Melville E. Ingalls Makes a Startling Announcement On His Return.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK GOOD

New York, May 1.—"Nobody knows what an egg is until he has eaten one cooked in Spain," said Melville E. Ingalls, chairman of the board of directors of the "Big Four" railroad, who is in New York today.

"The outlook for business is excellent, and there is no reason why we should not soon enjoy a full measure of prosperity."

"It seems to me that congress ought to settle the tariff question at once. On the other side they are looking to the United States for the origin of improvement in business. We have become a tremendous factor in the business and the prosperity of the world, and it is astonishing what a close watch they are keeping on us."

TIPPECANOE WET BY BIG MAJORITY

Washington, Martin and Jefferson Counties Go to The Dry Column.

LAFAYETTE MAKES RECORD

COLLEGE CITY GIVES THE LIQUOR TICKET A MAJORITY OF 2,504, SHATTERING RECORD MADE BY RICHMOND.

Lafayette, Ind., May 1.—Tippecanoe county, with 103 saloons and Purdue University, at Lafayette, voted "wet" yesterday by a majority of 874.

Washington, Martin and Jefferson voted "dry." The former has been without saloons for a year, and the "wets" offered no resistance. The "dry" majority in Washington, including Salem, the county seat, was 1,285.

Unofficial returns give Jefferson to the temperance contingent by a majority of 54, but every precinct in Madison except one voted "wet." There were two of the oldest breweries in the state at Madison, and 36 saloons.

Dry Sweep Martin.

Martin, one of the small counties, went "dry" by 395, wiping out eight saloons.

The result in Tippecanoe is the most notable victory won by the "wets," except in Wayne county. Both sides put up a fierce fight in Tippecanoe, Lafayette being the battle ground. The odds were in favor of the Anti-Saloon leaguers, as President Stone and the faculty of Purdue led the opposition to the "wets." There were over 2,000 students at Purdue, and arrangements were made to vote hundreds of them.

In spite of the protests of the members of the Taxpayers' League several hundred nonresident students were voted in West Lafayette.

The city of Lafayette gave a "wet" majority of 2,504, which establishes a new record in Indiana. The township in which Purdue is located gave a "dry" majority of 831. The "drys" carried the outlying townships by a majority much lower than anticipated.

The victory of the "wets" in Lafayette was due very largely to the stand taken by the business men, who made a thorough organization. The "drys" controlled the election boards, and were able to vote the students at will. However, the "wets" made them give affidavits that they were resident voters. Forty-seven students were arrested during the day for illegal voting.

The women took an important part in all of the elections, praying at the churches and serving sandwiches at the voting places.

At Madison six men, thought to be illegal voters, were arrested. Fifty counties have voted "dry" and four "wet." Eighteen counties are "dry" by remonstrance, making the total "dry" 68.

Only 76 Saloons Now In Muncie: First Victim Must Close On May 9

Muncie, Ind., May 1.—At the present time there are but seventy-six saloons in Muncie. Although a short time ago there were eighty-two, a number have quit and surrendered their licenses. At the expiration of the ninety-day limit, under the county local option there will still be forty-two saloons in Muncie which will continue to operate until their respective licenses expire. The first man to go out of business will be John A. Welsse, who operates a saloon at the

Crowd Waits To Hear News

The Hague, May 1.—The baby princess born yesterday morning to Queen Wilhelmina weighs six and one-half pounds. She has light hair and blue eyes. The populace everywhere, especially in Amsterdam, Rotterdam, and The Hague, celebrated last night with an abandon that can only be compared to the London delirium on "Mafeking" night.

Everybody was decked with orange decorations, grading from small rosettes to sashes enveloping the whole body. Sober, respectable people, including many elderly persons, danced in the public squares. Cafes were crowded and the baby is toasted with every sort of potable fluid.

An appalling din filled the streets. Church bells are clanging, bands are braying, fireworks are exploding, thousands of persons are chattering and laughing, while the sirens of steamers are tied open to shriek unceasingly.

The more seriously inclined citizens attended thanksgiving services in the churches, displaying an unwonted fervor in their devotions.

Workmen First to Hear News.
The announcement took place at 7 o'clock. The first persons outside the royal palace to hear the news was a party of workmen passing the residence of the queen on their way to work. The cheers they raised were the signal for the general rejoicings.

Flags and bunting that had been held in readiness were unfurled and the city took on holiday attire.

Prince Henry at once telegraphed his mother advising her of the happening and adding that the condition of the queen was most satisfactory. Her-alds accompanied by trumpeters in ancient Dutch dress made the rounds of the city, halting at the principal squares and other suitable spots to make after due fanfares, the following proclamation:

Fellow citizens: With great joy we announce the news that her majesty, by the grace of God, has been delivered of a princess. The entire population of The Hague shares the feelings of deep joy of the Dutch people, and is thankful for the blessing bestowed upon the royal house and upon the country. May the happy event strengthen the bonds uniting the Netherlands and the house of Orange. Long live the queen. Long live the princess of Orange.

Diplomats Extend Congratulations.
The Belgian minister to the Netherlands, who is the doyen of the diplomatic corps, was the first to sign the list of congratulations at the palace. He was followed in quick succession by the other diplomatic representatives.

The political significance of the advent of the royal baby lies in the fact that there now is an heir to the throne of the Netherlands, a circumstance that greatly enhances the country's chances for continued independence.

It is said that the Dutch court inquired some time ago whether the kaiser was willing to stand as godfather for the baby and that Wilhelm immediately agreed. It is not improbable that the kaiser and kaiserin will attend the baptism of the infant princess.

WANTED GOOD TIME: HE LANDS IN JAIL

Hagerstown Man Pinched for Too Much Booze.

