

NEWS OF SOCIETY

TO REACH THE SOCIETY EDITOR, CALL PHONE 1121

One of the most enjoyable social functions at Earlham college this season, was the annual Thanksgiving feast given by the day students of the college. An elaborate dinner was spread at noon on a long table placed in the day room. The girls attractively decorated this department. The honor guests were Miss Francisco, Miss Elsie Marshall and Miss Keyes.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that which took place this morning at nine o'clock, at St. Andrew's church, when Miss Martha Charlotte Geier, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Geier, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Bernard Torbeck, one of Richmond's most highly respected young men.

A program of bridal airs was played before the entrance of the bride party; the latter being made up of the ushers, Mr. George Torbeck, brother of the groom, and Mr. Harry Austerman, cousin of the bride who preceded Miss Geier and Mr. Torbeck with their attendants, Miss Eleanor Torbeck, cousin of the groom as maid of honor and Mr. Howard Geier, brother of the bride, as best man.

The bridal gown was of exquisite white Regis satin, made in the graceful Princess style. It was elaborately trimmed with lace. The tulle veil was fastened with white bride's roses. The bride carried a white prayer-book. The maid of honor was beautifully gowned in lavender batiste. She wore a white lace hat and carried a great armful of delicate pink carnations.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Geier on South Ninth street where a wedding breakfast in three courses was served by the caterers, to about sixty guests. Places were arranged at the bride's table for twelve. The remaining guests were served at small tables. Pink carnations, ferns and chrysanthemums were used in decorating the various apartments.

Both young people are well known and have a large circle of friends in this city. Mrs. Torbeck is a graduate of St. Andrew's high school in the class of 1901.

Mr. and Mrs. Torbeck left today for a wedding trip to various western points. The bride's going away gown was a tailored gown of blue broadcloth. She wore a large black picture hat ornamented with ostrich plumes. Mr. and Mrs. Torbeck will be "at home" after December tenth, at 616 South Ninth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Niewoehner entertained with a birthday party for their son Carl Monday evening at their home on South E street. The house was beautifully decorated. The color scheme pink and white being carried out in the menu which was served later. Mrs. Niewoehner was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Henry Knoff and Mrs. Fred Schneider. Games and music were features of the evening. A guessing contest. Prizes for which were awarded to Miss Edith Stegman and Miss Florence Dunning. Mr. Mark Witte captured the "booby" prize. The guests were Misses Dorothy Stegman, Marie Dunning, Margaret Wickemeyer, Hilda Stegman, Edith Stegman, Violo Blomeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knoff and Mr. Roth Knoff, Messrs. Carl Witte, Roy Schneider, William Dunning, Mark Witte, Carl Niewoehner, Roy Niewoehner and Raymond Pilgrim.

Miss Edna Smith, Miss Marguerite Nolan and Miss Irene Hart will leave this evening for Piqua, Ohio, where they will be the house guests of Miss Mable Jefferies. They will also be honor guests at a dance to be given Thursday evening.

Miss Ted Appiarus of Indianapolis will spend Thanksgiving with friends in this city.

The special Thanksgiving chant and Barnaby's "O Lord How Manifold" will be sung tomorrow morning at the special Thanksgiving service of the St. Paul's Episcopal church. The service to begin at 10:30 o'clock.

A surprise party was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Wolfe at their home on North Eighth street. Cards were played at several tables. Music was also a feature of the evening's amusements. At the conclusion of the affair a dainty luncheon was served. The guests were: Mr. A. C. McCall, of Denver, Colorado; Mr. S. A. McDonald, of Muncie, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Redman, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Batchelor, Mr. H. L. Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bolser, Mr. and Mrs. William Padlock, Miss Abbie Urban, Miss Minnie Urban, Mrs. Mary Comer, Master Winifred Urban, Miss Iola Wolfe, Miss Mable Redman, Mr. Clifford Wolfe, Miss Hazel Redman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nobbe and Miss Grace Morgenstein.

The following item of local interest was received from Eaton, Ohio this morning:

The most important social event which will take place in Preble county this season is the wedding of Miss Jessie Conger, niece of Governor Harris and Mr. Clifton Williams of Chicago.

