WOODWORTH-MOTT.

About sixty guests were bidden to attend the wedding of Mr. Walter Woodworth and Miss Ruth Mott, daughter of Supt. and Mrs. T. A. Mott, which was celebrated last evening at the Mott residence on North Eleventh street. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the parlor, where the ceremony was performed at seven o'clock, by Rev. W. M. Nelson, scarlet and white flowers were used in decorating. An attractive design of the same being made to cover the chimney place. The chandeliers in all of the apartments were trimmed with smilax. The bride was becomingly attired in an elaborate gown of white messaline satin, made princess fashion, with a short sweep to the skirt, and a lace yoke. She wore a tulle veil fastened with a wreath of smilax. Her bouquet was of white roses, interspersed with ferns and tied with white satin ribbon. Miss Mott entered the room where the ritual was said, unattended, however she was preceded by little Miss Agnes Conner Graham, who wore a charming white French gown, and Master Floyd Nussbaum, who wore ribbon bearers. Mr. Woodworth entered with Rev. W. M. Nelson. The full ring ceremony was used. Just before the vows were uttered Miss Lucille Townsend, pianist and Mr. Leroy Lacey, vocalist, gave a beautiful program of bridal airs. The Lohengrin march was played by Miss Townsend for the entrance of the bride and groom and at the close of the ceremony Mendelssohn's march was played. A buffet luncheon was served in the dining room which was lighted with candles. White cathedral tapers in crystal holders were placed on the mantle among a quantity of ferns and pink blossoms. A large bowl of pink roses formed an attractive centerpiece for the table. At the four corners of the table, candlesticks holding pink tapers, were placed. Boxes filled with wedding cake and tied with pink and white ribbons were placed at each plate. Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth left last evening for a short wedding trip. The bride's traveling gown was a tailored suit of Mulberry cloth, with hat and gloves to correspond. They will be at home at 515 Main street, on October fifteenth at 515 Main street. The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Josephine Woodworth, Miss Lenore Woodworth, Miss Elsie Krull, Miss Linnie Wood and Mr. Harry Hall of Dublin; Miss Zella and Miss Rosabel Daugherty of Rensselaer, Indiana; Mrs. Charles W. Cool, of Glens Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. Fred Tournay and little daughter, of Salamanca, Indiana; Miss Carrie Loesch, of Ridgeville, Miss Ivy Kraft of Franklin, Ohio, and Mrs. W. J. Phillips, of Lafayette.

ENTERTAINED WITH SHOWER.

The Misses Ruby Bryant and Linnie Toney were the hostesses for a linen shower given at the home of the latter near Boston, Tuesday morning from nine to eleven o'clock in honor of Mrs. Walter Farlow a bride of last month. In the reception rooms small red hearts and cupid with salvia were used to carry out the color scheme of red and white. In the dining room the hearts and cupid were used profusely. A large French basket of Richmond roses formed the centerpiece on the table. An elaborate luncheon in two courses was served. Musical numbers were rendered by the Misses Minnie Paulson, Grace Stanley and Elsie Bennett. Those enjoying the affair were the Misses Elsie Bennett of Liberty, Ind., Edith Boyer and Minnie Paulson, of Richmond, Madeline of Cincinnati, Rhos. Druley, Grace Stanley, Mable Helms, India Smelser, Carrie Druley, Nora Farlow, Hattie Eby, Hazel Helms, Melitta Stanley, Mrs. Walter Farlow, Mrs. Arthur Nelson, Mrs. Robert Bryant and Mrs. Jennie Toney.

Miss Bryant was the maid of honor at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Farlow and Miss Toney sang the wedding solo.

TAFT ON JOURNEY WINS NEW FRIENDS

Men Who Accompany Him Tell Of the Effect He Has On People.

PERSONALITY A FACTOR

QUESTION, "HAS HE GAINED OR LOST GROUND?" IS ANSWERED—WIDE PROSPERITY HELPS HIM IN HIS PLEAS.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—When President Taft arrived in San Francisco he had finished more than half his tour of the United States. He had passed through fourteen states, visited twenty-eight cities, and made more than ninety speeches.

It is a matter of great public interest to know the impression the president made upon the great sections which he visited.

Has he gained or lost ground? To enable an accurate judgment, The Tribune telegraphed to the correspondents of the New York World and the New York Sun, who are traveling with the President and are known to enjoy his friendship, and to the editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, requesting them to give their views—absolutely uncolored and unbiased—as to the manner in which the president and his speeches had been received.

Wins More Friends Everywhere. The replies which reached Chicago show clearly that Mr. Taft's personal charm has been a factor of decided importance in winning admirers and friends.

The New York World correspondent says that with more than half of the trip completed it looks as if the president's personality, together with the country's present prosperity, has made the tour a success.

The New York Sun representative also says Mr. Taft's trip has been successful, and that his personality has created a favorable impression at every stop.

The editor of the San Francisco Bulletin thinks sentiment for Taft on the Pacific coast better than it has been at any time since the tariff bill became a law.

It is asserted by the correspondents that the coolness toward the president manifested by the middle west on account of his defense of the Aldrich tariff bill disappeared as he entered the Rocky mountain region, and dwelt upon his purpose to carry out the Roosevelt policies, particularly with respect to conservation, irrigation and reclamation.

