CLARK GRIFFITH
PROVES A WINNER

Clever Baseball General Gives Cincinnati Fast Ball Team.

HIS YOUNGSTERS DEVELOP

THROUGHOUT THE SEASON THE REDS HAVE KEPT UP IN FIRST DIVISION AND SHOW GRIT AND ABILITY.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 25.—For mayor of Cincinnati, Manager Griffith. That's the way the fans down here feel about "Griff," even though he has not given the city a champion team in the first year of his local management.

"Griff" took a bunch of youngsters this spring and welded them into a first division club right off the reel. His success was unexpected outside of Cincinnati and some other places where he was well known.

The average critic on looking over the lineup of the Reds early in the season and noting the great number of young and unknown players, naturally relegated the club to a low position in the race. "They may develop in time, but they can't make any kind of a showing this year," was the almost universal comment.

Old Fox Griff Fools 'Em.

But Griff thought differently, and he bent his energies to fooling the wise critics. His success is now recognized, and his methods are approved by all who are familiar with them. Griff is a tireless worker and a man who devotes his entire time and attention to winning each game of ball as it comes along. Nothing satisfies him but success. He is absolutely thorough and conscientious in all his work. If he makes any mistakes they are of the head, and not of the heart.

His one idea is to give Cincinnati a winning team, and he has done better in his year of incumbency than numerous previous managers who were more highly touted when they came here. Griff will be here next season, with bells on, and every thinking fan is glad of it, for it is a cinch that no effort will be avoided that will tend to put the Reds higher in the race than they are this year.

Griff was fortunate in having on his list a bunch of young players who are ambitious to succeed, and who invariably give him the best assistance that they can. There are no drones or shirkers in the Red lineup. This bunch of kids has gone through a major league campaign, most of them for the first time, without weakening or showing the white feather, no matter how strong the opposition.

Youngsters Make Good.

It is a remarkable thing, when you stop to think of it, that only two of the regulars were ever in the big league before this season. Lobert and Mitchell are comparatively young players, too, the former having been in the National league three years and the latter only two before this season. All the others are green and new to the majors, and yet they have beaten out teams like Philadelphia, composed of star players and touted during the last winter as a pennant probability, and Brooklyn, with a lot of experienced and high class material, badly handled.

In Hobby, Bescher and Egan, Griff found three young stars ready to his hand. Hobby is only 21 years old and yet he has been playing as good ball as any first baseman in the league and hitting like a Wagner. He is a lad of good habits and much ambition and he will be the best first baseman in the business next year, if nothing happens to him.

Develops a Ty Cobb?

Bescher, who was carried a while as a substitute, demonstrated as soon as he had an opportunity that he would be a regular. He is now the only rival of Ty Cobb as a base runner, and will lead the National league in that important feature of the game. Griff has turned him around left-handed at the bat, which is the way Bob ought to hit, and he is already showing improvement in his batting.

Now that the club is at home he will put in the morning every day practicing at the left-hand style, and he will start next season in fine form. Egan is one of the smoothest infielders that has been developed this year, with a strong and accurate arm, a great pair of hands on ground balls and a good batting eye. Downey, who is playing his first year at the short field, having previously been a second and third baseman; Oakes, who has been hampered by accident and illness, and George Farkner will be better than ever next season, and the Reds will start with much brighter prospects than ever before.

All the members of the team are good actors, keeping in shape at all times and anxious to do their best work for the club. That is why they have won so many games on the road this year. A team of careless actors always falls down when away from home, but the Reds have done just as well on foreign fields as they have on their own lot, which is the best kind of a sign.

PRESIDENT TAFT
PLACES SALVE ON
PINCHOT'S WOUNDS

correspondent learns that the Salt Lake City welcome has been characterized more for its sociability than its enthusiasm. People here say that Roosevelt got a much more tumultuous reception, but that's what has been said all along the line.

This morning at the breakfast table the Commercial club President Taft returned to the subject of railroad regulation, and particularly the regularity of railroad rates. By inference, there was comfort in his brief address for California, which he is approaching, where the railroads are endeavoring to nullify the benefits of the increased tariff on lemons, by increasing the freight rates.

President is Cheered.

During the delivery of the address the president was frequently interrupted by bursts of applause. He was made an honorary member of the club. This banquet began at 8:30 o'clock and terminated at 9:30 when the president and party were taken to Saltair where they had a view of great Salt Lake.

Returning to Salt Lake City, the president was escorted to the Tabernacle where an organ recital was given in his honor. The recital was private, those present being limited to the members of the presidential party and a few special guests. It is noteworthy, however, that on this occasion Joseph Smith, president of the Mormon church, and his aged mother sat at the left of the president in the gallery of the great auditorium where some of the world's greatest singers and musicians have been heard. The recital lasted three quarters of an hour and at its conclusion the president in a few words thanked the organist and the soloists for the pleasure they had afforded him. In departing he shook hands with President Smith, who led the applause as the president and his party filed out.

