

PRESIDENT TAFT TAKES INTEREST IN COOK'S FEAT

Aroused by the Daring Dash of
The Explorer Promises the Alaskan Governor to Visit
Him in 1910.

POLAR TERRITORY TO BE ANNEXED BY U. S.

Statement Made by Secretary
Of State Knox, But, Like
The President, He Waits
For Complete Details.

Beverly, Mass., September 3.—Nellie President Taft nor Secretary Knox, who paid another visit to the Summer White House yesterday, would make any comment on the reported discovery of the North Pole by Dr. Cook.

It is known that privately both are deeply interested in the news from the far North, but until Dr. Cook reaches civilization again and more of the details are furnished, there will be no statement of any kind made. Then, if the detailed information bears out the reports already made, it is altogether likely that some official recognition will be made of Dr. Cook's achievement in the shape of a telegram or letter of congratulation from the president.

The attention of the secretary of state was called to the 30,000 square miles of territory to which Dr. Cook claims when he planted the stars on top of the world. Mr. Taft was asked what would be done by the United States with regard to this. With twinkling eye the secretary of state replied:

"Why, we shall annex it, of course."

Taft Will Visit Alaska.
With the subject of the North in mind, it is interesting to note that President Taft assured Walter Ely Clark, the new governor of Alaska, that he will visit that territory next year if he can arrange his plans to that end. That territory is the only portion of the United States soil upon which the president has never set foot.

A bare-faced attempt, by the way, to drag the president into a befuddled political situation in Minnesota was nipped in the bud yesterday by the president. With the exception of Representative Tawney, of that state, the entire Minnesota delegation opposed the Payne tariff bill. Tawney is in trouble with his constituents because he voted for the president and voted for the bill.

Yesterday the president was informed that a telegram had been published in the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch of the following tenor:

"I assure you of my complete sympathy with the plan to favor the Minnesota congressional delegation by a public ratification meeting."

Put in False Position.

The president's name was signed to this alleged dispatch. Manifestly, it was intended to put him in a position of favoring the revolt in Minnesota against the Payne bill.

Just how the president feels with regard to the new tariff law was outlined in the statement which he issued following his approval of the bill. He will probably add to that in his speeches during the forthcoming visit to the West.

And that the president has a purpose contrary to this is indicated by the fact that he will make a special stop at Tawney's home, Winona, Minn., during this Western trip and make a speech.

It is a curious fact that Tawney is not only opposed because he stood by Taft in the tariff fight, but because he opposed Roosevelt in the closing weeks of the latter's administration on the fight over the secret service, which again recalls a curious fact that in almost every political tangle that the president becomes involved there is a Roosevelt end to further complicate matters.

Issued Flat Denial.

However, immediately upon the discovery of this false Minnesota telegram, Secretary Carpenter issued this flat repudiation, which ought to settle the matter:

"The matter requests the press associations to announce that no such telegram was sent by him to the Pioneer Press or to anybody else."

The president's golf plan will be broken today for the first time, barring Sundays, since he reached Beverly. A slight touch of sciatica, coupled with an engagement to witness the Sonder yacht race, brings about this change in the daily routine.

Wild horses are found roaming in bands on the plains of New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada and California. Of fifty horses captured by rangers in the Modoc national forest, about half proved to be branded stock which had grown wild, the others being horses that had never known the ownership of man.

ORDER BY FLETCHER

Women Can't Get General Delivery Mail Under Assumed Names.

WILL ENFORCE OLD LAW

Married women who apply at the general delivery windows of the post office today and every day hereafter for mail which has been sent to them under assumed names will be disappointed. According to an order issued by Post Office Inspector William T. Fletcher the law which compels persons to have their mail sent to them in their own names will be enforced in Indiana, in view of breaking up the practice employed by a few married women to receive mail from persons to whom their husbands would object if they knew. The post office officials report that the general delivery service is being abused.

"When a woman has a home address her mail must be sent to that place," said Mr. Fletcher, "for this practice, which married women have of receiving their mail at the general delivery window, addressed to names which the clerks know are not their own, must be broken up."

