

ELWOOD CLARK DIES AT PHILADELPHIA

Deceased Prominent Resident
Of Wayne County and an Ex-commissioner.

HAD SUFFERED LONG TIME

AFTER BEING RE-ELECTED TO
THE BOARD FOR SECOND TERM
IN 1907 HIS HEALTH CAUSED HIM TO RESIGN.

After being in declining health for two years and regarded as in a critical condition for ten days, death relieved the sufferings of Elwood Clark, former commissioner of Wayne county, last evening. Mr. Clark died at the home of his son, Dr. John Clark, 1015 N. 10th street, Philadelphia, where he went last November. He was seventy-four years old. The body will arrive in this city tomorrow morning and be taken to Economy, the home of the deceased, for funeral and burial. The deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. Louisa Doan and Mrs. William Savory of Wilmington, Del., and John Clark, of Philadelphia. The other members of the immediate family are the sisters, Mrs. Nancy Chiles, of Indianapolis, Mrs. Eunice Mendenhall, Miss Mary Clark and Miss Aenech Clark, of Winchester and brothers, Edmund and Dr. J. B., of Economy and William, of Winchester.

Elwood Clark resigned as county commissioner after serving a complete term of three years. He was re-elected to succeed himself, but his health failed so that he resigned in December, 1907. Robert N. Beeson was appointed to fill the vacancy until the next regular election at which time he was chosen to continue in the office. Previous to being a member of the board of commissioners, Mr. Clark served a number of years as a member of the county board of review. He had great interest in public affairs at all times and would have been chosen president of the board of commissioners had he not resigned. He remained in his office as long as he was able to make the trips from Economy to this city, but when his physical condition weakened greatly, friends and members of his family urged him to relinquish the office.

Among the residents of Perry township, Mr. Clark stood highly respected. He spent the most of his life in the community and his friends were legion. The arrangements for his funeral have not been perfected.

DRILL PRESS HAS A VICTIM TODAY

James Kessler Was Slightly Injured in Shop.

While working with a drill press at Gaar, Scott & Company's shops this morning, James Kessler residing at 347 Richmond avenue experienced a painful, but not serious accident. His left coat sleeve was caught in the press and carried his arm in with it. After being extricated from the machine he was taken to Reid Memorial hospital in the ambulance and it was found that his injuries consisted of slight abrasion of the arm. He was then taken to his residence. It is regarded as remarkable by his associates at the factory that his injuries were of such a minor nature.

The suit is another development from the construction of South First street and the protests and appeals that followed the assessments of benefits and damages by the board of public works.

HAS A BOUNCING BABY GIRL NOW

Dr. Chenoweth the Happiest
Man in Town.

Dr. L. S. Chenoweth, the popular dentist, is perhaps the proudest young man in the city. Such pride as he is said to come but once in life. The cause of the excitement is that on Monday a 3½ pound baby girl was left by the stork at his residence, 131 South Ninth street. Doctor was passing around the city today to his many acquaintances and receiving congratulations. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Affairs of the Sporting World

We see by a Lowell paper that they are thinking of nominating Bob Ganley as mayor of that burg. Class to that job, Robert.

Latham has really agreed to act as head fun maker for the Giants this year. "If I get tired of the job I'll go back to umpiring," said Latham. "That's almost as funny as being the end man of a minstrel troupe."

The White Sox will be the busy kids out in California during spring training trip. The club has given out its practice game schedule and it calls for nearly fifty games.

Detroit is building a new plant to hold 25,000 persons. Why? There have been two world championships played there and the size of the crowds that attended never caused the building inspector to get uneasy.

In looking over the exchanges we see that Jerry Downs, the Tigers' crack infielder has been purchased by at least ten different minor league clubs. The Detroit papers, however, are predicting a great season for Jeremiah as a Tiger.

Press stand at Pittsburg's new park will be locked and the qualified reporters supplied with keys. This ought to work well until Houdini visits Smoketown.

Adrian C. Anson not only claims the credit of bringing the late John C. Clarkson into the major leagues, to which he is entitled, but adds the rare tribute that he was the greatest pitcher of his time.

MAGNATES TO MEET

Polo League Promoters to Consider Increasing the Schedule Next Sunday.

