KILLED HIMSELF TO LEARN ALL

Boston Man Committed Suicide to Know the Unknowable.

OCCULT DEATH MYSTERY.

POWER OF THE SUBCONSCIOUSNESS EVADED HIS SEARCH—MADE HIMSELF INSANE OVER HIS STUDIES.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 28.—The actual reason why William A. Barnes, the Washingtonian who came to Boston in 1907 and who since then has attracted the attention of many great educators, as well as students of the occult, by his startling theories and demonstrations regarding mental phenomena, committed suicide, as told by intimates, is even stranger and more remarkable than the doctrines he espoused and which were bringing him no little fame.

Mrs. Barnes, who was Miss Mamie Fariss of Huntsville, Ala., is prostrated as a result of the shooting.

Prof. Barnes as he was known, believed in the existence of a conscious and subconscious mind. The power of the subconscious mind he believed to be absolute. In himself he claimed the power to bring into use for every-day purposes the vast influences of the subconscious was highly developed.

The full and complete development of the subconscious self however, he believed could not be reached while chained to a physical body. So it is now claimed that the eminent psychologist destroyed his physical self that he might learn the great secrets which had hitherto baffled his penetration.

It is claimed that by overstudy in occult matters Prof. Barnes was made temporarily insane. He left two letters, one to his widow and one to the newspapers. The latter was brief and read:

"My reason for this act is that I find my mind is failing. I do not want to become an incubance upon my wife or the community."

Mrs. Barnes declares that when her husband left his home in St. Botolph street he was extremely cheerful; in fact more so than was customary. He went to see a man in Boylston street on a matter of business, she said, and five hours later she was told of his death by shooting in the Back Bay railroad station.

That there was any danger of financial troubles for Prof. Barnes is regarded as highly improbable. He had a large following and many students. His fees are reputed to have been large. He counted among his students many influential men of Boston.

Dr. Pitzer of St. Louis was one of his students. The late Dr. Frisbie of Church of the Advent was also an accredited student.

Prof. Barnes is said to have been closely associated in his investigation of psychological matters with Dr. Parkin of Washington. For a year or more he had been acquainted with President Roosevelt. Many times they exchanged letters on the subject of psychology.

PARCELS POST WOULD END BIG DEFICIT

Postmaster General Advocates System.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—Postmaster-General Meyer is firmly convinced that the establishment of a special local parcel post confined to rural routes will tend to wipe out the postal deficit of $16,910,279, and will finally make the rural delivery self-sustaining besides being of convenience to the farmer and a boon to the retail country merchant.

The rate would be 5 cents for the first pound and 2 cents for each additional pound up to eleven pounds, the maximum weight of a package.

FLEET DIRECT TO HAMPTON ROADS

Washington, Nov. 28.—It has been definitely decided that the Atlantic battleship fleet will come home direct to Hampton Roads. The fleet, according to the present plans, will remain for two or three days in Hampton Roads for a grand review by President Roosevelt, then go to New York to remain five or six days in order to give the men shore leave. The fleet will then go to Guantanamo for target practice.

SCARLET FEVER? NO! BLUSHING COLLEGE LAD

Farewell Scene at Pennsy Station Last Night.

The most uncomfortable youth in Richmond for a time last night was of this city. The train was nearing the Pennsylvania station and the young man was in a hurry to get away for college after his Thanksgiving vacation.

"Dearie," said the doting mother, who was still attractive enough to rivet the most of the gaze, "write us three times a week." Smack! She kissed the young man somewhere twixt the collar and a red blushing ear.

"Sweetheart, don't let those awful sophomores hurt you"—smack!

"Now, dear, remember to send your laundry home"—smack.

By this time sonnie looked as though scarlet fever had nailed him. He made one wild plunge for the train just arrived.

"Dear, don't forget to wear the heavy underclothing"—and a considerable trainman gave the starting signal.

MUST SHUN SALOONS.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 28.—Ralph Blaisdell, auditor for the Harriman system of railroads in the Northwest, has, "for the good of the service," issued an order forbidding employees in his department visiting saloons or liquor houses for any purpose. The order affects about 500 employees.
