FLOWER SHOW TO BE BIG FEATURE

Attraction Will Be Held in the Old Rosenblom-Buntin Room.

TO ENCOURAGE AMATEURS
LIBERAL PRIZES HAVE BEEN OFFERED TO CONTESTANTS—THE DISPLAYS WILL BE EXTREMELY BEAUTIFUL.

When the officials of the Fall Festival association planned for the flower show, which is to be given in the vacant room at 824 Main street, they had in mind the women. Accordingly they made a special class for amateur growers, which class includes principally house plants, as frost will no doubt have killed the out door plants by the time of the festival. Frank Waidele is chairman of the committee.

In addition to the amateur class, the association has arranged for the display of plants grown by the florists of this community. These displays will include everything grown in the greenhouses and liberal prizes will be given the professionals as well as the amateurs.

The flower show of the first fall festival was held at the court house. It was very difficult to get in the room. The flower show attracted a larger crowd than an other indoor display, however.

The displays this year are both of potted and cut flowers. The amateur is somewhat limited in the display of cut flowers, and will have to confine his attention to the varieties such as asters, dahlias, cosmos and the like.

The following prizes have been offered for the exhibits of potted plants by amateurs:

Boston Fern—1st, $4.00; 2nd, $3.00; 3rd, $2.00.

Crested Fern—1st, $1.50; 2nd, 75c.

LENGTH OF WORKDAY.

Various Opinions as to the Proper Period of Work.

That the general workday cannot be reduced to less than six hours unless there is pronounced increase in culture among the people is a whole in the opinion of James Duncan, vice president of the American Federation of Labor; otherwise, as he puts it, the so-called leisure time would not be used wisely, "morality would suffer, and the necessary progress to continue anything like ideas would be destroyed."

Arthur M. Watson, secretary of the Carpenters' District council, Boston, thinks that the limit cannot be set, but that as the unjust rule of "those who have" over "those who have not" is thrown off hours steadily will grow less. Henry Abrams, secretary of the Boston Central Labor union, sees this as the ultimate end: "A five hour day for five days a week, with $5 the minimum wage."

Charles L. Raine, secretary-treasurer of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union, finds eight hours quite equitable, but suggests that as education, invention and application of machinery increase hours will grow less, the limit being the shortest period of work that "will give good wages and the largest measure of freedom, recreation and enjoyment to the worker," also enabling him to properly care for his family and save for a rainy day.

Exchange of Cards by Molders' Unions. An agreement has been entered into between the Iron Molders' Union of North America and the Associated Iron Molders of Scotland whereby an exchange of working cards will be permitted in the future. This means that the card of the Scottish union will be accepted here in lieu of an initiation fee, and vice versa.

"Nora," she said to the maid of all work, "what is there in the store room?"

"Every blessed thing is given out but the tea an' coffee," Nora informed her, "and sure they will, if they last long enough." —Yester's Companion.

Traps in French.

A frequent trap in French for the unwary is the difference of meaning in similar phrases. For example.

"faire feu" means to fire a gun, while

"faire du feu" means to light a fire;

"tomber par terre" conveys the idea of falling to the ground from one's own height, whereas "tomber a terre" means to fall from any height—in other words, to tumble down and to tumble off. In the same way "trahir de fait" means to call a man a spy and "trahir en roi" to treat him like a king. The English word "bore" may be expressed in two ways—"un raseur" gives the idea of an active bore and "une bassinoire" of a passive bore.—London Saturday Review.

The development of a spirited controversy over the discovery of the north pole has called attention to the fact that the names of the town from which both the explorers started when reversed spells Elma—Elma (N. Y.) Star-Gazette.
