

100 Years Hence

No More Bragging—Just Live To Enjoy Yourselves.

Miss Wheeler Wilcox believes in a hundred years all druggery will be done by machinery. We will be the air on the wings of the wind and have time to see and enjoy the wonders of the world and peruse the books to the majority because of the eternal grind of every day life. Look back 100 years and the changes made seem just as great. What we wore, how we traveled, how we communicated, what we ate, sensible clothes, vehicles speedy and comfortable, wireless telegraphs, telephones, fast trains and mail steamers, and healthful foods. Today instead of leading our stomachs with heavy, greasy breakfasts, that dull the brain and retard our morning's work, we eat delicious E-C Corn Flakes or Egg-O-See Wheat Flakes, made by the famous Egg-O-See process that insures perfect digestion, high nutrition and greater strength. Always ready to serve, good for babies, best for invalids—the sensible breakfast for the business man or the busy, energetic housewife. Remember it's the Egg-O-See process that makes the flakes so crisp and delicious.

AN ODD MISTAKE
FOUND BY COURTMan Mistakes Value of Estate
Over Indebtedness.

In examining the bond of an applicant for letters of administration this morning, Judge Fox found that one of the sureties had stated he is worth over and above his indebtedness, $10. The man who signed as surety had intended to state his property free of encumbrances was worth $10,000. Only a slight difference, but one that the court will have rectified.

A SALE IS ORDERED

In the case of Frederick Sittob vs. Charles Sittob et al. the court today ordered a sale of real estate. The suit was brought to obtain the partition of real estate.

PARIS ASTOUNDED
BY THE NOTICESDiscover Today Appeals, Widely Posted, Urging the Workmen to Strike.

TO AID FELLOW TOILERS

IT IS PROBABLE THAT ALL CLASS-ES OF WORKMEN WILL ASSIST
THE TELEGRAPHERS AND POST-AL EMPLOYEES.

Paris, May 19.—Paris was astounded today to see appeals in flaring letters upon the public billboards urging all workmen to strike. The summons had been affixed to the billboards some time during the night. The petitions are couched in strong language and urge every workman to cease his labors today, thus aiding the striking postmen and telegraphers to win their strike against the government.

FIRST MEETING
OF Y. M. C. A.
HELD LAST NIGHT

strong character and excellent training, enjoying the respect and confidence of everyone, rendering efficient service in every department. Fourth, its board of directors and trustees, men of affairs, men who make things go, men of business ability and of high standing. Fifth, the women's auxiliary—over 100 women of the best families and workers of our city, bestowing time, work and gifts to give the building a home-like air for the young men who live within its walls, and planning pleasant times for the boys by giving banquets, etc., for them. Sixth, the deep interest manifested by the corps of employed persons. The building is kept sweet and pure and immaculately clean by the efficient engineers. The dormitory rooms show for themselves that the matrons have a motherly interest in the young men. There are no such living quarters elsewhere in Richmond. The dining rooms and kitchens are the talk of the town, pure, wholesome food, prepared by artists in cooking. No dyspeptics made here. Meats, bread, cakes, pies, etc., "just like mother made them" when we were boys. The bowling alleys and swimming pool are equal to any in the state for cleanliness, sanitation and perfection, in charge of an experienced and capable attendant. Our good fortune to have willing and ready, capable men, business men, professional men, ministers for religious and educational work is a great boon to the Y. M. C. A. The outlook is good. There is not one discouraging feature. We have accomplished great things in and for Richmond. "Richmond's best investment" is the right way to pronounce it. Who is there who wants his money back? Who is there who will now say we built too large? Who is not a friend of the institution? Who can say we are not doing a good work?

One Small Cloud.

There is but one small cloud on the horizon, and that will disappear ere long. We built wisely and well, but the funds came up short, and we are in debt about $12,000, some of which has been provided for by new subscriptions, and the balance we hope to cancel before the fall work opens.

I want to thank the members of the board and the officers for regular and punctual attendance upon meetings, many of which we have had, and all employed persons for the satisfactory manner in which they have filled their respective places, and the women's auxiliary whose assistance and influence have been much, and all others who have helped in any way to give us such an auspicious and commendable start in such a short time, only a little over four months. And while we all have worked hard, given liberally, met with almost unparalleled success, "Lest we forget," "Lest we forget." There is only one who deserves the praise. "Not unto us, Lord, not unto us, but do thou glory take." And, now that we are established in our new building, I pray you do not lessen your interest or efforts in behalf of the Y. M. C. A. Your work is only begun. It is your child and you must not desert it. It is your work, and you must not neglect it. It is a great work and a high calling, and you must not miss it. The success or failure of this institution depends absolutely upon your attitude toward it. Protect and nourish it, and it will live; neglect and starve it, and it will die, and with it our young men grow weak; without it, they will be come weak.

