

INTRODUCE THE APPROPRIATION BILL YESTERDAY

This Was the Principal Feature of the Day, Although Both Houses Did Considerable Business.

ALL STATE RECORDS FRACTURED BY BILL

It Is Believed the Measure Carries $475,000 More Than Recommended by Visitation Committee.

(Palladium Bureau, Indianapolis, March 4.)

The introduction of the appropriation bill in the house late yesterday afternoon was the principal feature of the day's session of the legislature, although both houses did a lot of business. The appropriations carried in the bill for the various state institutions and offices and departments are larger in the aggregate by several hundred thousand dollars than they have ever been in the history of the state, according to one of the members of the committee. This gives rise to the belief that the democrats of the house will raise a howl when the bill comes on for consideration. ## MEREDITH WILL GUARD THE SALE

Will Attend Lackey Event With Deputies.

Sheriff Meredith and his deputies intend to be on hand next week during the Cambridge City horse sale to prevent any disorder. It is reported that card sharps and other style gamblers are headed toward Cambridge City, which in years past has proven a mecca to gentlemen of this order. Yesterday afternoon on an interurban car arriving in this city at 2 o'clock a traveling man by the name of Moore was fleeced out of $150 by card sharps. The gamblers, according to reports made to Sheriff Meredith, got off at the car barns. No arrests have been made as yet, although the police and the county officials are looking for the card experts. It is believed they went back to Cambridge City.

INDIANA SOCIETY TO HOLD BANQUET

Expatriates in New York Plan A Reunion to Be Held On March 15.

SENATOR SHIVELEY SPEAKS

HOOSIER FEASTS ALWAYS SURPASS THOSE OF OTHER STATES BECAUSE INDIANA IS HOT-BED OF ORATORY.

New York, March 4.—On March 15, at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, Senator Shiveley and other eminent and distinguished people will address the Indiana Society of New York, on the occasion of its Annual Banquet.

The Society, of which Col. James B. Curtis, formerly speaker of the Indiana House of Representatives and Captain of the Indianapolis Light Artillery, is president, and is doing much good by supplying a rallying point for Hoosiers in New York.

The annual banquet is one of the most successful of such things given and the list of speakers always surpasses that of other state society events for the reason, of course, that Indiana is the hot-bed of oratory as well as of literary accomplishment.

HORSE IS BURNED IN A BARN FIRE

Blaze at the Brumley Stable This Morning Causes Much Damage.

FLAMES THREATENING

CONFLAGRATION WAS CAUSED BY THE EXPLOSION OF A LAMP HANGING UPON A NAIL AT SIDE OF BARN.

Fire, due to a lantern explosion in the barn belonging to Ben Maag, at the rear of 22 South Seventh street killed a horse owned by J. R. Brumley, station deliveryman and otherwise damaged the property. The fire broke out about 6 o'clock this morning and for a while it was believed that the business block at Seventh and Main streets was on fire. Mr. Brumley's loss including the horse, wagon, harness and feed will amount to about $150 and is partially covered by insurance. Mr. Maag's loss will not be heavy.

Burned to a Crip. At an early hour this morning Mr. Brumley went from his residence on South Eighth street to feed his horse. As it was still dark he left the lighted lantern hanging on a nail in the barn. It is thought that the lantern was either jarred from its position or else knocked down in some manner and the explosion followed. The fire, although starting several feet from the horse burned toward it along the partition. The horse was burned to a crip. The harness and wagon was burned so that they were practically worthless.

ITS SHARP STICK INSTEAD OF BIG STICK FOR TAFT

Congress Is First to Feel Its Point, Being Prodded to an Early Completion of Tariff Problem.

AMERICAN PEOPLE ARE ANXIOUS TO FINISH JOB

Congress Is Also of the Same Spirit and It Is Probable the Gigantic Task Will End on June First.

By Sheldon S. Cline.

Washington, March 4.—The "sharp stick" instead of the "big stick," may become the symbol of the Taft administration. Congress is the first to feel its point, and the course of the prodding is the forthcoming tariff bill. Mr. Taft wants congress to "get a hurry on itself" and have the successor of the Dingley act ready for his signature by June 1.

This is the first stand Mr. Taft has taken, as the successor of Mr. Roosevelt, in the relations between congress and the executive, and in it he will have the sympathetic support not only of congress, but of the entire country. If there is one thing more than another that the American people want just now it is that the job of tariff revision shall be completed in the shortest possible time.

