

FOREIGN POWER BEHIND TROUBLE

Became Known Today, Outside Influence Has Urged Turkish Uprising.

THRESHOLD OF A CRISIS

UNIVERSAL UNREST PREVAILS AND THOUSANDS OF PERSONS CLAMOR FOR WAR AND URGE ATTACKS.

(American News Service)

Constantinople, Aug. 7.—The ministry of the Ottoman empire allowed it to become known today that a great foreign power is held responsible for the revolt which has started against the young Turk regime in Albania. At Monastir a mass meeting of 40,000 people clamored with war against Greece and the invasion of Crete. Twenty villages in the vilayet of Soutari have risen and refused to pay taxes threatening the authorities with death. The sublime porte feels great anxiety and troops have been sent to depress the uprising.

Ferid Pasha, minister of the interior, has resigned and his office has been filled by Talnat Bey, vice-president of the chamber.

Threshold of Crisis.

Grand Vizier Hilmi Pasha today admitted that Turkey is on the threshold of a new crisis and one which may shatter the power of the young Turks. The cabinet refuses to name the foreign nation which is suspected of backing the rebellion but it is generally believed to be Germany. Gen. Von der Goltz Pasha is expected at Adrianople today.

Here are the causes which have led up to the revolt:

"Universal unrest bred by the overthrow of Abdul Hamid and his political system.

The military policies and rigid enforcements of the Young Turk government.

Dissatisfaction of the soldiers of the first army corps of Constantinople who have been put to work at menial labor throughout Turkey.

The Cretan Situation.

Telegrams are received every day from Albania bearing disquieting news. The government, however, does not desire to submit to the conditions imposed by the army but will defend the secret interests of the empire. The porte has not yet received an answer from Greece to her formal note demanding non-interference in Crete.

KING EDWARD IS STOCK PLUNGER

Realizes Fortune After Steel Stock Hit Upgrade Following Decline.

A SPECIAL SIGNIFICANCE

J. PIERPONT MORGAN VISITED ENGLAND AND SOON AFTERWARD NOBILITY PLACED THE COMMISSION.

(American News Service)

New York, Aug. 7.—King Edward of England has just cleared over a million dollars, after three months speculation in United States Steel corporation stocks, in a story given out today.

There is much comment on the significance that the king's brokers placed the commission immediately after J. Pierpont Morgan's visit to the king. The trades were placed in Wall street. The stock was bought around fifty and is now above seventy-five. The king's account showed fifty thousand shares were acquired and later sold at immense profits. Many of Germany's royalty also profited greatly, through stock speculation during the recent big boom and advancing prices.

CONCESSIONS TO STREET CAR MEN

They Must Enter Into Three Years' Agreement to Be Satisfied.

THIRTY CENTS HOUR THEN

STATEMENT OUTLINING POSITION OF COMPANY EXPECTED TODAY—COURT USED ITS INFLUENCE.

(American News Service)

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The conference between the state board of arbitration and the leaders of the Car Men's union and with the street railway officials began today with every prospect of a satisfactory settlement. It was declared this morning that if the car men will enter into a three years' agreement the company is willing to concede 30 cents an hour.

Important wage concessions are to be granted by the street car companies which will avert the possibility of a strike. President Thomas E. Mitten of the Chicago City railway company, on whom the responsibility was forced, is ready to yield in the interest of peace. A statement outlining the position of the company probably will be issued today, and it is said it will be of such a conciliatory nature that the employees would lose public sympathy if they attempted to force a strike in face of the company's offer.

John M. Roach, president of the Chicago railways company, has remained in the background, contented with the statement that he would do as well by his employees as the rival company. So satisfied is Mr. Roach with the situation that he spent the day playing golf in Highland park with Judge Peter S. Grosscup, while a number of peace agencies were at work seeking to prevent a strike that the companies never intended should take place. Judge Grosscup is said to have used his influence with Mr. Roach to prevent a strike on the lines of the Consolidated Traction company, which is in the hands of receivers appointed by him.

