ARGUMENT HEARD

Petitioners Told Why They
Seek Removal of Scott
As Administrator.

NULL ESTATE IS INVOLVED

Argument was heard in the Wayne circuit court today on the petition for the removal of James Scott, as administrator of the estate of Henry Null. It is claimed that Scott obtained appointment as administrator simply by virtue of the fact he is a resident of Wayne county. His wife is said to be a distant relative of Henry Null, deceased. It was alleged in the petition Scott does not intend to defend the estate against claims, which are not reasonable. The estate involved is valued at $12,000.

ITCHING PALM OIL.

"Palm oil," a synonym for "graft," is not at all a novelty in this sense. In 1627 Middleton wrote that "palm oil will make a pursuivant relent." The sixteenth and seventeenth centuries revealed in varieties of the metaphor. Greene speaks of rubbing palms with "the oil of angels," a humorous allusion to the coin named after the angelic figure stamped upon it, and "oil of angels" seems to have been quite a common joke in England. Another writer has a reference to "anointing" an ecclesiastic in the flat "with Indian oyle." Both "anointing" and "greasing" were frequently used to mean bribing, even without special mention of the hand as the part greased. Dryden has "the greaz'd advocate."

ANCIENT THERMOPYLAE.

In spite of the fact, which is well known, that the sea has receded since ancient times, the strategical position of the ancient pass of Thermopylae is still immensely strong. The alternative route by Delegh, which crosses the hills a mile and a half north of the springs by well engineered zigzags, is equally capable of defense and leads into a country of a most difficult character. Either pass might be held indefinitely by 5,000 men. The coast road is absolutely commanded from the heights so that a comparatively small force would render it impassable, while the flat lowland lying near the sea is marshy and intersected by dikes.

RECEIVES A "COLLECT."

Oliver Herford, who is equally famous as a poet, illustrator and brilliant wit, was entertaining four magazine editors at luncheon when the bell rang and a maid entered with the mail. "Ah," said an editor, "an epistle."

NO CANNIBALISM.

With a quivering hand we clip from an Irish paper the following transcript of an official notice in a Dublin government office: "Under no circumstances must government messengers be used for luncheon."—London News

WANT LIQUOR LICENSE

Applicants Must Have Them to Operate 90 Days if Drys Win.

REFUND TO BE ALLOWED

Applications for liquor licenses have been filed by Edward Cutler, Henry Pardieck and John Steele, of this city and Simeon Crockett and James Wharton, of Cambridge City. These applications will be presented to the county commissioners, Monday. If the license is granted and the county is voted dry, the holders will be entitled to operate their places of business only ninety days. If they surrender the license within ninety days of the date of election, they will be refunded an amount proportionate with the unexpired term for which the license fee shall be paid. All licenses issued prior to the passage of the local option act will be good for one year from date of issue. The local option law was approved September 26, 1908.
