WHITEWATER LODGE

TO WORK TONIGHT

Pins.

Queen Catherine obtained pins from France, and in 1543 an act was passed "That no person shall put to sale any pinnes but only such as shall be double headed and have the heads soldered fast to the shank of the pinnes, well smoothed, the shank well capped, the points well round filed, capped and sharpened."

At this time most pins were made of brass, but many were also made of iron, with a brass surface. France sent a large number of pins to England until about the year 1620. In this year one John Tilley started pinmaking in Gloucestershire. So successful was his venture that he soon had 1,500 persons working. These pins made at Stroud were held in high repute. In 1636 pinmakers combined and founded a corporation. The industry was carried on at Bristol and Birmingham, the latter becoming the chief center.—London Standard.

How Mandarin Rank.

Mandarins in China may be distinguished by the birds which decorate their uniforms as well as by their buttons. Mandarin of the first rank have a bird known as the fung embroidered on their clothes. Mandarin of the second rank have their robes adorned by the figure of a cock. Mandarin of the third rank have a peacock. Mandarin of the fourth rank are adorned with a pelican. Those of the fifth rank are easily distinguished by the silver pheasant, those of the sixth rank are favored by a stork, mandarins of the seventh rank have a partridge, mandarins of the eighth rank quail and mandarins of the ninth rank the humble sparrow.

Enforced the Rules.

Museum Attendant—You'll please leave your umbrella or cane at the door, sir. Visitor—Very proper regulation. But it happens I have neither. Attendant—Then go and get wan. No one is allowed to enter unless he leaves his umbrella or cane at the door. You may read the card for yourself, sir.—London Tit-Bits.

Diplomacy.

"You persuaded your husband to join a glee club?"
"Yes," answered Mrs. Higgins; "when he starts to sing at home I can now advise him not to tire his voice, and when he sings in the club I can't hear him."—Washington Star.

Speak Arabic Better than own Tongue

Here are two little Americans, who speak Arabic with greater ease than they do English. They are Frederick Sutton Barney, age 9 and his sister Esther Irene, aged 7. They were born in Muscat, where their father, the Rev. F. J. Barney is a missionary. They recently returned to this country with their parents.