LAFAYETTE WANTS GET IN

There will be a meeting of the promoters of the Indiana Polo league Sunday afternoon at Anderson to consider the advisability of making a change in the schedule which will provide for two games of polo each week in the various cities. New Castle, Elwood and Richmond favor the change and it is believed the management of Marion and Anderson will acquiesce. It is probable however, that the change will not be instituted until after March 1, as several of the promoters have their colicums booked for other attractions until this time. The Lafayette management will ask for admittance to the league at this meeting and if the promoters consider the question seriously Lafayette will make the circuit a six club affair. Another matter of importance to be considered will be the strengthening of the clubs.

WIFE DESERTER IS BEING TRIED

Under the New Law This Is
First Case of Kind Heard
In Wayne County.

PLAINTIFF SAW THE DEVIL

HOWEVER SHE DENIED THE PLAY MADE HER WANT TO THROW AID ON HER ERRING
SPOUSE—CASE IS SPICY.

To the regular jury of the circuit court today, Mrs. Alice Tangeman related the story of her desertion by Charles Tangeman, her husband. The couple were married in June of last year and the witness said when she went home the evening of the following November 23, she found Charles had gone. He took his clothes but left no note. She claimed other women, whom she characterized as "bad," had gained an influence over him and this led to quarrels. Wife desertion is a felony in this state and this is the first case to come to trial under the law. The woman alleges she was left without a penny when Tangeman deserted her.

Offered Her Money.

Ora Monger bookkeeper for William Waking, was brought into the case. Mrs. Tangeman claimed that Monger came to see her and offered her money. She did not tell the amount offered nor the purpose for which it was to be used.

In the cross examination, Mrs. Tangeman, who before marriage was Alice Vossler, was asked if ever she had threatened to kill her husband, and if she did not threaten to throw acid on him. She denied the assertion and also after witnessing a production of "The Devil" she told Mrs. Gus Jabusch if her husband did her that way she would throw acid on him.

Had She a Temper?
The defense sought to show the prosecuting witness to be a high temper and that her husband were such as to force him to leave her.

STARTS FUND FOR A Y. W. C. A. HOME

A. fund was held last evening at the high school hall, Charles Underhill, a reader of Brooklyn, N. Y., giving a reading on "David Copperfield." Financially the meeting was a success although a statement could not be made today regarding the amount cleared.

Card Prize Winners Tabooed

Palladium in the Future Will Not Print This Feature in its Social Columns—Uncle Sam Opposes It.

Either because Marion's society women fear a grand jury investigation of their quiet little card games for prizes or because their morals have undergone a change, they have decided to abandon the practice of playing cards for prizes.

It is difficult to find out just why the Marion women abandoned the pastime. It has been hinted that the grand jury intended to take the matter up as it has been claimed the stakes offered at some of the "sewing circle" sittings were decidedly large.

Richmond women do not appear to think there is anything wrong in playing cards for prizes. The society columns of the local newspapers have been publishing accounts of club meetings and the names of prize winners. The postal authorities have ruled that such affairs are a species of gambling and lotteries and if the postmaster sees fit he may refuse the paper the use of the mails. In the future the Palladium will contain no accounts, like— "Mrs. Blank won first prize," etc.

At Marion the club women have voted the prizes out of their contests. The crusade was led by the North Marion Pedro club, one of the leading organizations of the city. Other card clubs are following the example. Some refuse to give out for publication the names of prize winners and others refuse to tell even the nature of their meetings. "O, just a little informal affair," is all that is told about what went on when Mrs. Acsoffments entertained the members of the Boston kid club.

In the course of its long history England has known a few serious earthquake shocks. In the days of William Rufus one was felt throughout the country, and in 1274 an English earthquake destroyed Glastonbury among its other damage, while part of St. Paul's cathedral fell in as the result of an earthquake in the sixteenth century. Perhaps the most recent serious shock was that which afflicted much damage in the eastern counties in 1584; a Mansion House fund was opened for the sufferers.

On the basis of a basket of corn producing 2.5 gallons of alcohol it has been figured out that just last year's crop in the United States was sufficient to furnish 20,000,000 horsepower for ten hours a day for an entire year.
