

INTO SECOND PLACE

Chicago Team in the Y. M. C. A. League Made an Advance in the Race.

CARLISLE WAS THE LOSER

League Standing.	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Carlisle	7	3	.700
Chicago	6	4	.600
Princeton	4	4	.500
Illinois	4	5	.444
Carleton	4	6	.400
Cornell	3	7	.300

Chicago secured a good hold on second place in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league last evening by defeating Carlisle 23 to 22. It was a good contest to watch. Both teams were working their best as it was the last game for them, and on the outcome would depend the final standing. By the outcome, Carlisle falls one game short of splitting even in the won and lost columns. Chicago can be tied for second place by Princeton, if the Tigers win tomorrow evening. In the event of a tie it is not probable the game would be played off and allowed to count in the percentage table. Chicago has made a game fight. After losing the first three games of the season, the Midway team was strengthened and ever since has been coming rapidly. Only one game was lost afterward. Tomorrow evening, Princeton meets Illinois in the final game of the season. Princeton is picked as the winner.

WANT MEET PURDUE

Earlham Would Like to Have The Date Canceled by Rose Poly.

DATE IS NEXT SATURDAY

Rose Polytechnic has canceled its date for a dual track meet with Purdue and yesterday a telegram was sent to Earlham by the Earlham track team manager, asking that the Quakers be permitted to fill the date. The meet was to be held Saturday. Rose assigned as its reason the poor condition of its team. The Earlham team is not in as good condition as it will be a few weeks hence, but the Quakers believe they could make things interesting for the "boller-makers." The track candidates are working hard and a meet with Purdue would be a good training for the state contest and the meet with De Pauw.

THE MIRAGE.

Conditions That Make Possible This Beautiful Illusion.

About that natural phenomenon, the mirage, much mystery clung in days of old, but science explains it as readily as the rainbow.

The fata morgana of the strait of Messina and the specter of the Brooklyn were nothing more in sober reality than mere mirage.

A mirage may occur at any place where the denser stratum of air is placed above the lighter stratum, thus refracting the rays of light, the common surface of the two strata acting as a mirror.

In looming mirages distant objects show an extravagant increase in vertical height without alteration in breadth. Distant hummocks of ice are thus magnified into immense towers and pinnacles, and a ship is sometimes abnormally drawn out until it appears twelve or thirteen times as high as it is long. Rocks are seen drawn up to ten or twelve times their proper height. Houses as well as human beings and animals appear in like exaggerated shape.

Another form of mirage is when a ship or some other object near the water seems greatly elongated and a second inverted image meets it from above.

Sometimes the proper image of the object is elevated far above the sea, while the second image strangely appears inverted beneath it, the whole surrounded by a sheet of sky which is mirrored and repeated within it.

In 1882 in the arctic region Captain Scoresby recognized by its inverted image in the air his father's ship, the Fame, which afterward proved to be seventeen miles beyond the visible horizon of his observation.

One August evening in 1806, Dr. Vince saw from Ramsgate, at which place only the tops of Dover castle towers are usually visible, the whole of the castle. It appeared as though lifted up and bodily placed on the near side of the intervening hill. So perfect was this illusion that the hill itself actually could not be seen through the figure.

Some forms of mirage are lateral as well as vertical, arising from unequal density of two contiguous vertical bodies of air. Thus on Lake Geneva a boat has been seen double, the two images some distance apart.

Persons have been duped in the same way. Any one on a hot day by placing his eye near to a heated wall may see lateral mirages of objects at a distance and nearly on a line with the wall.

Mirages are very frequent on deserts or the large sandy plains which abound in the southwestern states and territories. Many a passing wagon train has pushed on in joyous haste at the sight of a green grove or limpid lake, only to be cruelly disappointed at the fading away of the vision. Is it any wonder that the natives and Indians regard the phenomenon as the work of evil and tantalizing spirits?

Lake Ontario is famous for beautiful and wonderful mirages, during which the opposite shore of the lake is plainly visible from either side.

