

OFFERS MILLION BAIL FOR HARRY

Thaw Family Will Give Fortune to Get Murderer Out of Asylum.

PROMISE GOOD CONDUCT

IF SLAYER OF STANFORD WHITE DOES NOT CONDUCT HIMSELF PROPERLY THEY WILL FORFEIT MONEY.

(American News Service)
New York, Aug. 18.—The Thaw family is willing to furnish bail in the sum of $1,000,000 to guarantee the good conduct of Stanford White's slayer if he is allowed his liberty from Matteawan according to a story published here today.

In this same connection is the story of a daring trip made by Harry's sister, the former Countess of Yarmouth who made an appeal to Justice Mills, after a ten mile walk through the Maine woods and over the Canadian border in a cold rain storm to the summer camp of the supreme court justice.

Goes to See Mills.

Alice Thaw arrived at Megantic, Maine, late Monday night. She began her ten mile journey to the camp of the Megantic fish and game preserve where Justice Mills is spending his vacation, before the sun was up yesterday. The camp is located in a dense forest and reached only by lonely trails leading through mountain defiles and over swollen streams. No vehicle of any kind could pass over the route.

Dressed in a heavy corduroy walking skirt and blouse and disdaining an umbrella, the young woman whose fortune is estimated at a million, set out. A heavy rain was falling and a high wind rocked the trees and sighed dismally through the branches. A native guide who was retained started with reluctance and only after his customary fee had been doubled. He told her trip would be of great hardship because of the swollen streams and mountain slides, but Miss Thaw persisted.

PREPARE THE PLANS

Specifications for New Factory Will Very Soon Be Completed.

PLANS FOR SALE OF LOTS

Plans for the new factory building of the National Automatic Tool works, which company is to change its location from Dayton to Beaville, will be ready in two weeks, according to announcement made last evening at the meeting of the directors of the South Side Improvement association. The plans will be put on display.

The sale of lots by which the association will raise the liberal bonus for the concern was also discussed and progress on the plans to be pursued, reported.

The members of the association and their friends will hold a picnic at Beaville park on Labor Day, September 6. This is an annual event and always largely attended.

The matter of improving South Eighth street from L to O streets by macadamizing the street and the construction of cement curb and gutters was considered. It was decided to refer the matter to the county commissioners with the purpose in view of getting the county to share in the cost of the improvement.

MRS. PRICE IS DEAD

Lydia M. Price, aged 85 years, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Wayne county, died last evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Metzger, east of the city. Beside her daughter, she is survived by three sons, Benjamin, Frank and Harry. C. T. Price is a step son. Mrs. Price has been a devoted member of the Grace M. E. church during her entire life and has always taken a great interest in religious affairs. Her demise will be greatly felt by the church. The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her daughter. The burial will be in Earlham cemetery. Friends may call any time.

MAY GET NEW LODGE

The Royal Order of Moose may establish a chapter in this city if present plans are carried out. The lodge was inaugurated twenty-one years ago and is a strong and rapidly growing fraternity, it is said Charles M. Rappuhn, the deputy national organizer, was in the city yesterday to investigate the claims of a number of Richmond citizens who have become interested in the matter and desire a Moose lodge here. If prospects are satisfactory a campaign will be opened soon with the view of establishing a lodge. The organization is very much on the order of the Elks, it is claimed.

A FIGHT TO DEATH

Wife Stabs Husband Who Tried to Throw Her Out Of a Window.

CHILDREN WITNESSED IT

(American News Service)
New York, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Augusta Crisanti drove a knife to the heart of her husband, Luigi, and killed him instantly today when, with one hand gripped around her throat, he tried to throw her out of the window of their home on the fifth floor at 171 First avenue. The couple's two children stood by, horror stricken witnesses of the tragedy.

The husband had been insanely jealous for a year past of Eugene Charalli, a boarder in his home, and the quarrels between husband and wife over this man culminated today in Luigi's flying into a jealous rage. The woman had only time to pick up the knife before he caught her by the throat.

SUTTON IS FOUND TO BE A SUICIDE

Long Fight of His Mother and Sister Meets With a Failure.

VERDICT IS MADE TODAY

OFFICERS WHO WERE ENGAGED IN FATAL ROW WITH MARINE LIEUTENANT ESCAPE WITH ONLY A CENSURE.

