

NEW HONORS FOR TIMOTHY NICHOLSON

Made President of the Anti-Saloon League Yesterday.

HUBER ALSO GETS PLACE.

PASTOR OF ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH ACTIVE TEMPERANCE WORKER—NICHOLSON'S WORK IN INDIANA.

The services of Timothy Nicholson, of this city, as a reformer, were yesterday fittingly recognized by his election as president of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league. Mr. Nicholson was also made one of the trustees-at-large of the organization, as was the Rev. Conrad Huber, of this city, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Mr. Huber has been one of the most active reform leaders in eastern Indiana.

Despite the fact that Mr. Nicholson is well advanced in years, he is still as active in his fight for reform as he was twenty years ago. He has been affectionately called by his many admirers, as the "Anthony Comstock of Indiana."

Mr. Nicholson rendered the state valuable services in his successful efforts at improving conditions in the prisons and other state institutions. He is now an active and efficient member of the national prison reform league.

All his life he has been an earnest temperance advocate and now, as the head of the state anti-saloon league, he will throw all his wonderful energy and enthusiasm in the work of driving the saloons out of the state. No doubt he will personally lead the fight the league will wage at the next meeting of the legislature to prevent the repeal of the county local option law.

Members of the league feel that if they are successful in keeping this law on the statute books, it will only be a short time until every saloon in the state, with the exception of those located in Indianapolis and two or three of the other large cities, will be driven out, and Indiana converted into temperance desert.

CHEMICAL BANQUET

Fair Co-Eds of Earlham College Eat Mysterious Things.

TWO CLASSES ENTERTAIN.

An air of mystery surrounded the entertainment given last evening by the sophomore and junior chemistry classes at Earlham in honor of the extensive improvements recently completed in the laboratory. In the various rooms of the building strange oriental mysteries were performed to the astonishment of the guests of the guests of the classes, especially the fair co-eds.

In "alchemy alcove" with giggles of delight they sipped a brew called "alchemy punch." When they asked for the receipt they were informed that it could not be divulged as it had been imported from the orient secretly and at great expense.

In the new quantitative laboratory the co-eds posed for an alleged x-ray photograph. They received instead a card, written in ink which is only visible when heated over a gas flame, telling their fortunes and what particular member of the football team they would marry.

In the main laboratory a chemical banquet was served. The menu was a most unique one and between courses the guests were entertained by L. E. Faugher, toastmaster and mirth manipulator; Claude Ulmon, assistant smile coaxed; John Hancock, lord high dimple developer; J. H. Jones and Leslie Nanney.

American Kangaroo pie was served for the first time in the history of Indiana. This receipt was also sternly refused the coaxing co-eds. The viands were all served in chemical beakers, test tubes, evaporating dishes and other similar vessels. After the banquet chemical stunts, just imported from Persia, were performed to the astonishment of the onlookers.

HOME CIRCLE TO BE INSTALLED

Dayton Degree Team Comes Monday.

The Protected Home Circle lodge of Sharon, Pa., will institute a local lodge in this city next Monday evening. The exercises will be held in Odd Fellows' hall. The order will start here with a membership of forty. The Protected Home Circle is about twenty-two years old, with a membership of 8,000 in Indiana and a total membership of about 75,000. The local order is being installed by G. A. Ross, district manager and organizer. Mr. Ross has heretofore made his headquarters at Marion, Ind., but hereafter will make his headquarters in this city.

State Manager G. A. Bussey, of South Bend, will be here to assist in the installation of the order. The Dayton degree team will be here December 15 to confirm the rank.

Affairs of the Sporting World

By Tort.

Who Young Bee's "unknown" is, still remains a dark, grawsome mystery. Wonder if it's John L. Sullivan? Please tell us. Mr. Young Bee, the suspense is killing us.

Perry Werden, the old base ball player and coach for the Indianapolis team this year, says he has a Minneapolis policeman named Gordon who, he thinks, can just naturally whip the wadding out of Charlie Olson. Pull off the match here, Mr. Werden, if Indianapolis don't want it.

Decision will now follow as to who has a right to the championship. It is difficult to see how the Crimson claim can be discounted. The record is free of defeats. It includes nine victories and one tied game. Only eight points have been scored against the men from Cambridge. Annapolis tied them.

Yale and Princeton are both out of the reckoning, so are the Indians and the western teams.

The only team that has any chance to dispute the Harvard claim is Penn, and a game between the two would

LAST OF SEASON QUAKERS OPTIMISTIC

Old Richmond High School Football Team Meets Dayton, Thursday.

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED.

By Tort.

The last game of football to be seen in this city this season will be played Thursday afternoon at Athletic park. The game will be between the 1906 Steele high school team of Dayton and the 1906 Richmond high school team. These elevens were among the best that have ever represented their respective institutions and the game should be intensely interesting.