POURING REFUSE INTO THE RIVER

Fish Dying By Thousands, According to Reports Coming From Farmers.

LOCAL FACTORY BLAMED

MEMBERS OF FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION ARE THREATENING TO BRING STATE OFFICERS HERE.

Farmers south of the city are making strenuous complaint against the practice of a local factory in dumping its refuse oil in the Whitewater river. They have told members of the Wayne county fish and game protection association that the fish by the thousands are dying as a result of the oil in the water. The association will investigate the complaints and see that the source of the trouble is stopped.

If no other procedure is effective the deputy game warden of this district will be called on to investigate the case. There is a heavy penalty attached to the practice of manufacturing plants dumping refuse. The Light, Heat and Power Company stopped the practice when complaint was made.

The members of the protective association feel that the complaints are just. They have promised the farmers whose lands adjoin the Whitewater below this city that they will see the same laws obeyed in the city, and had asked them to see that they were obeyed in their neighborhood.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

TO WAGE CRUSADE AGAINST BUTTER

Adulterated Product Said to Be Offered for Sale on Local Market.

HEALTH BOARD DELAYS

WILL TAKE UP MATTER SOME TIME, MAYBE, BUT NOW IS TOO BUSY TO GIVE IT ANY ATTENTION.

It is probable that a crusade against adulterated butter will be started by the city board of health soon along lines similar to that used in the crusade for pure milk and clean dairies. It is asserted that some butter sold in the city contains too much moisture while the law provides that butter must contain at least 82½ percent of butter fat. Unless butter makers come up to the standard they will be barred from the local market it is said.

Adulterated butter will not be tolerated by the officials of the board who state that a thorough investigation of the cream supply of butter will probably also be made and no doubt some radical changes will be ordered in regard to preparing and handling cream. Dr. Bond stated this morning that just at present the board was too busy with other matters to take immediate action in the crusade but that the matter would be taken up as soon as possible.

MIND OVER MATTER.

The Power of the Mind in Helping to Retain Life.

The power of the mind over the body, as demonstrated in all forms of faith healing, was recognized in the seventeenth century by Richelleu's physician, Citois. Summoned to attend his master's constant fits of depression, Citois would solemnly call for a sheet of paper on which to write a prescription, and almost invariably after his departure the prescription would prove to consist of the words "One dram of Balairet," Balairet being a poet of small talent, but possessed of high spirits and wit. In those days, when the common remedy was bleeding, when it is known that Voltaire, the poet, was bled to death and the Princess of Conti, suffering from apoplexy, was beaten till she died in the hope of rousing her from her lethargy, it is no wonder that a humane and a human physician like Citois should have been successful.

The famous frequenter of the French salons, Fontenelle, is, however, the best example of the power of the spirit in retaining life. At the age of ninety-five he fell when picking up a lady's handkerchief and made the historic remark, "Ah, que je n'ai pas encore mes quatre-vingts ans." A certain callousness marked his determination not to die, as on the occasion when, a friend dying beside him at the table, he requested his man to remove him and continued his conversation. He managed, nevertheless, to survive to within a month of his hundred years and then complained that he would have lasted much longer had not the outbreak of war "put a stop to pleasant conversation."—London Chronicle.

THE CUP THAT CHEERS.

Tea Flowers and the Way They Are Gathered in China.

Early writers speak of tea as having two varieties. One, Thea bohea, they supposed to be the source of the black and the other, Thea viridis, of the green tea. But Robert Fortune established the fact in 1843 that, while these two varieties existed, black and green were made indifferently from both.

The tea flower is small, single, white and has no smell. The seeds are three small nuts, like filberts, and have an oily and bitter taste. The leaves only are used. Only the young leaves are gathered, and the younger and tenderer they are the better. They are collected when the plant is three years old, the process being continued year after year until the bush becomes weak and diseased, when it is pulled up to give place to a new shoot.

