

LUTHERANS BEGAN TO ARRIVE HERE AT EARLY HOUR

First Session of the General Synod Will Be Held This Evening at Coliseum—A Big Crowd Expected.

SPLENDING PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED

By Tomorrow It Is Expected That All the Delegates Will Be Here and Give a Royal Welcome.

Delegates to the General Evangelical Lutheran Synod, which convenes in this city this evening with a public meeting at the coliseum, and continues for ten days, began to arrive in this city today from all parts of the United States. All trains and interurban cars were met by committees of local Lutherans to assist the visiting delegates to their places of entertainment during their visit in the city. According to advices received by the committee, there will be more than 300 delegates in attendance.

The arrival of delegates this morning was not so large as expected. However this afternoon, the committee was positive there would be many arrivals.

Have Good System.

Very systematic arrangements had been made for the receiving of the visitors. At the Pennsylvania depot, headquarters were established just outside the entrance door and all arriving delegates were enrolled at this place, and turned over to the care of messengers, to be taken to their destination. A number of the members of the First English Lutheran, Second English Lutheran and St. Paul's Lutheran churches met the delegates at the depot and took them in conveyances to their boarding place.

Each delegate, as he arrived, was given a white silk badge, on which was printed the word "Delegate."

Former Pastors Here.

Among those arriving today were Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Young, of New York city, who for thirteen years was pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. He was succeeded by Rev. C. Huber, the present pastor. He and his wife will be entertained by Mrs. Elizabeth Rose, South Sixth street, during their visit in this city. Dr. G. W. Enders of York, Pennsylvania, also a former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, is attending the convention. He is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Adam H. Bartel. Dr. Enders had charge of St. Paul's congregation before Dr. Young took charge. Besides these there are a number of other Lutherans well known in this city.

It is believed by local Lutherans that the convention to be held in this city will prove the best ever held by the general synod. An effort will be made to attain this distinction. In any event the delegates are promised royal entertainment during their stay here.

Several different social affairs will probably be given in their honor. The Art association will set aside one day at which time, the ministers will be the special guests.

Expect Large Crowd.

Providing the weather is favorable, tonight's meeting will be largely attended, not only by delegates and members of the local Lutheran churches, but by the public, as well. A very interesting program, including musical numbers and addresses by prominent visitors has been arranged. The musical numbers will be rendered by a chorus of 150 voices under the leadership of Lee B. Nussbaum. An orchestra of 40 pieces will also render a number of selections. Among those who will speak will be Dr. Enders of York, Pennsylvania, Rev. H. H. Fenner, of Louisville, Kentucky, Rev. S. W. Owen, of Hagerstown, Maryland, who will deliver the biennial sermon, and addresses of welcome by Mayor Richard Schilling, in behalf of the city; Rev. H. R. Keates of South Eighth Street Friends church, in behalf of the Ministerial association, and Rev. Conrad Huber in behalf of the local Lutheran churches. Rev. Owen will make response to these addresses of welcome.

CHAMNESS KNIFE BY A. CHAUNCEY

Two Men Engage in Fierce Fight in Their Apartments Last Night.

VICTIM SOUGHT TROUBLE

IT IS STATED WOUNDED MAN MADE ATTACK ON CHAUNCEY AND IN TURN WAS BADLY CARVED ABOUT THE FACE.

As the outcome of a fight in their apartments at 912½ Main street last night, Earl Chamness is severely cut and Arthur Chauncey who did the cutting is being held on a bond of $50. Chauncey's attorney advised him this morning against making any statement about the case. The fight is said to have been the result of the intoxication of one or both of the men, although it is denied that Chauncey was under the influence of liquor.

Chamness conducts the Elite saloon and the two families reside above that place of business. Mrs. Chauncey is said to be a niece of Chamness. Chamness is accused of instigating the trouble. He is alleged to have gone to the rooms and undertaken to pick trouble with Chamness.

Tried to Choke Him.

He is said to have grabbed the younger man by the neck and tried to choke him. Chamness managed to secure a small knife from his pocket and wielded it savagely slashing Chamness about the head, body and arms. The wounds required the services of physicians to close.

While the affray was at its height, the wives of the struggling men hastened to the front windows and screamed for help. Officers Lawler and Hebble rushed to the place. Chamness was arrested and Chamness placed in the care of physicians. Chamness was taken to jail and not released until late this morning. Chamness is not believed to be seriously wounded. Chamness is charged with assault and battery. He is a young man and has been married only a few days.

Seven are living, six daughters and one son, who with the wife and mother, mourn their great loss. Mr. Sullivan was a great and patient sufferer for three years, but the end came peacefully. He fully realized his condition and made all arrangements for his departure and advised the family not to grieve for him for all was well. He was a kind and indulgent father and affectionate husband, thinking always of the welfare of his companion, who was ever faithful to the last. Retired from duty and this life's endeavor, he has gone hence to seek a dreamless rest, where troubles never come, nor cares forever, in peace eternal, to be always blest.

work with, but a bunch of raw recruits to train. I hope that Earlham has a successful season and I am sure they will if they follow their coach's instructions. I have great confidence in Hancock, captain of the '09 team, and I think that he is the man for that position. He is a fast and heady end and will add much to the strength of the team."

Schedule for 1909.
The schedule that has been prepared is as follows:
October 9—Antioch at Earlham.
October 16—Cedarville at Earlham.
October 30—Franklin at Franklin.
November 6—Wittenberg at Earlham.
Nov. 13—Moorehill at Earlham.
November 20—DePauw at Greencastle.

SIX GAMES ARE PROVIDED

TWO OF THE CONTESTS ARE WITH COLLEGES IN QUAKER'S CLASS, THE REST WITH JIMSON WEED INSTITUTIONS.

The schedule for the Earlham football team has just been completed, and it is a hard one. The season opens on October 9 with Antioch. The next game will be with Cedarville on the 16th on Reid Field. Both of these games will be hard ones as both schools open earlier in September than does Earlham so that their men will be in much better condition. Glen Thistlethwaite, who is to be the coach next year, has requested the men who expect to make the team, appear on or about September 9, so that a preliminary training season can be held. If the men pay heed, it is very probable that Earlham has the best chances of taking the majority of the games.

Like the Prospects.
In speaking of this year's prospects Coach Vail said: "Earlham has good chances if they follow out the instructions that have been issued by Coach Thistlethwaite. He is an excellent man and will be able to make good. Football is an unnatural game and it is for this reason that it is necessary to have a preliminary season. To inspire confidence in the men, and get them going will mean hard work, but I believe, that Thistlethwaite can do it. He does not have a veteran team to

"If in investigating the case of homicide that is to come before you, you should be convinced that it was probably criminal, you should return an indictment charging the degree of criminal homicide of which you think the person committing it was probably guilty. If you should come to the conclusion that the homicide was excusable and not criminal, you should report this fact to the court without finding an indictment."
