

OLSON DISLIKES CLEVER OPPONENT

Bitter Rivalry Between Himself and Demetral May Be Shown Here.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN

DOUBLE HEADER WRESTLING
BILL FRIDAY NIGHT WILL BE GREATEST EVER HELD IN THIS CITY.

There is no reason why the big double-header wrestling show at the coliseum Friday night should not be witnessed by a packed house as there is no doubt of the fact that the two best contests ever held in this section of the country will be pulled off. The first bout will be between those two clever light heavyweights, Prindle and LaSalle. Both of these men are well known to the local enthusiasts and they know what a good exhibition each man is capable of putting up.

However the feature of the program will be the match between Demetral and Olson, who, with Fred Beel and Americus, top the list of light heavyweights. One of the greatest wrestling bouts ever pulled off in the south was between Olson and Demetral. This match took place at Tampa and one of the Tampa newspapers in describing this battle, has the following to say:

"Beel himself refereed the battle. There was no friendly exchange or greeting when the men stepped upon the mat. Olson sneered at the Greek and was heard to tell his friends at the mat that his chance had come and that the Greek stood no chance. Demetral did not take any notice of his opponent and the time for the first fall was called before the men shook hands. Beel knowing that the men were enemies, did not order them to undergo the customary handshake. The little whirlwind from Wisconsin simply acted as referee and proved that he had no likes or dislikes for either man by giving each man an equal break. The crowd, so far as sympathy went was about evenly divided. Few cared who won and there was little or no betting. All wanted to see a great wrestling match and they got their money's worth."

THORNGS FLOCK TO CAPITOL TO SEE CONGRESS CONVE

Special session will concentrate its efforts upon this one subject. The deficit in the revenues is giving the leaders much concern, and many of them would be delighted if some method for the relief of the treasury could be devised, but this subject is so interwoven with the tariff that it seems probable its general consideration will be deferred until the extra session.

Among other subjects which probably will receive attention are those looking to the establishment of a permanent waterways commission; providing for a national inheritance tax; looking to the more thorough investigation of industrial disputes, and providing means for the improvement of farm conditions along the lines to be suggested by the president's country life commission.

Special Message on Resources. It is understood that early in January the president will send in a special message recommending certain steps for the conservation of the country's natural resources. There will be a renewal of the efforts to create forest reserves in the Appalachians and the White mountains. It is extremely doubtful, however, that any of the measures to be discussed will receive the final approval of congress.

Affairs of the Sporting World

After all, it's not such a long cry between "Seven, come ye 'leven" to "10 and costs ten days." Perhaps the close relationship between these two well known utterances has caused the erasing of craps from our winter program.

It is probably only polite and proper for us to again announce that Mr. Nick Altrock, eminent athlete, is in our midst. Mr. Altrock is training himself for the coming ball season by working on all the pool experts of the community. His supply has become limited.

Isn't New Castle becoming brazen and wicked? In introducing the wrestling game in that village, two strong ladies from the Cincinnati beer belt have been secured to pull off a match.

In the city billiard tournament it is anything to beat Hibberd, who has won three games and lost none. All the rest of the contestants are closely bunched. Braffett, the scratch man, has won three and lost two.

Word comes from Charlie Hemphill, the star Yankee outfielder, who is winning in Youngstown, Ohio, that he has fully recovered his health and will be in line with the rest of the gang in the springtime. Hemphill owns a bowling alley in the Buckeye state and is doing a fine business. Farmer Cy Young, of the Red Sox, is a frequent visitor.

This is the season of baseball revolution. The "bugs" from far and near are loading the mails with suggestions as to how the powers may best remedy the present "monotony" of the game. All sorts of fancy remedies are advocated from the abolition of the foul-strike rule to that of putting the sport on the footing of "rounders."

Barney Dreyfus, the Pirate president, is on bad terms with Harry Pulliam. The latter called Dreyfus to Cincinnati to that famous meeting of the board of directors of the National League which decided the Giant-Cub game a tie. Barney claims that Pulliam promised that if he attended he could vote. Pulliam says that it is all a mistake. He says he told Barney to be on hand, but that he would be unable to vote. Barney wants to know "Yot iss?"

IS IT NEW CHURCH?

Father Mattingly Promises Startling Announcement At Mass Tomorrow.

TUESDAY IS FEAST DAY.

In announcing the celebration of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, which will be solemnly observed tomorrow by the local Catholic churches, Father Mattingly of St. Mary's Catholic church yesterday informed the members of his congregation that he wanted everyone of them who could possibly attend, to be present at the 9 o'clock mass in the morning, as he had an announcement of the utmost importance and interest to make. Father Mattingly refuses to state what the nature of this announcement will be but, it is thought it will have something to do with the proposed erection of a new church. Tomorrow Father Mattingly will wear for the first time the very valuable cassock, which is made of jewels contributed by various members of the church.

