PRESIDENT TAFT ON HIS VACATION AT BEVERLY TOWN

Enjoying First Rest Since He Has Become First Man in Land and Is Merry With Friends.

MRS. TAFT HAS IMPROVED
IN HEALTH AT BEVERLY

Executive Very Glad to Meet
Members of Family and Greets Them With Affectionate Kiss.

(American News Service)
Beverly, Mass., Aug. 7.—President William H. Taft is enjoying his first vacation since he became president of the United States on March 4.

The nation's chief executive reached Boston from Washington at seven o'clock, asleep in his private car "Olympia," attached to rear end of the speedy Federal Express.

The Olympia was whisked away over the Boston & Albany tracks to East Somerville, where a Boston & Maine engine took it in tow, and landed the president at Montserrat shortly before 9 o'clock in time to take breakfast with his family.

The president reached Montserrat at 9:32 and as soon as he stepped from the car he was in the midst of a crowd. Captain Butt led the way and the president was soon out of the thick of the crowd. The first two persons he met were Anibal Cruz, envoy extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Chili and General Carlos Garcia Balez the Cuban minister who are summering in Manchester. Both bowed low and the president met them with outstretched hands.

Glad to Greet Old Friends.
"Jove," exclaimed the president, "I am glad to find you fellows here, come down and see me. Are you staying here?"

Both answered that they were stopping at Manchester and after a few words the president went along. The next thing that he spied led him to his footstep. It was his wife and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis More, in the auto from the summer capital. Rushing through the crowd the president leaped into the auto, embraced his smiling wife and kissed her. Then he kissed Mrs. More. The president said:

"This is indeed the surprise of the day. I didn't expect to find you here waiting for me."

Mrs. Taft Has Improved.
It was explained by both women that the first lady in the land had improved greatly in health since her stay in Beverly and that she was now herself again. Then the auto started for the Taft cottage taking Secretary Carpenter and Captain Butt. Another auto followed bringing the secret service men. The crowd at the station cheered and then Beverly took up the newest topic of discussion—the arrival of the president.

SHOULD ROB BANKS

Then Small Boys Would Have Chance for Leniency in Washington Court.

MARBLE PLAYING AWFUL

Washington, Aug. 7.—Boys who play marbles "for keeps" are gamblers and are liable for punishment for violation of the law, according to the decision handed down by Judge Kimball in one of the most unusual cases ever brought before the local police court. Three small boys were charged with participating in a game of chance. The charge lodged by the policeman making the arrest was sustained by the magistrate.

"The playing of marbles for keeps is a violation of the law," he said, "and as long as I am on the bench I propose to break it up."

The judge held that the element of chance constitutes gambling.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Louise Miller, an aged woman who was arrested early in the week was declared insane yesterday afternoon and she was taken to the Eastern Indiana hospital this afternoon by Sheriff Linus Meredith. Mrs. Miller was apprehended in breaking into cellars and stealing "wet" goods. She spent several hours hiding in a corn field south of the city before the police caught her.

SHANK'S MAJORITY WAS SURPRISING

No One Guessed that Harding Would Be Left Behind So Badly by the Votes.

NOW EXPECTS SUCCESS

REPUBLICANS FEEL LARGE VOTE
FOR CANDIDATE AUGURS WELL FOR THE PARTY AT THE ELECTION.

Indianapolis, Aug. 7.—For mayor, Samuel Lewis Shank, republican; Charles A. Gauss, democrat.

For city clerk, Edward A. Ramsay, republican; Joseph P. Turk, democrat.

For police judge, James A. Collins, republican; Adolph G. Emhardt, democrat.

Samuel Lewis Shank's official majority over W. N. Harding in the race for the republican nomination for mayor is 8,262.

Even his most sanguine supporters had never imagined any such victory as that which he achieved at Thursday's primaries. He received 13,270 votes and Harding 5,008.

Shank easily led the entire republican ticket, with Fred C. Owen, candidate for council in the Fourth district, second. Owen had a plurality of 6,148. James A. Collins for police judge came third, having a majority over Phillip Wilkinson of 5,526.

