Miss Marguerite Doan, daughter of Mrs. E. E. McDill, will go to Germany this year to study music. Miss Doan is a promising young musician. For some time she has been under the instruction of Miss Laura Gaston and has also been attending Earlham college. She has given a number of recitals in this city and elsewhere. They will go to Boston, Philadelphia and New York, also spending some time at various points along the Hudson. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes are looking forward with pleasure to a short sojourn which they will have with relatives who are living in the mountains.

Mr. Samuel Kinsinger was pleasantly surprised recently at his home near Straughns, by a company of friends and relatives. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stombaugh, Miss Christina Kinsinger, Miss Lola Clark, Miss Ethel Turner of Cambridge City, Mrs. Palmer and daughter, Mr. George Schaffer, Miss Cora Behr of East Germantown, Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Murray, of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. R. Morgan of Dublin, Mr. and Mrs. Sant Lamerson and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Smalley and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan and family of Straughton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henly and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kensing and child of Lewisville, Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons and family of Bentonville.

An informal company, which had for its hostess Miss Ruth Gilchrist of Kinsey street, was a feature of Tuesday's social calendar. The guests were invited to assist Miss Gilchrist in entertaining her house guest, Miss Mary Seaton of Indianapolis. Games, needlework and various social festivities made the afternoon a pleasant one. Luncheon was served to Miss Marguerite Rush, Miss Mable Reller, Miss Dorothy Rush, Miss Edna Trueblood, Miss Lucile Townsend, and Miss Marion Piper.

A number of young people enjoyed a tally-ho ride last evening. They drove to Greensfork, Ind., where supper was served. Professor and Mrs. Boggs chaperoned the company. Those participating in the affair were: Miss Olive Long, Miss Lova Mansfield, Miss Martha McLellan, Miss Edna Young, Miss Mary McLellan, Miss Ruth Harris, Miss Lura Lee, Miss Blanche Conley, Miss Esther Hill, Miss Elena Coffield, Miss Alva Jackson, Mr. Arthur Haisley, Mr. Ray Sheffer, Mr. George Macey, Mr. Glen Whitesell, Mr. Fred Dickinson, Mr. Orville Donahue, Mr. Harry Sloan, Mr. Frank Buell, Mr. Stonehill Keates, Mr. Walter Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snavely.

Mr. Dudley Cates, who attends the University of California in Berkeley, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Cates for a few months.

It is safe to say that plaited skirts will be widely worn this summer, although as yet few of them are seen on the gowns shown by the big shops. The new plaited skirts rarely if ever carry the plaits to the waist line. They are either in skirted in panel effect under a tunic or they are arranged under a princess hip yoke. Doubtless later on the full plaited skirt with the plaits running to the waist line and stitched on the edges will be universally worn.

Miss Dorothy and Marguerite Rush will entertain in honor of Miss Mary Seaton of Indianapolis, Thursday afternoon at their home, 325 North Eleventh street.

Miss Nellie Morrow of Chester attended the Steindel recital at the Gennett theater last evening.

Dr. Roy Morrow and Dr. Chittin of this city, were entertained to dinner recently by Mr. and Mrs. Will Morrow of Chester.

Miss Hazel Hammel entertained yesterday afternoon with a bounce euchre party at her home on Central avenue in honor of Miss Edna Northrop, who will be married next month, and for Mrs. Frederick New of Greenfield, a recent bride. The decorations and all of the appointments for the party were in butterflies. Garlands of butterflies were festooned about the rooms and the score cards and fcs were carried out in the same design. The favors for the guests were gilt butterflies tied with ribbons. The vases were filled with lilacs of the valley and ferns. Miss Hammel was assisted by her mother, Mrs. F. S. Hammel, and the Misses Florence and Pearl Randall and Charline Dilling. Among the guests were Mrs. William Ward Cook, Mrs. Charles Cook, Mrs. Albert New, the Misses Roxanna Thayer, Nelle Reed, Mary Montgomery, Mary Rose Quigley of Greenfield and Miss Jessie Kitchen of Rushville—Indianapolis Star.

