STUDENTS REVOLT AGAINST ORGANS

Two District Schools Scorn
Lowly Instrument and Ask Pianos.

DEMAND IS EMPHATIC ONE

IT HAS BEEN THE CUSTOM FOR TRUSTEES TO PLACE OLD FASHIONED
ORGANS IN SCHOOLS—ORGANS OUT OF DATE.

No organ for them, no indeed, nothing less than a piano or nothing at all. Such is the stand taken by the teachers and pupils of Wayne township district schools, Greenbriar and Middleborough. An organized effort is being made by each school to defeat efforts to place organs in the two schools, and it looks as though the piano would come under the wire, away head of it's lowly cousin.

It has been customary for the trustees of Wayne township to provide organs as musical instruments for the district schools. Trustee James Howarth was just following in his predecessor's footsteps and also within the means of the township pocket book when he announced that an organ would be purchased for each school.

This announcement was greeted with much disapproval. "Humph," said one of the students, "we would much prefer a grind organ and monkey to some old wind and squeaky parlor organ. I would not even put my fingers on one of those things. We want a piano," and thus the agitation was started. Different ways of raising the necessary funds were considered, but it was finally agreed to give a basket supper. Middleborough makes its attempt to raise the necessary "dough" tomorrow evening. Greenbriar school will give its basket supper Saturday evening. Mr. Howarth stated this morning that both schools would probably win out in their demands for a good, high-toned, high-class musical instrument. In case enough money is not raised, he said, the township would make up the deficit.

MOTHER IS CALLED

While Daughter Is Critically Ill
With the Typhoid Fever.

A VERY SORROWFUL CASE

Owing to the very low condition of Miss Maud Pauline Lacey, who is suffering from typhoid pneumonia and other complications, she was not informed of the death of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Anna Lacey, who died last evening at 9 o'clock, at her residence, 827 North 1st street. The daughter's condition is very critical and in order to distract her as little as possible, the funeral at the residence Saturday morning will be private.

Mrs. Lacey has been ill for several days with typhoid fever. She was in her fifty-second year. She is survived by her husband, James M., a local business man, and eight children, including Waldo L., James H., Grace A., Gertrude, Mrs. Joseph Miller, Maud Pauline, Leroy and Drew.

After short funeral services at the residence she will be taken to Fountain City, where services will be held at the M. E. church at 11 o'clock. Burial will be in the cemetery near Fountain City. Rev. Cook Graham, pastor of the Fifth Street M. E. church, of which she was a member, will officiate. Friends may call Friday afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock, and that evening between 7 and 9 o'clock.

SAVED FROM A CELL

U. S. Court of Appeals Will Not
Immediately Send Walsh
To the Jail.

ESCAPE IS NOT PROBABLE

(American News Service)
Chicago, Oct. 28.—The United States Court of Appeals today denied the petition of the government to send John R. Walsh to jail immediately. Judges Grosscup, Seaman and Baker concurred in a decision that there was no more likelihood of Walsh attempting to escape now than at any time previous during his prosecution. Walsh will be kept under constant surveillance, however. Walsh received the decision joyfully. Today's action gives Walsh freedom until the Supreme Court of the United States passes on the case.

MEETING NOW OVER

District Woman's Foreign Missionary Society Ends Fountain City Session.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

(Palladium Special)
Fountain City, Ind., Oct. 28.—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Richmond District, North Indiana Conference, closed a most successful meeting at Fountain City yesterday afternoon. The auxiliaries were well represented. The program was carried out as announced. Miss Jackson, a returned missionary, was the main speaker of the convention. The work as reported shows a healthy condition. Three new auxiliaries have been organized during the year. The district stands at the head of the Conference in the increase of membership, and in money contributed in proportion to the apportionments. Mrs. T. M. Guild, of this city, has been president of the District for three years, and was unanimously elected for another year. Mrs. Turner of this city, was elected to fill the very important place made vacant by the election of Mrs. Binford as conference secretary. The following are the officers of the District for the next year:

President, Mrs. T. M. Guild, Richmond; vice president, Mrs. Rodgers, New Castle; Cor. secretary, Mrs. L. E. Turner, Richmond; Rec. Secy., Mrs. C. B. Morgan, Knightstown; treasurer, Mrs. Etta H. Dinkirk, Supt. of Young People's Work, Mrs. F. F. Thornburg, Knightstown. Supt. of King's Herald, Mrs. O. Jay, Redkey.