The victory of Charles A. Gauss over Charles B. Clarke and William R. Kroll was also decisive, but his plurality was only 3,582. The vote for democratic candidates for mayor, as officially announced was: Gauss, 8,668; Clark, 5,066; and Kroll, 1,013.

Large Republican Vote.
The percentage of the normal republican vote which was cast at the primaries was also a surprise to the politicians. The total vote cast for majority candidates by the republicans was 18,278. The total vote cast for Charles A. Bookwalter at the election four years ago was 25,988. The total democratic vote for the majority candidates Thursday was 14,767. The vote for John W. Holtzman at the election four years ago was 24,327.

All of the candidates on both tickets whether they were successful in their contests or not, were more than glad yesterday that the primaries were over. The campaign had required as much time and effort, and incidentally as much money as a campaign for election.

"And within a month or so we have got to start out and do it all over again," was the expression of one of the tired, but happy nominees.

PROPOSE NEW HOME

Plans for the purchase or construction of a home of its own will be considered at the meeting of a special committee of Hokenauqua tribe of Red Men and the trustees next Tuesday night. The committee, including Henry Sheppard, C. W. Genn, Charles Potter and Harry Lewis was appointed last evening at the meeting of the lodge. The present quarters on the third floor of the Hittle building are not satisfactory.

TO CONDUCT SERVICES.

Ray Robinson will have charge of the pulpit Sunday at the St. Paul's Episcopal church owing to the absence from the city of the Rev. Huntington.

CRUMPACKER HAD WANTED TO QUIT

Squabble Resulted from Duty
On Petroleum Clause
In Payne's Bill.

REQUIRED TO CHANGE

INDIANA MAN HAD BEEN HARD WORKER FOR MEASURE BUT STAND ON COMMITTEE TO AVOID MESS.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The Washington Times, under imposing headlines, today publishes what it claims is the story back of Representative Crumpacker's resignation from the ways and means committee. The Times asserts that he would have resigned long ago except for his aversion to creating a party scandal. The Times' account follows:

"Representatives are not in the habit of resigning from the ways and means especially in circumstances which make reasonably certain that they may be retained. The reading of the letter of resignation caused a mild sensation, for everybody realized that back of it there was some remarkable story."

Had Served on Committee.

"Mr. Crumpacker was on the committee throughout the preparation of the Payne bill, and he had been a hard worker. After the measure had been completed and was ready for reporting to the house the fight over the election of a speaker and the re-adoption of the old rules came up. It became sharp and close and it presently became apparent that the life of the old organization and the old rules hung in the balance and by a most slender thread."

"At the very crisis of this fight the republican members of the ways and means committee were told on the highest authority of the house organization that they would have to reorganize the bill so far as concerned its relation to the duty on petroleum. Under the Dingley act petroleum was subject to a countervailing duty. The committee had removed this and placed petroleum unqualifiedly on the free list."

Contemplated Resignation.

"Crumpacker was so disgusted that he spent three days in solemn contemplation of whether he would not write the speaker a letter, resigning at once. He talked with close friends about it and was advised that to resign at that time when the reports were in circulation about the alleged deal to get voters in exchange for the oil duties would certainly stir up a sensation. It would compel men to talk about things nobody wanted to talk about, and in all probability would cause the introduction of a resolution for an investigation which would be likely to bring out various embarrassing things about the eleventh hour changes in the bill and about the interests which were taken care of in consideration of special relations to the higher powers of the house."

"Crumpacker, to avoid a mess that would certainly be unfortunate for the party at the very beginning of the tariff consideration, decided not to resign. He took his medicine, acquiesced in the oil duty and went through the motions of regularity."

CASE WAS CONTINUED.

The case of the state ex rel Ida Wadsworth against her husband, John Wadsworth, in the circuit court for $900 judgment was continued last evening until Monday.

CONFERENCE IS BROUGHT TO END

EXTENSION OF THE CHURCH

ONE OF SUBJECTS CONSIDERED
—CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE USE OF MEDICINE WAS GIVEN DUE CREDIT.

The Friends Bible institute which has been held at Earlham college during the past week was brought to a successful close this noon. The meetings were very largely attended and much interest was manifest in the institute by Friends in Wayne and surrounding counties.

