BABES INCINERATED

Father Attempted to Fill Gasoline Reservoir and House Was Burned Down.

SUMMER HOME ACCIDENT

Minneapolis, Sept. 10.—Three small children were incinerated, four others terribly burned, and the father, Robert A. Welsh, badly injured, at his summer home on White Bear lake as the result of his attempt to fill a gasoline stove reservoir while one of the burners was lighted, early today. Twelve members of the family were asleep in the house. The dead, ranging from nine months to four years old, were asleep in the second story. The father and other children were burned in an attempt to rescue the babies.

WILL TAKE 4 WEEKS

Improvement of Street Car Track on Main Started.

The long promised improvement to Main street, between the tracks of the traction company, east of Thirteenth street, will be started in a few days. The 90 pound steel rails which the company will use to replace those at present in service have been placed on Main street. The bricks between the tracks will be removed and new ones used. The bed of the track will be in concrete, such as that on Main street, west of Thirteenth street. The work will require at least three or four weeks and will be the most extensive improvements undertaken by the company this year.

FOUND FESTIVAL BALLOON.

Otto Metter, residing a mile and a half southeast of Campbelltown, has notified Postmaster J. A. Spekenbier that he found one of the gas balloons sent up by the Fall Festival association as advertising matter. Mr. Spekenbier replied to his letter, inviting Mr. Metter to attend the festival, October 6-7-8, with his family and also enclosed one of the beautiful posters which is used as advertising matter for the festival.

"Why did you tip that boy so handsomely for handing you your coat?"

"Did you see the coat he gave me?" —London Tattler.

JAPAN A LAND OF COLOR.

Farms of Two or Three Acres Divided Into Many Tiny Fields.

Land is so scarce in Japan and the people so numerous that a farm rarely consists of more than an acre or two. These little farms are divided up into tiny fields. During the season of the year in which we made our journey one of these fields was filled with sprouting barley, light green in color; another field, perhaps the next, with vetch, a lavender colored, cloverlike fodder; a neighboring field with a dark green grass from the seed of which a lamp oil is manufactured; another with the pale yellow flowers of the mustard, and scattered here and there fields filled with what looked like a variety of lily, some white, some red, some yellow, but all equally brilliant.

Then to get the complete picture you must imagine patches of flowering azaleas dotting the roadside; towering, round topped camellia trees breaking the sky line with frequent splashes of bright green; usually in the shade of these trees houses with white plastered walls and red tiled roofs; about the more pretensions of these houses white plastered walls, above which appeared a profusion of palms, roses and strange native flowers, and in the doorways of the garden walls kimono clad Japanese girls, the kimonos as many and as gayly colored as the garden that framed them.

I have traveled in but one other country that is so gayly colored, and that was some few years ago, when, in the company of a number of other youngsters and an evil smelling magic lantern, I used to make frequent visits to the Land of Primary Colors.

Good Kitchen Company.

One housewife in this town doesn't know anything about the servant problem, at least so much of it as has to do with the keeping of a maid of all work, the quality of such service not being counted. This is because her servants always become devoted to her because of her brightness and magnanimous treatment of them. Having only the one servant of doubtful skill and accomplishments, this housewife has to spend a good deal of time in her own kitchen. The other day Julia expressed her appreciation this way: "Miss Fanny, you're certainly a good kitchen comp'ny."—Louisville Times.

Two Hamlets.

Sir Beerbohm Tree and Wilson Barrett gave London their production of "Hamlet" almost contemporaneously. A well known wit who was asked his opinion of the dual Hamlets nonchalantly made answer: "Tree's Hamlet is funny without being vulgar, but Barrett's is vulgar without being funny."

Her Doings.

"His wife made a fool of him." "What reason have you for saying that?" "I have his own word for it." "Get out!" "I have. He says that all he is owes to his wife."—Houston Post.

The Old Mistake.

"De man dat answers a gold brick circular," said Uncle Eben, "makes de old mistake. Instead o' tellin' Satan to get behind 'im, he thinks he kin git ahead o' Satan."—Washington Star.

TALK OF A REVIVAL

Music Lovers of City Would Like Another May Festival.

Among the musical lovers of the city, there is talk of reviving the May Festival next year. Following the return of several of the more prominent musicians from their summer vacations, it is probable that a meeting will be held, at which time, the matter will be definitely settled. Those who are urging the holding of a May festival are encouraged at the outlook.

It is said that the musicians favor cutting out the symphony orchestra feature. Orchestras such as have appeared here before are very expensive.

The CAMERA.

Some of the Wonderful Things of Which It is Capable.

The camera, which divides time into thousands of a second and records the impressions of each, makes permanent pictures of events which pass too quickly for the dull human retina to recognize. It is only through the camera that the motions of the wings of flying birds and of the legs of swift running animals have been analyzed. To the camera the fuzzy drivers of the swiftly speeding locomotives stand out clear cut and stationary, while each flying drop of rain in the driven storm is distinct and seems frozen in its place. The tarpon fisherman, familiar with the first wild leap of the frenzied fish as it casts hook and bait fifty feet in the air, sees first in the finished picture the outstretched gills, the convulsive opening and closing of which had escaped his eye, however closely he may have looked for it.

Often the eye of the camera will decipher documents of which the writing had been substantially obliterated by age, and I have successfully copied with the camera the utterly faded photograph of a classmate of forty years previous and thereby been enabled to present to a grizzled veteran a likeness of his curly haired youth.

Changes in the pigment of the skin undetectable by the eye appear with distinctness on the sensitive plate, and it is said that ample warning of approaching disease has been thereby given.

By means of the invisible rays lying beyond the violet of the spectrum objects may be photographed in the darkness, and with the aid of the so called X rays, through substances otherwise opaque. When from the darkness of night and storm the forked lightning flashes, the camera makes a vivid and permanent picture of each fiery trail. Creatures that travel by night can be "caught" in the brief blaze of a magnesium charged pistol, the flash of which is of too short duration for the creature to move or the dull human eye to recognize the subject.—A. W. Dimock in Van Norden's.

"Did you tell that photographer you didn't want your picture taken?"

"Yes," answered the eminent but uncomely personage. "Did he take offense at what you said?" "No. He said he didn't blame me."—Washington Star.

Men and Women and Money.

Divide $500 between a boy and a girl and start them on a vacation with it, and the girl will go twice as far, see ten times as much and come home with new clothes and money in her purse. But the boy will be dead broke and have seen less. This is the difference: A girl when out sightseeing will live on crackers and soda water, and the boy will stuff himself with three big meals a day. The same difference is apparent when the boy and girl are grown. Ever know that father spends a lot on eating when traveling and doesn't get to see as much as mother, who makes every time she misses a meal take her a few miles farther?—Atchison Globe.

A Wonder of Science.

"I have been taking some moving pictures of life on your farm," said a photographer to an agriculturist. "Did you catch my laborers in motion?" asked the farmer. "I think so." "Ah, well, science is a wonderful thing!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.
