

TERRELL VIOLENT: TEARS CLOTHING

Famous Easthaven Patient
Demonstrates He Is Not A Sane Man.

PROSECUTION MERE FARCE

BLUFFTON PEOPLE BELIEVE ANY ATTEMPT TO BRING HIM TO TRIAL WOULD ONLY BE TRAV-
ESTY ON JUSTICE.

Opinion of mental and medical experts is controverted in the case of John W. Terrell by the man's own actions. Terrell is one of the most celebrated patients ever treated at the Eastern Indiana Hospital for the Insane. After the murder of his son-in-law, Melvin Wolf, he was declared insane and sent to Easthaven. He remained there several years, and about a year ago was turned over to the sheriff of Wells county as cured. But at Bluffton Terrell is not regarded as sane. He is being held on the charge of murder and no steps have been taken toward bringing his case into court.

Violent Last Week.

Last week Terrell became violent and while in his cell tore up his bed clothing and mattress. When the deputy sheriff visited the jail he found Terrell covered with straw, a great quantity of which was piled about on the floor. Investigation revealed the fact that the man had torn up his straw tick. Prisoners said he occupied his time during the entire afternoon by taking small bundles of straw from the tick and tying them about the cell. The deputy sheriff found about a hundred such bundles suspended from strings. When the official endeavored to clean up the cell Terrell made no protest. When the bundles of straw were torn down Terrell followed every movement of the official with his eyes, grunting loudly as each string was broken.

In speaking of the affair the Bluffton Chronicle says: "No punishment of any kind was meted out to him, for he is considered absolutely insane and unaccountable for his acts." Since dismissal from the hospital Terrell has become an elephant on the hands of the Wells county authorities. The general public believes him insane and the authorities believe prosecution of him on the murder charge would prove a farce with the jury.

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winchester, Ind.—"Four doctors told me that they could never make me better. I was regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking one and one-half bottles of the Compound, I am all right again, and I recommend it to every suffering woman."—MRS. MAY DEAL, Winchester, Ind.

Valuable Gem Known as "The Princess."

WAS STOLEN IN CHICAGO

Chicago, May 10.—Detectives are searching for a Princess diamond ring valued at $1,200, lost by Mrs. Maude M. Houle of Pittsburgh, Pa., while a guest at the Brevoort Hotel on Madison street. The diamond mysteriously disappeared out of a chamalois bag which was in the possession of the woman and which held other jewels to the value of $7,000.

Mrs. Houle said that the Princess ring which held seventeen diamonds, was a present to her.

Mrs. Houle reported her loss to the police shortly before her departure for Seattle, Wash.

In equipping and organizing his popular stock company for the present season, Mr. Carl W. Cook has left nothing undone to make it the most memorable one in the history of the company. He has spared no expense in obtaining the best possible talent secured from the foremost ranks of the profession and the results have been most gratifying, not only to himself, but the public at large as well, whose generous patronage at all times is sufficient proof of the merits of the company which will open their week's engagement at the Gennett theater, Monday night.

The New Phillips.
The Clayton Drew Players made their appearance this afternoon at the New Phillips and made a big hit. They presented "When Rome Howls," a comedy playlet of class, and the audience pronounced it one of the best productions ever seen here.

The Bannon Troupe of Club Jugglers are the foxiest bunch on the road. They put a lot of comedy into their lines and their skill is matchless.

Miss Caroline Pulliam has an excellent voice which she is complete master of. She has the power to sing the old songs in the low manner or can fill the house with a volume of purity and beauty.

CENTERVILLE HAS NO OPPONENTS NOW

Corn School Will Probably Be Held There.

It is probable that the promoters of the Sixth District Short Course, held at Centerville, last February, will have an open field to secure the next course at Centerville. After the success of the course last winter, Rushville and Connersville entered claims that the next course should be held in one of those two counties. However, since investigating the proposition both of these two places have dropped out from the contest. It is probable that a meeting of the executive committee will be called in the near future for the purpose of arranging for next winter's course.

A Frenchman named Bourdais, says the San Francisco Chronicle, has devised a floating city which will permit persons who wish to cross the ocean without running the risk of sea sickness to do so. It is to be about three thousand feet in length, with an appropriate breadth, will have avenues planted with trees, gardens, squares, kiosks for music bands, a theater, circular railways, shops, etc. He does not tell how he is going to propel it, but he is sure that it will be safer and more comfortable than other ships. At latest accounts he was still at large.

of Deeds at Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.
The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills. For Richmond kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Richmond people who have been cured to stay cured.

