

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

EDITED BY ELIZABETH R. THOMAS. PHONE 1121

The wedding guests assembled at the First Presbyterian church last evening witnessed one of the most beautiful weddings, which has occurred in this city for several seasons. The bride was Miss Anna Ross, niece to Mr. and Mrs. George Becker and the groom Mr. Hugh Elliott Maury of Rushville, Ind. About three hundred and fifty guests attended. The altar was banked with palms and ferns. At either side of the chancel, tall cathedral candles were used adding to the beauty of the decorative motif. Mrs. Clayton B. Hunt, a former teacher of the bride, presided at the organ. She played the following program of bridal airs:

Legende Hastings
Venetian Love Song Nevins
Humoresque Dvorak
Nocturne Monro
Caprice Lemaire
Marche Nuptiale Wachs
Arrangement of Schubert's Serenade by Penfield
Lohengrin Wedding March
A Chopin Nocturne, during the ceremony

Mendelssohn March.
Mr. Carl Morris of New York, best man, sang a beautiful solo, entitled "Beloved It is Morn." Mr. Morris has a wonderful voice and the guests were charmed with his music. The bridegroom entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Mr. Clifford Brown of Chicago, Mr. Paul Griffin of Gary, Ind., Mr. Byron Huff of Martinsville and Mr. Maury of Rushville, ushers, preceded the bride down the north center aisle. Miss Louise Maury, of Rushville, Ind., Miss Bessie Thompson, Miss Elsie Beeler and Miss Ruby Wilson, bridesmaids, came down the south aisle. The maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Pennell following down the center. Miss Ross entering alone and meeting Mr. Maury and Mr. Morris at the chancel rail. Rev. Thomas J. Graham performed the ceremony, the church ritual service being used. During the ceremony Mrs. Hunt played Chopin's Nocturne, softly. The bride was charming in her elaborate gown of white satin, made princess fashion, with a semi-empire effect. A lace panel edged with fringe extended from the embroidered yoke to the hem of the gown. Her tulle veil was fastened with a semi-wreath of Japanese clematis and ferns. She carried a showy bouquet of valley lilies and clematis. Miss Marjorie Pennell wore a gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed in lace. She carried an armful of pink roses. The same flowers being worn in her hair. Miss Elsie Beeler was costumed in yellow satin, Miss Wilson in pink, Miss Thompson blue and Miss Maury green. Miss Wilson's gown and also Miss Maury's were low necked. All the maids wore wreaths of roses and carried bouquets of white asters and asparagus ferns tied with tulle.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Becker on South Eleventh street. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Maury, Mrs. M. A. Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Maury. About one hundred and fifty guests were received.

Asters and smilax were utilized in decorating the reception rooms. A buffet luncheon was served. In the dining room yellow and white was the color scheme. Strands of smilax entwined the chandeliers. A centerpiece for the table was a large basket filled with yellow and white blossoms. Candelabra holding yellow tapers lighted this apartment. Mr. and Mrs. Maury left last evening for a wedding journey. Her going away gown was of blue cloth and black moire silk. She wore a large black hat trimmed with plumes. They will be at home after November first in Rushville, Ind.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Maury, Mrs. M. A. Dixon, Mr. Frank Dixon, Miss Belle Dunnohew, Mrs. Elizabeth Burt, Miss Minnie Burt, Miss Louise Burt, Mr. Posey Denning, Mr. Francis Moor.

One of the advantages of Grape-Nuts food is that it is pre-digested in the process of manufacture. The starch contained in the wheat and barley is transformed into grape-sugar by exactly the same method as this process is carried on in the human body, that is, by the use of moisture and long exposure to moderate warmth. This grows the diastase in the grains, then long baking completes the remarkable change from starch to grape-sugar.

Therefore, the most delicate stomach can handle Grape-Nuts and the food is quickly absorbed into the blood and tissue—certain parts of it going directly to build and nourish the brain and nerve centres. "There's a Reason"

Health and Beauty Notes

By Mrs. Mae Martyn

Molly O.: Ink stained fingers can be bleached with a moistened match end.

N. R.: You are right. Good looks do not rest altogether upon classic features. A plain girl who takes care of her complexion, hair, teeth and eyes often wins the race for a husband and leaves behind the natural beauty who neglects her appearance, wondering "why men have such poor taste." The proper care of the hair requires a shampoo every two weeks and the application of a good hair tonic once or twice a week. (1) Plain cantrox gives a delightful shampoo and leaves the hair soft and fluffy. Simply dissolve a teaspoonful of cantrox in a cup of hot water; pour on the head a little at a time. It lathers abundantly.

(2) You can make a good quinine hair tonic at home if you will get from your druggist an ounce of quinine and a half-pint of alcohol and add a half pint of cold water. This tonic will keep the scalp free from dandruff, stop falling hair, itching and irritation, keep the hair and scalp in a healthy condition and promote growth of hair.

