ful, but may be an exceedingly effective part of the decorative scheme. If possible a samovar should take the place of the kettle. They are really more practical and convenient—especially for serving tea to a number of guests—though so little understood and used in this country. Boxes for preserved fruit or ginger and trays of all shapes and sizes can be had at very moderate cost and are really beautiful. Brass is no harder to clean than silver, and a slight cloud of tarnish gives it a pinkish cast much admired by artists, however it may affect the housekeeper. In a living room where a touch of warm color is needed, nothing could be better than a table, set with well-selected brasses.

RUNNER OF SLED RIPS GASH IN LEG

Painful Accident Happened to Young Orville Boone During the Past Week.

LAD SHOWED GREAT NERVE

NEVER UTTERED A CRY AND TRIED TO KEEP HIS INJURY A SECRET FROM THE THROG OF MERRYMAKERS.

Orville Boone, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan C. Boone, was seriously injured in a bobsled accident on the Peacock hill the past week. Remarkable heroism was displayed by the youngster, but Mrs. Boone was almost prostrated by the shock when her boy was brought home. He is under a physician's care and is recovering. He complications are expected to follow.

Boone and half a hundred other children and a party of Earlham students were making merry on the hill side. The Earlhamites were making use of a bobsled with pointed front runners. Young Boone came crashing down the hill and the young man with the bob turned out in the effort to avoid the youngster. The boy shifted the course of his sled, however, and struck the front of the bob so that the pointed runner lacerated his leg for several inches, laying bare the bone.

Carried to His Home.

Boone did not utter a sound and at the time no one but himself knew of the injury. He continued to lie on the ground and in a few minutes a group of boys went over to him to find out why he was not engaging in the sport. It was learned then that he was hurt. He was carried to a fire that had been kept burning and a hasty examination showed the wound to be serious. The boy was taken to his home and a doctor summoned.

The flesh was mashed and bruised and the gash was wide enough to permit a finger being thrust in. It required fifteen stitches to close the incision.

CEDAR SPRINGS TO REMAIN VACANT

No Probability of Opening This Year.

According to a local real estate dealer who has been connected with all the former deals of the Cedar Springs summer resort, there seems to be no intention on the part of its management to open the resort this spring and summer. Dayton parties are still the owners and although there are said to be several persons desiring the place the policy of the present owners seems to be to hold it.

The minister's call was nearly finished, says a writer in the Detroit Free Press, when he remarked with emphasis, "It is deeds, not words, that count."

"Oh, I don't know!" responded his hostess. "Did you ever send a telegram?"

The foggiest year in London was 1873, with seventy-four fogs, and the foggiest month December, 1870, with seventeen foggy days.

NO VERDICT REACHED

At Ten O'clock Last Night the Jones Jury Reported Inability to Make Decision.

At ten o'clock last night the jury that had heard the case of the State against Dr. Arthur Jones of Whitewater announced it could not agree and retired for the night. It had been debating the question of the guilt or innotense of Jones since noon. When he jury did retire there was no indication that an agreement might be reached at all. If an agreement is decided upon, it may be that rather than compel the men to remain in their room all of today the court might release them. However, there is some question as to this action being proper, inasmuch as this is Sunday. The same question would arise in case of continued failure to arrive at a decision. The court might be disposed to accept a final disagreement and after a poll discharge the jury. It is certain that the twelve men will be kept together as long as there seems to be the least chance of a unanimous opinion being reached.
