ALL NEWSPAPERS SHOULD COPY THIS.

We cheerfully copy the following: "I hope that every newspaper in the country will copy this. If they will, they will do worlds of good for thousands of sick people who are now suffering as I did for years with my stomach and kidneys, but thanks to the wonderful medicine that is now doing so much good all over the country, I am liberated from my years of torture and am once more enjoying the great blessing of good health.

For several years my back was hurting me most of the time, and I would have to get up from ten to fifteen times every night on account of my kidneys. My food would sour and burn in my stomach and I would bloat and belch until I would get dizzy and nervous. I was badly constipated, and had to be taking something all of the time. If I didn't I was sure to have a bad spell of sick headache. No one knows how much I did suffer, but after taking the great remedy, Root Juice, a short time, I began to improve, and after using about six bottles I am strong and well, and feel like a boy. I am glad to tell every sick person all about it, because I sympathize with those who suffer as I did."

L. F. Pratt, South Bend, Ind. It is well known here that Root Juice is certainly a wonderful medicine. It is sold for one dollar a bottle or two bottles for two dollars and a half. A. G. Luken & Co., drug store.

The inscriptions on church bells are often quaint and interesting and frequently relate to historical events. They are more often than not in Latin, sometimes bad, but nearly always terse and vigorous. The 12 o'clock bell taken down in the French revolution bore the inscription, "Ego sum vox vitae, voco—orate—venite." The Holy Ghost Bell at Strasburg bears the motto, "O Rex Gloriarum Christe, veni cum pace," and is only rung when two fires are seen in the town at the same time. The following is a quaint and fairly common inscription: "Funera Excito lentos, Dissipo vntos, Paco eruentos."

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE Richmond People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's Disease, or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Richmond proof:

Mrs. F. P. Brooks, 215 S. Fifth street, Richmond, Ind., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family for years and would not be without a supply in the house. I took this remedy for a weakness of the kidneys and pains in my back and sides and I found relief. Doan's Kidney Pills are deserving of the strongest endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Honest Answer. The stories told of Snetzier, a famous Swiss organ builder, prove that he was a man of rare and incorruptible honesty. At one time the parish officers of a country church applied to Snetzier to examine their organ and make improvements in it.

"Gentlemen," said Snetzier after a careful examination of the instrument in question, "your organ be worth $100 just now. Well, I will spend you $500 on it, and it shall then be worth $100"—London Graphic.

These Elaborate Defenses. "Would you shoot a man who so-called your veracity?" "No," answered the peaceful citizen. "I'd rather take a chance on his personal opinion than to go before a jury with a story that might convince the general public that he was right."—Washington Star.

Pretty Light. "I'll have to ask you to pay in advance," remarked the hotel keeper. "Isn't my luggage good enough security?" "I fear it is a little too emotional." "Emotional?" "Yes; easily moved."—London Mail.

BULLET SHATTERS A REAL ROMANCE

Shot That Put Out Eyesight of New Yorker, Breaks Women's Hearts.

HE REJECTS THE SACRIFICE

Turns Down Offer of Woman, For Whom He Deserted Wife To Devote Her Entire Life Caring For Him.

San Francisco, Cal., May 18.—The same bullet which forever blighted out the eyesight of Eugene Moore, a rich New Yorker, who tried to kill himself in this city several weeks ago shattered a romance and broke the hearts of two women. One was his wife, whom he had abandoned; the other was Mrs. Jennie Green of this city, who left her husband for Moore.

Mrs. Greene, who is a strikingly handsome young woman, pleaded in vain for the privilege of devoting her whole life to the care of the helpless man.

Turns Offer Down. And Moore has rejected her proffered sacrifice, although unwillingly. Next Tuesday he will accompany his brother, M. E. Moore back to New York where he will enter a sanitarium where he will end his days. His family is wealthy.

Moore deserted his wife early in the spring and came to San Francisco. His family put detectives on his track and when they located him here he went out to Glendale park and at the foot of the Drake Cross, fired a bullet into his head. The missile entered the brain area, shattered the nerves of his sight, but failed to effect his death. The bullet was removed in a remarkable operation performed by University of California surgeons.

ARAB SCHOOLS. Their Peculiar Methods in Teaching and Studying.

"An Arab school," said a traveler, "is one of the most interesting places in Cairo to visit. The children, with the schoolmaster, sit upon the floor or the ground in a semicircle, and each has a tablet of wood which is painted white and upon which the lessons are written. When the latter are learned they are washed out and replaced by other lessons.

During study hours the Arab schools remind one of the Chinese, for the children all study aloud, and as they chant they rock back and forth like trees in a storm, and this movement is continued for an hour or more at a time. The schoolmaster rocks back and forth also, and altogether the school presents a most novel appearance as well as sound. Worshipers in the mosques always move about