"The narrative of the flood has been disbelieved a great deal, but its details are reasonable and free from exaggeration," said Prof. Wright in his closing lecture on "The Geological Evidence of the Flood," before the institute this morning. Continuing he said: "The dimensions of the ark are close to those of the great ocean liners of today. The rise of the water in the flood is described as being gradual and long continued and its subsidence still more so. Some object that there was not enough water on the earth to cover the tops of the mountains but a sinking of the earth could easily accomplish this. It is my settled belief that the story of the flood is a true account."

On Church Extension.

Rev. Levi Pennington presented a paper on "Church Extension Work of the Five Years Meetings. Rev. Pennington discussed the needs of the church and gave a very interesting account of the work being done in Washington state, Omaha and Tennessee by the Quaker church. He stated that the church was yearly losing many members and urged better organization in the larger cities.

In discussing "The Emmanuel Movement," Dr. Sylvester Newlin of Noblesville, Ind., yesterday afternoon explained the meaning and origin of the word Emmanuel. He stated that the word Emmanuel was given to the movement because it originated in one of the fashionable Episcopal churches of Boston called the Emmanuel church. In part he spoke as follows: A common synonym for the Emmanuel movement is psychotherapy, which means mind cure, or the use of mental, moral and spiritual methods to help the sick.

Campaign Against Medicine.

Whatever just criticism we may have, we must admit the leaders in this movement are not Charlatans. The movement is a vigorous protest against a medicine enslaved people. It is a reaction against a wide spread belief that the church is impractical, unsympathetic and not in with the needs of the masses in their everyday life. It is claimed that this movement has become the evangelism of the cultivated."

In a brief discussion that followed, Prof. Wright of Oberlin, quoted someone from Cleveland as saying, "The Emmanuel Movement is just Christianity science with a touch of Worcester sauce added to it."

"Mexico, a Field of Missions" was the subject of a very interesting paper read by George Levering last evening. The missionary work done in that country and the opportunities for the advancement of civilization were dwelt upon at length by the speaker. Mr. Levering stated that the priests in Mexico (the people are nearly all Catholics) were dishonest and impure and made no pretense of trying to educate the people to the proper belief.

TRAIN WAS DELAYED

Necessary to Run Special From Richmond Because Of Anderson Wreck.

LOCAL CREW WAS CALLED

Train No. 18 from Chicago due in Richmond at 3:45 o'clock was three hours and fifteen minutes late yesterday afternoon caused by a small wreck near Anderson. Three cars of a gravel train near that city were derailed holding up traffic along that line for awhile. The local wreck crew was called and only a slight inconvenience was caused. An extra train was made up out of here for Cincinnati and run as the first section of the delayed train.

SHADES.

At the meeting of the Central Labor Council last evening, representatives from each of the different unions were selected to make charge of arrangements for the Labor Day celebration, Monday September 6. It was also announced that Will Reller, a young attorney and former newspaper man would be one of the speakers. The council is in correspondence with John F. McNamee editor and manager of the Firemen's and Engineers' Magazine published at Indianapolis with hopes of securing him to make an address.

The committee on arrangements includes James O'Brien of the printers, E. Wagner of the barbers, Joe Ryan of the bartenders, Walter Yeagons of the plasterers, S. L. Ford of the carpenters, Frank Fosnot of the tinners, Alfred Anderson of the machinists and members of the musicians, garment workers and moulders unions yet to be selected. At the meeting last evening, it was agreed that a labor day parade should not be attempted. Instead the celebration will be confined to an all day picnic at the Glen and speaking in the afternoon. No doubt a number of amusements will be arranged for the entertainment of the morning and afternoon, not including the time spent in the program.

SCHOOL QUARREL ON AT CAMBRIDGE

Superintendent and Teacher Had Difference Which Influenced Board.

DR. BOYD HAS RESIGNED

DID NOT CARE FOR COMPROMISE
BY RETAINING BOTH SUPERIN-TENDENT AND THE SCHOOL TEACHER.

Differences between Mrs. Isadore Wilson, one of the teachers in the high school and Superintendent Lee Ault of the Cambridge City school system, have been amicably settled by Prof. Ault recommending her resignation. However, it is understood that owing to the serious difference between the school teacher and superintendent the organization of the school board was disrupted and this in a measure accounts for the refusal of Dr. Boyd to remain on the school board longer.