Congress Also Anxious. Congress is just as anxious as are the president and the people to have the task finished. It has been doubtful of its own ability to achieve early legislation. The most optimistic of the congressional leaders, while talking June, have been figuring on July of August, while those of a pessimistic turn of mind have set the time when the tariff bill would pass, all the way from September to November.

Will Help a Lot. Mr. Taft's stand for June 1 will help a lot toward having the work finished by that time. It will fix the minds of the country on that date, and the committees and houses of congress will do their work with it in mind. More than anything else, however, it will give the leaders in congress courage to push the measure through, to fight down opposition and overcome obstruction. Had Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich and two or three other leaders in each house, gotten together and agreed upon June 1 as the date for finally passing the bill, they would have had to stand under the charge of gagging congress and forcing through hasty and ill-considered legislation, but with the prestige of the president of the United States back of the effort to pass the bill by the 1st of June, there will be much less of criticism and complaint.

ON A MODERN WARSHIP.

The Feelings of a Commander As Described by Himself.

How the commander of a modern big American battleship can feel is disclosed in the following, taken from a letter written by such an officer: "There are more than 900 men on this ship, and on the theory that an official of the government is a servant of the people I am the servant of these 900 men and am bound to see that they are kept in food and clothing and with occupation. Perhaps I should feel more independent if I didn't have to listen respectfully to the orderly every time he comes in and makes one of his infinitely numerous reports and put men in jail when I don't want to. "Some of these 900 men look more dignified and independent than I feel. I wonder whether I look dignified and independent. I suppose I ought to do so, for to swing a steel mass 504 feet long successfully around like monsters and to make 15,000 tons writhe around the corners of narrow channels is something of an art, after all, and one not possessed by many of the inhabitants of the globe. "With all that swinging of steel monsters around there go the responsibility and the knowledge that if the ship runs aground the whole civilized world will be acquainted with it inside of twenty-four hours."

DEADLY HORNETS.

The Ones That Buzzed About the Young Soldier's Ears.

A great general was taking his regiment into action. He sent forward a detail of men to make gaps in a rail fence to avoid the heavy loss sure to result if the whole body of men paused to tear it down. The coolest and finest man in the detail was a young soldier who had never been under fire before. When he began pulling down the fence he fancied he had disturbed a nest of hornets, and he thought he heard them singing fiercely about his ears. But the lad was not going to run from hornets when there was more serious business ahead. Ignoring the angry insects, he opened the fence and rejoined the regiment without being stung. In a day or two he was surprised to hear that he was to be promoted. "But," he said modestly, "I don't think I deserve promotion over the others."

"My boy," replied the general, "I saw you pull down that fence. You were the coolest man under fire I ever saw."

RUNAWAY BOYS CAUGHT BY COPS

Richmond Lads Were Captured at Indianapolis.

Harold Thomas and a boy named King were apprehended by the Indianapolis police yesterday and will be returned to their parents in this city this evening. Both boys are not more than 15 years of age. They hopped on a Pennsylvania train yesterday. Young Thomas is the son of Mrs. Levi Thomas, matron of the Home for Friendless.

TWO MORE ARRESTS

Federal Officers Following Up Action in Arresting Robert Scott.

RAID MADE LAST EVENING

Anderson, Ind., March 4.—Following the arrest of Robert Scott in this city Saturday afternoon by Federal officers, Charles Dowde and John Koenig of Chicago, photographers, were taken into custody yesterday charged with being implicated with high Argentine Republic officials in an international counterfeiting and smuggling plot, and are now in jail in that city.

Last evening a raid was made on the residence of Koenig at 406 La Salle avenue where the negatives of the bills to be counterfeited were discovered and confiscated. The capture was made by Lawrence Richey and P. C. Drautenberg, the former having trailed Scott to Anderson and effected his capture here. The arrest of the photographers was made on the strength of a confession in which Scott implicates as parties to the counterfeiting game.

A Treasury Official.

The photographers had made plates for five and ten peso notes. Scott while in South America, is said to have entered into a conspiracy with Juan Soriano, a high treasury official of Argentina to counterfeit $500,000 worth of government notes. Soriano is said to have furnished the paper for the counterfeit bills. Scott is said to have confessed that they planned to palm them off on smugglers as genuine, believing that if they were found to be bogus by them they would never make complaint because of their own crimes. Soriano, Scott says, was to have received $40,000 for his share. W. B. P. Wright, an etcher, whom Scott is said to have employed to make the plates "tipped" off the federal officials. He became suspicious of the men. They had told him the plates were to be used to make lottery certificates.

The Argentine government will be asked by the United States government to take a hand in the investigation of the alleged plot.