PLAN FOR MEETING OF POSTMASTERS

State Executive Committee Held Session Yesterday.

The meeting of the Indiana Postmasters' association will be held in Indianapolis May 25 and 26, according to plans made yesterday by the executive committee which met in Indianapolis. Postmaster J. A. Speckholder, of the local office, was in attendance. Invitations will be sent to Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock, First Assistant Postmaster, C. P. Grandfield; Henry Blum, Jr., of Georgia, and Robert E. Woods of Louisville, Ky., to attend the conference and deliver addresses on the postal service.

ARREST CAUSED BY BETTER HALF

Mulholland Is Held on a Provoke Charge.

Frank Mulholland is being held by the police on the charge of provoking his wife. He went home last night and started trouble, threatening her with a whiskey bottle. She complained to the police and he was arrested. The family resides at 818 North Eighth street. An effort was made this afternoon with the prosecutor and city judge to patch up the domestic troubles.

MISS WHITE WEDS A GERMAN COUNT

Ceremony Was Quietly Performed Today in Paris, France.

HER FATHER NOT PRESENT

AMERICAN AMBASSADOR TAKES THIS ACTION TO SHOW HIS DISPLEASURE OF CATHOLIC CHURCH'S ACTION.

Paris, April 29.—The final ceremony in the union of Miss Muriel White, daughter of Henry White, the American ambassador to France and Count Seher-Thoss of Debrau, Prussian Silesia, took place today in St. Joseph's church, Avenue Hoche, when the Roman Catholic church with its full pageantry gave its sanction to the civil ceremony before the mayor of the eighth arrondissement yesterday which made Miss White legally a countess of the German empire.

Quiet Marriage.

Efforts had been made by both families to have the marriage as quiet and unostentatious as possible, but the curiosity and interest of the Parisians would not be denied, and a vast crowd was lined up before the church, hours before the bridal parties drove up. Everything was orderly and decorous, however, and Miss White was subjected to no annoyance when she made her way into the church. A notable feature of the ceremony was the absence of Ambassador White, who stayed away as a protest against the attitude of the ecclesiastical authorities, in refusing to concede the services of the Episcopal church, of which he and his family are members.

Arrangements for the wedding had contemplated the admission of none but members and very intimate friends of the Count and Miss White to the church but a number of notable figures in Paris society, including several well known members of the American colony, succeeded in obtaining entrance.

Bride Was Stunning. The bride made a striking appearance in the march to the altar. She has been notable for her beauty in most of the capitals of Europe for the past ten years but never did her blonde fairness show to better advantage than today set off as it was by rich white, though almost severely plain, wedding gown, and the counts brilliant uniform of German cuirassier regiment of which he is an officer.

The bride was attended by her nieces, Miss Margaret Rutherford, daughter of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and Miss Lucy Buckler, daughter of Secretary William H. Buckler, of the American legation at Madrid, a step-brother of Ambassador White, as bridesmaids. The bridesmaids were simply gowned in white and like the bride, carried white bouquets. The bride was given away by her brother, Jack White.

ED. WALSH REPORTS.

Chicago, April 29.—Pitcher Ed Walsh, who has been holding out for a higher salary will join the White Sox today. Walsh has been the mainstay of the club's pitching staff and by many critics of base ball, is held to be the equal, if not the superior, of any pitcher in the business.

It is one of the troubles of fate that the man who has a job doesn't dream so well as the man looking for one.—Newark News.

TREASURER REPORTS

German Lutheran Conference Ministers Are Greatly Pleased.

MEETING CLOSED AT NOON

Included in the reports made at the conference of ministers of the German Lutheran churches at St. John's church this morning, was that of the treasurer. He stated that there were five students being assisted through the German Lutheran Normal school at Woodville, Ohio and at the University at Columbus, Ohio. He reported there were sufficient funds in the treasury to meet the expenses of these students. Other subjects considered this morning were of a routine nature.