Miss Montgomery who was among the guests, has visited in this city a number of times, the guest of Miss Hazel Freeman. She is a student at Butler.

There has been little sign of the renewal of gayeties, which is usually expected after the Lenten season. This seems rather annoying as the late winter season was a very quiet one, and now the post lenten season has followed in its footsteps. Few invitations are issued for affairs it seems. The parties and card companies which are given are very informal, invitations not being issued. As June is the desired month for weddings, it is most probable that the social schedule for the favored month will be a full one.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wissler of Cambridge City, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford H. Bond, Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Loper, with Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchinson, have returned from a visit with friends, south of the city.

Dr. Charles M. Hamilton and family have returned from Sanford, Florida, where they have been spending the winter.

Miss Mary Seaton of Indianapolis, who is the house guest of Miss Ruth Gilchrist, will return home Friday.

promise, when his study has been completed, of a wonderful musician.

The Elfen Dance written by Sapellnikoff as played by Mr. Steindel was one of the most pleasing numbers on the program. This was the last recital of a series which have been given in this city during the past season under the direction of Mr. Justin Leroy Harris.

Nature's Remedies for Disease

Nature provides more effective remedies in the roots and herbs of the field than were ever produced from drugs.

Thirty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy made from roots and herbs, which has proved more efficacious in curing women's diseases than any other medicine the world has ever known, and today Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound is looked upon everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

MRS. MARY L. GILMAN.

She Heads a Society of One Hundred and Sixty-three Thousand Women.

It is not a small matter to safely conduct the affairs of a society of 163,000 women, scattered over nearly all the states and territories of the Union, yet the honor is coveted, and much friendly rivalry results. Mrs. Mary L. Gilman, national president of the Woman's Relief corps, was elected on the first ballot by a flattering majority.

Conservative, yet broad minded, of executive ability and an accomplished parliamentarian, her administration is proving to be a notable one, says Hampton's Magazine.

The Woman's Relief corps is the only authorized auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic and the outcome of the above mentioned aid societies of the sixties. After the war the work of relief became more and more important because of the permanent disability of thousands of soldiers, many of whom had families dependent upon them. After a few years of desultory effort by unattached societies it was deemed best to unite in one strong organization which should be the auxiliary to that of the veterans and prepared to systematically assist them in their philanthropic work. Representatives of many small societies met in Denver in the summer of 1883 and organized the corps, with a charter list of forty-five members.

During its twenty-six years of existence $3,500,000 has been expended for relief alone. Families of veterans have been provided with food and clothing, homes and employments have been found for soldiers' widows and orphans, the sick have been cared for and the dead buried. In several states homes are maintained where disabled veterans may be accompanied by their faithful wives and their declining days be spent together in comfort.

In addition to the work of relief, immense sums of money are expended in the observance of Memorial day, and this society was the pioneer in the promotion of patriotic teaching as a part of the public school curriculum. That was in 1883, and since then many thousands of flags and patriotic publications have been presented to schools in every part of the United States.

In the course of a report on the distinction of schoolrooms W. H. Marsh, an English science teacher, asserts that tests made of samples of schoolroom dust showed the number of micro-organisms therein to be from 50,000,000 to 80,000,000 an ounce. On some days as much as one and one-quarter pounds of dust was swept from a room 400 square feet in area, which, on the basis of the figures quoted, would yield from 1,000,000,000 to 1,600,000,000 micro-organisms.

STEINDEL RECITAL

Bruno Steindel, the celebrated cellist of the Theodore Thomas orchestra delighted a fair sized audience last evening when he appeared in recital at the Gennett theater. He was accompanied by Mr. Ferdinand Steindel, pianist. The first number on the program was Sonata, Opus 69, by Beethoven. Mr. Steindel is a musician of remarkable ability, and all the numbers which he rendered last evening were received with applause by those in attendance. Special mention should be made of the numbers played by Mr. Ferdinand Steindel. He gives

A Charming American Girl Who Goes With Her Father to Court of Spain. Miss Marjorie Ide will preside at the American embassy at Madrid, her father, Henry Clay Ide, having been made minister to the court of Spain. Tea is a Mode.