Frank Wieland came down from Hagerstown this morning to have a good time in the county seat. He had secured a bottle of whiskey before leaving his native land, however, and when the train reached this city he was dead to the world. The trainmen had trouble in removing him from the coach, but he was ousted at last. At Elm Place and Ninth street, patrolman Westernburg took him in tow.

WEATHER MAN IS BESIEGED BY A MOB OF FARMERS

Angry Agriculturists Were Bent on Lynching Weather Expert But He Offers Good Explanation.

FRUIT CROP MAY BE HURT THIS EVENING

Joseph Helms States If the Weather Clears and Wind Goes Down, Bad Frost Is Very Probable.

At an early hour this morning an angry crowd, armed with hemp rope, pitchforks, shotguns and clubs, surged about the besieged home of the Weather Man, as an angry sea tosses itself against a stormbound light house.

"Kick in the door and hang the monster," could be heard on every hand.

Finally the Weather Man cautiously thrust a white flag from an upstairs window. The angry mutterings ceased, then the flag was followed by the head of the Weather Man, his eyes popping in alarm.

Explanation Demanded.

"What do you mean by turnin' on such gol darned weather fer?" demanded an irate agriculturist, acting as spokesman for the mob.

"Gentlemen I assure you that this foul work is none of my doing. Old King Boras of Medicine Hat is the party to blame. I assure you I am speaking the truth," was the quavering reply of the Weather Man. This satisfied the maddened farmers and they sullenly departed.

At the Palladium office this morning Joseph Helms, Wayne county's corn expert, stated that up to the present time the fruit crops had not been damaged but there was imminent danger.

No Frost Last Night.

"The mercury only dropped to 46 last night," stated Mr. Helms, "so there was no freeze. The frost was frustrated by the cloudy condition of the atmosphere and the stiff winds. However if the weather clears up and the wind dies down there is a strong possibility of a frost tonight. If there is a frost it will do great damage to the fruits."

By the way, Mr. Helms has just been notified that the governor has again appointed him as Wayne county's delegate to the National Corn Show, at Omaha, Neb., December 6 to 18. Mr. Helms asks the co-operation of the farmers. "I want more corn samples this year so that Wayne county will be able to make the showing she is capable of," said Mr. Helms.

Rifles are said to have been first invented by Gaspard Zoller, a native of Vienna. This was about the end of the fifteenth century.

BAKERS ON A STRIKE

New York Workers Demand Bigger Loaves and Higher Wages.

CAUSED BY WHEAT CORNER

New York, May 1.—Two thousand bakers of the East Side are on strike today in a demand for the former size of loaf, higher wages, a closed shop, shorter working hours and better sanitary conditions in which to work. The strike is declared to have been caused, indirectly, by the recent Patten wheat corner in Chicago, which led to a reduction of wages.

In consequence of the strike, which went into effect early today, about 385 bake-shops were crippled during the most important time of the baking, and many were unable to supply all of their patrons with bread.

The Master Bakers' Association, which met at 232 Boome street, declared that there is no cause of grievance on the part of the men, and assert that they will resist their demands. The strike is thus far confined to the workers south of Houston street.

SKELETON IS DUG UP IN OLD SWAMP

Gross Find Has Started The Theory of a Mysterious Murder.

JAY COUNTY IS EXCITED

INHABITANTS TRYING TO RECALL STORIES OF MISSING PEOPLE TO EXPLAIN THE CASE—BLOOD AND THUNDER.

Portland, Ind., May 1.—Has there been within the past few years a murder or mysterious disappearance of someone in this county? This is the question which is just now puzzling the residents of Poling, nine miles northeast of this city, and the immediate vicinity. All this anxiety has been caused by the finding of a skeleton on the farm of Andrew Van Doren, three-quarters of a mile west of Poling.

With Daniel Dixon Van Doren was engaged in ditching a field running through a swamp on his farm. The men had reached a depth of a foot and a half, when the shovel of Dixon struck a hard substance. Supposing it to be a rock, he only worked the harder. To his horror, with his next shovel of dirt, there was brought to the surface a perfectly formed skull. The men then dug deeper and unearthed fore arm and several other portions of the skeleton. All the bones were in almost perfect condition. There was a full set of teeth in one jaw, with eight teeth in the other.

The bones found were taken to the home of Van Doren, where they will remain. The condition of the bones indicated that they had been buried about ten years.

Ideal Place for Bad Work.
The spot where the bones were found would make an ideal place for the concealment of the body of a person foully murdered. The farm of Van Doren lies back from the main road some distance, being reached only by a private right-of-way.

The swamp where the gruesome find was made is in a far out-of-the-way corner of the farm, and the mystery surrounding the find is growing deeper since it first came to light. The oldest inhabitants of the neighborhood do not remember that the ground was ever used for burial purposes, and the supposition is that the secluded field was made the final resting place of some man or woman who met an unnatural death.

Good Melodrama.
One resident of the neighborhood, in talking of the find, remembered that about ten years ago a man and woman came to Poling's, remaining a week.

While there they received a large box, the contents of which was never known by anyone living in the vicinity. Without notice the couple mysteriously disappeared between two days, and nothing more was ever heard of them. Now many people are inclined to believe that if they could be located some clue might be obtained as to the identity of the remains just disclosed.

It appears, according to facts collected by Arthur Mee, that Thomas Harriot, the English astronomer, born in 1560, made telescopes perhaps contemporaneous with the first instruments of Galileo. The very first telescope seems to have been made in Holland in 1608. The next year Galileo heard of the discovery, and, after writing for information, began his own experiments. In the same year Harriot had one or two of the Dutch telescopes sent to him, and immediately began improvements on his own account.