Conference Closed. The conference came to a close this noon. It will meet again September 10, at Reading, Ohio, at which time the officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

"How Ministers of the Gospel May Retain Cheerfulness Among Their Labors," was the subject of a sermon preached by Rev. S. W. Allwardt, one of the visiting ministers, at last night's session. In the afternoon session Rev. A. J. Feeger, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church read his thesis on "Divine Providence." Following the reading of the paper, the ministers indulged in a general discussion of the subject.

AN ELECTION MIXUP

Gordon Henchman Has Run-in With Chairman Ferling At Noon.

RUN OFF THE PREMISES

William Suters, a Gordon henchman, had trouble today with Dr. Geo. Ferling, chairman of the republican city committee, and his son, Clarence Ferling. It caused quite a little excitement. The mixup occurred at noon. It is reported that Ferling and his son ran Suters off of Ferling's place with carpet beaters. Dr. Ferling admitted that there was trouble but refused to discuss the nature of it.

BIG STORM RAGED THROUGH COUNTRY

Weather Man Got in His Deadly Work From Kansas to New York.

SNOW IN PENNSYLVANIA

ELECTRICAL STORM BRINGS HAVOC TO CHICAGO AND KANSAS IS VISITED BY A DEADLY TORNADO TODAY.

New York, April 29.—A heavy snow storm struck New York this morning, continuing for several hours. This is the latest fall of snow since May 6, 1891.

SNOW AT BRADFORD, PA.

Bradford, Pa., April 29.—It has been snowing in Eastern Pennsylvania since midnight and it is now ten inches deep here.

KANSAS HAS TORNADO.

Douglas, Kan., April 29.—A tornado passed through the southern part of this county this morning, demolishing many farm houses and ten residences in this city. Three persons were hurt and one is dead of heart failure.

ELECTRICAL STORM.

Chicago, April 29.—One fireman killed, eight others seriously injured, and a million and a half dollars damage, is the result of a fire which destroyed elevator B of the Illinois Central railroad during a violent electrical storm this morning. A half million bushels of wheat burned.

A fireman was caught under a falling wall. Lieut. Patrick McElliot, who was buried beneath debris was killed. Fire was caused by lightning during the terrific storm, which played havoc in different parts of the city.

Of 1,000 parts of the moon 576 parts only are visible to us on the earth and 424 parts remain hidden from the eyes of man.

PALLADIUM WANT ADS. PAY.

VOTING MACHINE AGENT WAS HERE

Reviewing Vote Cast at Last Election.

C. S. Davis, an agent for a voting machine company is in the city making a review of the vote cast in the county at the last general election. He is paying particular attention to the "lost vote." It has been found that in this county one candidate was short at least 1,000 votes, because the voters did not care to mark the entire ticket. The agent claims this condition would not have occurred if machines had been used.

Chances in Gambling. Henri Polnare, the leading mathematician of France, declares that there is no infallible martingale or method of doubling one's stakes after every loss. "All one can do," says M. Polnare, "is to combine one's play so as to have a great chance of winning a little and a little chance of losing much or a few chances of gaining much and many chances of losing little. One can arrange his play so as to have one chance of winning a million francs and a million chances of losing a franc or a million chances of winning a franc and one chance of losing a million francs—and that's all."

Incompatible. Towne—Well, well, the idea of his marrying Miss Goldey! Why, he's a dyspeptic. Browne—What has that to do with it? She's got plenty of money, and so—Towne—That's just it. She'll never agree with him; she's too rich—Catholic Standard and Times.

It Had a Charm. "I do miss Mrs. Jones. She told me all the news of the parish." "Oh, that was only gossip—no truth in it."

"Well, there, I liked to 'ear it. Truth or lies, 'twas all news to me."—Funch.

The hours we pass with happy prospects in view are more pleasing than those crowned with fruition.—Goldsmith.

The village drunkard of a little Connecticut hamlet staggered up to a man one evening and mumbled, "Bhay, mister, do you know where Tom Brien lives?" "Why, you are Tom Brien yourself." "Hang it, I know that, but where does he live?"

