JEFFRIES MEANS IT A BOWLING LEAGUE

"Tad" Says the Big Fellow Is In Earnest in Returning To the Ring.

HAS HAD AN OPERATION

(By Tad.)

New York, Sept. 23.—Jeffries is really in earnest about returning to the ring. For the past six months we have heard stories about this and about that and why not, and if so, until the matter stood with Jeff on the wrong end looking as though he was bluffing.

A prominent sporting man who has just returned from Germany, met Jeff there, and says that the real reason the big fellow went to Europe was to have an operation performed on his nose. The breeze has been troubling him since he started working, almost a year ago, and he decided to blow across the pond and have a piece of bone removed so that his breather would work without a hitch.

He had us all understand that his real reason was for the baths, but they were merely played because he was so close to them.

Jeff and Nat Goodwin worked Carlsbad together, drinking the waters, walking up the hills and doing the horizontal bar act.

Jeff is expected back here next month, and the posting of forfeits and other final arrangements will probably be made then. The only man in the world who has a chance to beat Johnson, will then start active training for the "battle the whole world is aching for."

CHASES HIS WIFE WITH SHARP KNIFE

Randall "Double-barrel" Edmunds Threatened to Kill His Mate.

MEN RESCUED THE WOMAN

WOMAN ACCUSED THE NEGRO OF BEING WITH ANOTHER WOMAN AND HE THEN STRUCK HER IN THE FACE.

Armed with a long sharp knife and alleging that he was going to kill her, Randall Edmunds, better known as "Double Barrel" pursued his wife, Lizzie Edmunds, through the streets of West Richmond near the car barns, yesterday afternoon and was only prevented from carrying out his threat by the presence of several men who came to the aid of the frantic woman. Mrs. Edmunds stated that she and her daughter, Rhea Craig were on a visit to friends in the west side and were just returning to their home on South Third street when they met Edmunds at the car barns. Edmunds, who had been drinking, became angry because his wife accused him of visiting Mayme Guys on Central avenue, and struck her on the side of the head following up his attack by brutal blows in the face.

Fleeing For Her Life. Mrs. Edmunds managed to break loose and ran down the street. Drawing a long knife Edmunds gave chase, shouting the while that he would kill her if he caught her. In the meantime Edmunds grabbed Rhea Craig and knocked her down by a blow in the face. She recovered and joined her mother in their race for life. Some men who happened to be passing came to the aid of the frightened woman after they had traversed several blocks and Edmunds was arrested.

In the city court this afternoon Edmunds pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery and was assessed a fine of $25 and costs by Judge Converse. Mrs. Edmunds asserted in her testimony that her husband had frequently "beat up" on her and several times had chased her out of the house, barefooted in the dead of winter at the point of a revolver. Edmunds is regarded as a bad character and is well known in police circles. The affair of yesterday afternoon caused great excitement in the west side.

HE SHOT UP MURRAY

Arthur Reed, colored, was fined $10 and costs in the city court this afternoon for shooting "Snooks" Frank Murray, also colored, through the leg about two weeks ago in a controversy over a woman. Reed made his getaway at the time of the shooting, but was arrested yesterday.

BUMBAUGH TO TRY TO BREAK RECORD

Aviator in Local Tests Hopes To Make His Craft the Speediest.

DECORATIONS CONTRACT

INDIANAPOLIS FIRM HAS BEEN ENGAGED TO MAKE RICHMOND THE PRETTIEST CITY ON THE ENTIRE GLOBE.

George L. Bumbaugh, the Indianapolis aviator, who will make two daily ascensions during the Fall Festival, October 6-7-8, has announced his intention of trying to break the world's record now held by Dallas, Baldwin and Beachy of St. Louis. The present record is a mile and a half in 6 minutes. Mr. Bumbaugh is confident that he will be able to break the record with his sixteen horse power craft.

His flights will be made from the South Eighth and H street site. The ground will be fenced in so that protection to the public will be afforded. Mr. Harris, secretary of the association, was in Indianapolis yesterday and closed up the contract with Mr. Bumbaugh.