The scheme hatched by the men and thwarted by the federal officials, involved the counterfeiting of Argentine money and the purchase with it of diamonds from South American smugglers. The diamonds obtained in this manner were to be brought into the United States as contraband. Scott in his confession is said to have acknowledged that he has already smuggled $51,000 worth of diamonds into the United States.

Don't Know Him.

When Scott was placed under arrest in this city, he gave his home as Richmond, but no one there seems to know him. In the Argentine Republic he was superintendent of the Amalgamated Copper mines company and is said to have been affiliated with the Western Federation of Miners. He is said to have been one of the Cripple Creek deportees.

"You see that I am quite familiar with your music," remarked the amateur pianist after his performance at the concert.

"It seems so," replied the popular but grim looking composer. "At any rate, you took a great many liberties with it."—Exchange.

Government Rebuffed In Standard Oil Hearing

Chicago, March 4.—Attorney John S. Miller raised a puzzling question in the Standard Oil trial before Judge Anderson yesterday, when he contended that "Tariff No. 24," the strongest weapon in the hands of the government in the present trial, which was framed by a tariff commission, was in itself unlawful, as it was nothing more or less than a rate agreement between certain railroads. The whole case may hinge on the court's view of this question.

The raising of this question threw the government attorneys into confusion for the moment. Assistant United States District Attorney Wilkerson immediately objected to the line of examination on "Tariff No. 24," that Mr. Miller was using with the witness on the stand, but Judge Anderson overruled the objection and allowed Mr. Miller to proceed with his questioning.

In explaining to the court his reasons for asking certain questions regarding "Tariff No. 24" Mr. Miller said: "I am trying to bring out the fact that this tariff, which the Government proposes to enter in evidence as

MEDICAL SOCIETY IS INVESTIGATING

At Meeting of the Organization Yesterday the Bulla Case Came Up.

STATEMENTS ARE REFUSED

PHYSICIANS DECLINE TO STATE THEIR COURSE OF ACTION—OUTGROWTH OF A RECENT FARCLICAL TRIAL.

The Wayne County Medical society held a meeting yesterday afternoon, and it is understood, devoted most of its time to investigating the record of a prominent local physician, Dr. J. M. Bulla. Several months ago Dr. Bulla was arrested on a charge of criminal malpractice at the Reid Memorial hospital. He was arrested, it is stated, following information furnished the state by Dr. Charles Marvel. When the case was given a hearing in the circuit court the evidence was so palpably weak and the testimony showing no evidence of guilt, that the court, at the request of the prosecutor, ordered the jury to return a verdict of acquittal.

This morning Dr. Bulla informed Dr. A. L. Bramkamp, secretary of the society, that he would expect a square deal in the investigation.

Members of the organization who were asked today what action the society intended to take refused to make any statement, saying that at a later date a report would be made public. Dr. Bulla does not appear to be much worried by the activities of his colleagues. Dr. F. M. Johnston this morning informed a Palladium reporter of the facts in the case as are known at the present time—which are very few. He states that no action will be taken in the case for at least a month. Dr. Bulla says he has no statement to make at the present time.

At the meeting yesterday the following program was carried out: Psychological Therapy—J. M. Thurston.

Discussion—I. O. Allen.

Some Observations on General Anesthesia—F. W. Krueger.

Discussion—S. C. Markley.

Constitution—H. B. Boyd.

DEMURRER MADE IN KRAMER CASE

This Action Filed in Court Today.

Demurrer to the complaint of the C. & W. Kramer Company against the Kramer Manufacturing company, in which a receiver is asked for the defendant company was filed in the circuit court today by attorneys for the defendant. In the first paragraph of the demurrer it is alleged that the complaint does not embody sufficient facts to constitute such action. In the second place, it is asserted that the facts are improperly joined to constitute the action. Also that the mortgage for $25,000, which the plaintiff holds against the defendant, was not recorded within 45 days after its execution.

While in high school she took part in the class play of the Junior and senior classes, carrying her part in a most creditable manner. Three years ago Miss Florence Shute, a sister, won the Bryn Mawr scholarship.

Miss Parke's Record

Miss Parke of this city, who is named as an alternate to Miss Shute, was also a member of the class of '06 and was salutatorian of the class.

Mr. Ullum, who won the Haverford scholarship is a day dodger and is well known. He made 30-35 A's out of a possible 33, which is a very good record. His major subject was mathematics. John W. Perkins, of Rising Sun, Ind., who was majoring in German and French, is a dormitory student and is named as alternate.

This is the first time for a number of years that three Richmond students have won the scholarships that have been offered at Earlham college, and the day dodgers are quite proud today to think that three of their number were successful.