(American News Service)
Washington, Aug. 18.—The fight of the mother and sister of Lieutenant James N. Sutton to clear his name from suicide stigma has been unsuccessful. The verdict of the naval court of inquiry, made public today, finds that Sutton came to death by his own hand, either intentionally or through accident. The gist of the majority of the opinions of the court follows:

First.—That Lieutenant Utley failed in his duty in permitting Sutton to harm himself.

Second.—That Lieutenant Bevan failed in his duty in not disarming Sutton, as did also Lieutenant Willing.

Third.—That no possible charge of criminality lies against any of the participants except Sutton himself, who is solely responsible for his own death which was self inflicted intentionally or in an effort to shoot some one trying to restrain him.

Fourth.—That the charges made by Mrs. Sutton are wholly imaginary. No recommendations are made regarding the conduct of Utley, Willing and Bevan. The minority report concurs in majority report, but adds that Utley, Adams and Willing and Bevan should have been court martialled at the time of the Sutton affair, but recommends no further action be now taken in their cases.

LAND FUNERAL HELD

The funeral of Charles Land took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of his mother, Mrs. Emilene Land, 114 North Thirteenth street and was private. The burial at Earlham cemetery was also private, only the members of the immediate family being present. The services this afternoon were conducted by the Revs. T. J. Graham of the First Presbyterian church and R. J. Wade of the First Methodist church. Short services were held at the house this morning at 10 o'clock by the Knights Templars, and were conducted by John L. Rupé and A. W. Hemptiman, both of whom paid glowing tributes to the memory of Mr. Land. The pall bearers were Will Campbell, S. S. Stratton, Jr., Harry Gilbert, Samuel Gaar, Milton Craighead and Jonas Gaar. The flower display was magnificent.

A NEW IMPROVEMENT

Another of the many improvements in the postal service given the citizens by Postmaster Spekenhier will be inaugurated this evening. Another collection of mail will be taken up from the boxes on North E street from Eighth to Tenth, including substation No. 1, the Arlington hotel, and the Pennsylvania station. Heretofore the last collection at these points has been at 5:30 o'clock and any mail matter originating in that section after that hour had to be taken to the main office or mailed at the transfer office. The increase in the amount of mail turned in at the transfer office has become so large that the clerks on duty there can not handle it all in time for the trains. The matter can now be mailed in any of the collection boxes mentioned and will be collected by city carrier and returned to the main office. This will be of great benefit to the business men of that section.

BLUE ARMY MAKES A RETREAT TODAY

Force Defending Boston Falls Back on Defenses of The City.

FIRING WAS VERY HEAVY

HEAVY RAINFALL DURING THE NIGHT MADE ROADS ALMOST IMPASSABLE AND THE TROOPS MOVED VERY SLOWLY.

(American News Service)
Boston, Aug. 18.—The Blue army, which is defending Boston in the war game, was reported in retreat early today. General Pew, the Blue commander, believed he could strengthen his defense by falling back.

There were sounds of heavy firing in the direction of Middleboro and the report came that Col. Donovan, commanding the second brigade, had been attacked by Reds near Halifax. The volume of the firing indicates that the action was not a mere skirmish and the success of the retreat was in doubt.

General Pew's Plan.

It is Gen. Pew's plan to set up new headquarters at South Hanson. He didn't decide upon this move until the end of a war council, at 11 o'clock last night. He then sent orders to get Clark at Titicut and Col. Donovan at Halifax, to move their commands at daylight.

The heavy rainfall of the night made the roads almost impassable and the marching bodies moved with provoking slowness. The condition of the roads delayed the retreat beyond the general's expectations. He gave orders to avoid, if possible, a general battle.

A large part of Gen. Bliss's Red army forced the rivers across which the bridges were destroyed by the Blues and it is expected that the remainder will be across before the end of the fighting day.

JOSIE ON RAMPAGE

What to do with Josie Bond seems to be a question that is bothering Prosecutor Ladd, Judge Converse and Chief of Police Staubach at present. Last night Josie was arrested on South Fourth street and no one seems to know what for. There was no affidavit filed against her and charge registered. Josie became much peevish on being arrested and made her presence known in the city jail where she was forced to spend the night by taking off her shoes and breaking all the windows in the apartment where she was placed. After she had had her rough house and the damage had been done Josie was locked in a private cell.

Albert Vincen was arrested last night for associating. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until tomorrow afternoon.