The law which Post Office Inspector Fletcher insists in having rigidly enforced has been dormant for many years. The local general delivery clerks say that often women will ask for their mail under their right names and other mail under their assumed names.

Go With A Rush.
The demand for that wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney cure, Dr. King's New Life Pills—is astounding. A. G. Luken & Co. say they never saw the like. Its because they never fail to cure Sour Stomach, Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness, Jaundice, Sick Headache, Chills and Malaria. Only 25c.

The other day a number of people who were taking a walk on the slopes of Knockscabert hill, Scotland, were surprised to see on the grass a large number of very small fishes. They appeared to be the young of the herring and their presence on the hill in considerable numbers caused much speculation. In August, 1904, a shower of herring fry was experienced at the head of Longrow. They fell from above on the hats and clothing of several men and at the time a small black slud of great density was directly overhead.

A HINT FOR LABOR DAY

Insist That the Label Appear on All Uniforms.

DON'T FORGET THE HATTERS.

Accept No Article of Apparel That Does Not Bear the Symbol of Unionism—A Word About Musicians—Employ American Federation Bands.

Thomas F. Tracy, secretary of the union label trades department of the A. F. of L., utters a timely note of warning to Labor day committees when he says:

On Monday, Sept. 6, the hosts of labor will celebrate the day which has been dedicated to them in nearly every state in the Union. Even now the various committees are making the necessary arrangements for the various forms of demonstrations that are to take place in the large number of cities and towns that annually celebrate this day by participating in parades, picnics and public meetings. The old proverb that "a stitch in time saves nine" leads me to call to the attention of the various organizations and the committees in charge of these celebrations the necessity of providing for the purchase of union made goods.

Many organizations provide some sort of Labor day uniform for their members, which is also useful to them in following their various occupations for some time after the day has passed. In providing uniforms, such as overalls, jackets, caps, etc., special attention should be paid by those who are making the arrangements to insist that the union label appears on each and every garment.

In many instances organizations procure only hats for their members, and now, above all other times, can assistance be given to the United Hatters of North America in the gallant struggle they are making against tremendous odds by refusing to accept from any dealer "something that is just as good" or taking the excuse from the dealer "that they are union made, but the manufacturer forgot to put the label in them."

There are no hats, shoes, clothing, shirts, printed matter, or, in fact, any other class of goods that are recognized as union made unless they bear the label of the trade that is engaged in making the articles. There is no other way of knowing union goods except by the label appearing on the article purchased.

Many statements have been made in the daily press declaring that the hatters' strike is over and that all differences have been adjusted. These statements are absolutely at variance with the facts. While it is true that a settlement has been made with the employers of the hatters who are located in Danbury, Conn., the strike is still on in Brooklyn, Philadelphia and in several places in New Jersey, and, as a matter of fact, there are about 10,000 men and 2,500 women who are still out of employment because of the efforts of the employers in the hat industry to endeavor to disrupt this splendid organization. The men and women who are engaged in this difficulty are standing firmly together to maintain their rights, but they are sadly in need of funds to carry on their struggle. There is no more appropriate time to render them valuable financial assistance than on Labor day.

While the sums that are being contributed weekly should be continued and increased, it is recommended that committees be appointed in every central labor body to collect from our members and friends on Labor day such sums as it may be the desire of the friends of labor to contribute to this worthy cause.

There is one other matter to which the attention of our members and friends should be called, and that is that an effort is now being made to try and disrupt another organization of labor that has done much to improve the conditions of its members.

A few disgruntled and suspended, and expelled members of the American Federation of Musicians are endeavoring to form a dual organization of that craft. No doubt they will endeavor to try to delude the members of organized labor into believing that they are a legitimate body and endeavor to obtain engagements from them for Labor day and if successful in doing so will then say to the world that they have been recognized as such, from the fact that they took part in the demonstrations of labor in various sections of the country. Committees who have charge of making the arrangements, particularly of music, should see to it that the bands engaged are composed of men who are members in good standing in the American Federation of Musicians, the only musicians' organization that is recognized by the A. F. of L. It is better that men and women of labor, in taking part in the Labor day demonstrations, have no music at all—yes, even no parade—rather than engage nonunion men who are being used to attempt to destroy the legitimate organization of musicians, which has accomplished so much for its members and against the terrific opposition of hostile forces.

