DIRECTORS TO MEET

Directors of the Chautauque Association which will hold its seventh annual assembly at Glen Miller park, August 20-29, will meet this evening at the Y. M. C. A. building for the purpose of completing details. Headquarters for the Chautauque were opened today at the Y. M. C. A. building with George L. Goodwin, secretary in charge.

DESOTPS IN THE LAND.

Some Samples of Absolute Rule in the Household.

Americans like to boast of free speech, free press and free everything, while they look with pity on the downtrodden and oppressed individuals who are the subjects of sultan or czar, but they surely must know that right here in the "land of the free and the home of the brave" we have absolute monarchies ruled by despots.

The good tempered man who must humor every whim of an unreasonable woman knows nothing about a happy home life. It is impossible to love a woman who must be obeyed absolutely, though many wives complacently point to the devotion of their adoring husbands just because those husbands allow them to have their own way in everything.

But there is just as much unhappiness in the home where the husband is the tyrant as where the wife rules. Out in the world some men pass for good citizens and devoted fathers and husbands, but the home folks could tell a different story. There are women living in luxury who never have a penny to call their own and who have to resort to all sorts of trickery to obtain things they want. It isn't enough that a woman has plenty to eat and fine clothes to wear, no matter what some husbands think on the subject. And it isn't only money that makes domestic happiness. Some husbands are so made up that they cannot be easy unless they "manage" every detail of the housekeeping and make everything conform to their pleasure.

Entertaining church work, housecleaning, dozens of feminine occupations, have to be carried on by stealth in many homes simply because the husband and father acts like a three-year-old. The prophet of old pronounced a woe upon the nation whose ruler was a child, but if he lived in these days childlike despots would be too numerous to attract special attention most likely. Of course parents are to blame, but no one could possibly like the part, saucy children who make slaves of their fathers and mothers. The forward, uppish children lay down the law as calmly as any monarch houses decrees. The mother who does without clothes to properly attire her daughter is keeping up trouble for herself as sure as anything.

Sometimes the tyrant is a rich relative whom the whole family must obey to keep in a good humor. There are people who are such slaves to the demands of society that they do not have enough to eat in order to spend the money on dress and entertaining, and if they do not lead a life of slavery then no one does. To be ruled by what people will say is another form of serfdom, says an exchange, and yet in some homes that is the only recognized law.

DIET FOR THE FAT.

Sugar and Starchy Foods to Be Avoided—Juicy Vegetables and Water.

It is popularly believed that all fat persons are gross feeders, but this is not true. Indeed, the reverse is often the case. Obesity may be a disease, or, rather, a prominent symptom of one, the trouble being with the internal chemistry of nutrition—a disease of metabolism, as it is called. It is comparable to diabetes—nearly related to it, in fact. In this disease sugar is formed in excess in the system even when very little is taken with the food, and so in obesity there is a tendency to the formation of fat in the body, even if little fat forming food is eaten. In most cases much can be done by a regulation of the diet.

The amount of meat should not be increased, but the quantity of sugar and starchy foods should be reduced, their place being taken by nonstarchy vegetables, such as spinach, cauliflower and salads. The foods to be avoided or taken in great moderation are those which contain much starch, such as rice and potatoes and all sweets—plum, puddings and candy. Tea and coffee should be taken without sugar if taken at all, and chocolate should be omitted entirely.

Bread is fattening, but for most persons it is an indispensable article of diet. Its amount can, however, be limited, and it should be toasted.

Fats are less harmful than sugar and starch and may be allowed in moderation in the form of butter and salad oil.

The belief that the drinking of water makes fat is erroneous. If one eats juicy vegetables and especially the less sweet fruits, such as apples and grapefruit, and abandons the use of sugar, there will be a natural reduction in the amount of water taken, but one should drink all that is needed to quench thirst.

A Woman Onion Grower.

"You may have heard how the Rio Grande country has put the Bermuda onion growers out of business," said Captain H. Darter of Laredo, Tex. "Our most successful grower, by the way, is a lady. Mrs. E. C. Dodd, who lives in my town. She cultivated 135 acres this season and made a net profit on her onion crop of a little over $20,000. To make land bring a gain of over $400 an acre is something few men have the ability to do, and yet this lady does not seem to regard her feat as entitling her to any great praise."

"Mrs. Dodd looks after every detail of her farm in person. Raising onions is no child's play. It involves hard work and great expense in our section, where frost is so common. It is the intention of Mrs. Dodd to plant on a still larger scale as she gradually brings more of her land under irrigation."