Most respectfully,
SHARON E. JONES, Pres.

The Affluence.

"Are there degrees of rank in the servants' hall?"

"To be sure. Maids who have charge of dogs won't associate with maids who look after children."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Honesty is the best policy, although it may have the deferred dividend clause attached.—Judge.

EAGLES MYSTIFIED

Can't Explain Explosion In the Lodge Rooms Yesterday Afternoon.

HAWEKOTTE MAY EXPLAIN

An explosion, about which much mystery prevails took place yesterday afternoon in the Eagles lodge room, Vaughan building. The explosion occurred in the bath room, which is situated in the northwest corner of the lodge hall and was of such force as to blow out the partition and break a number of window panes. The loss will amount to about $35.

It was first believed that the instantaneous heater, used in the bath room, had exploded but an examination showed that it was in as good shape as ever. Nothing else was in the room, according to members, which was of an explosive nature.

The members are awaiting the return of Edward Hawekotte who was in the room at the time of the explosion. Immediately after the explosion Mr. Hawekotte left the lodge rooms and went to his home, then left for Cincinnati. He expected to return home today.

He has prepared a very able paper.

A DEADLY CONTEST.

Tragic Climax of a Bicycle Race in Australia.

One of the most singular events in the annals of athletics occurred a few years ago at Sydney, Australia. The occasion was a great electric light bicycle race, and the attendance was not less than 10,000 people. There were five entries, two of whom, James Somerville and Percy Cliff, were not only professional rivals, but deadly enemies. Both were considered expert riders.

From the start of the race Somerville led, with Cliff a close second. Somerville kept the lead throughout and came into the last lap with Cliff only a few feet behind him. When about twenty-five yards from the finish Somerville put on a terrific burst of speed and drew away from his rival. Suddenly at this point his grip on the handle bar relaxed, and he fell forward. The machine, however, under the tremendous impulse it had received, raced ahead like an arrow, the rider hanging limply over the handle bar.

Four yards from the tape the machine slowed down a little. At this point the front wheel of Cliff's machine struck the hind wheel of Somerville's, sending both wheel and rider across the tape. Somerville won the race, but he was dead several seconds before he crossed the tape.—Chicago Record-Herald.

ANCIENT DOCTORS.

Some of the Things They Knew Twelve Hundred Years Ago.

The Russian Academy of Medicine after examining a Tibetan "Handbook of Medicine," first published 1,200 years ago, acknowledges that it contains many truths discovered or rediscovered by modern physicians. Here are some extracts from the ancient classic:

"Number of bones in the human body, 360; number of nerves, 36; number of pores, 11,000,000."

"The heart is the king of the organs and the staff of life. The lungs embrace it as a mother does her child. Kidneys are due to man's malice, ignorance and inability to curb the passions, for these things interfere with the proper nourishment of the human organs. All unkind thoughts react upon the heart and liver."

The methods for ascertaining the state of a person's health were very similar to those methods employed today—looking at the tongue, feeling the pulse, etc. Vegetable medicines are advocated; also baths, compresses, massage, bloodletting, etc. Fines were imposed upon physicians who did not use these instruments clean.

The New Phillips.

The Edna Davis Trio stand out prominently as the best absolutely in their line of vaudeville, for the simple reason, if for no other, that they are the only people putting on a line like theirs. But, that is not the only reason why this Trio in their spectacular novelty singing and dancing act are the best. Miss Davis has labored faithfully to perfect her performance and her supporters have made quite a success for the same reason. The singing of "My Rosary," with the wonderful scenery and electrical effects, is one of the prettiest executions on the present day stage.

Hamlin and Noyes appear in comedy. They are not making any bones about being the best, but they have enough spirit to get away with their act.

Westerman, major domo, is classy and if you like quick action and quick thinking, you will certainly see the representation there.

Wayne Musical Company.

The Wayne Co. offer music, fun and girls with an abundance of each this week at the Gennett theater for three night engagements commencing Thursday. On the strength of what has been said of it in other cities this play should prove a rare treat for those who like this form of entertainment.

Incidental to the play there are introduced more than twenty musical numbers the most popular of which are "I Want to Hear a Yankee Doodle Tune Jimmie"; "Playing the Ponies"; "Take a Ride With Me"; "Sly Old Fox"; "I Need a Job." A large chorus becomingly costumed is heard to advantage in the several numbers. Special matinee Saturday.

"The History of the Wayne County Press" will be the subject of a paper to be read by Miss Ethel Henderson of this city at the meeting of the Wayne County Historical Society next Saturday afternoon at its meeting in the Library building. This is expected to be one of the most interesting sessions of the year and all are invited to attend. Miss Henderson will also read a paper, the subject of which is "Some Wayne County Contributions to Science."