Miss Conger is one of the most popular society women of the county and has an unusually large circle of friends. The affair to be celebrated at St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Miss Opal Huson will entertain this evening at her home on National avenue for Miss Evangeline Prouty of Des Moines, Iowa, who is the guest of Miss Fannie Jones. Friday afternoon Miss Agnes Twigg will give a bridge party for Miss Prouty. Saturday afternoon Miss Jones will entertain for her guest and Saturday evening.

ing Miss Rose Gennett will entertain with a dinner party at her home on East Main street.

Mrs. C. H. Sharple and son of Dayton, Ohio are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Knollenberg of South Thirtieth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Woodard of Indianapolis will spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Woodard of Spring Grove.

A theater party on Thanksgiving for "The Servant in the House" will be made up of Miss Lenora Wickemeyer, Miss Ellen Swain, Miss Muriel Bartel, Miss Edna Bayer, Miss Grace Smith, Miss Pearl Cisco, Mr. Carl Pierson, Mr. Fred Hoover, Mr. Fred Byers of Kokomo; Mr. Warren Hill of Chicago and Mr. Campbell of Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Essmacher entertained with a dinner party last evening at their home, 716 South Sixth street. The affair was complimentary to Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Campbell and Mrs. Sarah Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brawley of New Madison, O., will give a Thanksgiving dinner at their splendid home to Mrs. Minerva Porterfield and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oly Porterfield, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Porterfield and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Porterfield, Rhoda and David, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin and daughter Lois of Lafayette, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Polk and son Ralph, Jr., of Indianapolis, and Mrs. S. B. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Poundstone, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Starr, Miss Margaret Starr and Mr. Philip Starr, will spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Burchenal, in Glendale, Ohio.

Mrs. Miles Bland, who is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Craighead, entertained with a card party yesterday afternoon at the Craighead residence on North Tenth street. Bridge whist was played at two tables. The prize at the first table was won by Miss Carolyn Hollingsworth, while Miss Mary Shively captured the prize at the second table. After the game luncheon was served. The guests were Miss Carolyn Hollingsworth, Miss Mary Shively, Mrs. Edward Rupe, Mrs. Rudolph Leeds, Mrs. Milton Craighead and Mrs. Will Bell.

CLUB NOTES

Mrs. Charles Kolp was pleasantly surprised last evening by the members of the Tuesday evening cotillion class at her beautiful home on North Tenth street. The party met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Jones. Dancing and music were features of the evening's amusements. An elegant supper was served at the conclusion of the affair. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. S. E. ## IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

What They Are Doing--Little Things of Interest.

It is a poor housewife who has the apples at her disposal and will not see to it that her family table is abundantly supplied with the king of fruits, cooked or uncooked, and that liberal provision is made at the same time for the lean wintry days to come.

For cooking a moderately tart apple has the preference. Sweet apples require a much longer time for baking or boiling and never reach the same stage of tenderness. Just now the Red Astrakhan is in perfection, and jelly made from it is exquisite in color and delicious in flavor.

Apple Jelly.—Wash the apples clean, cut out all imperfections, but do not peel or core. Put into an earthen jar, set in a pan of hot water or cook in the preserving kettle with just a little water to keep from sticking to the pan until mushy and tender. Be careful that you do not let the apples scorch. Cover closely to keep all the steam in. When ready pour into a jelly bag and let the juice drip through. To every pint of the juice allow a scant pound of sugar. Put the sugar in shallow pans in the oven, leaving the door open, so the sugar will not get hot enough to melt or turn yellow, and put the juice in a clean kettle over the fire. Cook the juice just twenty minutes from the time it reaches the boiling point and add the sugar, which should be hot enough to hiss as it strikes the hot juice. Stir until dissolved, remove the spoon, boil a moment longer, then turn into glasses that have been rinsed in hot water. This jelly will be firm, clear and of a deep rose pink. It may be left unflavored or flavored with a little pineapple cooked with the apples, with lemon juice or rose geranium. For the latter simply lay a rose geranium leaf in the bottom of the glass in which you are to pour the jelly and turn the hot jelly over it. The addition of a quince for every dozen apples also gives a fine flavor to the jelly.

