CHURCH NEARING
AGE OF 50 YEARS

Christian Church Will Celebrate Anniversary in November.

HAS HAD A GREAT GROWTH

A HALF CENTURY AGO WHEN THE CHURCH WAS ORGANIZED THERE WERE ONLY THIRTEEN IN THE CONGREGATION.

The fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the First Christian church, South Tenth and A streets, will be celebrated November 20-21 and 22, according to announcements made yesterday at the church service. The program has not been completed as yet, but arrangements will be made for the attendance of all the former pastors who are living.

Among those who are expected to be present and deliver addresses are Rev. L. C. Howe of New Castle, former pastor of the church; S. S. Lattin of Cincinnati, editor of the Christian Standard; Guy L. Cook, state superintendent of the Sunday school department of the church and possibly J. C. Burkhardt of Connersville. Invitations extended to others have not been heard from. Providing the former pastors of the church can not be present, they will be asked to send greetings.

To Have Fine Music.
The music for the occasion will be in charge of Robert Wilson. He will prepare several special musical numbers and the choir and orchestra will begin practice soon.

The church was organized 50 years ago with thirteen members. The congregation was not large enough at first to occupy a building of its own and meetings were held at various public halls for several years.

The present church was dedicated a few years ago. It now has a large membership and is one of the most flourishing congregations in the city.

O SON GREAT STAR

But He Had to Bow Down to Roller at Seattle Last Summer.

WILL BE HERE WEDNESDAY

Charles Olson, who will be seen in the wrestling show at the coliseum Wednesday night, along with Dr. R. F. Roller, is the best of the light heavy weight wrestlers.

He is not heavy enough to compare with Roller, but the contest between Olson and Roller at the Seattle exposition last summer was the athletic event of the show. Olson lost, but only after two hours of the roughest work ever seen in Seattle. Weight and strength finally told and the shoulders of the Indianapolis Swede were pinned.

Olson and Roller wrestled one fall in Indianapolis Friday evening, but Olson was in no shape to give Roller the same sort of a fight that he put up at Seattle. Olson is good enough, however, to take on Tom Coburn of Kansas City, at the Coliseum Wednesday night.

Olson may not be a champion, but he has the reputation among the wreslers of being one of the best mount getters in the profession. He is always working. No resting up goes for him and when he is not wrestling or training, he is working in his 5-cent theater in Indianapolis on North Illinois street.

Indianapolis, Oct. 25.—Speaker Cannon last night quoted the bible as the best means of expressing his attitude towards the house "insurgents" who have waged war against him. If the speaker is alarmed by the activity of these members of the house he managed to conceal such emotion upon his arrival at the Jefferson hotel last night.

"What about the insurgents? Mr. Speaker?" was a question directed at him.

"What about the insurgents?" he replied. "What are they up to? Go and ask the insurgents."

If you turn to the journeys of old Paul, you will find that he struck an attitude and said: "I have been impeded with strife. I have met robbers on land. I have been shipwrecked at sea. I have fought with the beasts at Ephesus. Yet none of these things have moved me." The expression was given to indicate the attitude of the speaker on the efforts of house members to obtain a revision of the rules.

Making Hay While Sun Shines.
That the speaker proposes to make hay while the sun shines was indicated by the geniality he radiated to all with whom he came in contact. He was taken to his room and immediately afterwards disappeared with Congressman Richard Bartholdt of Missouri.

Speaker Cannon and Congressman Bartholdt, whatever their relationship on matters political, may come to a clash Wednesday night, it is said, when a formal banquet is given to President Taft on board the Quincy.

Congressman Bartholdt has had almost entire charge of the arrangements for the banquet and is determined that the affair will outshine all other events.

"Extremely formal," asserted the Missouri congressman; "dress suits and all. Sure, the dress suit. This is to be a great occasion.

Mr. Cannon, however, is known to possess an antagonism to dress suit amounting almost to a passion. Moreover he came to the waterways broadcloth frock coat, the splendor of which far outclasses the ordinary variety of dress suit.

Ready, but No Dress Suit.

"Are you ready for the congressional banquet, Mr. Speaker? Where's your dress suit?" asked a fellow member of congress on meeting the Danville representative in the hotel lobby.

"Dress suit?" he repeated vehemently. "Well, I guess not." With this he drew back so the full attractiveness of the new long pearl gray might abash the questioner. It apparently did, and all who heard the remark were confident that however formal might be the gathering on Wednesday night, at least one not unimportant member would be there, but without the evening clothes so expressly desired by the Missouri members.