Both elevens have been practicing hard for the game and are now in as good condition as though they had been playing throughout the season. Many tickets have been sold for this contest and it is quite probable there will be a large crowd present to watch the old rivals clash. The two teams will lineup as follows:

Dayton	Richmond
Frick	Slberman
Left End	Schaefer
Busch	Murray
Coppock	Karns
Bushe	Hobson
Detmer	Graves
Shroyer	Tallant
Deeter	Dingley
Fisher	Allison
Wise	Left Half
Powers	Right Half
	Metzger
	Full Back

Players will captain the Dayton bunch. Graves will probably captain the locals as he was the captain of the 1906 team. Karns, the local center, was the captain of the 1907 team. Murray, the local left guard, was manager of the 1906 team.

TIE IN BUSINESS MEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

A's Step Up a Notch by Defeating C's.

STANDING OF CLUBS.

	Won	Lost	Pct.
D's.	6	3	.666
A's.	8	4	.666
B's.	4	5	.444
C's.	3	9	.255

Game Tonight.

Winning three games last evening from the C's of the Business Men's league, the A's stepped up a notch, tying with the D's for first place. The C's failed to show up at all like they were expected to, although several times during the contest they rallied. High scores were made by Hadley, 234, Nolte, 188 and Markley, 164 for the A's and Halsley, 185, King, 185 and Allen 182 for the C's. The score by games:

A's.....	788	785	800	2,373
C's.....	720	655	658	2,033

MANSFIELD TO PLAY WITH BROCKTON

Polo Player Leaves Today For the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Ado Mansfield left this morning for Brockton, Mass., where they will spend the winter. Ado will again play polo in the east, joining the squad managed by Fitzgerald of which the faithful old Barney Dougherty is half back. "Spot" is in the best condition and expects to start work as soon as he arrives at Brockton.

Kodol For Indigestion. Relieves sour stomach, palpitation of the heart. Digests whisky.

PAPKE-KETCHEL BOUT

Battle Between Two Great Middleweight Pugilists Attracts Interest.

IT SHOULD BE A HUMMER.

By THOMAS F. CLARK.

Right now the one big topic among the enthusiasts of the prize ring is the third Papke-Ketchel battle in San Francisco Nov. 26, and, while it is the opinion of many that Papke will prove the victor, the friends of Ketchel declare that the latter will carry off the honors.

Just so long as Penn depends for athletic prestige on victories over an eleven that Syracuse was able to overwhelm, just so long will the coaches and players of the Red and Blue be deprived of the just rewards of their skill and loyal service to their college.

Michigan well deserves a place in the schedule. The relations between the two colleges are a model of what they should be. But Michigan is not of stature for big game yet. Only Yale, Harvard, or Princeton can fill the bill, and every effort commensurate with maintaining Penn's dignity should be made to get one of the trio for next year."

The weight agreed on, 158 pounds, is in Papke's favor, however, as his opponent is a big man and can hardly train below 160 pounds and be strong enough to battle with such a tough proposition as the champion has proved himself to be. The match will be a twenty round affair.

Ketchel has whipped Papke once, and Papke has soundly thrashed Ketchel in return. This third meeting between the two middleweights is in the nature of a "rubber," and another desperate encounter is looked for when these two determined youngsters come together. Seldom if ever was man more hopelessly beaten up in the ring than was Stanley Ketchel when he gave up his middleweight crown to Papke in Los Angeles recently. The Illinois man administered such a terrible whipping to the defeated champion that the latter had to be led from the arena in an almost totally blind condition.

Since that defeat Ketchel has taken a long rest. He has been in the mountains building himself up into such physical condition that he may regain his lost title from Papke.

Ketchel's climb up the pugilistic ladder has been over the stormy path. His debut was made in Butte, Mont., about three years ago, and Stanley was well trimmed. However, he was game and came back for more, his next match being with young Pecore. Ketchel and Pecore battled it out as a preliminary to the Young Corbett-Maurice Thompson fight, Ketchel getting the decision by a shade.

At that stage of the game Ketchel was haled as a dub and was generally scoffed at, but without giving any attention to the remarks he secured another match, this time with Jerry McCarthy, who fought Honey Melody for the welterweight title.

Both Ketchel and McCarthy and afterward applied the sleep tap to a number of other ring celebrities.

For more than a year Ketchel met all comers at the Casino, Butte, traveling four rounds each night for small purses. Finally he journeyed to Call:

STANLEY KETCHEL, WHO IS TO MEET BILLY PAPKE.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

Thirty bodies have already been washed ashore. All the passengers were Egyptians. The steamer had a crew of forty.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports from Malta, in the Mediterranean state that many of the two hundred passengers on the Liverpool liner, Sardinia, lost their lives when the steamer caught fire a mile from shore and was beached. Many passengers leaped overboard, but it is uncertain how many were drowned. The number of deaths is said to be very large.