Let all pull together in making the Labor day celebrations this year grander and greater than ever and start again a healthy and lasting agitation for the purchase of union made articles sold by men and women who are members of their respective organizations and in turn delivered to our homes by men who display the button of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

They Can't Budge It

No amount of force or persuasion on the part of the imitators is great enough to even budge it from its present firm hold on the minds of the people. This has been emphatically demonstrated several times during the past few years. Imitations have come and gone, but Kellogg's goes on with an ever increasing demand. This proves that the people won't be fooled by inferior quality. They know the goodness of Kellogg's—and they invariably come back to it. Try it yourself today. At all Grocers.

$1,000 GOLD AND SILVER TROPHY for the BEST EAR OF CORN to be known as W. K. Kellogg National Corn Trophy to be given at the National Corn Exposition, OMAHA, NEB., December 6th to 18th, 1909. For the purpose of encouraging the better breeding in corn for improving the quality, W. K. Kellogg, President of the Toasted Corn Flake Co., offers a $1,000.00 beautiful solid gold and silver trophy to the person growing the best ear of corn in two different seasons. The first season's specimen to be sent to the National Corn Exposition, Omaha, Neb., before November 27th, 1909. This offer is open to every man, woman and child in the United States. It will be judged by the leading corn authority of the world, Prof. P. G. Holden. Watch this paper for further particulars.

GREAT DEMAND FOR HIDES

(American News Service)
Boston, Sept. 3.—The price of shoes, instead of being reduced, as a result of the removal of the duty on hides, will be increased. The reason is that the price of hides, which determines that of the shoes, is not materially affected by the tariff and is at an excessively high point because the demand for hides greatly exceeds the supply. This is the substance of a statement issued by President Charles H. Jones of the Commonwealth Shoe & Leather company.

BETTER COOKING
WITH LESS
TIME, TROUBLE, EXPENSE
..The "Caloric" Fireless Cook Stove..
Boils, Bakes, Bastes and Roasts Perfectly with only one-fourth the trouble and expense of the ordinary way.

How often does a woman want to do something or go somewhere, but can't because she has to look after the cooking?

With the "Caloric" she can start dinner when she wishes. She can go away and leave it and when dinner time comes she can serve it steaming hot, perfectly cooked and perfectly flavored.

She will have more time for her children, more time for her other work, more time for her social duties and pleasure.

It makes her independent of servants. She can do her own cooking now with no trouble.

This Shows the No. 2 "Caloric"

It's a hardwood chest lined with luminite and insulated with the patented insulation. Set on casters. It has two aluminum cooking vessels, one four and one eight quart, with heating plates, tongs and everything complete.

The "Caloric" stands alone as the one cooker which will roast and bake. The others only boil.

No other cooker is as sanitary. There is no leather or cloth cushions to hold the grease and the odors. Its cooking apartments are metal lined.

No other cooker is so well insulated. The patent insulation of the "Caloric" retains the heat much better than the ordinary insulation.

The "Caloric" will roast and bake as quick as the ordinary oven. Yet you can't burn your food in it.

Vegetables Delicious

when cooked in a "Caloric." Finer flavors are produced. All the food in the vegetables is retained and made easily digestible. No food or flavor is wasted.

Meats Are Better

when roasted in the "Caloric." Nothing escapes and all the rich flavory juices, which are so needed by the digestive system, are saved. Meats cooked this way are never underdone, never burnt, never tough or tasteless.

The "Caloric" Cook Book, containing 130 pages of tried recipes, goes with each cooker. We have faith in the "Caloric," for we know what it will do. Our personal guarantee goes with each one. Every day you do not have one you lose a chance to save.
