

HOG DISPLAY TO ATTRACT CROWDS

One of the Best Features of The Festival Will Be Swine Show.

ENERGETIC LOCAL EXPERT HAS INTERESTED MANY SWINE RAISERS TO EXHIBIT THEIR VERY BEST STOCK.

The finest display of hogs ever shown in this city will be seen at the South Fifth and A street market square during the festival. Samuel Dunlap, an expert, who is chairman of this committee, has spent several days riding over the county, visiting hog raisers and has been remunerated for his efforts. Nearly every raiser of fine hogs has promised to enter an exhibit of his best animals.

Nearly all of the hogs will be the kings and queens of the pork world, being registered and pedigreed stock. The different breeds which will be most prominently in evidence are the Poland Chinas, Duroc Jerseys and Chester Whites. These three breeds are the most popular with farmers of this community and their display will no doubt attract a large crowd. Farmers will not be the only admirers of the swine. Residents of Richmond will take a great deal of interest in them, the same as last year.

Prizes Are Liberal.

The prizes offered are exceptionally good, considering the fact that there are no entry fees. Prizes are offered for the best boars and sows of all breeds and then there are the sweepstakes prizes. The hogs display will be graded according to their age, hogs over one year of age not being exhibited in competition with hogs less than one year of age.

The entries for hogs should be in the hands of either Mr. Dunlap or Secretary E. H. Harris by October 1.

The attention to be given the hogs is an interesting feature. Every morning, the man in care of the hogs is expected to clean out their pens and put in fresh straw. Afterwards, either he or the exhibitor will get out his can of lamp black for the black hogs and shine them up. Some other shining material will be used for the red and white colored hogs. By ten o'clock, when the exhibits open, the hogs will look very respectable.

LABOR AND IMMIGRATION.

Logical to Impose Restriction on Importation of Workmen.

The trades unions are entirely logical in asking for restrictions on the importation of laborers for the protected industries. If we are all to be taxed to give high prices and profits to those industries it is absurd that the beneficiaries shall have the further advantage of imported cheap labor to compete with workmen already here for whom protection is professedly asked.

This argument is now practically the only one that has any direct influence on votes. No one any longer believes that our industries are "infant" that they cannot hold the home market against all comers; that our varied natural resources, with our capable workmen, do not give our manufacturers the better of any competitors at home and of many even in foreign markets. Nor do those who have mastered the subject doubt that the "cheap labor" of older countries, measured by its product, is more costly than our own at higher wages. But to a considerable portion of American workmen and to the unthinking of other classes the protective tariff is protective to labor, the cause of higher wages and of the superior scale of living which undoubtedly prevails in this country. This is the unblushing pretension of the favored employers.

Now, it is plain that it is from this point of view an injustice and an outrage to permit the importation of foreign laborers to compete with our own. It is also a logical cause of complaint if immigration of competitors without the direct action of employers is allowed. The result is the same, though the methods vary.—New York Times.

KNOW NOW

And Will Never Forget the Experience.

The coffee drinker who has suffered and then been completely relieved by changing from coffee to Postum knows something valuable.

He or she has no doubt about it. A California lady says:

"I learned the truth about coffee in a peculiar way. My husband who has for years been of a very bilious temperament decided to leave off coffee and give Postum a trial and as I did not want the trouble of making two beverages for meals I concluded to try Postum, too, and the results have been that while my husband has been greatly benefited, I have myself received even greater benefit."

"When I began to drink Postum I was thin in flesh and very nervous. Now I actually weigh 16 pounds more than I did at that time and I am stronger physically and in my nerves, while husband is free from all his ails."

"We have learned our little lesson about coffee and we know something about Postum, too, for we have used Postum now steadily for the last three years and we shall always continue to do so."

We have no more use for coffee—the drug drink. We prefer Postum and health."

VERY ATTRACTIVE ARE FIREWORKS

Displays Each Evening at Various Parts of the City Planned.

AN EXPERT IS EMPLOYED

INDIANAPOLIS MAN WILL HAVE THE ENTIRE CHARGE OF THE SPECTACULAR DISPLAYS DURING THE FESTIVAL.

By no means the least feature of the Fall Festival will be the fire works display which will take place on each evening of the festival. On the first evening the display will be held in the yard of the Warner school building on North Seventh street and Fort Wayne avenue. On the second evening the fire works, probably will be fired from the court house yard, although this location will not be definitely decided by the committee until it consults with the expert from Indianapolis as to the advisability of selecting this site. It is feared the trees will obstruct the view for many and if possible a better location will be sought. On the third evening the large commons on South Fifteenth and C streets will be the scene of the festivities and is an ideal location. The grounds are ample and there is nothing to obstruct a perfect view of the fireworks.

Probably the most gorgeous display of fireworks ever witnessed in this city will be seen during the three days of the festival. The committee has arranged for a lavish entertainment in this regard and there will be many novelties introduced. A person never gets tired of watching fire works shot off and the committee realizing this fact has arranged to make this feature a big one, this year.

A Military Engagement. The commanding officer had surprised the young Lieutenant and his daughter trying to occupy the same chair. The Lieutenant sprang to his feet and saluted.

"Sir," he said, "I have the honor to report an engagement at close quarters, in which I have been entirely victorious. It now merely remains for you to give your sanction to the terms of surrender."

—AT THE THEATRES

Murray Theater.

Theatregoers of Richmond may well be proud of the new Murray theater, which will be formally opened October 4th.

In this new play house a most complete home for vaudeville has been provided and luxurious comfort is to be had for everybody while attending the performance. The new building will be in first class condition for the opening and a select bill of vaudeville has been secured by Manager Murray for this event.

It includes as the headliner one of the biggest acts in vaudeville and one seldom seen outside of the big cities. It is the big scenic novelty entitled "The Night of the Poets" by Wm. B. MacCallum. Fifteen actors and actresses make up the company and about one-half car load of scenery. "The Night of the Poets" is one of the greatest acts in vaudeville and will prove to be one of the best offerings ever seen in Richmond.

An attraction of more than ordinary merit is offered in Prof. Bristol's educated ponies which perform the most unusual and difficult feats that have ever been attempted, with exact precision and sureness. Prof. Bristol uses gentle and humane treatment with his ponies, and as a consequence, they go through their performance with pleasure and without a hitch.

Brooks and Carlisle have some new parodies in their comedy sketch entitled "The Limit," which has scored heavily wherever presented.

Henry Bobker presents several character impersonations which are all cleverly done.

The show individually and collectively, is one of the best that Richmond audiences have ever had the pleasure of witnessing.

The finishing touches are being put on the auditorium and everything will be in tip-top shape for the opening on October 4th.

Night On Bald Mountain.

On a lonely night Alex. Benton of Fort Edward, N. Y., climbed Bald Mountain to the home of a neighbor, tortured by Asthma, bent on curing him with Dr. King's New Discovery, that had cured himself of asthma. Coughs, Colds, Croup, Hemorrhages and Sore Lungs are surely cured by it. Best for Hay Fever, Grip and Whooping Cough. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by A. G. Lukens & Co.

A Hard Case. "How does your boy take to life on the farm?" "He worries me," admitted Farmer Haw. "He won't do enough work to reminisce about in case he ever gets into politics in future years."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