Dr. Boyd has been a member of the school board for twenty-five consecutive years and could have been reappointed by the town board this year, had he not announced that he did not care to serve longer under the circumstances. He took sides with the teacher in the trouble it is said and against Prof. Ault, as did many of the residents of Cambridge City. Rather than occasion embarrassment to the other two members of the board who were willing both superintendent and teacher remain, Dr. Boyd refused to accept another term. Mr. Petro, a prominent Cambridge City resident was appointed by the town board to succeed Dr. Boyd.

RETURNS TO NEW YORK.

Mr. Elliott is of the vaudeville team of Morton and Elliott, paper manipulators and only recently returned from an extended European vaudeville tour of three years. It is probable that the team will be booked in New York for a few weeks run. About October 1 they will sail for Europe. The team has been engaged to play at the London Hippodrome the coming winter.

CHARITY BOARD INSPECTS JAIL BY INVITATION

County Commissioners Solicited Visit to Make Report
On Conditions Existing There.

CONFLICTS APPEAR IN VARIOUS PLANS OFFERED

Law Prohibits Erection of a County Building at East-haven So County Must Solve Problem.

Members of the Wayne county board of charities visited the county jail this afternoon in company with the county commissioners and inspected the building. The visit was made on the request of the commissioners who are desirous that the charities board point out what repairs should be made in order to make the jail satisfactory.

As the inspection trip was not completed before the paper went to press the conclusion reached can not be stated at this time. However, previous to the inspection, Miss Robinson, one of the members of the board stated that recommendations would be made for improving the sanitary conditions of the jail. One of the things mentioned was to fix the windows so that proper ventilation could be secured. The present windows are very high and can be opened only after procuring a ladder. Therefore they are seldom opened because of the work attached.

Improper Place for Insane.

In discussing the matter of keeping the insane at the jail Miss Robinson said that she thought this was not the proper place for their confinement while waiting admission to the Eastern Indiana hospital. Conditions at the hospital due to the crowded condition are such that the insane can not gain admission. Miss Robinson says the charities board favors the erection of an addition to the jail which would be used for the purpose of housing the male insane and also a ward for the confinement of delinquent children who had to be punished by the authorities following their appearance in juvenile court. Miss Robinson does not believe that the county would need a new institution providing this addition was made.

Does Not Approve Plans.

The county commissioners are of a different opinion according to C. E. Wiley. He says that the county will need a new jail in a few years and that when such time comes, there should be erected an insane and juvenile ward in connection with the jail. Mr. Wiley says the board does not favor the expenditure of several thousand dollars, probably $10,000, for the erection of an addition to the jail to confine the insane and juveniles. He says that while the conditions at the jail for the care of the insane are not entirely satisfactory that they are better at the present time than for several years. The housing of the women in a separate ward at the county jail when the new jail is built does not meet with the approval of the charities board.

The Home for Friendless where women insane awaiting admittance are kept and also women prisoners is regarded as a very satisfactory place. Miss Robinson said that the institution has been visited several times when the authorities were not expecting them and that every time they have found things satisfactory. The women insane when it is necessary can be placed in a ward entirely separate from the prisoners. Miss Robinson also said that the women's prison of this county was regarded as a model institution all over the United States.

Laws Prohibit Plan.

The charities board favors a plan whereby the county would erect quarters on the state ground at Easthaven where the insane would be cared for by the state officials. If the county was able to do this the insane would be transferred to the ward immediately following the request and given thorough treatment. However the society in its correspondence with state officials and Amos Butler, secretary of the state board of charities says that this plan can not be carried out because the laws do not permit.

Instead he recommended that the insane ward of the county be erected at the county infirmary. The local charities board does not entirely agree with this plan. In any event they believe that their plan of an addition to the county jail would be more satisfactory. Objection is made to the county infirmary because of its distance from Richmond, and that it is a hard matter to secure a superintendent to manage the infirmary under present conditions. With the addition of the insane to his care, the employment of a competent superintendent would be even more difficult. Furthermore the board feels that it would be better to keep the insane under the surveillance of the sheriff.