The latest way of serving tea in up to date hotels and first class restaurants is to place before the guest a small, thin envelope containing the tea leaves of his favorite brand. The waiter brings a pot of hot water, and the tea is brewed before the eyes of the guest, which insures its freshness.

The idea of putting portions of tea up in envelopes, says the Boston Cooking School Magazine, is not by any means new. The custom has been in use in some establishments both in this country and Europe, for a good many years, the idea being to control the number of orders from a given quantity, to avoid waste and carelessness and to insure uniformity in making.

The improvement in the new service is that the envelopes, made, of course, especially dainty in appearance, go to the guest untouched instead of being emptied into the pot in the pantry. After filling the envelopes are creased and turned over at the top and corners. They are not gummed.

The number of autocars threatens to increase. We owe this anticipated catastrophe to M. De Lippowski, the famous inventor of the brakes employed on most of our railroads. A steel wheel, flexible and elegant, bearing his name, is destined to replace in no small measure the pneumatic of the automobiles. As a consequence no more accidents by cracking and above all no more expensive outlays for the castings. A meeting organized by 1' auto permits these wheels to run with a speed equivalent to fifty kilometers an hour. The auto may thus become an exact and not too costly means of locomotion.

Shoe That Hurt.

Women with narrow heels frequently have trouble with ready made footwear. The shoe rides up at the heel, and a painful blist' occurs, which effectively cripples one for the time being. This is especially true of low shoes. To prevent it with your next pair cut a few inches from a piece of old velvet or get a bit of velvet ribbon to fit between the heel and the shoe. It can be either tacked into place or pasted. This renders the heel comfortable without lessening the size of the shoe, which is the disadvantage of the felt sole.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

A scald is one of the most painful injuries. One of the best healing remedies is made by beating castor oil and white of egg together until a cream is formed.

Talcum was never intended as a toilet article for whitening the face, but it soothes a burned skin. If, however, talcum is added to face powder the irritation that often follows the application of face powder will not be noticed. It makes a powder smooth.

For pimples take sanaparilla or any blood tonic for two weeks and drink plenty of water and exercise the body daily. Hot baths, followed by shower baths, will assist in purifying the blood. One teaspoonful of carbolic acid in one pint of rosewater, well mixed, can be sparingly applied to pimples and will remove them. For moth patches mix rum and sulphur together and apply at night, using care not to get it into the eyes.

To keep the complexion looking as white and clear as one could desire there could be no more helpful ally than a black velvet band around the neck. Other effects, too, may be produced by the judicious use of this adjunct to the toilet. A narrow band around a long neck will make it appear somewhat shorter, and it will make the complexion dazzlingly white in contrast, while a wide black band will tend to lengthen the neck and will have the same desirable effect upon the complexion.

A skin whitening preparation that can be easily made at home is in the proportion of two tablespoonfuls of oatmeal, a half tablespoonful of powdered borax and a half pint of rosewater. Let the mixture stand three days, strain and add a half ounce of alcohol. The addition of the alcohol prevents the souring which is the drawback to so many oatmeal preparations. If preferred, instead of using all oatmeal it can be mixed with half its bulk of almond meal. Either of these washes makes the skin feel soft and smooth if rubbed on the hands or face after washing.

The newly married couple had just moved into their new home. On the morning after their arrival a baker called to solicit their trade. He found the young wife in the kitchen. After explaining that his wagon delivered once a day the baker asked, "And may we have your trade, madam?"

"Yes," she replied timidly. "We will give you a trial."

"And about how much bread will you want each day?"

"Well, I don't know exactly. You see, there are only two of us." Then doubtfully, "Would five loaves a day be enough, do you think?"—Judge.
