealthy contractor, who has been prominent in entertainments for charity, has left for Washington for the purpose, he says of arranging for a wrestling match between President-elect Taft and President Roosevelt for charity.

who separate him from the champion-ship.

It would be a great mistake for American association teams to declare war on the big leagues. Many of them exist solely by their ability to hoodwink fast set clubs into buying spicines for fancy prices.

At least one American association club does not have to kick. Indianapolis pained off Pitcher Marquard on New York for $10,000, and the latter did nothing but lose a game which cost the Giants the pennant.

Young Fred Corbett, the Italian fighter, is said to have inside information on the Abruzzi-Elkins nuptials.

At 1:30 p. m., the Cornell team is as fierce as a squad of peevish Cossacks, but a half hour after meeting Penn the Ithacan eleven generally comes in sections.

Slinguff and Philoon are not a team of comedy acrobats, but the opposing center rushes for the Army-Navy game on Franklin field next Saturday.

Fred Merkle is going to study law in order to be qualified to defend himself whenever he fails to touch second again.

Jones has been changed from left halfback to left end, Clay going to the vacant position behind the line. The change was not proposed on account of any dissatisfaction with Jones' work. Clay is a very speedy and clever back and was only displaced by Dalton because of the latter's punting ability.

Slinguff, center, is of All American caliber. He is remarkably fast, charges quickly and follows the ball well. Reifsnider, right end; Leighten, right tackle, and Wright, right guard, all are veterans.

Take the army eleven from end to end and behind the line and there is a reason to believe that the players will do better than the team of 1907. Dean is a better kicker than West Point had at any time last season.

In every game in which West Point took part in the fall of 1907 the catching of punts was enough to rack the soul of any coach. The performance of the team this year is something like the very satisfactory to players and coaches as compared with the record last fall.

The army's back field is a strong one, Chamberlin playing at fullback, Surls at left half, Greble right halfback and Baehr fullback. In several scrimmages this season Surls showed he has his old time ground gaining power. Chamberlin's long rest has done him good. Wood, Kern and Hyatt have all been tried out at quarter. Hyatt has given many brilliant exhibitions in running back punts and also added many gains with quarterback runs. Moss, right guard, has recovered from his injured knee, and Captain Philoon has been playing a good strong game at center.

PLANS NOT ABANDONED.

West Siders Yet Have Hopes of Riverside Park.

It is claimed by members of the West Richmond Improvement Association that the proposition favoring a riverside drive and park has not been abandoned. It is asserted the project will not be permitted to be lost sight of, although matters now may appear to be in somewhat of a lethargy.

FEVER DESTROYS HEARING.

It will become necessary for Simpson Oxendine to go to Cincinnati to have treated a deaf ear. Oxendine is the janitor of the lower floor at the court house. The hearing of one of his ears was destroyed as the result of an attack of brain fever recently. The trip to the Queen City will be made this week.

A Queer Harvest.

It was little Ethel's first visit to church, and the sermon had for its text "As ye sow, so shall ye reap." But on her return home she could not remember it and in consequence was chided by her mother for being stupid. A fortnight later a seamstress came to the house to do a day's work. After watching her for awhile fashion old style garments into those that were the vogue Ethel suddenly exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, I know now what the preacher said. It was 'What you sow in the winter you shall rip in the summer.'"—New York Times.

CAPTAIN'S WIT SAVES MANY LIVES

Prow of Vessel Held in Steamer's Side, Saving Passengers.

WILD PANIC IS STOPPED.

HEAVY FOG RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENT SUNDAY WHICH MIGHT HAVE RESULTED IN HORRIBLE CATASTROPHE.

New York, Nov. 23.—The lives of more than 500 persons were imperiled Sunday when the fruit steamer Admiral Dewey, inward bound from Jamaica, crashed into the steamer Mount Desert, outward bound from Bay Ridge for the fishing banks.

It was only the nerve and quick thoughts of the fruiter's captain that prevented a catastrophe. He held the prow of his vessel into the hole in the fishing vessel's side while most of the 450 passengers on the latter boat jumped down to the decks of the Admiral Dewey. There were some slightly injured, but no fatalities.

Heavy Fog on the Bay. There was a heavy fog on the lower bay when the Admiral Dewey, coming suddenly out of a fog bank, struck the Mount Desert almost amidships, opening a gash in the fishing vessel that extended from the upper deck to the water's edge. The passengers on the Dewey were at breakfast in the saloon, but those on deck say that the crew was blowing the fog blasts properly.

When the collision occurred the impact threw a large part of the fishing boat's passengers into the water. The effect on the Dewey was slight. There was a panic on board the Mount Desert in a moment and when the upset passengers regained their feet they began to jump to the decks of the Dewey.

After the first shock of the collision the Mount Desert came back almost on an even keel and the hurricane deck then was above the forward deck of the Dewey. Men began boosting one another up to the Dewey until the latter was a floating island.

Realizing that if he backed his steamer away many would have fallen into the water, Capt. Davidson kept the fruiter moving slowly ahead and this held the prow into the rent that had been made and afforded a boarding place for the frightened passengers of the Mount Desert.

CHANGES NECESSARY

New Office May Be Established Owing to Growth Of Postal Business.

HANDLEY MAY GET PLACE.

In the near future several changes will be made at the local postoffice, the most important of which will be the probable creation of the office of city delivery superintendent. Postmaster J. A. Spekenhiser has recommended to the postal authorities that this office be created owing to the constantly increasing business of the postoffice and the steady growth of the city, and he further recommends that Lawrence A. Handley, one of the most efficient carriers, be appointed to fill this position. His duties would be to supervise the delivery of all mail in the city and to keep the efficiency record of the carriers.

