SEVEN DAYS

D. G. REID GIFT
NOT RECEIVED

Contribution of Millionaire to
Penny Club Dinner Fund
Not Expected.

FEAST FOR THE CHILDREN

POOR YOUNGSTERS OF THE CITY
WILL BE GIVEN BOUNTIFUL RE-
PAST BY CHARITABLE ORGANI-ZATION WEDNESDAY.

Four hundred children are expected to be served by the Penny club next Wednesday, when that organization gives its annual dinner to the poor children of the city. Already more than three hundred tickets have been disposed of and between now and the time the dinner is served, it is thought all will have been given out to the deserving children. In addition to the dinner, those attending will be given candy, oranges and peanuts. The club this year has received but little or no outside help, the Daniel G. Reid gift not having been received this year. For the past two years the millionaires have given nothing to the club to assist in adding to the Christmas cheer of the unfortunate of the city. In addition to the food-stuffs which will be furnished by the members, already two hundred pounds of candy has been secured and a large quantity of oranges and peanuts. Many children will be given baskets filled with food for their parents who are ill or in distress.

SHOWING INTEREST

Franklin Township Farmers
Select Ears for Exhibition at Show.

PRIZES FOR THE WINNERS.

Farmers of Franklin township are taking more than ordinary interest in the corn school which will be held at Whitewater next Wednesday. Already many farmers have expressed their intention of submitting samples of grain grown on their farms this year. Prizes will be offered for the best white, yellow and mixed corn grown in the township. Wm. Barton and C. C. Saxton have charge of the show. Samples will be selected for entry in the county corn show to be held at Centerville in January.

LICENSES GO BEGGING.
Fewer marriage licenses were issued this year than at any Christmas season in several years past. Generally a large number of licenses are issued and the apparent inactivity of Dan Cupid is not understood.

TO GET COMMISSION.
Sheriff Linus Meredith will go to Indianapolis next week where he will get his commission from Secretary of State Fred Sims.

EVERY ARRANGEMENT

MADE FOR DEDICATION

The larger rooms are two beds. The walls in both the bed rooms and the halls, will be left white for the time being, in order that the walls will not be marred in hanging pictures and the like, picture moulding has been laid. In the halls will be seats. The dormitory halls will be well lighted. On each floor will be toilet rooms located at convenient places. There will be all degrees of warm water supplied by a patent regulator. Much of the work remains uncompleted. The hanging of the curtains and many like things remain to be done. It is probable that the committees will work until midnight tonight in order that the building and the arrangement of the equipment will be as complete as possible for the first inspection tomorrow.

HITS PATROLMAN

IN A BRAWL

Patrol Driver Roberts was called to the coliseum last night to arrest Harry Winters and Gus Kroma for drunkenness, it also being alleged that the men had been insulting remarks to a woman passerby, who was on the sidewalk at the time. The men were taken into the coliseum to await the arrival of the patrol wagon when Kroma struck Roberts a nasty blow in the face. Roberts struck back and today reports had to be made on one of the cops at the building. Roberts almost striking Kroma through it. In addition to a charge of drunk, Kroma was arraigned for resisting an officer in police court this afternoon. Cleve Russell was also placed under arrest it being alleged that he refused to tell the officers facts concerning the actions of Kroma and Winters. He is also charged with drunk. Winters and Russell also faced the court this afternoon.

NO CIRCUIT COURT

Business Now Is Awaiting the Opening of the January Term.

PROSPECTS FOR DIVORCE.

Judge Fox did not conduct court today and it is not probable that any cases will be heard until the opening of the January term, although attorneys laughingly state that Judge Fox will certainly pass upon the marital woes of some disgruntled desiring a divorce before the next term begins, just to pass the intervening time away. As the docket for the next term will contain many cases, Judge Fox will countenance no delay and attorneys will be expected to "do the scratch" from the very start. The judge hopes to hear all cases docketed next term.

TO PREPARE REPORTS.

County officers will soon begin to prepare their annual reports to the state. These will probably be completed by the middle of February.

Her Command of English.

A woman visitor at a smart girls' finishing school in a New York suburb was much interested in a Japanese pupil who was in her second year at the school. "Does she pick up our language at all readily?" she inquired of one of the teachers with whom she was talking.

"I think you may say fairly well," replied the teacher. "For instance, she has been trying to make her straight black hair wave like that of our girls. It was only this morning that she came and told me that last night she had put up her hair in curls, and she added that when she took it down this morning there was nothing doing."—New York Press.