Benjamin F. Lunsford, N. E. Cor. Twentieth and South B streets, Richmond, Ind., says: "The statement I gave for publication in 1906 endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills told of my experience with this remedy and at this time I am glad to confirm what I then said. I had been bothered by kidney trouble off and on for at least fifteen years and whenever I caught cold, my back became so lame and painful that I could hardly get around. At times the flow of the kidney secretions was profuse, then again scant and distressing. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at A. G. Luken & Co's drug store, relieved these annoyances and once or twice since, when I have taken the remedy, it has promptly relieved me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Result of Poor Writing.
The Duke of Wellington, through misreading a badly written letter, made a ludicrous blunder. This letter was written by C. J. London, a botanical author, who wrote to the duke requesting the privilege of seeing his beautiful beeches. The duke misread the signature for that of C. J. Bloomfield, bishop of London, and wrote in reply: "My lord, I shall always be glad to see you at Strattonfield, and my servant shall show you as many pairs of my breeches as you may choose to inspect. But what you want to see them for is quite beyond me."—Exchange.

RICHMOND FAILS TO OBSERVE DAY

Only a Few Local Citizens
Paid Tributes to Their Mothers, Sunday.

HOMESICK STRANGER

MOVEMENT IN PHILADELPHIA WAS A GREAT SUCCESS AND DAY WAS GENERALLY OBSERVED
ALL OVER WORLD.

In an uptown restaurant yesterday a young man with a tired face and seedy clothes greedily ate a meal provided for him by the kindly proprietor just because the stranger, broke and homesick spent his last nickel to purchase a white carnation, which he wore in honor of "the best mother in the whole world."

This unknown stranger entered into the spirit of "Mother's Day" much more enthusiastically than did hundreds of Richmond men who could afford to purchase baskets of carnations. Here and there on the rain drenched streets a man with a white flower on his coat lapel could be seen. "Got to blame many holidays I can't keep track of all of 'em," one man excused himself for neglecting to buy a carnation.

The local movement was started by the Mothers' League of Riverdale, which organization had a statement published calling upon the citizens of Richmond to observe the day.

GENERALLY OBSERVED.
"Mothers' Day" Was a Great Success.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 10.—Mother Day, the day set apart to honor "The best mother who ever lived—our own," was celebrated here Sunday by men and women in every walk of life. Everywhere the white carnation, chosen symbol of the new celebration, was to be seen. Ten thousand of the flowers had been purchased by the Rapid Transit company, that its employees might do homage to their mothers. The sailors and marines at League Island Navy Yard also were provided with the symbolic flower. So general was the demand that many who neglected to order their flowers in advance were unable to purchase one at any price.

World Wide Move.

The movement for the establishment of Mothers' Day, as a world-wide holiday, was originated in this city by Miss Jarvis, whose mother died four years ago. Sunday was the second official celebration of the day. Mayor Reburn issued a proclamation calling upon the citizens of this city to celebrate the day, and Miss Jarvis has been notified that the governors of seven states, as well as mayors of cities in all parts of the world, have officially recognized the establishment of the new holiday, and the day was observed in all the large cities of the country.

The figure of Aristotle by the eminent sculptor, G. Walker has recently been placed in the niche prepared for it outside the south wall of the residence. It is the gift of Dean Lincoln and Mrs. Wickham. The four niches outside St. Delinols are intended for the figures of those four great men who were regarded by Mr. Gladstone as his chief masters—Aristotle, St. Augustine, Dante and Bishop Butler. Three are now in position, all of them the work of Mr. Walker. It only remains for that of Bishop Butler to be given to complete the set.

HELPED THE CABMAN.

But Not Because He Had Driven Him
Years Before.

A very old man once called to see Lord Strathcona at his offices and explained as the reason of his visit that he was the cabman who drove him to his ship when he set sail for Canada long years before.

Lord Strathcona was interested in this reminiscence of his youth and listened to the ancient jehu when he went on in a tearful voice to complain that death had just deprived him of one of two grandsons and that he himself had fallen on evil times.

Lord Strathcona soothed the old fellow's sorrows with a little money. Again, after a time, the old man called on Lord Strathcona and this time told him that both his grandsons were down with typhoid fever and, as Lord Strathcona had helped him before, perhaps he would again. After some gossiping chat about Scotland Lord Strathcona again comforted the old man with a little money.

When he had gone an official who had overheard the conversation said:

"I hope you did not give that man any money, Lord Strathcona. When he saw you before one of his two grandsons was dead. Now he says both are ill with typhoid fever."

"Thank you very much, Mr. Jones," said the high commissioner, with a twinkle in his eye, "but do you know when I left Scotland for Canada I had no cab to take me to the ship, but just wheeled down my things myself to the dock in a barrow."—London Tit-Bits.

What is known as the California horse or mustang is in his ancestry and essential qualities an Arab. His forbears were brought by the Arabians into Asia Minor; thence by the conquering Moslems into the Barbary countries; thence by the Moors into Spain; thence by the Spaniards to horseless America, and thence to Mexico, whence they spread throughout the western half of the continent. Hard fare and inbreeding have deteriorated the mustang at some points, but in his essential qualities the California horse is still a true son of the desert. The attempt is now being made to improve the breed by the importation of Arab stock.

"Fohgive yoh enemies," said Uncle Eben, "but don't let yoh forgiveness go so far as to tempt yoh to git sociable an' trade hosses."—Washington Star.