Apple Jam.—To every pound tart apples, pared, cored and chopped, allow three-fourths pound sugar and the juice of the finely cut yellow rind of a lemon. For each three pounds of apples add a heaping teaspoonful of ginger. Stew together for an hour, stirring frequently with a wooden spoon, turn in pots or jars, cover carefully and keep in a cool, dry place.

Useful and Artistic.

The brass watering pot has taken its place in the house and is very attractive. It is not only useful, since so many flowers are grown indoors, but decidedly ornamental. These pots are not expensive, ranging from $2.50 up, according to the amount of decoration upon them.

A Witty Toast.

The most famous wit of the Emerald Isle was a celebrated lawyer, John Philip Curran, who was outwitted on one occasion by a woman. The following story, taken from a volume of biographical reminiscences entitled "Mrs. Brookfield and Her Circle," furnishes an amusing example of how Curran was once outdone:

A brisk young widow in some part of Ireland used to preside at the table of a coffee house patronized by Curran. Her name was Honor, and one day there was some disputed charge.

Curran slyly winked at the friend who happened to be dining with him and proposed "Honor and Honesty."

"By all means," added the widow briskly, holding her glass to be filled, "let us drink to Mr. Curran's absent friends."

Collects Menu Cards.

The emperor of Austria is a man with few hobbies. One of them is the editing of an official court journal. Another is the collection of menu cards, and his stock, which is continually being augmented by contributions from other monarchs, is a very wonderful one. A rare specimen is that which was used at the dinner given by the czar to President Faure some years ago. This "card" is a square of perfect black marble beautifully painted by a famous French artist, the names of the various dishes being lettered in ivory.

Wearing Five Buttons.

Girls have gone in for many Chinese fashions, such as the mandarin jacket, meeting of the Aftermath society was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. William N. Trueblood at her home on the National Road, west. "The Military System" was the subject of a paper read by Mrs. Gertrude Hill.

"School Gardens and School Yards" was the subject for an interesting reading given by Mrs. Frank Shephens.

The program for the day was completed with a paper on "The Socialization of a Garden," read by Mrs. M. F. Johnston, at a meeting of the American Civic association. The club has decided to take a number of Red Cross stamps for distribution.

The most important event socially for Thursday, is the Country Club subscription dance to be given in the Pythian temple.

Among the out-of-town guests who will attend, are: Miss Nellie Baldwin of Greenfield, who is the house guest of Miss Ina Clawson; Mr. George Barnard, who is with Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Swayne; Mr. Paul Brown of New Castle; Mr. Warren E. Hill of Chicago, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Beyer; Mr. Laurence Bertsch of Cambridge City. A large number of other out-of-town guests are also expected to be in attendance.

the kimono sleeve, the chrysanthemum embroidery, but the wearing of five buttons on the coat or jacket is a new idea, unknown to the many.

The Chinese wear these five buttons to remind them of the five chief moral virtues which were recommended by Confucius. These are humanity, justice, order, rectitude and prudence.

Two Kinds of Dusters.

The automobile halted before the general store of the village. The owner-chauffeur alighted and accosted a drowsy clerk. "I want a linen duster," he said.

"I am very sorry," said the clerk, "but we are just out of linen dusters. I can let you have a nice feather duster."

EFFECT OF CLOTHES.

Women Uplifted or Degraded by Beauty or Ugliness of Apparel.

That clothes have a tremendous influence on the feminine mind has always been acknowledged, but it has remained for the ultra modern experimenters to prove that this influence is a vital one and can be turned to account in reforming the criminal and insane.

The poor demented creatures who fill our insane asylums are compelled to wear the institution's "wrapper," a hideous garment which would destroy the beauty of a goddess.

Several writers who have been taking up the subject lately are maintaining that if the insane women were allowed to wear pretty clothes the effect upon them would be quieting and helpful.

The wrapper takes away their self respect and makes them feel that they look hopelessly ugly, and they do not care how they behave when they have it on.

On the other hand, when some of them have been "dressed up" they have immediately shown a tendency to have better manners and behave quietly with a decorum entirely foreign to them in their ugly garments.