A Fearless Prince.

Victor Emmanuel, the prince royal held the rank of colonel in a regiment of artillery, and Humbert I. was on the throne. A new explosive had been invented, and the young prince was invited to be present at some experiments that were to be made with it. At the first shot the cannon being used burst with terrific force, scattering pieces of metal in every direction, but luckily not seriously injuring any one. Nevertheless the natural impulse to fly from danger seized officers and experts alike, and they rushed with more unanimity than dignity. Only Victor Emmanuel remained at his post. He watched them for a moment and then, in a quiet tone of kingly tenor, called them back.

"No use running now," he said, with a ghost of a smile playing about his lips. "All danger is over."

Pet Names.

Every one likes to see husband and wife on affectionate terms, but Snuggly, the toyshop keeper, rather overdid the thing. Little Johnny Biggs had sixpence, and he had bought a toy, but little Johnny's fancy is wayward, and he discovered that a clockwork railway engine was poor fun compared with a horse and cart, after all. Therefore he went to change the railway engine. "You say you bought this here yesterday," said Snuggly dubiously. "Who served you?" "The goosey gander, sir," said Johnny, pointing to Mrs. S. And when Snuggly remembered that he had so addressed his wife in the presence of the boy on the day previous he flushed a pretty pink and changed the toy.—London Sphere.

The Sight of the Pigeon.

A friend of mine ridicules the idea that in the carrier pigeon it can be sight which guides it on its homeward trail. But my friend should really study the mechanism of the eye of the bird before he skepticism. I am sure that from heights at which it is itself invisible the falcon can note its prey, and its eye is simply a self adjusting telescope. The careful dissection of the eye of the bird of prey is an absolute revelation as to creative ingenuity.—Dr. Dabbs in Fry's London Magazine.

CONTRACT

Indianapolis, Ind. Distributors.Bull Fight Is More Human
Than American Prize Fight

Chicago, May 19.—Contrasting the American prizefight with the Spanish bull fight, Professor Joseph Hanaghan, formerly of Notre Dame, in a lecture at Temperance hall, said:

"A bull fight, in spite of its blood and occasional tragedies, is a splendid spectacle. It should not be compared with that American abomination known as a prizefight. A prizefight is the most brutal, disgusting, degrading spectacle known among civilized nations today, with one exception. The exception is the English sport in which a man gets down in a pit and fights a dog.

"I know what I am talking of, for I have seen many prize fights. I have seen bullfights, too. Every American or Englishman wants to see a bull fight when he is in Spain. And then he judges Spain by the bull fight. It would be more just to judge America by the prize fight."

The committee on arrangements for the second annual corn school will meet next Saturday afternoon at the office of the county superintendent. ## Fraternity Fine.

Fraternity fines are seldom lost, and when they do disappear they often turn up again, sometimes years afterward. In the most out of the way places. As they always bear the owner's name and chapter engraved on the back it is not a difficult matter to return them. One "old grad" who lost his pin shortly after he left college and bought another now has two, the original emblem having been returned in a singular manner. A "brother" had observed the familiar token reposing upon the bandanna of an old colored mammy in a little town in Virginia. Upon questioning her he learned that she had come by it "taking in washing." After much persuasion she was prevailed upon to surrender the trophy.—New York Post.

Easily Satisfied.

A countryman who was "doing London" went to a concert hall and inquired the prices of seats.

"Front seats, 2 shillings; back, 1 shilling; program, a penny," said the attendant.

"Oh, well, then," the visitor remarked blandly, "I'll take a program seat!"

THE RHINOCEROS.

This Malicious Brute Is the Assassin of the Jungle.

If the genius of hell used up all his mental energy making a devil for the animal kingdom, he could not have created a more uncertain, malicious and ugly brute than the rhinoceros. This animal has buried more hunters than all other big game combined. It seems to be the hired assassin of the jungle.

Its success as a homicide is not due to the fact that it seeks its victim, but because its victim falls over it. If the rhino knows that there is an enemy about, it will try to get away without being seen. If, on the other hand, it thinks that by keeping still it will be passed unnoticed, it stays as silent and motionless as Gibraltar, its little bog eyes watching the direction of the noise and its nose sniffing the air.

Should an enemy show up suddenly in the jungle the rhino charges like a flash, nose down and horns leveled like swords for the thrust, its huge bulk crushing through the brush like an express train. It is always a fight to the death, for a rhinoceros, once in a fight, wins or dies, and it mostly wins if it is not confronted with an express rifle in the hands of a cool, good shot—Hampton's Magazine.
