The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

LOOK AFTER YOUR FENCES.

Woven Wire For Inclosure the Latest and Best.

The matter of farm fences is one of the principal improvements of the farm. A farm without good fences never is valued very highly, even though the fields be clean and fertile. On a great many farms the fence proposition is always a serious one with the owner. Too many farmers are indifferent regarding the keeping of their fences in repair. There is usually plenty of work to be done on the farm fences. They are continually getting out of repair, and unless looked after they get into bad order and entice the live stock to cross them. The matter of farm fences has already gone through considerable evolution in the last ten years. Very seldom does one ever see the old rail fence, commonly termed the "worm fence." The rail fence is fast becoming obsolete, even in the timber districts. They never were a thing of beauty, but their construction lent a quaintness to many homesteads. Another fence that is passing rapidly is the hedgerow. A hedge fence when properly cared for is one of the beautifying acquisitions of a well kept farm. When it is not properly trimmed and cared for it is an eyesore. Hedges have grown unpopular on account of the large amount of work required to keep it in proper condition and also on account of its drawing the soil fertility from the ground for a considerable distance where planted.

Barbed wire is also another thing that is meeting with disfavor with the most progressive farmers. It is a very cheap and durable fence, but if it is not kept in perfect condition it is the most dangerous thing about the farm, especially where live stock is kept. On a great many farms barbed wire fences have cost the owner many times more than what it cost to construct them in the damage done to live stock. Many a valuable colt or horse has been rendered practically worthless by it. The damage done to cattle has not been so great, but there are instances where many valuable dairy cows have had their udders practically ruined by barbed wire.

The coming fence—in fact, it is already here—is the woven wire. It has everything to commend it. It is slightly when properly put up and does not permit of grassy or weedy fence corners. Wire fences take up very little land and permit a very high degree of farming. Crops will grow right up by the side of it, and the keeping of the fence rows clean is little labor. Bad fences are often responsible for bad feeling between neighbors. Woven wire fences are the easiest of all fences to keep in repair. If they are put up right they are nearly always in good condition. A little attention paid to them once in awhile is all that is necessary to keep them in first class order. The best way to maintain a woven wire fence is to have a barbed wire stretched on top the posts. This prevents the stock, especially horses, from throwing their heads over the fence or breaking down the wire.

Portable Fence For a Chicken Yard.

A simple portable fence, a good thing for the chicken yard, can be made by nailing laths on the edge of 1 by 3 stringers. Where it is possible to obtain them, lengths of old gas pipes may be driven in the ground the right distances about to pass through the holes boxed in the ends of the stringers. The height of the fence is governed by the size of chickens to be yarded. Ordinary wooden lath is four feet long, and it may project six inches above the upper stringer and six inches below the lower stringer, which would bring the stringers three feet apart for a fence four feet high. Three-quarter inch gas pipe is one inch outside diameter, which would require one and one-eighth inch holes through the stringers. Cut the gas pipes five or six feet long, according to the soil. It will be necessary to put the fence in place and drive the gas pipes through the holes, because after the stakes are driven once or twice they become battered on top, or you can saw through from the ends of the stringers and mortise out to form an open seat.

Fertilizing the Orchard.

It might be said that it is always reasonable to fertilize the orchard or garden. Manure placed on this soil this winter will partially decay and its riches soak into the soil for the use of the plants next year. It not only serves as a fertilizer in the orchard, but in winter it acts as a soil protection and regulates sudden freezing and thawing. On hilly land it checks soil erosion.

The production of the beet sugar in 1907 for the first time exceeded the production of cane sugar; the product of the year being, cane sugar, 544,000,000 pounds; beet sugar 567,000,
