Why He Was Single.
Str John Tennell, the famous English cartoonist, once asked why he had never married. "Well," he replied, "if I had married a girl she would always have wanted to be going about all over the place, and that would not have suited me, while, on the other hand, if I had married an elderly lady she would have worn a shawl, and that I could not have stood."

LOST.
LOST OR STRAYED—Brown mare, reports of the Meetings, this summary to be prepared by the clerk. The report in part showed that during the past year their had been an increase in interest and attendance in the Quarterly Meetings, that most of the members were engaged in Sabbath school, missionary and Christian Endeavor work. The report also showed that there was a number of young people taking part in the Meetings, many families were maintaining family worship and "our work in the World," the report concluded, "is commendable."

The most eloquent address of the afternoon was by Daisy Barr on the ministry. Mrs. Barr believed that the Friends make a mistake in the way they regard the ministry. She believed that the standard was no longer to "draw men to salvation," but was more selfish.

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Tebbetts will leave next Spring for Europe. The Rev. Tebbetts will attend the Worldwide Missionary Conference to be held at Edinburgh, Scotland. While in the British Isles he will attend the London and Dublin Yearly Meetings. He also asked for minutes to attend the missions in Palestine where he is expected to journey with several missionary workers in the Biblical lands.

The delegates from Meetings are arriving from distant points. Dorothy Lee presented her credentials from the Puget Sound Quarterly Meeting, yesterday.

PROPERTY OWNERS
READY FOR FIGHT

South A Street Men to Take Advantage of a New Statute.

TO APPEAL FROM BOARD

ACTION OF ORDERING IMPROVEMENT MADE, IT IS ALLEGED, CAN BE TAKEN TO THE COURT FOR A HEARING.

While the resident property owners on South A street are registering a general complaint against the kind of work that is being done towards improving the sidewalks, curbs and gutters along that thoroughfare, they are at the same time up in arms against the board of public works for having ordered the improvement made. Several of the residents assert that they had good brick sidewalks in front of their property and that the present walks that are being put down by the city, owing to the poor standard of work that is being done, is not as good as the old ones. The matter has been placed in the hands of the legal firm of Robbins and Robbins and a thorough investigation as to the power of the city in taking such action will result.

A Recourse Shown.

B. C. Robbins stated that under an amendment of the Street Improvement law, made by the last legislature, he is of the opinion that the board can be made to rescind the order for the improvement unless it can be shown that the resident property owners effected by the improvement are benefited. The amendment permits the effected property owners to go before the board of works when it meets to assess benefits and damages for the improvement. If it can be shown at this stage in the proceedings that the property owners are not benefited by the improvement, and the board refuses to rescind the order, the property owners may then appeal the board's ruling to the circuit court and the case can be tried by jury.

This action will undoubtedly be brought it is said, as the work of the contractors, Boots and Gaet, of Greenfield, is causing general dissatisfaction. It is declared that no difficulty will be experienced in several instances in proving that the improvement was not a benefit to the interests of the property owners.

UNDER ADVISEMENT

Judge Fox has taken the injunction proceedings of Charles E. Shiveley, guardian of the late Mrs. Mary Martin, against the city of Richmond, Demas Coe, county auditor and Albert Albertson, county treasurer under advisement. The plaintiff seeks to keep from paying city taxes.
