WILL CUT SALARY FOR SENATOR KNOX

Speaker Cannon Has Promised to Push Action in The House, Monday.

NO OPPOSITION EXPECTED

ACTION CONGRESS WILL TAKE WILL MAKE PENNSYLVANIA MAN ELIGIBLE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE JOB.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Unless Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania now slated for secretary of state in the cabinet of President Taft, should make up his mind suddenly to stay in the senate, the bill removing his present ineligibility to that office by reducing the salary from $12,000 to $8,000 a year will become a law by Tuesday of next week.

Arrangements for its speedy passage by the house are now complete, and on Monday Speaker Cannon and his lieutenants expect to put it through under suspension of the rules.

Dodge Complications.

In order to avoid complicating the situation, which stands unique in the history of the country, the speaker has ignored the committee on judiciary, to which the bill which passed the senate would be referred under ordinary circumstances, and assigned to the committee on the election of president, vice-president, etc., the duty of reporting a similar measure.

Representative Gaines of West Virginia, the chairman, responded quickly to the call, and a bill he had drafted follows the line of the one which already has passed the senate, but which is now lying on the speaker's table in order to avoid a reference to the judiciary committee with its accompanying embarrassments.

Taft Takes a Hand.

The reason the latter committee is being ignored in this way was that its chairman, Representative Jenkins of Wisconsin, and several other members of it are opposed to this method of circumventing the constitution in order to clear the way for the Pennsylvania senator to go to the cabinet.

Although the president elect has injected his personality into the situation, the opponents to the procedure described intend to discuss the proposition when it is submitted to the house next week. But as previously stated the bill seems quite certain to receive a large majority when it is put upon its passage. The interest which Judge Taft has taken in the case is responsible for a decided change in sentiment in the house, which became apparent this afternoon. The president elect has sent duplicate telegrams to Speaker Cannon and Senator Hale, urging the enactment of legislation similar to that passed by the senate, and expressing the opinion that it would remove Senator Knox's disqualification to enter the cabinet.

Pure Borax is the most valuable and useful household necessity ever used in the home to lighten the labors of the housewife. Borax as a cleanser, disinfectant and cosmetic has a reputation as old as the history of the Pyramids of Egypt, in fact the history of Borax as a cleansing agent is lost in the dark ages of time.

But, nevertheless, you don't know

PURE BORAX

until you have used the

20 Mule Team Package Brand

guaranteed by trade-mark and by makers as

ABSOLUTELY PURE BORAX!

The United States the largest producers of Borax

Borax is found in several parts of the world—in Asia Minor, Tibet, Italy, Chili, Bolivia, California and Nevada. The largest source of supply, however, is the United States, Nevada and California practically producing the bulk of the world's supply, and the Pacific Coast Borax Company is the largest single producer of Borax in the world.

Borax saves so much in soap, starch, soda and other household helps, that after a month's trial it will be found that Borax is safer, better and more economical than any other chemical that will produce the same results.

When Borax once enters the family as an article of common use, it soon becomes a necessity, and is as fixed a commodity for regular household supply as salt, soap or sugar. The variety of domestic needs it is fitted to meet renders it a welcome addition to the household.

The use of Borax in the laundry, beginning with the days when the Dutch gained fame for their white linens, is so well known that only mention need be made of it.

There are hundreds of different uses for Borax, but because until within the last few years it was a high-priced drug instead of a cheap salt, the knowledge of its uses has not been widespread among all the people.

A box of "20 Mule Team Borax" should be as much in place in every household as the salt box or the jar of salve for burns. It is one of the best agents for softening water for domestic use. There is no greater comfort in traveling; in the laundry it is invaluable. It is also one of the best means of rendering fabrics fire-proof.

As an insecticide it is invaluable; cockroaches will not haunt a kitchen where Borax is scattered on the floor, and it is harmless to domestic pets. Scientists say that one part in one thousand will retard the coming of milk twenty-four hours, and is not injurious to health. Lastly, Borax is a valuable disinfectant and antiseptic.

"Upstairs, downstairs and in my lady's chamber." The valuable qualities of Borax, if more generally known, would insure it a warm reception from every well-informed, progressive housewife. It should find a place in the laundry, closet and on the toilet stand of my lady's dainty boudoir.

20 Mule Team Package Borax is One of the Most Useful Cleansing Substances Known.

In the household, when it is freely used, dirt cannot exist, and with the eradication of dirt, the germs of many diseases are destroyed. There can be no surer way to procure the healthfulness of the home than by the free use of Borax, which cleanses, deodorizes and disinfects.

Borax has fully demonstrated its use in the home and the laundry that it possesses properties which are simply invaluable in washing or cleansing textile fabrics, whether of vegetable or animal fibre.

The utility of Borax in the household has long been recognized, and but for its former high price, it would long ago have supplanted soda in all its forms, as used in modern methods of the home, while even at the high rate recently prevailing it has been used by many of our first-class housekeepers and found to be economical in producing the very highest and best results as a cleanser, antiseptic, and imparting to linen that white, smooth, enamel-like finish so much admired.
