

EARLHAM TO MEET DESPISED RIVALS

Track and Field Athletes of Earlham and DePauw
Clash Tomorrow.

TEAMS ARE IN CONDITION

LOCAL INSTITUTION IS PINNING
GREAT FAITH ON TWO OF ITS
STAR MEN, WHITE AND CON-RAD, HUMAN MERCURY.

The Quaker track athletics are due to be in fine shape when the pistol is sounded for the 100 yard dash, the first event in the dual field meet between Earlham and DePauw, Saturday. Earlham has been handicapped by the weather and it has been only during the past several days that the track men have been able to get any work in with any degree of satisfaction. White, who is expected to count about as many points as the next, is not in as good condition as when the meet was held last year. Last evening he turned out for a half hour's work and succeeded in taking the hurdles in a foxy manner.

Conrad, the plucky little high school star, who won laurels for Earlham last year, is expected to out in the events tomorrow, but, owing to his condition, during the past two months, not as much is expected of him, although, it is stated by his most intimate friends, he has entirely recovered from his injury received in basket ball and that he will be able to give his opponents a race in all events.

100 Yard Dash Star.

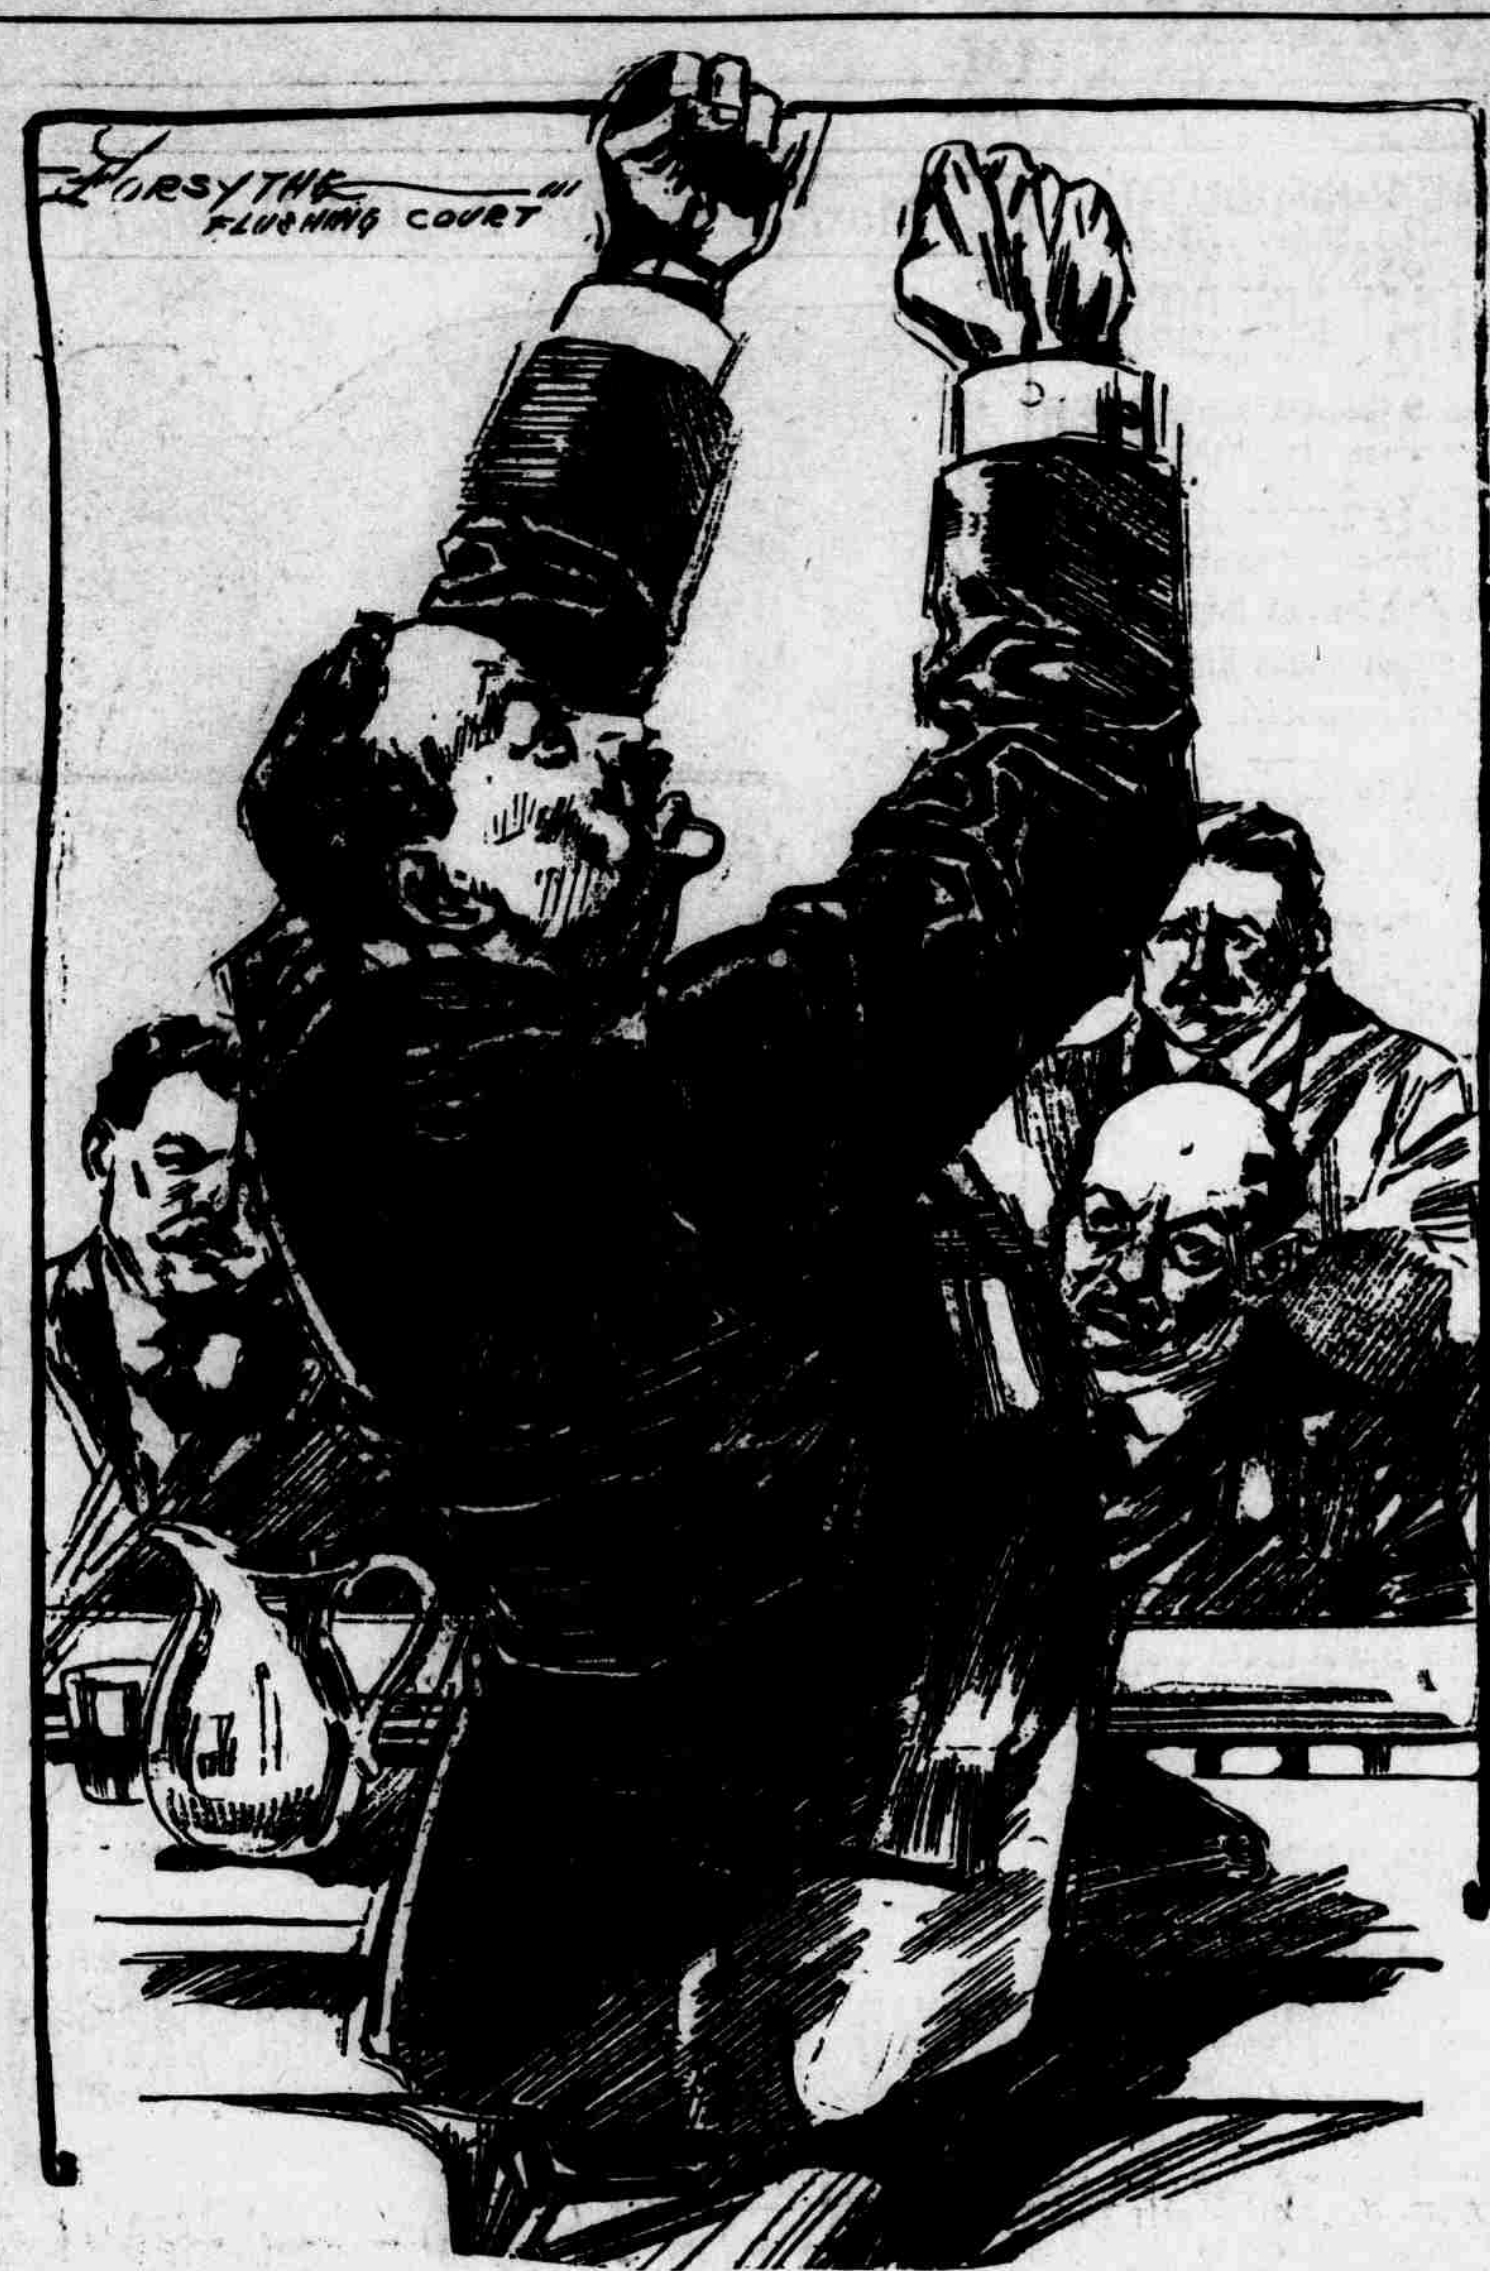

Conrad starred in the 100 yard dash last season and was only beaten by Blair of Wabash, in a neck to neck race. Nanney and "Muggsy" Furnas, the long distance runners, are in fair condition, but they have a hard man to compete against in Somerville of De Pauw. Clevenger, the two mile runner, is in the pink of condition and he is expected to make good in this event. The other men have been showing up remarkably well, but owing to the rough weather, Coach Vail had to postpone his tryout until the first part of the week.

Through the efforts of Coach Vail and Prof. E. P. Trueblood, the track in Reid Field has been reconsidered, and has been packed down so that it is in excellent condition, and there is no reason why there should not be several excellent records made during the meet. During the past several days, the athletic association has had the field undergo improvements so that it now ranks among the best in the state. With the fast track and pleasant weather, as is the forecast, and local pride, a big crowd is expected.

