ROOSEVELT CELEBRATES

PRESIDENT AND HIS FAMILY
HAVE BIG FAMILY DINNER PAR-TY AT WHITE HOUSE—WASH-INGTON GAY.

Augusta, Ga., Dec. 26.—The Christmas events for President-elect Taft were his participation in the annual handicap golf tournament of the Country club, in which he won from Maj. J. B. Cumming, president of the club, without a distinguishing score; he rode a dozen miles on horseback in the afternoon and with his family dined at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Thomas in the evening.

Augusta's guest was not left unmindful of Christmas cheer. Mistletoe holly and baskets of cut flowers were offered with hearty good wishes and received in the same spirit.

"The people down here are just as genuinely cordial as they could be," was the appreciative remark of Mr. Taft in recalling the holiday greetings he had received.

Trolley Ride Today.

A trolley ride to Aiken, S. C., in which the Taft and the John Hays Hammond families were principal guests of James U. Jackson of the railroad management, took place yesterday. In the evening Mr. Taft dined with Mr. Maxwell, an old Cincinnati friend, and a number of Southern federal officeholders.

PRESIDENT MAKES MERRY.

Was "Dee-lighted" Over His Christ- mas Cheer.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Official and private business gave way Friday to the time-honored observances of Christmas. The city was covered with a mantle of snow and the jingle of sleighbells was heard everywhere.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt gave a large family lunch with a few intimate friends and in the evening they dined with Rear Admiral and Mrs. Cowles.

Most of the cabinet folks were here, the only absentees being Secretary of War and Mrs. Wright, who celebrated the day at their home in Memphis; Attorney General and Mrs. Bonaparte, who are at their home in Baltimore; Secretary Newberry, who was the guest of the Detroit club in

USES TELEPHONE TO STOP ELOPEMENT

Paul's Dash of Twenty Miles
Is Futile.

Selinsgrove, Pa., Dec. 26.—Driving twenty miles in a sleigh at breakneck speed, to outwit a pursuing father, Miss Lottie Gable and Jay Wendl, both of Fremont, this county, were frustrated here late tonight in their attempt to elope.

Ministers here would not wed them because both are minors.

They decided to take a trolley car to Sunbury, with the hope of having the ceremony solemnized there, but in their haste they had not supplied themselves with money.

They were about to sell the horse when a telephone message from the pursuer to a constable led to their detention here. The father was outdistanced, but his clever idea of using the telephone, when five miles behind the runaways, stopped the elopement.

Vice President Participates.

The vice president, his daughter, Mrs. John Timmons and the sons of the household remained here to participate in the day's festivities, while Miss Fairbanks is visiting friends in Atlantic City.

An event of some moment to 600 children of the officials and employees of the postoffice department occurred at Masonic temple, where Mrs. Meyer was the hostess at an entertainment of music, pantomime, moving pictures, etc. There was a large Christmas tree and presents for all were distributed.

All the churches conducted religious services and in some of them special music was provided.

The poor and needy were not overlooked. From known and unknown sources many a home, chilled by the wintry blasts and made desolate by the sting, was brightened by generous gifts of fuel, food and raiment. The associated charities in most instances had charge of the work of distribution, although the Elks, Masonic Shriners and other fraternal orders, business firms and private individuals, extended independent help.

Tong Shao Yi, the ambassador for China on a special mission, is entertaining a merry gathering of Chinese students during Christmas week. They include a number of those sent here by the Chinese government for education in American institutions, as well as others sent here by their parents, to the number of more than eighty. The boys come from as far west as Atlanta. Every opportunity will be afforded them to see the sights of the city and to enjoy their visit to the national capital.

CROWD WAS IN A PANIC

Whiteside, Mo., Dec. 26.—George Rider, his throat cut and mortally wounded by Edgar Parrish in a fight in the Christian church at Louisville, a small town ten miles west of here, staggered to the Christmas tree and fell dead at the feet of "Santa Claus." The celebration was thrown into a panic as Rider staggered around, women and children screaming and fainting at the sight of blood streaming through his fingers held to his wound.

Parrish fled from the church during the excitement. An unconfirmed report states he committed suicide on a country road with the same knife he used fatally on Rider.

Trouble between the men is said to have started at a supper in a country church near Louisville a few nights ago, when Parrish defended a number of women from insult after Rider is said to have broken up the supper.

The Christian church was packed when Rider, reported to be still in an ugly mood, entered. He spied Parrish and started toward him. Men in the crowd attempted to quiet him, but failed, and he attacked Parrish, who wielded his knife.

Baby Killed in Parents' Fight.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 26.—Alfred Turner, aged 10 weeks, was killed during a fight between the infants' parents. William Turner, the father, according to the report made to the police, attacked his wife because she did not have breakfast ready when he came downstairs. Mrs. Turner had the child in her arms and in the fight she dropped it to the floor. She was subsequently knocked down or fell upon the infant, crushing it to death. Both parents were arrested.

Fatal Christmas Festival Row.

Pryor Creek, Okla., Dec. 26.—Deputy Sheriff Nicholas Mitchell was shot and killed at Hogan institute, fifteen miles south of here, when he attempted to quiet a disturbance at a Christmas celebration. Sam and Henry Frye are under arrest and a posse is seeking George Frye. The Fryes are of Cherokee descent, wealthy and Taunton, Mass., Dec. 26.—Denying herself food, fire and light, Mary Cryan, aged 32, starved herself in the attic of a house she owned. She willed $3,500 to church and charity.

Miss Cryan rented her house for $20 a month, had $1,000 in the savings bank and after death about $100 in bills was found under her pillow.

She regarded fire and light as luxuries and no glimmer save that from the street lights entered her room at night. By day she wandered among dumps picking up odds and ends.

Edward Cassidy, from whose house she was buried, was a cousin, but she left him nothing. He will contest the will.