Of course these experiments have not been made on the violently insane. A French magazine recently published a long article claiming that experiments had been made in a certain reformatory for women which went to prove that the worst type of women criminals can be controlled by the power of clothes.

The rules of this institution provide that the inmates shall dress according to their behavior. This means from prison stripes for the sulky and unmanageable to house gowns of lace for those who prove themselves worthy to wear them decorously and with appropriate manners.

The article goes on to say that no prisoner ever wears the stripes longer than the first week. Immediately she begins to feel the degradation of them and aspires to be the best dressed woman in the prison.

These women are shut off from the world and see no one but their fellow criminals, and yet they remain contented many of them, for years because they are allowed to dress according to their satisfaction.

The simple deduction from all this is that properly gowned all women would be "perfect" ladies—i. e., good and docile and obedient.

The conquering spirit of clothes—what can deny it in the face of the following pathetic little anecdote? It is said that a box of old clothes which had been sent in charity to a certain poverty stricken home where a little girl lay very ill contained a half wornout pair of colored, beribboned dancing slippers. These caught the sick child's fancy, and she immediately began to take an interest in living.

With the one idea in her mind that when she got well she could wear those slippers on the street the poor little bit of femininity conquered her malady.

Dyeing Feathers.

It is said that the best way to dye feathers is first to wash them in soap-suds and gasoline, then dip them in the solution made from squeezing a tube of paint into a bowl and adding enough gasoline to get the right tone.

After the feathers have been taken on the desired color they are hung out to dry. If a woman has not tried this method she should not go into it wholesale with a lot of handsome feathers.

It would be wise for her to try it first on a small white feather, which, if rubbed, will not be much loss.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Gray hairs will have their way when they get a good start, and nothing will stop them except sometimes scalp massage.

An important beauty consideration is the polish of the head. It should be tipped slightly backward so as to make

WILL LAST TEN DAYS

Program Committee Sets the Dates for 1909 Chautauqua.

DELEGATES ARE CHOSEN.

The Richmond chautauqua will open for the assembly of 1909 at Glen Miller park August 20 and will continue ten days. This was decided by the program committee at the first meeting held at the Commercial club rooms last evening. The committee pointed out there was many reasons why the assembly should only last ten days. Campers will have the privilege of opening camp on Monday, August 16.

Charles Jordan, E. J. Shera, secretary of the 1909 chautauqua, and Geo. L. Goodwin chairman of the program committee were selected last evening as delegates to the Chautauqua Alliance meeting that is to be held at the Great Northern hotel next Wednesday.

Mr. Goodwin stated this morning that the Richmond people will be given the best chautauqua program that can be secured for the money. When the committee returns from Chicago next week many of the features of next year's event will be published.

DELEGATION OF SEVEN GO TO DAYTON

Lads to Attend Boys' Y. M. C. A. Conference.

Orville Brunson, secretary of the boys' department of the Richmond Y. M. C. A., received notice this morning from the Dayton Y. M. C. A., that arrangements have been made for the accommodation of the Richmond delegation of seven at the fifth annual Older Boys' conference, that is to be held at Dayton November 27, 28 and 29, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. This is one of the largest boys' conferences held each year. Boys over fifteen years of age are eligible. It is expected that it will be well attended, as some of the best known Y. M. C. A. workers in the east are scheduled to speak.

A meeting of the boys is being held this afternoon at the Commercial club rooms and delegates will be chosen.

MASQUERADE.

At Pythian temple next Friday evening, given by Mrs. Charlie Kolp's dancing class. A fancy dance by four young ladies, Miss Elizabeth Kolp and Miss Agnes Karns in costume with song and dance and a good time for all who attend. Admission, 25 cents. Programs to dance $1.00. Music by the White Brothers. 25-1

At the thirty-first annual meeting of the Iowa Association of Unitarian held at Perry, a resolution was adopted declaring the conference strongly in "favor of both men and women in the ministry," and as "believing women fully as efficient and valuable as men in all that pertains to religious leadership." The Rev. Eleanor E. Gordon was secretary of the conference. She is also president of the Iowa woman suffragists. One of the most successful meetings of the conference was said to be that at which the Rev. Miss Safford was the leader.