In China there are about three crops annually, the first being gathered as soon as the leaves break in the spring, April to May, and the latter as new "bushes" (buds) are made by the plants which have been stripped of their earlier foliage, this harvest beginning in June or July and lasting as late as September or October.

An almond eyed oriental, Lo Yu, the earliest Chinese writer, pronounces this eulogium on tea:

"It tempers the spirits and harmonizes the mind, dispels lassitude and relieves fatigue, awakens thought and prevents drowsiness, lightens and refreshes the body and clears the perceptive faculties."—New York World.

The Fox and the Hen.

A Fox, having crept into an out-house, looked up and down for something to eat and at last spied a Hen sitting upon a perch so high that he could by no means come to her. He therefore had recourse to an old stratagem. "Dear cousin," he said to her, "how do you do? I heard that you were ill and kept at home. I could not rest, therefore, till I had come to see you. Pray let me feel your pulse. Indeed, you do not look well at all." He was running on in this impudent manner when the Hen answered him from the roost: "Truly, dear Reynard, you are in the right. I was seldom in more danger than I am now. Pray excuse my coming down. I am sure I should catch my death." The Fox, finding himself foiled, made off and tried his luck elsewhere.—Aesop.

HARROWING TALE OF THEIR ESCAPE

Ten Members of Wrecked Steamer's Crew Increases Number of Saved.

WAVES DRENCHED THEM

AND BITING BLASTS STUNG THEIR HANDS BUT THEY CLUNG TO THE RIGGING UNTIL RESCUERS CAME.

(American News Service)

Capetown, S. A., Aug. 7.—After clinging to the rigging of the liner Haori, which was dashed on the rocks off Duleker Point for 48 hours while waves dashed over them and their faces and hands were beaten raw by the stinging wind, ten more members of the crew were rescued today. This brings the rescued number up to 21 out of the original crew of 56 men.

The men were exhausted when rescued and were unable to tell of the terrible experience through which they had passed, but their physical condition was evidence of the torture they had endured.

For hours the life-savers had struggled to reach them only to be hurled back time and time again by the terrific seas.

INSPECTION OF SCHOOL PUPILS

Proposed by City Board of Health But Not Tried This Year.

USED IN LARGER CITIES

HEALTH OF PUPILS BETTER PRESERVED AND LOSS OF TIME BECAUSE OF SICKNESS IS REDUCED.

There has been some talk of establishing medical inspection in the public schools of this city as is done in several of the larger cities in the country. However, no attempt will be made to establish the inspection when school opens in September, it is said, although the matter will probably be taken up later in the year by the board of health. The inspection consists of a personal examination of each child of a personal examination of each child and is found to be very successful in other cities where it has been tried in keeping a perfectly sanitary condition in the school. Many of the district schools in Wayne county were condemned by County Health Officer J. E. King in the past year on account of unsanitary conditions which existed. Some decided changes were ordered and complied with, and it is believed now that all of the schools in the county are in strict accordance with all the laws governing sanitation.

HUMAN TORPEDO FIRED OUT TUBE

Remarkable Performance by Midshipman Whiting.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—The navy department has received a report of a remarkable performance by Midshipman Kenneth Whiting in command of the submarine Porpoise, now in Manila.

For the purpose of demonstrating the possibility of escape from a submerged submarine through a torpedo tube, Whiting, who is an expert swimmer, had his vessel lowered in the waters of the bay near Cavite. From within the boat Whiting crawled into a torpedo tube and had the end of the tube closed behind him. The officers inside the vessel turned on the compressed air and Whiting was discharged into the water. He came to the surface unharmed.

Sommer exerted perfect control over his machine and the mechanism answered with unerring precision to his manipulations. Time after time he flew about the field while the concourse of spectators cheered.

On August 1, Sommer beat Wright's record for the first time, flying for 12 minutes and 12 seconds. Wright's record made at Lemans last September was one hour 31 minutes and 25 seconds. Sommer used a Farman aeroplane on both occasions.
