NAUGHTY SOLONS SHAKE FISTS AND HOUSE TREMBLES

However Disputing Representatives Were Separated Before Any Blows or Slaps Were Exchanged.

MANY BILLS KILLED BY THE LOWER HOUSE

Among the Slaughtered Measures the Remains of the Blind Tiger Law Amendment Was Discovered.

Palladium Bureau, Indianapolis, Feb. 13.

Excitement was furnished this morning when two members of the legislature started to give a fist exhibition.

Kieckhefer of Cass, and Beaver of Marion County clashed over a bill to limit trains to sixty cars and shook their fists under each others noses.

The members crowded around the would-be pugilists, expecting a fight, but the men were separated without blows.

The house acted as an executioner today and killed the following bills by adopting adverse committee reports: To supply free school books; one and half cent fares on interurbans; the election of county superintendents by the people; the Shirley bill to elect a state factory inspector instead of his appointment by the governor; to abolish fish and game deputies; to make the township trustee also the road superintendent. It also killed the Wells bill that workmen not be required to make repairs on boilers under steam pressure; to appropriate $500,000 for the erection of a state library; to amend anti-cigarette law so as to allow their sale to adults; to divide the Clay and Putnam Circuit; to repeal the law governing county council and township advisory boards; the appropriation for a Voorhis monument at Terre Haute; the appropriation for the Schuyler Colfax monument at South Bend; to prevent employers taking out liability insurance on employees, to prohibit bootlegging, and to prohibit the sale of liquor near memorial parks.

Kill a Saloon Bill.
Other bills killed were: To revoke saloon licenses for violations of law; the Roggen bill to license restaurants to sell liquor; to amend the blind tiger law; to prohibit double headers on railroads; the bill to establish public playgrounds in cities of the first, second and third class in the summer months, was advanced to engrossment. While the bill appropriating $10,000 to establish a state fish hatchery, was engrossed. The house voted to invite W. J. Bryan to address the house while he is on Feb. 25 or 26. The house adjourned until Monday morning.

BATTLE AGAINST COAHNAN BILL IS NOW IN PROGRESS

dollars worth of business would be lost in Richmond each year, it is stated.

It is generally considered that the bill will again be reported favorably, but if such is the case it is predicted that one of the largest and most determined lobbies ever working in legislative halls, will swoop down upon the capitol. It is almost needless to say that this lobby will be composed of gas men and owing to great amount of money they have invested, it is a safe prediction that the Richmond Gas Company officers will be about the most active ducks in the puddle. A bitter fight is sure to be waged on the measure when it gets on the floor of either house of the legislature.

And it is further ordered by the Court, that the Clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

WITNESS, the Honorable Albert B. Anderson, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof at Indianapolis, in said District, on the 9th day of February, A. D. 1909.