TEN UNION PRINCIPLES.

Potters Adopt a Comprehensive List of Rules For Conduct.

Ten principles for union men have been made public by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters for adoption by all members of national and international unions in the country. They are as follows:

"First.—Attend the meetings of the unions and be not tardy nor leave before adjournment. Your interests are at stake. See that they have your personal consideration.

"Second.—Take an active part in the meeting and regard thyself as the chief pillar of the union and the one without which the structure could not stand.

"Third.—Shake hands and welcome all the newly installed brothers and see to it that this service is continued until all are within the fold.

"Fourth.—Love thy brother as thyself and prove it by helping in cases of need. Cultivate feelings of mutual concern to the effect of securing employment one for the other.

"Fifth.—At all times insist on the union rate of wages and work within the limit of hours prescribed by the laws. In the doing of this you will improve the trade.

"Sixth.—Make an engagement to be present at all open meetings of the unions, that your social condition as well as your intellect may be improved.

"Seventh.—Leave thy prejudices and personal dislikes at the door and enter the union in the spirit of brotherly love and with a desire to serve humanity.

"Eighth.—Do thy part in the union faithfully and well before thou shalt deem thyself to judge another's lack.

"Ninth.—Consider thyself the advance agent of each coming meeting and bring to the same some thought that will prove instructive as well as profitable to the union.

"Tenth.—Regard thine own acts and character as the criterion by which the public will judge the unions. Remember its humane mission and strengthen it by flawless acts and dignified sup-

FOOTBALL "DOPE" LOOKING BETTER

Is More Promising Since the Results of the Games Played Saturday.

YALE STOCK NOW SOARING

NEW HAVEN INSTITUTION NOW REPRESENTED BY AN OUTFIT THAT WILL BRING THE BLUE GREAT HONORS.

(American News Service)

New York, Oct. 25.—The football situation is today much more promising than it was before the initial contests of the big teams. All of Saturday's games without exception showed the true calibre of the teams. Yale's showing was the most creditable of any of them. Their victory of 36 to 0 over the fast Colgate College eleven proves that the New Haven college is represented this year by a team that is sure to bring much glory to its alma mater before the season ends.

The work of the blue team's back field, Captain Coy, Philbin, Daly and Howe, was the best seen in New Haven in many years. Captain Coy marked his return to the game by kicking two goals from the field, both from difficult angles. Philbin has been playing most sensational game this season. Daly, at halfback, added much strength to the back field. Howe's work at quarterback was most pleasing to the coaches and he will no doubt be the regular quarter from now on. He ran his team well and showed good judgment at all times.

Harvard Looks Good.

Next to Yale, Harvard's showing may be considered the best. The work of the Cambridge teams end, which had been of an erratic sort, was the strong point of the Johnnies defense.

Third.—Shake hands and welcome all the newly installed brothers and see to it that this service is continued until all are within the fold.

"Fourth.—Love thy brother as thyself and prove it by helping in cases of need. Cultivate feelings of mutual concern to the effect of securing employment one for the other.

TWO LOCAL CLUBS IN A LOVE FEAST

Y. M. B. C. and Commercial Club Will Have a Smoker Thursday Evening.

LATTER CLUB THE HOST

IT IS HONORING THE YOUNGER ORGANIZATION AS AN APPRECIATION FOR ITS SUCCESS WITH THE FALL FESTIVAL.

An additional paragraph was filed to the complaint in the case of William H. Pickett against William S. Clendenin, this morning by John F. Robbins. The suit is brought to recover $3,000 damages from Clendenin, who operates a fertilizing plant, north of the city, and near the home of the plaintiff. All varieties of smells known to the human category are now listed in the complaint.

It is set forth in the second paragraph that there is a very disagreeable stench arising from the dead bodies of animals brought to the plant before they are cut up and also that the refuse from the dead animals, tendered by the older organization in honor of the younger commercial association.

The members of the older club felt that the honor was due the younger organization because of the activity it has shown in hosting this city. The great success of the Fall Festival, alone, is not the reason for the feast, but instead, everything which the younger organization has so successfully undertaken.

Many bouquets will be exchanged during the evening by members of both clubs. The Commercial club will be held Thursday evening at the Commercial club rooms. The meeting will be in the nature of a smoker, tendered by the older organization in honor of the younger commercial association.