To Decorate City. The contracts for the decorations have been given to an Indianapolis concern. The contract calls for decorations between Third and Eleventh street on Main, from North D to E street on both Ft. Wayne avenue and North Eighth streets. They will be similar to those of last year, only more elaborate.

The company having charge of the decorations, wishes to place three search lights in the city, one in the north part of the city, another in the west part of the city and a third on top of a high building in the Main street business district. The proposition has not been accepted as yet by the executive committee.

Great Horse Show.

The horse committee, in charge of Tom Butler, met last evening, and everything was reported to be progressing in good shape. Roe Rife, of Boston, has promised the committee that he will offer a special prize for the two best colts, the get of his horse. Each prize is $5.

Mr. Harris and P. J. Freeman, on their visit to Indianapolis yesterday also visited Ft. Benjamin Harrison. The commander in charge, promised that a battalion at least, of soldiers would be here in camp during the festival. Leave of absence will also be granted a number of others who will be privileged to come to this city and camp during the festival.

EAGLES ARE COMING

Arrangements for the entertainment of a large delegation of New Castle Eagles next Wednesday evening were made last evening at the meeting of the localerie of Eagles. The visitors will bring down besides a number of candidates about 100 or 150 members of the lodge. The local degree team will initiate the candidates into the order, giving the new work. Following the business session, the visitors and local members will adjourn to the Knights of Pythias hall where a banquet will be served in honor of the visitors.

GIFT FOR CENTERVILLE.

John Cona, a Poilock, was arrested yesterday afternoon at Third and Main streets and a charge of public intoxication was placed against him. In view of the fact that the man could not understand a word of English and an interpreter could not be found he was put on an interurban car this afternoon and sent to Centerville, where papers on his possession showed that he was employed.

Taps Over a Soldier's Grave.

The custom of sounding taps over a soldier's grave originated with a soldier's grave originated with the late Captain John C. Tidball, U. S. A. On the retirement from the peninsula in August, 1862, Horse Battery A. Second artillery, was serving with the rear guard, and on reaching Yorktown one of the cannoners died and was buried there. Not wishing to stir up the enemy by firing three rounds from the battery guns, as was customary, Captain Tidball substituted the sounding of taps, lights out, which impressive ceremony has since been observed at all military funerals at the close of the services.—Argonaut.

Savering the Party.

"Pray, Mr. Canning," said a lady to the English statesman, "why have they made the space in the iron gates at Spring gardens so narrow?"
"Oh, ma'am," replied Canning, with the delightful absurdity for which he was famous, "because such very fat people used to go through."

'SQUIRE HANSON NOW HAS A CASE

Dull Times in Dalton's Justice Of Peace Court Thing Of the Past.

A SUIT ON CLAIM FILED

DR. J. M. WAMPLER WANTS TO RECOVER $25 FOR SERVICES RENDERED MRS. FLEMING DURING HODGIN WILL CASE.

(Palladium Special)

Dalton, Ind., Sept. 23.—Suit was brought in the justice of the peace court by Will Reiler of Richmond, in the interest of Dr. John M. Wampler against Mrs. Laura Hodgkin Fleming to recover $25 on account for professional services rendered during the trial of the Hodgkin will case. The case is set for hearing October 1, before Zimri Hanson, the local justice of the peace, who previous to this time, has had but two cases in his court in the last two years.

What the Charge Is.

It is set forth in the complaint that Dr. Wampler was employed by Attorney John F. Robbins, who attempted to break the Hodgkin will, as medical adviser and expert witness for Mrs. Fleming. The complaint says that Dr. Wampler outlined the medical features of the case for Attorney Robbins and Mrs. Fleming, and that the case was conducted along the lines of Dr. Wampler's suggestions. For these services he was to have received $25.00 which Mrs. Fleming now refuses to pay.

The Hodgkin Will Case.