WANDERING BABY FOUND BY A COP

Youngster Was on Tour of Exploration.

A baby girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas, 210 South Eleventh street, was reported to the police as lost today. She was found on South Eighth street this afternoon and Serg. Mort Little returned the child to its anxious mother. The baby had wandered away on a tour of exploration and was unable to find its way home. It did not seem in the least bit dismayed.

He Backslid. An Atchison man who recently "confessed religion" and became a member of the church says his family, and not his associates downtown, are responsible for the backsliding that followed within three weeks. He says his wife and the girls were in a conspiracy to impose upon him, to work him for money, to make him do more work around the house and to submit to all sorts of tyrannies without grumbling. "He can't object," he overheard his wife say, "for he has religion now and is bound to be meek and humble." Three weeks of this drove him into a frenzy, and one day he backslid so vehemently and forcibly that his wife and daughters were left speechless.—Atchison Globe.

A Lover of Candor. Impetuous Man—I wish you would be so kind as to lend me a sovereign. I'll pay you back in a few days. Candid Friend—If you had asked me for the loan in a candid and straightforward manner I would have loaned you the money, but asking me in the way you did causes me to distrust you.

"I don't understand you." "You asked me to be so kind as to lend you a sovereign?"

"Yes." "If you had been candid, you would have said to me, 'Be so stupid, be such an ignominious ass, such a hopeless idiot as to lend me a sovereign,' and you might have got it."—Pearson's Weekly.

"Quigbee is a queer sort of chap. He told me yesterday that when he feels particularly blue and melancholy he always sits down and reads a book of poems." "And then when he gets hungry, I suppose, he sits down and reads a cookbook."

HAINS SOBS WHEN CONFESSION READ

Recital of His Wife's Relations With Annis Causes Breakdown.

OLD GENERAL ON STAND

TELLS THE JURY THAT HIS SOLDIER SON EARLY SHOWED SYMPTOMS OF INSANITY—THORNTON TO TESTIFY.

Flushing, L. I., April 29.—The confession of Claudia Libbey Hains, as to her relations with Annis, was admitted in evidence at the trial today. Captain Hains cried aloud as the reading proceeded. General Hains was the principal witness this morning, telling of Peter's early eccentricities, indicating a tendency toward insanity. Gen. Hains will relate the dramatic scene that followed the confession of Claudia Hains at Ft. Hamilton and of the final mental breakdown of his soldier son.

Thornton to Testify. Thornton Hains will not enter the court until he is called upon to testify and will depart immediately after he leaves the witness stand. He will give a thrilling description of the causes that led to the tragedy and of his brother's mental condition up to the time of the shooting at the Bay-side Yacht club.

The prosecution has planned to make the cross examination of Thornton Hains a telling one, and District Attorney Dewitt said he hoped to strengthen his case materially by the testimony of this brother.

The testimony of the elder Mrs. Hains will be confined chiefly to the mental condition.

CHESBRO IN FOLD.

Boston, April 29.—Manager Stallings of the Yankees received a second communication from Jack Chesbro, in which the lumberman stated that he will make his first appearance on the hilltop next Monday—Hall Chase day.

Germany has spent $150,000,000 in the last twenty years in the development and improvement of inland waterways. As a result the empire has now 8,378 miles of navigable streams and canals.

..The Hoosier Store..

The Hoosier's Organization Was Never Better Prepared to Supply Your Every Day Wants Than Now.

Our firm is credited with having revolutionized the methods of selling merchandise, and it is not to be wondered at. Why shouldn't old methods yield? Haven't we demonstrated to the people of Richmond and Wayne County that a store can be run successfully on a cash basis. If we are not saving the people money, why are we crowded every day in the week with pleased and anxious buyers? If we are are not saving the people money, why have we grown from a one-story store to a three-story store? What has done it? Cash buying and cash selling is what makes attractive prices.