Trouble is Expected.

It will be strange if some popular manifestation of the differences between the gentiles and the Mormons does not come before the president leaves Salt Lake City.

The storm which has been raging all around the president since his arrival here broke a new today when, whether by accident or design is not known, two newspaper reporters representing anti-Mormon or "American" papers were excluded from the special train carrying the president and his party to Saltair, while the representatives of the Mormon papers were made welcome.

The Anti-Mormon papers tonight were filled with railings against Senator Smoot and his fellow committeemen. It is declared that the Mormons have deliberately monopolized the president since he entered Utah to the exclusion of the gentiles. No blame is laid on the president in connection with the affair. It is pointed out that he is being made the dupe of the Mormons for political and religious effect. Special stress is laid on the alleged fact that Joseph Smith, president of the church, "with his two wives," several counselors to the prophet and some more apostles were on the special train.

Nothing in the way of an official protest has been made to the president. Following a banquet tonight, a reception was held. The president's program tomorrow includes a review of a living flag by children and another visit to the Tabernacle. He leaves at six p. m. for Ogden.

was reported as being in masterful hands."

During the academy year 1908-1909 the enrollment of Fairmount Academy reached 114, this year the attendance was 129.

A Committee Appointed.

A committee of the following was appointed to prepare a "Friends' catechism": Charles E. Tebbetts, Timothy Nicholson, Luke Woodard, Daniel Lawrence, R. L. Kelly and Anna M. Moore. The catechism is to contain questions and answers on the various branches of the work of the Friends' church.

The services of the Indiana Yearly Meeting last evening were devoted to the Christian Endeavor, and the address of the evening was delivered by Richard Haworth.

R. Esther Smith of California, a missionary of Central America, spoke on the missionary work in that country.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Friends of Indiana Yearly Meeting elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: President, Harry Reeve, Richmond; secretary, Rose Mills, Wabash; treasurer, Clyde G. Watson, Marion; missionary secretary, E. J. Hunt, Charlottesville; junior superintendent, Lena Watson, Marion; superintendent Friends literature, Anna M. Moore; executive committee, Levi T. Pennington, Eliza Jones, Charles P. White and Evelyn White.

Plan a Conference.

The Christian Endeavor Union of the Indiana Yearly Meeting is planning for a conference during the next summer at Winona Lake. The matter has not yet been fully decided.

The sessions of the Indiana Yearly Meeting of Friends today will be purely religious. Several members of the ministry of the church will occupy pulpits in the several churches of the city. As is usual, a large number of Friends from the surrounding cities who are unable to attend Yearly Meeting because of business will be in the city today. Last evening large numbers arrived from all directions and at least three thousand Friends will be here.

The following ministers will occupy the pulpit at the East Main Street Meeting House today: 8:00 a. m.—John L. Kitrell; 10:00 a. m.—Robert L. Kelly and Esther Cook; 2:30 p. m.—John and Nettie Riley and Daisy Barr.

T. P. A.
Notes

BY T. C. H.

Next Saturday night there will be a special meeting of the board of directors of Post C. A full meeting of the board is desired.

There are a few signs that never fail. You can count on them as a sure go and can place your money on them. One of the sure signs is this: That when Hegger begins to take in the vau-deville shows then he is on the road to complete recovery in health. He attended the first one in several weeks yesterday with his usual gang.

The T. P. A. boys have been doing all that could be asked of them in the line of talk they are handing out in the interest of the Fall Festival. Every one has been a booster for the festival and have done much to advertise the affair. The boys of Post C are always ready to help along anything that helps Richmond.

The state board of directors will meet in Indianapolis next Saturday. On account of the inability of President Lebo to attend, the meeting called for yesterday, the same was postponed until next Saturday.

Tooker is back from a week spent around the southern counties of the state and all the boys are glad to see him safely back. They are urging him to give up the road and make the Post headquarters his permanent home.

Another change in Pennsylvania trains goes in effect today. Ask for a new time card.

The new schedule of the J. M. and L. train which went in effect two weeks ago, is meeting with universal approval among the boys using the road out of Richmond. These new trains add much to the accommodation in a direction heretofore never touched by Richmond trains. These trains, in a short time, will be doing a good business.

Frank Highley has received his check from the national treasurer for the indemnity due him from the T. P. A. on account of severe sprain of his ankle. The payments of the T. P. A. are always prompt and are given quick attention by those in charge.

If you can become a T. P. A. you are making a great mistake to stay out of this excellent organization. The T. P. A. is on a firm basis with a large reserve fund and ready always to pay promptly all legitimate claims. Its membership is of a high standard, comprising the leading men of every community in which a post is located. Join the good crowd.

From reports received the members of Indiana division are not on the job with a big hammer stirring up the bushes for new members. If we expect any good results in 1910 then you had better get busy and write a new application.