Many DePauw Rooters.

The De Pauw team is expected to arrive tomorrow morning, accompanied by about fifty staunch rooters and also there will be a number of the famous rooters of the University accompany the team and help in the racket making. This means that if Earlham wants to make any show that they will have to turn out in full or the De Pauw team will take everything by storm. It is understood that they expect to come to the Quaker stamping grounds decked out in a private car, decorated in their colors. As to whether they will bring the brass drum or not is not known, but if they do, Earlham boys had better get to-

A STAR ATHLETE

LEAVES COLLEGE

Charles Reese Is Ill From Over Training.

Charles Reese, one of the leading basketball players at Earlham college and also a valuable track and baseball athlete, has been compelled to give up his school work and return to his home in Rochester. Overwork during the training season is regarded as the cause of his condition.

ALLISON WINNER
IN FINAL EVENT

Takes 220 Yard Low Hurdles
With Ease.

Carl Allison of the high school won the closing event in the high school Earlham track meet at Reid field last evening. The meet was run off Wednesday evening, with the exception of the 220 low hurdle race. Allison found little trouble in defeating the Earlham contestants.

BOWLING CONTEST.

In the two man tournament at the city bowling alleys last evening, Miller and Kenneth defeated Murray and Glavin, two out of the three games, by small margins. In the second contest, Hill and Bond were easy winners over Buntin and Lichtenfels.

RIVAL TEAMS CAN SETTLE QUESTION

Amateur Nines of the City Will Clash for Championship Honors.

SUNDAY SERIES ARRANGED

SUNDAY AFTERNOON THE LOCAL INDEPENDENT TEAM WILL CLASH WITH ROYALS, A FAST
CINCINNATI OUTFIT.

To settle the rivalry among the several fast amateur base ball teams of the city, arrangements have been made for a championship series to be played as curtain raisers for the major attractions at Athletic park. Beginning Sunday the series will continue until each of the several teams eligible to play have met the other teams three times. The first game will be between the Nationals and the X. Y. Z. nine.

The Waldorfs, and teams representing the east end and Fairview will be provided for in the local schedule. The Waldorfs open the season at Cambridge City Sunday afternoon, crossing bats with the Little Giants. The team has natty new uniforms and are playing a fast article of base ball. Games Called at 1:15.

The games at Athletic park will be called at 1:15 o'clock, which will allow plenty of time for their finish before the big shows start. It is probable that the Amusement company, operative of the park, will hang up a purse or trophy for the winner of the city honors.

The weather alone will prevent a fast game Sunday afternoon between the Royals, who claim the independent championship of Cincinnati and the remodeled Quakers. The local management has six new men who will make their debut before the local fans. Of these it is expected the gaps in the local squad will be filled and an aggregation capable of meeting with credit the best independents will be developed.

ACADEMY YOUTHS

ACT AS ORATORS

Four Preparatory Institutions
To Hold Wordfest at Earlham.

CONTEST THIS EVENING

THE EXPECTANT WORLD WILL BE THOROUGHLY ENLIGHTENED ON MANY SUBJECTS OF THE GRAVEST IMPORTANCE.

The Inter-Academic contest will be held this evening at Earlham college in Lindley hall. The four academies which are to meet on the field tomorrow, will meet in a contest of oratory and thought this evening. Westfield, Bloomingdale and Vermillion Grove are all tipped to carry away the honors, but it is thought that since Fairmount is keeping so quiet, they will have a nice little surprise to spring on the other unsuspecting institutions.

It is understood that the contest in oratory, which embrace subjects that have been discussed many times such as World Federation, Subduing the Earth, The Promises of Democracy and America's Needs, will give the contestants a good chance to expound their views to the Richmond public and score a hit. Prof. E. P. Trueblood assures the contest this evening will be one of the bitterest contested that has been held in Lindley hall for some time.

Program For Tonight.
The program is as follows:
School Songs—Bloomingdale, Fairmount, Vermillion Grove, Westfield.

Owing to a misunderstanding, George Seidel, who responded to the toast, "The Richmond Manufacturer," at the Commercial club banquet Tuesday evening, it was stated by him that the pay roll of the city annually was $374,000. Mr. Haas states the payroll for the factories is $3,700,000 and the pay roll for the entire city is about double this figure or approximately $6,300,000. The average annual wage for the factory employe is in the neighborhood of $700.