NEAL IS ARRESTED

William Neal was arrested last night and charged with stealing $16 from Maggie Wysong at her home in the north end of the city. In the city court this afternoon Neal entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued until tomorrow in order to give him a chance to summon his witnesses.

Last evening Neal, while slightly under the influence of liquor, paid Mrs. Wysong $16 which he owed her for board. She alleges that she put the money in a pocketbook and placed it in the drawer of her dresser. She then left the room for a few minutes and upon returning discovered that the money had disappeared. The drawer was also ransacked. Mrs. Wysong made a hasty examination which resulted in the finding of the pocketbook on the stairway. The evidence against Neal appears strong as Mrs. Wysong states that there was no one else in the house at the time of the theft. A towel taken from the drawer in which the money had been placed was also found in Neal's room.

SHE IS RECOVERING.

Milton, Ind., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Charles Shull, nee Miss Addie Wallace, writes that her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace, is gradually recovering from her recent accident. Mrs. Wallace, it will be remembered, fell at the home of her daughter at Eustis, Florida, and broke her arm. She is now at Melbourne with her daughter, Addie, who will be remembered as a teacher of the Milton schools a few years ago. Mrs. Wallace is also the mother of Mrs. D. H. Warren, of this place. Mrs. Shull also writes of a big catch of fish by her husband and son, Stewart Shull. They caught 2,000 in two nights.

GAVE A PICNIC.

Milton, Ind., Aug. 18.—Mesdames R. W. Warren, Harry Manlove and Miss Rose Wagner, teachers in the Christian Sunday school gave a picnic for their Sunday school classes in Hiram Crook's grove east of town yesterday. There were between twenty-five and thirty in attendance, and a fine picnic dinner and supper were served.

LAND BLUEJACKETS

(American News Service)
Canica, Crete, Aug. 18.—A party of blue jackets landed from the battleships of Great Britain, Russia and France this morning to cut down the Greek flag recently raised by the people of Crete in defiance of the sovereignty of Turkey and showing preference for that of Greece. Great excitement prevailed but no disorder occurred.

General Pew's Plan.

It is Gen. Pew's plan to set up new headquarters at South Hanson. He didn't decide upon this move until the end of a war council, at 11 o'clock last night. He then sent orders to get Clark at Titicut and Col. Donovan at Halifax, to move their commands at daylight.

How They Chose Name.

Each committee man suggested a name which were left to the citizens of Smithville to select from. Mr. Robards suggested Waterford, Mr. Regg proposed Plainfield and Mr. Hoover chose Richmond. As the majority of the citizens were southerners, the name Richmond struck a popular chord and it was almost unanimously adopted.

Mr. Hoover was an ardent supporter of freedom for the slaves and took an active part in assisting escaped negroes to get to Canada and safety.

In 1861, he was elected a delegate to the Anti-Slavery and Peace Society and thereafter, until after the war of '61, took an active part in the society's affairs.

He has been dead a number of years, but is remembered by the older citizens. Besides being prominent in affairs pertaining to the welfare of the city, he took an active part in politics and held the office of county clerk for a period of 16 years.

MISSION OF THE LAND.

Produce Commodities For the Service of Mankind.

The mission of the land is to produce and keep on producing food, live stock, lumber and other commodities for the service of man.

He who owns land and is indifferent to this is guilty of a moral wrong, and he who takes good land out of commission and suffers it to lie unproductive and useless is guilty of a greater one. This is the only criterion by which we can properly judge of the right of an individual to own land in large tracts.

The good results attendant upon small individual holdings are natural. The purposes of nature in the upward evolution of man are usually better carried out in this way, and not because, as is so frequently argued, every man has an inherent right to its ownership. The lazy, the incapable and the densely ignorant assuredly have no such right, and land is too precious and its mislaid too high to be wasted.

If the owner of a great country estate can farm his land as well as or better than it if it were in small holdings; if, following the precept of Swift, he made two ears of corn or two blades of grass grow where one grew before; if he supply his section with a better breed of horses, cattle or sheep, well and good. No one with any knowledge of economics could say he was doing any injury to the world or mankind. It is not the amount of land that he owns, but what he does with it for which he is morally responsible.

The Invention of the Panorama.

The panorama was invented by a Scotchman named Robert Barker, who obtained a license in London in 1787 and erected a rotunda on Leicester square. He was associated with Robert Fulton, the practical inventor of the steamboat, who introduced panoramas in 1794 in Paris.