The meeting held in the post club rooms last night proved to be the greatest "talkfest" ever pulled off in the headquarters of the post. If you were not there you have missed a treat of your life, as everyone had something to say, sometimes, and generally all at the same time.

The post at their meeting last night decided to participate in the fall festival parade and will make every effort to get out a large delegation to march and represent the post in a creditable manner. Every one at the meeting showed a disposition to help along the festival in every manner possible and will do all in their power to help make the festival parade a grand success.

And now comes the big show to be pulled off next Saturday night. That is the day set for the first grand smoker of the winter season. Every member of the post is expected to be in attendance and start off the season in a good old fashioned T. P. A. style. A lunch will be served under the charge of the committee on arrangements and several other entertaining features are being planned.

Daddy Kramer says this time it was a ground hog case.

Be on the lookout for one appearing in new costume next Sunday, weather permitting. Our fashion plate has just purchased a new outfit and will make his first appearance in the same on the above date.

When it comes to a vote the "knockers" fail to show their strength.

WILL RESUME WORK

(American News Service)

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 25.—Ten thousand glass-workers will resume work by November first, the most of them as the result of an agreement reached after the four-day conference in this city between the glass bottle blowers' association and the manufacturers by which the 1908 wage scale is practically enacted for another year.

At a conference in July the manufacturers demanded what was equivalent to a fifty per cent reduction which the blowers declined to accede to with the result that all the factories have been closed since that time.

One of the manufacturers stated that business conditions in the trade look more promising than at any time since the panic.

JAIL GETS PRAISE

Sheriff Meredith was informed Friday evening by the Indiana jail inspector with headquarters at Indianapolis, that Wayne county leads in respect to keeping the inmates of the jail at work. Upon the visit of the inspector yesterday afternoon, everything was found in ship shape and the sixteen prisoners of the county were very busy cracking stone. No recommendations for improvements were made by the inspector although he concurs in the contemplated improvement to the jail by fixing the windows.

Veteran Arctic Explorer Says
Both Cook and Peary
Found Pole.

WANTS JUDGMENT DELAYED

NO OPINIONS SHOULD BE REACHED, HE SAYS, UNTIL REPORTS AND OBSERVATIONS OF BOTH MEN ARE GIVEN.

(American News Service)

Newburyport, Mass., Sept. 25.—That both Cook and Peary reached the north pole is the statement made today by Major General Adolphus W. Greely, one of the six survivors of the ill-fated Arctic expedition of 1881. He is visiting here. He said:

"From what I have read of the accounts of Cook and Peary and judging from my experience in the frozen north I believe both men reached the pole. An article I saw gave the right idea when stating that final judgment should not be made until the full reports and observations of both men have been given. Then a definite answer may be obtained. I believe both Cook and Peary reached the pole and there is honor enough in the discovery for both men."

HAD METEOR SHOWER

(American News Service)

Honolulu, Sept. 25.—A phenomenal rain of meteors last night caused much excitement and some alarm among the natives. The fall began at 10:55 p. m. Although most of the heavenly visitants fell into the sea, it is believed some of them struck land. An investigation is being made today. Observers counted forty meteors that fell into the sea.

Robert Mason, a stranger in this city, was arrested on North E street yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Westenberg for public intoxication. The man will be arraigned in the city court Monday afternoon.

A LEMON CUCUMBER
ARRIVE IN BOSTON

(American News Service)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 25.—After the most arduous run since starting from Washington, tourists of the Frank A. Munsey automobile reliability contest are resting in Boston today. The crossing of the Berkshire Hills occurred during a driving rain and the roads were a mass of sticky mud.

NOT GREAT SUCCESS

The sale of the personal belongings of the late Mrs. Mary B. L. Starr, at the court house steps yesterday was only a partial success. The sale was conducted by the Dickinson Trust Co., executor of the will of Mrs. Starr.

GEORGIANA: Our chef says Gold Medal Flour only.

The "lemon cucumber" is recognized as a new product by experts at the experimental stations in Idaho and Washington, who regard it as ranking with any of the products developed by Luther Burbank. An acre of plants grown between rows of young orchard trees produced a crop that marketed for $500.

TRIED WRECK A CAR

(American News Service)

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 25.—An effort was made today to wreck a suburban car on the Florence line just where the track crosses a deep ravine. At this point strike sympathizers spread the rails in such a manner that any car attempting to cross would jump the track and be thrown into the deep ravine at the bottom of which a stream flows. By chance the spread rails were detected and the car stopped within a few inches of the danger.

Helene Lackaye Coming.

Henry E. Dixey in "Mary Jane's Pa." by Edith Ellis, will be at the Gennett, Oct. 5. The story is an idyllic love romance of the middle West, and Mr. Dixey's leading woman is Miss Helene Lackaye, the talented sister of Wilton and James Lackaye.