All Cheer Roosevelt's Name. The World correspondent says when the audiences of the far west heard the president mention Roosevelt they cheered so long and loudly that they

"Prof" Embraced Her in Cold Weather, Says Girl in Suit

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 7.—This was a day of interest in the Reed-Lowstetter breach of promise suit, in which Professor Earl Reed of the Sheridan schools, a Sunday school superintendent and president of the local Epworth league, is being sued for $25,000 in breach of promise by Miss Luella Lowstetter, a school teacher and choir leader. It was a bad day for Professor Reed, who was under a gruelling fire most of the afternoon and who was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

During the day it had been asserted by the father of the young woman on the stand that he had seen his daughter in the arms of Professor Reed, but this the professor denied with emphasis. Reed admitted that he was considered quite well to do and that he had sold $60,000 worth of real estate recently in order to have it out of the way should Miss Lowstetter get a verdict. He denied that he had ever promised to marry Miss Lowstetter or even thought of so doing.

A mysterious fur coat alleged to have been worn by Miss Lowstetter on one of her long trips, may yet play an important part in this trial, as an effort was made by the prosecution's attorneys late today to fix the fur coat in the mind of Mr. Reed. He would not admit knowledge of a walk with Miss Lowstetter, however, at a period of the year when fur coats were likely to be worn.

"I remember walking with her one day when her skirt was torn," said Professor Reed at this juncture, and for some reason Attorney Tannehill, for Miss Lowstetter, did not press the matter of the torn skirt, but there are rumors that this may be brought out tomorrow, as Miss Lowstetter's friends say she has not yet begun to fight.

That Reed was in the habit of embracing Miss Lowstetter in the parlor of her father's home and that the couple were surprised in each other's embrace was the testimony of Thomas Lowstetter, father of the plaintiff, on the stand today. Attorney Tannehill asked if he had ever seen actions on the part of Reed and his daughter to lead him to believe that they were really engaged, as Miss Lowstetter had claimed.

"Yes," said the father, slowly. "I entered the room one evening and saw my daughter sitting on his lap and he had his arms around her."

"May be it was cold weather and they had to sit close together," broke in Attorney W. J. Brennan, counsel for the prosecutor Reed, who flushed heavily.

Asked what he had done under these embarrassing circumstances, Papa Lowstetter said he had "excused himself and backed out of the room."

LAW ENFORCEMENT CONVENTION WAS NOT BIG SUCCESS

gendered by the conflict—a thing to be avoided.

This is the case from Noblesville in which the question is squarely presented as to whether the county option law is constitutional. It is believed that a decision will be given by the supreme court within a short time after the oral argument is made, and the prevailing opinion about the state house and in this city is that the court will knock out the law.

Of course, this is all guess work, but the opinion seems to be general. One state officer, yesterday, said he was positive enough of this result to be willing to bet a little money on it, although he said he had no inside information whatever.

To Postpone Elections.

The Anti-Saloon League has decided to not hold any elections in any of the remaining wet counties for a long time, and possibly never. They say there would be no hope of carrying Allen, Marion, Vigo, St. Joseph, Lake or the other counties that are now wet, and that to undertake to do so would mean failure. There are a few counties that are still dry by remonstrance and in these counties elections will probably be held when the remonstrances expire. From now on, it is said, the league will devote most of its time and effort to the task of holding what it has gained in the state under the local option elections. This, they hope largely to do by creating sentiment in favor of the enforcement of the law in the various counties.

Anty Drudge Tells Why Mary Doesn't Object to a Big Wash.

Father—"Just look at the condition of the kids' clothes! Where do you suppose they pick up the dirt? You'll have Mary making an awful kick about the heavy wash. Why I'll bet she has to do up a dozen dresses every week for the babies?"

Anty Drudge—"More than that, son-in-law. I suppose it's nearer two dozen. But so long as she has Fels-Naptha soap on washday, Mary will never say a word."

Every mother knows what a lot of fun the baby gets out of crawling about the floor and making its tiny self just as dirty as a little pig.

But every mother has looked with alarm at the array of baby clothes to be washed on Monday morning.

And every one has seen with despair how the delicate little garments are cooked to pieces in the destructive washboiler.

But all that was before the Fels-Naptha wash-day became known.

The Fels-Naptha way means that baby's soiled clothes are cleansed quickly in cool or lukewarm water without the roasting fire, summer or winter—without the seething suds, without the terrific back-breaking rub, rub, rub.

"It's The Best Polish I Ever Used"

That's What Every One Says Who Tries

Black Silk Stove Polish

DON'T imagine for a moment that all brands of stove polish are the same. Don't get the idea that to keep a nice glossy shine on your stove you must black it every few days. It's not a question of oft-repeated application. It's a question of the stove polish you use.

Black Silk Stove Polish is so much better than other stove polishes that there is absolutely no comparison—it is in a class all by itself.

It makes a brilliant glossy shine that doesn't rub or dust off. It adheres to the iron—becomes a part of the stove. It makes old stoves look like new and lasts four times as long as any other shine.

Get a can and give it a trial. Try it on your parlor stove, your cook stove, or your gas range. If you do not find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Black Silk Stove Polish has been made by the same formula and sold under one name for 25 years.

Here is what some of the ladies write us:

"I saw your advertisement but was unable to secure the polish here. I sent to you for a can and found Black Silk Stove Polish so much better than any I had ever used that I asked my hardware dealer to order a supply. He did so, and is now selling nearly everyone in the place your wonderful polish. I had no idea there could be such a difference in stove polishes."

"I tried the sample box of Black Silk Stove Polish and like it so well that I want to black all the other stoves in the house. Enclosed find 50 cents. Send polish for that amount by return mail. Our hardware merchant does not keep it."

"I made the best shine I ever saw, and after blacking the polish did not rub or dust off. It is way ahead of any polish I have ever used."

"I received the Black Silk Stove Polish and found it all you claim and the best I ever used."

Ask Your Dealer

For Black Silk Stove Polish and return a non-refundable brand. Costs you no more than the ordinary brand, so why not have the best. Made in liquid or paste—one quality.