E. B.: For tan, freckles, chapped face, etc., apply almozoin complexion cream jelly and let remain for an hour or two. This cream jelly is used either as a face cream or massage cream, and can be made at home at small cost. It contains no oils or fats that will cause hair to grow. Get 1 ounce of almozoin and 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine from your druggist and put into a half pint of cold water; stir well and let stand. If too thick, stir in more water. If used for massaging, almozoin cream jelly clears the skin of blackheads, large pores and certain types of pimples.

Lillie S.: Standing with the weight resting on one foot is likely to cause one hip to grow larger than the other. You are twenty pounds above average weight for a person of your stature. To get rid of your superfluous flesh dissolve 4 ounces of parnotis in a pint of hot water and take a tablespoonful three times a day just before meals. A friend reduced twenty pounds in three weeks with the aid of parnotis and was much benefited in her general health.

Alex J.: (1) Consult your dentist. (2) Every article mentioned in my recipe is sold in first class drug stores. If your dealer hasn't parnotis, he can Alva Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Milligan, Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. William Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Romberg and daughter Vera, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Ball and son, Master Deremes, Miss Hattie Sleefoss and Miss Ruth Reed. Point euehre was played at four tables. An elegant luncheon was served.

Mr. H. I. Miller of Chicago, who has been the guest of his father for a few days, has returned home.

Mrs. Perry Alexander of Liberty has returned home after visiting with Miss Nora Holthaus for a few days.

Mrs. Joseph Kern of Indianapolis, is the guest of friends in this city.

Mrs. Doughty, 207 North Twelfth street, has gone to Hartford City for a few days' visit with friends and relatives.

CLUB NOTES

A social was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Knollenberg, South Fourth street, by the Christian Endeavor society of the St. Paul's Episcopal church. The Sunday school orchestra played several numbers. Miss Mable Hasemeier and Miss Ethel Huber rendered a piano duet in a pleasing manner. Mr. Paul Jones and Miss Steven gave readings. The program was concluded with a solo by Miss Lena Weisbrod. Refreshments were served. The affair was most successful.

The Good-Cheer club held its fortnightly meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Herbert Van Ertan, north of the city. Mrs. Harry Bullordick was a guest of the club. Needlework and social conversation were features of the afternoon. Mrs. Smith read a humorous selection entitled, "A Shower of Silk." A luncheon in several courses was served. Mrs. James Cook will entertain the club in two weeks at her home, northeast of the city. Election of officers will take place at this time.

Mrs. W. L. Finckle entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the First English Lutheran church yesterday afternoon. The meeting was opened with a devotional service. Mrs. Dudley Ramsey gave a reading. Miss Ruth and Miss Grace Shera sang a duet. The north section of the society is arranging for a luncheon to be given Wednesday, October thirteenth, at the church.

A meeting of the Friends' Missionary society was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Johnson, 201 North Eleventh street. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Tebbetts. Mrs. Hadley gave several vocal numbers. An evening meeting will be held in October, to which the men of the church will be invited. Miss Nancy Moorman will act as hostess at her home on South Sixteenth street. Officers as follows were elected:

President—Mrs. King.
Vice president—Mrs. Marvel.
Treasurer—Miss Nancy Moorman.
Secretary—Mrs. Mendenhall.

Among the numerous meetings for yesterday of the many social organizations of the city, was the one held by the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Grace Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Francis Kelley, on

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Ky.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a world of good and I cannot praise it enough. I suffered from irregularities, dizziness, nervousness, and a severe female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored me to perfect health and kept me from the operating table. I will never be without this medicine in the house."—Mrs. SAM' L. LEE, 3223 Fourth St., Louisville, Ky.

Another Operation Avoided. Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—LENA V. HENRY, R. F. D. 3.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases. The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

South Fourteenth street. Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Haughton. Mrs. T. A. Mott was appointed delegate to the branch meeting to be held in Bay City, October thirteenth to the fifteenth. Mrs. Doughty and Mrs. Kinnert were appointed delegates to the district meeting at Fountain City. The election of officers resulted as follows: President—Mrs. T. M. Guild. First Vice President—Mrs. Frances Kelley.

Secod Vice President—Mrs. W. M. Nelson. Secretary—Mrs. Alden Mote.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Riggs. Treasurer—Mrs. T. A. Mott. Mite Box Secretary—Miss Ella Kelley.

Mrs. W. M. Nelson was also made superintendent of the Standard Bearers' society. Miss Hale and Miss McWhinery were appointed as members of the literary program committee.

The Francis Willard W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock in Rhoda Temple. All members are urged to be present as election of officers will be held at this time.

DEITIES OF THE ANCIENTS.

How the Vestal Virgins Were Honored by the Romans.

The principal wind deities were Boreas, the north wind; Zephyrus, the west; Austere, the south; and Eurus, the east wind. The first was remembered chiefly on account of a love scrape. He fell in love with a nymph, but could not speak softly and found himself unable to sigh at all. Knowing that it was impossible to make love without soft speeches and sighs, he was about to give up love-making as a bad job and go back to his regular business of blowing, but took advice of an expert, who recommended him to carry off the girl. He did so. She soon got used to his blowing, and they lived happily ever afterward.

