Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph G. Leeds were host and hostess for a dinner party last evening at the Country club house, given in honor of their house guest, Miss Susan Brownell of Cincinnati. Places were arranged at the table for Miss Juliet Swayne, Miss Marie Campbell, Miss Josephine Cates, Mr. and Mrs. Corwin, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Craighead, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shively, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kaufman, Mr. Henry Bulla, Mr. Raymond Nicholson, Mr. Erman Smith, Mr. Charles Morgan and Mr. Wilbur Hibberd; Mrs. Hibberd having gone to Chicago for a week's stay.

Today at one o'clock Mrs. Milton Craighead entertained with a luncheon at her home on North Eighth street, for Miss Brownell.

Miss Juliet Swayne of North Eleventh street will give a dinner company at the club house this evening for Mrs. Leeds' guest.

Miss Edna Smith was the charming hostess for a card party given last evening at her home, 107 North Sixteenth street, in honor of her friend, Mr. Harry Smith, who left today for Dayton, where he attends St. Mary's college. The house was beautifully decorated with red and white hearts, the color scheme red and white being carried out in the luncheon which was served later in the evening. The game of hearts was played at three tables. Mr. Harry Smith and Mrs. Marguerite Nolan were awarded the prizes. Those enjoying Miss Smith's hospitality were Miss Lucile Townsend, Miss Irene Hart, Miss Blanche Conley, Miss Marguerite Nolan and Miss Madge Smith; Mr. Harry Smith, Mr. Robert McCarthy, Mr. Benjamin Sharp, Mr. Herbert Dickinson, Mr. Raymond Steinkamp, and Mr. Dorsey Nolan.

Mrs. Henry Brokamp who has been visiting with friends and relatives at Muncie, Ind., attended a New Year's party given by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neenan of that place. The function was in the nature of a dinner company.

The following clipping is from the Indianapolis Star:

The marriage of Miss Grace Elizabeth Hobbs and George W. Allison, both of Richmond, Ind., took place at the home of the bride's uncle, A. H. Nordyke, on College avenue Saturday afternoon, Jan. 2, at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. Neil McPherson, pastor of Tabernacle church in the presence of the members of the immediate family.

A short account of the wedding appeared in a recent edition of this paper. A more full account received today by friends of the young people is:

On Saturday afternoon, January 2, at 5 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. A. H. Nordyke, 2330 College avenue, Indianapolis, occurred the marriage of his niece, Miss Grace Hobbs, and Mr. George Allison, both of this city. The Reverend Neil McPherson, of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church officiating, the beautiful ring ceremony being used. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with Polynesian and the Christmas greens. The soft light of many candles added to the beauty of the ceremony. A family dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Allison will reside in this city.

A delightful bridge company was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs.

Don't Blame Your Stomach

When Without Exertion Or Cost You Can Enjoy Meals And Cure Dyspepsia.

Don't blame your stomach or your luck when your meals declare war on your system.

When the stomach won't do its work it is because it cannot. When foul smelling odors come from your stomach, when the head aches and the sourness of mouth every morning makes you hate your breakfast, when dreams and nightmare assail you, don't give up the fight.

This is the appeal of nature, and it should be heard.

Over-eating, late suppers, poorly chewed food, too rich pastries and under-done cooking are some of the causes of the stomach's ill health.

When the stomach is busy, it presses and churns all the liquid matter from food and with its juices dissolves into liquid form or pulp everything which comes into it.

If such food be poisonous it effects the juices, attacks the stomach, goes into the blood and weakens the entire system.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest full meal easily without material assistance from the stomach. They will restore the gastric fluid with all the elements needed. They build up the blood, destroy sour taste, bad breath, belching, stomach and bowel trouble and quickly restore natural conditions.

One grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food in the stomach or in a glass vial without aid of the human digestive apparatus. The method of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the methods of Nature.

They contain every requisite for the stomach and digestion. After a meal one of these little tablets when it enters the stomach mingles with the juices, attacks the food and digests it. It removes the fermented and decayed mucus, lying stagnant there and eases the stomach at once.

It is wholly a question for you to solve. Your druggist will furnish Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets 50c the box or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

George G. Tanner at her home on North Delaware street, when she entertained sixteen young women. The guests of honor were four of the season's debutantes—the Misses Louise Hibben, Clara Wilson, Louise Milligan and Margaret Eaglesfield. Mrs. Tanner was assisted during the afternoon by Mrs. H. J. Milligan. The prizes for the bridge game were dainty work bags, which had been made by the hostess. The guests who were asked to meet the young women were Mrs. William Avery Atkins, the Misses Dorothy Richardson, Madeline Fauvre, Anne Shaw, Marie Starr, Jane Mather Ogle, Emily Winter, Martha Foster, Alice Schaf, Agatha Reid, Ina Hollweg, and Miss Moran of New York, who is visiting at the army post.—Indianapolis Star.

Miss Olga Shriner has returned to her home in Muncie after a two weeks' visit here.