The Hodgkin will case, of which this suit is an aftermath, will be remembered as one of the most bitterly fought in the Wayne Circuit court. Mrs. Fleming, the daughter, unsuccessfully attempted to set aside the will of the late Prof. Hodgkin, her father, alleging that his sickness had weakened his mind, making him incapable of drawing up a rational will.

FALSE ALARM JOKER

Some one is evidently trying to kid the fire department. This afternoon a telephone call was received at the No. 2 hose house in the city building to the effect that there was a fire at Tenth and North J street, and to send the departments to that place at once and "to hurry up." A quick run failed to discover any evidence of a fire or the fact that anyone had telephoned for the department. The firemen all regard the affair as a bum joke and are aching to lay hands on the brilliant perpetrator. There have been numerous false alarms turned in recently and the police are investigating the matter. In case the culprits are caught they will be dealt with severely, it is said.

NEGRO QUESTION WAS HIS SUBJECT

Judge Dickinson Today Tells Southern People His Opinions.

HE DEPLORES VIOLENCE

HE TELLS TENNESSEE AUDIENCE THAT COUNTRY DOES NOT CONTINUE EXHIBITION OF THE MAILED FIST.

(American News Service)

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The presence of Secretary of War Dickinson attracted immense crowds to the state fair today. General F. D. Grant reviewed the uniformed regiment of confederate soldiers. Secretary Dickinson delivered an address on the negro question. He said in part:

"Injustice and violence will breed violence and will debase the civilization of the communities that sanction it. No civilization can expand on board and high lines where communities are terrorized by mob rule. We do not want a state of siege, continuous conflict and the exhibition of the mailed hand. We want peace, the growth of the arts and sciences, and such conditions as will invite commerce and at least migration within our borders, if not immigration. To control with any degree of permanency, even for our own time, the race question, it must be on such a basis as will appeal to the enlightened judgment, sympathy and co-operation of the best people of the white race all over this country.

What Cost Will Be.

"We can for a time maintain supremacy by violence and disorder, without such co-operation, but it will be at frightful cost. We ought to maintain it with the healthful advancement, and not retarded civilization, under peaceful conditions and the reign of the law. This should be done with the highest degree of protection and justice to the negro compatible with white political control.

"The minds of outsiders, of our own race, are open to the appeal that it should govern so long as that government is one of just protection under the law, but a sense of justice is repellant when an aspect is applied to the assertion of governmental control with a submission to mob rule. The white people of this country recognize generally, as they inevitably will, that it is a question of race and not individuals, a question of Anglo-Saxon government, but with Anglo-Saxon government administered fairly and justly under the law, there will follow a settlement of the question as peaceable and permanent as can be hoped for."

To Suit Her Habits.

She was telling how she once had a canary, a dear little yellow thing, but she had forgotten and left him out in the rain one night, and in the morning there he lay, a little yellow, pitiful heap at the bottom of his cage, dead.
"But," they said to her, "if you must have a bird you can leave in the pouring rain, why get a canary? Why didn't you get a nice little duck?"—New York Press.

DENIAL ENTERED BY MOOSE CHIEFS

Brand Reports Circulated About the Order Here As Falsehoods.

WIRE TO THE PALLADIUM

BUSYBODIES CIRCULATED THE STORY THAT ORDER WAS NOTHING MORE OR LESS THAN A GIGANTIC GRAFT GAME.

Reports have been circulated in this city in the last few days that the Moose, which order is endeavoring to establish a lodge in Richmond, was merely a graft. In fact the originators of the report even went so far as to send the police a copy of an Ohio State Journal, published at Columbus, Ohio, which contained an article concerning the operations there. Local organizers referred the matter to the supreme officers. Today the Palladium received the following telegram from the officers of the Supreme Order of Moose, which is holding its annual convention at St. Paul, Minn.:

Statements in the Ohio State Journal as to the Moose lodge are false. Raphun is a bonded representative of the supreme lodge and it guarantees all persons against loss or wrong. He is not a grafter. Supreme lodge officers will come there and furnish absolute proof as to the honor and good standing of lodge and its organizers.
