

XMAS ADVICE FROM EXPRESS COMPANIES

Send Gifts Early and Pack Them Well, Is Chief Instructions.

SOME DETAILS SUGGESTED.

WOODEN BOXES SHOULD BE USED AND GLASS WELL PROTECTED—SIMPLE RULES TO GUARD AGAINST LOSS.

People are being urged by the express companies to ship their Christmas packages early in order to insure prompt transmission and delivery. Along this line they are sending out the following suggestions:

Do you expect to send your mother, sweetheart or friend a Christmas present this year? If so, and you find it necessary to patronize some express company, it would be well to bear in mind the following suggestions:

Ship your package early, by the eighteenth of December, if possible. The express company will give you a small label to paste on the package, reading, "Don't open until Christmas." This will insure the package reaching its destination before Christmas and gives the additional pleasure to the recipient of the gift of having it Christmas morning.

Use of Wooden Boxes.
Use wooden boxes for packing. Glass or fragile articles should be well protected. It may cost a few cents more but the danger of loss or damage is very much reduced. True if the shipment is lost or damaged the express company will pay for it, but that will give your friend no pleasure.

Write the address in full, State, county, city, street and number, on the box or package with ink or crayon. Tags are frequently torn off and lost. If you want to prepay the charges, write the word "paid" in large, plain letters on the package.

Insist on a receipt and see that the amount paid is marked on the receipt and package and the value of the package declared thereon.

To Guard Against Loss.
Write your own address in full somewhere on the package, following the prefix "From—"

Inclose a card in each box or package reading:

From
(Your address here.)

To
(Consignee's address here.)

This, in order that should the outer markings be destroyed, the inner mark will insure prompt forwarding and delivery.

If not convenient to ship in wooden boxes, use strong wrapping paper (not newspaper), and tie with string cord.

If package contains anything of perishable nature, write the word "Perishable" in large, plain letters, on the box or package, to insure special attention and first delivery.

If you will observe these suggestions you will greatly assist in insuring the prompt delivery of your gift in good condition.

The Tower of Famine.

The Torre della Fame, or Tower of Famine, was noted for its gruesome history. It once stood in Pisa, Italy, but there are now no traces of it. Count Ugolino della Gherardesca, whose name is immortalized, was the head of the Guelphs, and because of his tyranny and accredited attempts to place his country in bondage he was antagonized and finally conquered by the chief of the Ghibellines, who imprisoned him, with his two sons and two grandsons, in this tower, the slow method of starvation being employed as the manner of their death. The door of the tower was locked and the keys thrown into the Arno.

The Holy City.

Medina, the holy city, triumphed long ago over all the rivals in various parts of the world which bore the same name, which means simply "city." Notable among them were the old capital of Malta and Medina Sidonia in Spain. The Arabian city was originally known as Yathrib, but owes its later name, El-Medina (the city) or Medinat Rasul Allah (the city of the apostle of God), to the Koran. To a good Mohammedan there is only one city "with a big C."

Inside and Outside.

FORMER STATE OFFICER DEAD

Daniel P. Baldwin of Logansport Succumbs to Apoplexy.

MANY FINANCIAL TROUBLES

WAS INTERESTED IN THREE BANKS CLOSED BY STATE AUDITOR AND WAS INDICATED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

Logansport, Ind., Dec. 14.—Daniel P. Baldwin, former Attorney-General of Indiana, prominent as a lecturer, traveler and writer, fell dead here Sunday afternoon. Apoplexy was the cause, it is said.

A year ago Mr. Baldwin's private banks at Goodland, Fowler and Ambia, Ind., were closed by order of Auditor of State Billheimer. Since then Mr. Baldwin, who was 71 years of age, struggled to untangle the affairs of these and other institutions in which he was interested, surrendering his fortune to secure creditors. On November 5 last the Benton county grand jury indicted him on two counts, charging embezzlement, and he was released on bond.

Baldwin was a trustee of Wabash college at Crawfordsville, Ind., and donor of the Baldwin prize for oratory.

In a will written some time ago, he was declared to have bequeathed many thousands of dollars to the college, but most of his property was swept away when the banks were closed on the allegation that depositors' money was used to finance investments in Arkansas timber lands.

Baldwin was prominent in republican politics for many years, having been a partner of Dudley D. Pratt, his uncle. He was defeated for the republican nomination as judge of the supreme court, but graceful acceptance of defeat won him the nomination for attorney-general, to which office he was elected during the campaign that elected Porter governor of Indiana.

In 1892, after a quarrel with President Harrison, he took the stump for the national democratic committee, but his tour was cut short when the use of an injudicious phrase directed at foreigners in a speech made in Milwaukee, brought forth a bombardment of eggs from a democratic marching club composed of Poles.

The Major is a member of the Vicksburg monument commission.

Darwin's Modesty.

On Sunday afternoon Sir John Lubbock, our host, took us all up to the hilltop whence in his quiet Kentish village Darwin was shaking the world. The illustrious pair, born in the same year, had never met before. Mr. Gladstone as soon as seated took Darwin's interest in lessons of massacre for granted and launched forth his thunderbolts with unexhausted zest. His great, wise, simple and truth loving listener, then, I think, busy on digestive powers of the drosera in his greenhouse, was intensely delighted. When we broke up, watching Mr. Gladstone's erect, alert figure as he walked away, Darwin, shading his eyes with his hand against the evening rays, said to me in unaffected satisfaction, "What an honor that such a great man should come to visit me!"—Morley's "Life of Gladstone."

One of the most accurate marksmen in the world is Lord Walsingham, who is able to shoot wasps on the wing. This feat requires a marvelous eye and the steadiness of hands. To practice on wasps and other insect shooting he had a miniature rifle specially constructed. He also holds the record for an unsurpassed grouse bag, for, after shooting single-handed for fifteen hours, he had accounted for 1,070 grouse. On another occasion, with 1,100 cartridges, he accounted for 842 birds.

RESTORATIVE TREATMENT FOR NERVOUS MEN

Undoubtedly the following prescription will work wonders for that great class of men who, through illness or dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their second childhood long before the three score and ten allotted to life's enjoyments are reached.

Coming from a source of unquestioned authority on the ailments of men, it is presumed to be infallible, and the profession generally endorse the ingredients as highly efficient in quickly restoring in nervous exhaustion, melancholia and the functions of the body. It is published now with the full authority of the originator for the benefit of the shipwrecked lives that find life not worth the living, and who have been unsuccessfully treated.

First get fifty cents' worth of compound fluid balmwort in a one ounce package, and three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound; take home, mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene (not cardamon). Mix all in a six or eight ounce bottle, shake well and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring, followed by a drink of water. It is said by those who have been treated that astonishing nerve power and vigor follow.

By mixing it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's shortcomings and expensive fees are avoided.

Household Worries

The woman who has the care of children in addition to her household duties frequently finds the drain upon her vitality more than her constitution can stand. She becomes nervous, irritable, passes sleepless nights, has headache, backache and other weaknesses that make life miserable. For such there is nothing that gives such quick relief as

Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic, which acts directly upon the nerves, refreshing and strengthening them. "It was in a very weak condition; could not gain any strength; on the contrary, lapsed into nervous prostration. Had headache, neuralgia, could not sleep. I began using Dr. Miles' Nerve and grew rapidly better. For weak women there is nothing better." MRS. E. G. GILBERTSON, Belvidere, Ill.