Miss Marjorie Buffkin, who has been spending the holidays with her mother, has returned to Topeka, Kansas, where she attends school at Bethany.

The second of a series of artist recitals will be given this evening and not Thursday as has been erroneously announced.

Miss Carolyn Hollingsworth, who is the guest of Mrs. James Carr at Springfield, O., will return home Friday.

Miss Jeannette Durno, who appeared in the first recital of a series given by Professor Justin Leroy Harris will open a series of recitals Thursday evening in Muncie. Miss Durno was greeted with much enthusiasm by the music lovers of this city. She doubtless will delight her audience in Muncie.

Mr. Hans Schroeder, the celebrated German grand opera barytone will appear in recital this evening at the

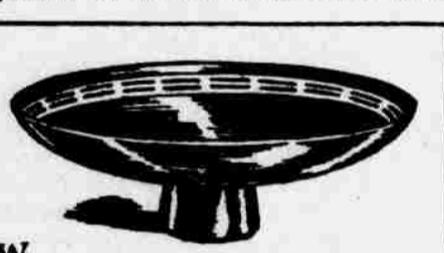

IN THE WOMAN'S WORLD

What They Are Doing—Little Things of Interest.

MISS LEACH HONORED.

Mikado Presents to Her Handsome Gold Cup.

Professor Abby Leach of Vassar college has been honored by the mikado of Japan with a distinction which comes to few and which has never before come to an American woman. It is the custom of the Japanese emperors to present cups of gold or silver or lacquer to those whom they wish to honor, and to Miss Leach his imperial majesty has sent a golden cup in recognition of her services to the cause of education. The honor came through Viscount Kaneko, now a member of the emperor's privy council and the special envoy of Japan to America during the Russo-Japanese war.

The cup is of solid gold, very heavy and of graceful design. It came wrapped in a double square of Habutai silk, of a kind made only for imperial use, while the box is of chrysanthemum wood, which is also dedicated to imperial use. Inside the box is engraved a chrysanthemum, the imperial emblem.

Last May Miss Leach was a guest of honor at dinner given at the Hotel Astor, New York city, by Consul General Midzuno, one of the guests being also Ambassador Takahira. The other guests were persons who had received decorations from the emperor, and Miss Leach was then informed that the emperor wished to bestow a similar honor upon her.

Miss Leach was born in Brockton, Mass., and is the daughter of Marcus Leach, pioneer shoe manufacturer. She was the first student at Radcliffe college, then Harvard annex, but took her degrees of bachelor and master of arts at Vassar, and later she studied at the University of Leipzig. In 1889 she became a professor at Vassar. She is now a member of the fellowship committee of the American school at Athens and vice president of the school and college organization of the middle states and Maryland. She has been president of the Philological association and is a frequent contributor to philological journals.

Can You Spell?

If you think you can, ask somebody to dictate the following jumble to you and see how many mistakes you make:

Astinous, a disappointed, desiccated physician, was peeling potatoes in an embarrassing and harassing way. His idiosyncrasy and privilege was to eat mayonnaise and mussels while staring at the Plietades and seizing people's tricycles and velocipedes. He was an earring teetotaller and had been on a picayune jamboree. He rode a palfrey

Gennett theater. He will be assisted by Hugo Kortschak, the German violinist. The Chicago Examiner says of the noted barytone:

Hans Schroeder, with a voice musical every instant, delights audiences with a program offered at Music hall. A picturesquely figure, standing simply beside the piano, is Hans Schroeder, the eminent German barytone. He might have stepped bodily out of a popular novel, so closely did he follow the ideal of a musical at his recital in Music hall yesterday. very interesting personal appearance, with pale face and flowing hair, and his poetical temperament, just fit the place he has won. He has long been an idol in Germany as a lieder singer, and every appearance he makes in America adds luster to his glories. But Schroeder did not merely look the part, he is it. His singing of German lieder is artistic beyond the commonplace. That is an absurd word, but it applies here. His voice is musical every minute. He is a real singer—and that is saying a good deal in these days when songs are declaimed, "bellowed," or interpreted, to the utter neglect of Bel Canto. He has a high range for a barytone, but the lower tones are deep and full and make good his claim to the title. He sings easily and freely throughout the whole voice with delicacy of shading, a sensibility of feeling that betray the dreamy German blood at a glance. He certainly does get at the heart of things and makes them very real to every listener, which is after all the thing in music.

Mr. Kortschak has also considerable ability as a violinist. He is a pupil of Sevcik, the world famous teacher of Kubelik and others.

The Lothringer Zeitung of Germany says of his playing:

We have had opportunity to admire many important violinists in Metz during the last years, as Florian Zajic, Hugo Heermann, Pablo de Sarasate, Jacques Thibaut, and it seems that Hugo Kortschak is one of the most interesting and important among them. With a perfect technique which masters everything, he combines an absolute musical sentiment, so that the heart of the listener is affected by his interpretation. Most beautiful offerings were given us by the artist in the violin concerto by Goldmark and "The Humoreske" by Dvorak.
