COLLEGE TO HAVE GOOD BASKETBALL

Some of the Best Teams in State Will Appear Here
This Winter.

HAVE A HARD SCHEDULE

EARLHAM WILL MEET CLASSY OUTFITS AND THE COLLEGE WILL PUT GREAT SQUAD IN THE FIELD, IS ASSURED.

Earlham College will not only bring to this city some of the best basket ball teams in the state, but will have a schedule which will beat any the Quakers have ever had. Rupert Stanley, manager of the basketball team this year, has already secured Purdue, An-tiocch, Miami, De Pauw, Rose Polytechnic, Hanover and Franklin and may possibly secure Wabash. Purdue, Wabash, Miami and Antioch will appear here, while Earlham will meet the other teams on their own floors.
De Pauw being excepted since that game will be played at Indianapolis, February 4. Mr. Stanley has also secured games with the Y. M. C. A. teams of Springfield, Ohio, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Dayton.

The schedule this year will be one of the hardest the Quakers have ever met. With three "B" men from last year's squad, and a possible six, the Quakers will have to make a strong fight. The three men who are now in college include, Reses, Conrad and Tebbetts, while Newsome and Eaton and Morrison may enter the winter term.
This line of men will give Dr. Holmes good nucleus with which to begin.
Earlham lost Hotchkiss and Hancock and by graduation it will be hard to fill these positions with men of the same caliber.

Start in December.

The games will begin before Christmas and will be played both at Earlham and on foreign floors. These games will be with the Y. M. C. A. teams. The regular schedule will begin January 14 at the coliseum with a game between Antioch and Earlham.
The next game will be between Miami and Earlham at the coliseum January 21. The next two games will be played at Franklin and Hanover, January 28 and 29.

February 4, Earlham will meet De Pauw at Indianapolis. This game will serve as a curtain raiser to the state oratorical contest which occurs in the evening March 5, the Quakers will meet Rose Polytechnic at Terre Haute. Purdue will probably appear in this city March 25.

The other game will be with Wabash, unless the latter wishes too much of a financial remuneration.

The average catch at the Norwegian cod fisheries for a period of forty-two years, covered by statistical reports, is 50,700,000 cod per annum.