ELIOT A FIGUREHEAD

Charge Made That President Of Harvard Is a Moderate Drinker.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 7.—In "Temperance Without Prohibition," a work by the Rev. L. C. Towne of the Oxford Bureau of Research which has just come out, President Eliot of Harvard is bitterly attacked as follows:

"President Eliot at Ford Hall on Oct. 29 attempted an apology for the culminating hypocrisy of his career in accepting no-license leadership, when up to 75 years of age his example has been that of a moderate drinker and his stand has been against prohibition. It has been not the glory only but the misfortune of President Eliot's career that he has been a conspicuous figurehead far beyond his actually demonstrated worth in any respect whatever."

"It is but too easy to note the loud acclaim of splendid success of President Eliot in magnificent developments at Harvard, but none the less on those November days the historic scene which Harvard presents her students and her graduates of the Eliot period is that of a volcano of vulgar passion, the fool fury of athleticism, a revel of savage scurrilousness and base sport suggestive of a good deal more of Roman circus than Christian culture."

OVERHEATED FLUES CAUSE OF FIRES

Fire Department Is Kept Busy.

The rush of business for the fire department continues. The departments were called out twice yesterday. About 8 o'clock an alarm called the wagons to the home of Milton Stakebake on Boyer street. Later in the morning a call brought the wagons to the home of Lewis Knopf, 401 South Fifth street. Both fires resulted from defective or overheated flues. The damage was considerable.

PETITIONS USED TO GET POSITIONS

Bowermaster & Mason Would Be Justices.

Two petitions signed by residents of Cambridge City and Jackson township have been filed with the county commissioners in behalf of men seeking appointment as justice of the peace. One is that of the supporters of Martin Bowermaster, and the other is presented by the adherents of Joseph Bailey. Attorney Daniel Mason appeared before the commissioners this morning in behalf of Bowermaster and solicited his appointment. The matter of the appointment was deferred until Wednesday, owing to the press of other business.

Keller is charged with shooting Will Thornton, who died as the result of his wounds.

JONES NOT TO BE ARRANGED FRIDAY

Whitewater Doctor Must Face Court Next Term.

The case of the State vs. Arthur Jones, charged with violating the "blind tiger" section of the liquor laws will not be heard in the Wayne circuit court this term. The case was set for trial Friday. Because of the press of other cases regarded by the court as more important, the court announced today this case will have to go over to the next term. Jones is a physician and druggist at Whitewater. He was tried in the Wayne circuit court and the jury disagreed.

EIGHT NEGROES CAPTURED IN SUNDAY RAID

latter two were not apprehended until this morning.

McKay is charged with permitting a room to be used for gambling, and the others are charged with gaining. It is the second offense for McKay. Two dice were secured by the coppers as evidence. Roberts secured bail following his arrest and was released pending his arraignment this afternoon. The others arrested spent the night in jail.

The fact that there was one door to the residence that the police knew nothing about, accounts for the fact the five succeeded in making a break. The police had known of only two doors, but it chanced there was another. It was through this the getaway was made after the other doors had been blocked.

When Officers Vogelsson, Hebble, Menke and Yingling arrived at the place, the latter two were placed to block the exits. Vogelsson, followed by Hebble, tapped at the door. It was opened and "Vogel" pushed his huge bulk in. Immediately the gamblers recognized the time had come for their final stand. Great haste was shown in the attempt to break out. In the stampede the lamp was knocked off the mantel, but was caught by Vogelsson. The McKay family had finished dinner only a short time before and Mrs. McKay and the children were in the dining room. Every place was sought for refuge. In diving under the table, one burly fellow overturned it. The dishes were piled upon the floor in a heap. Another collided with Mrs. McKay and she went to the floor. She and the children screamed, the men swore and darted about in the semi-darkness.

Yingling opened the door to go to the aid of his fellow officers and one negro tried to break out. Yingling throttled him. Just then another dived between the copper's legs. Yingling clenched his legs about the fellow's body, but the assailants were piling up too thickly. "Whitey" grabbed for the fellow between his legs and secured a hold on his sweater. The negro kept on going. The sweater stretched and finally gave way, freeing its wearer. The other officers were having a lively time in the melee. Clubs were used but little, the policemen being able to manage the bunch without resorting to their sticks for protection.

The trap shooters that were secured, were loaded into the patrol wagon and taken to jail. Their cases were set for trial this afternoon. The McKay family is in stringent circumstances. Mrs. Candler, probation officer, was notified by superintendent Bailey to find some way to care for the children while their father is in custody.

SUCCESS NOT AS WAS PREDICTED

Week of Prayer Will Be Observed Again Next Year.

The week of prayer last week did not meet with as much success as was at first predicted. Although the Episcopal church was the only church that held the regular daily services, the Baptist held special services three days and several other churches held special services on Wednesday and Thursday and all other protestant churches observed the occasion Thursday and Sunday.

It was found that the noon hour was not a suitable time to hold the services because of the irregularity of the dining hour of the many business and shop men of the city. The service started at 12:45 and concluded at 12:25, thus giving the shopmen no opportunity whatever of attending. It is believed that when the prayer week next year is observed, that more suitable hours will be selected. It is also stated by one of the local ministers that the place of holding the services would be in one of the store rooms in the uptown district which would be within reach of all.