Vesta was the goddess of life and of home. Her altar stood on every hearthstone; her fire burned on the floor of every public building. Emigrants when leaving their country always carried with them fire from the public hearth. The Vestal virgins spent thirty years in service—ten in learning their duties, ten in practicing them, ten in teaching novices. After this term had expired they might, if they chose, leave the service of their divine mistress or marry, but few did so. Honors were showered upon them. They rode in chariots, a privilege in Rome accorded only to royalty. The best seats in the amphitheater were reserved for them. They pardoned or condemned the gladiators. If a criminal led to execution met a Vestal he was instantly released, no matter what his crime.

CORPULENCE AND SANITY.

The Gospel of Fat as Applied to the Mentally Afflicted.

Are the majority of folk of weak intellect? Is insanity on the increase? Are we all preparing ourselves for lunatic asylums? These startling questions have occurred to me after reading an article in a medical journal on the "gospel of fat as applied to the treatment of mental disease." It seems that the more you fatten up the mentally afflicted the saner they become, but of course the difficulty lies in providing the lunatic with adipose tissue, as there is nothing like brain disease to cause too, too solid flesh to melt.

The aim of most of us nowadays is to keep down what our transatlantic friends, with their genius for using the ugliest word for everything, uncomplainingly call "flesh." We bathe, we massage, we diet, we fly to these and those waters, we try all manner of cures and put ourselves into various kinds of straps and pastes and take violent exercise with the aim of fining ourselves down and keeping stoutness at bay.

Does this decided disposition on the part of men and women to avoid corpulence and the successful "thinning down" that we notice on all sides portend increase of lunacy? If so, dieting and the taking of waters and massage ought to be forbidden by act of parliament. By the way, Hamlet was fat and scant of breath, but he was certainly far from sane.—London World.

THE CENTURY MARK FOR KOONS HOME

Prominent Family Celebrates Its Long Residence in Wayne County.

KASPER KOONS, FOUNDER

A BIG DINNER AND SEVERAL SPEECHES FOLLOWED BY PHOTOGRAPHING OF THE MEMBERS FILLED IN PLEASANT DAY

On Wednesday, September 1, descendants of the Koons family and also descendants of the old time neighbors, and a few other friends to the number of about one hundred, assembled at the Koons homestead two miles south east of Richmond to commemorate the one hundred and first anniversary of the founding of that home.

In the fall of 1808 Kasper Koons and family started from Randolph county, North Carolina with a heavily loaded covered wagon drawn by four horses and after traveling for six weeks arrived at Whitewater where the city of Richmond now stands. Wishing to enter a quarter section of land, the head of the family having selected several numbers of vacant quarters in vicinity of the present city went on horseback to Cincinnati and was fortunate in finding his first choice still free to enter—and one hundred and four acres of this farm have been occupied and owned by descendants of Kasper Koons during the one hundred and one years since its entry. On this first day of September a number of Autos arrived at the old home, bringing descendants of the family, the greater number being from New Castle and vicinity since two of Kasper Koons' sons had located and raised large families in Henry county. There was one large auto from Indianapolis.

The feature of the day was a fine dinner spread on the lawn on tables prepared for the occasion. Afterward a talk by B. F. Koons of New Castle, who introduced Judge Koons of Muncie, who delivered a fine speech. Then there was a talk by J. H. Koons of Des Moines, Iowa, also a little talk by Dr. Koons of Indianapolis and Martin Koons of Tecumseh, Oklahoma. By this time, Dabey, the photographer, had arrived and the relatives were grouped in front of the old home which was erected in 1820 and a fine picture was taken. Next another picture was taken of most of the company and the day having been about spent, relatives and friends departed for their homes having received an invitation to be present at the next meeting one hundred years from that date.

Changed His Mind. The guest gave his order at dinner time to his hotel waiter: "George, bring me some oysters on the half shell, some chicken soup, olives and radishes, and follow that with some planked shad. Then I will have some rare roast beef, Philadelphia capon, squash on toast, baked sweet, cauliflower and celery, and for dessert just a trifle of ice cream and cake, please and a demitasse."

Just then his friend reminded him that that hotel was run on the European and not the American plan, whereupon he recalled the waiter and said: "George, I have changed my mind about that dinner. Bring me some corned beef hash and a glass of milk."—Exchange.

Little Tom Tucker sings for his supper, But it's doubtful whether he'll get it, His mother washes the old-fashioned way, Boiling and rubbing the livelong day. She has no time for cooking on Monday, And little Tom Tucker goes hungry.

What has become of the dirt? That's the first question you ask when you rinse out the clothes after they've been soaped with Fels-Naptha and soaked in cool or lukewarm water.

The clothes are white and clean. The dirt's gone.

What became of it? Here's the answer.

Fels-Naptha Soap acts on dirt like water does sugar; dissolves it; separates it into tiny particles that are carried away by the rinsing water.

Fels-Naptha Soap takes the place of boiling.

Makes the clothes whiter and cleaner without it.

Dirt doesn't need to be rubbed out when it's dissolved.

Do you wonder that women who use Fels-Naptha Soap in Winter or Summer are able to do their washing in one-half the time with one-fourth the work required by the old way?

When you try it yourself, follow directions printed on the red and green wrapper.