HUSBAND TOOK SHOT AT WIFE

Grounds for Divorce, Claims Mrs. Miller.

That among other things, the defendant shot at the plaintiff with a revolver and drove her from her home, is alleged in the complaint for divorce filed in the Wayne circuit court in the case of Jennie Miller vs. Benjamin. The plaintiff charges cruel and inhuman treatment. She alleges the defendant beat her and otherwise abused her. She says he has been of intemperate habits and has squandered his money in riotous living.

County Committee Is In Debt

Local Republican Organization Got None of the $1,700,000 Contributed to General Campaign Fund This Year.

The republican national committee may have had a campaign fund of $1,700,000, but the Wayne county republican organization was unaware of the fact until it saw the itemized contributions as published by National Chairman Hitchcock. Not even did the local organization receive a brass farthing of this fund, but it was generally advertised that Indiana was a doubtful state.

So poor was the local republican organization the past campaign that it is still in debt about $200. Every

SERVICES IN JAIL GETS HIGH POSITION

Attentive Audience Composed Of Prisoners, Hear Ministers Speak.

MINISTERS MEETING TODAY

At the meeting of the Ministerial association this morning the evangelistic committee reported that services at the county jail were resumed yesterday, the congregation, composed of nineteen prisoners and four jail attendants, hearing with the greatest interest, sermons delivered by R. G. Wigmore and the Rev. T. J. Graham. Mr. Wigmore has been appointed by the evangelistic committee to look after this kind of work.

At the meeting this morning the Rev. R. H. Dunnaway tendered his resignation as secretary of the association because of work connected with the foreign missionary society of the Presbyterian church, of which he is secretary and treasurer. This work takes him out of the city nearly every Monday. The resignation was accepted and the Rev. T. J. Graham was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of the Rev. Mr. Dunnaway.

The association passed a resolution authorizing the contributions received at the several Thanksgiving union services be given over to the Home for Friendless Women. The question of raising money for the support of various charitable organizations this winter was turned over to the county council of associated charities.

The paper of the day was that by the Rev. E. Minter, on "The Preacher." The association members after this paper had been read discussed the strong and weak points of the clergyman as a preacher.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GIVE TO POOR

All the pupils were asked to bring their donations of food or money for the poor Wednesday morning. These are expected to be large.

The Christmas vacation will begin on Wednesday, December 23, and school will not convene again until January 4. This gives the pupils a seven days' vacation, which is somewhat longer than the usual vacation.

It is believed it will require from six to eight weeks to complete the structure. The entire interior of the old building was destroyed. The walls are believed to be safe.

SWINDLE DISCLOSED

Sensation Expected to Follow Arrest of Myers, of Pittsburgh.

MILLIONAIRE IMPLICATED.

New York, Nov. 23.—By arresting Joseph Montiflore Myers in Pittsburgh, charged with larceny of $4,500 worth of bonds and bringing him to New York today, the police believe they have unearthed a gigantic swindling scheme. Two alleged confederates have also been arrested.

According to the police, T. N. Barnsdale, the millionaire oil operator of Pittsburgh, is believed to be interested in some manner. The scheme involved the buying of options on coal and oil land.

Myers formerly lived at the best hotels in New York and succeeded in getting in touch with many prominent people. Sensational developments are anticipated.

instigated the possibility of immunity for Mr. Rockefeller, through his being subpoenaed by the government was considered, according to one of the government's legal representatives, and on account of well established precedent on the subject it was decided to leave the way open for criminal prosecution by the government refusing to call him. But when the defense called Mr. Rockefeller a new question was raised that promises to be one of deep interest and vast importance in government proceedings against corporations in the future. It is this question that the government's lawyers are delving into, for in the absence of any direct declaration by the attorneys for the defense on the subject, it is assumed by the lawyers for the government that counsel for Mr. Rockefeller would not have placed him on the stand had they not expected to be able to obtain immunity for him. The question, according to all the attorneys interested in the case, is one that probably will have to go to the highest courts for determination.

Kellogg Gives His Opinion. On the question of immunity Mr. Kellogg said: "Any immunity Mr. Rockefeller may have obtained in this case he obtained when he was subpoenaed, not through any questioning to which I may have subjected him."

So voluminous have grown the records in the present suit that it would be impossible for any court to go through it in anything like a reasonable length of time. There are already nearly 15,000 pages, or 4,500,000 words of typewritten testimony, to say nothing of about 4,000,000 words of testimony in the form of exhibits. Decision will be made on arguments without review of the testimony.

"What do you think of Mr. Rockefeller's memory?" Mr. Kellogg was asked. "At any rate, he did not disprove any of the contentions made in the complaint," he said.

pivotal questions you are to determine are, First, did the defendant on or about the time mentioned in the indictment, keep intoxicating liquors in his place of business in the town of Whitewater in this county and unlawfully barter, sell or give away the same to others; if he did, then he is guilty of 'keeping, running and operating a place' where intoxicating liquors were bartered, sold and given away in violation of law, as charged, and you would be warranted in convicting him. Second, did the defendant, on or about the time mentioned in the indictment, have in his possession intoxicating liquors, for the purpose of bartering, selling or giving away the same to others, in violation of law. If he did, then he is guilty under the second count of the indictment and you would be warranted in convicting him. If you think he is not guilty under either count of the indictment, then he should be acquitted.