The ladies of Fountain City entertained the delegates most royally. The convention meets next year in Knightstown.

WAS LAID TO REST

Funeral of Burt H. Hatfield
Was Held Yesterday
At Greensfork.

WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

The funeral of Burt H. Hatfield, the railway mail clerk who was killed in the Collingsville, O., catastrophe, was held yesterday afternoon at Greensfork. The floral offerings were very large and most beautiful. The pall bearers included members in the railway mail service and also six others who acted as floral pall bearers. More than a hundred persons from this city attended the funeral.

Mrs. Hatfield will receive $8,000 insurance. Mr. Hatfield held $3,000 life insurance and the government pays $1,000 to the families of railway mail clerks who are killed while in service. The Railway Mail Clerks association also has a beneficiary fund and in case of death, $4,000 is paid to the family by this association.

QUEEN OF THE NAVY

(American News Service)
Boston, Oct. 28.—Ready for the test which will qualify her to become the Sam's biggest peacemaker, the battleship North Dakota steamed out from the Fore River works this morning for Provincetown.

Built at a cost of $10,000,000 by the Fore River Shipbuilding company, it is expected that her two Curtis reversible turbines, with their 25,000 horsepower will drive her 20,000 tons through the water at a 21 knot speed.

After running a few times over the mile course at Provincetown for her builders trials, the ship will head for Boston and drop anchor off the Charlestown navy yard at 10 o'clock Friday morning, if all goes well.

A MEETING TONIGHT

There will be an open meeting in the court house this evening at 7:30 o'clock, of carpenters, also planing mill men and machine hands. At the meeting an effort will be made to establish a local membership of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. H. R. Kline of Indianapolis, is the general organizer of the movement. Addresses will be made by Judge H. C. Fox of this city and William D. Huber, of Indianapolis, general president of the carpenters. The organization is for the benefit of non-union men, and it is believed that a number of local laborers will join. Candidates must be over 21 years of age and under 50 years.

Money may not be able to buy happiness, but it can buy off a great deal of unhappiness.—Lyndon.

WRESTLING FANS HIGHLY PLEASED

Many Attended Contests at Coliseum and See Some Very Fine Sport.

ROLLER MAKES A BIG HIT

CLEVER PHYSICIAN TAKES ITALIAN HEAVYWEIGHT WITH THE GREATEST EASE—OLSON A WINNER OVER COLBURN.

In the highest class wrestling matches ever pulled off in this city, Dr. B. F. Roller, of Seattle, Washington, last evening, at the coliseum, defeated Alfred Medina, the Chicago Italian, who is champion of Illinois, and Charles Olson of Indianapolis, the local favorite, defeated Tom Coburn, the Kansas City heavy weight. Both of the visitors won their matches in straight falls. While both Olson and Roller outclassed their opponents, the matches were extremely interesting and enjoyed by a crowd of 500 fans. The next match will be between Olson and Medina, but the date has not been set. This is the first occasion that Richmond has had to see Dr. Roller since he performed in the molekings with Depauw University against Earlham College, eight or nine years ago. While Dr. Roller was a star in foot ball he did not have the opportunity for showing off that he has in the ring, and those present last evening certainly enjoyed a treat. A more perfect specimen of manhood was never seen in this city.

A Good Sportsman.

Dr. Roller is the kind of a sportsman that Richmond enjoys and will support. He is clean through and through. Before his match with Medina, Dr. Roller made a short speech in which he urged the support of the game locally. He said that he never yet took on a match which was fixed before he went into the ring. M. Charlson, the promoter, who very nearly killed wrestling here last year by fixing matches before they were pulled off, was characterized by him as a crook, and one who deserved to be in the penitentiary for false pretenses. He said that he never would have appeared here had he known that M. Charlson preceived him.

When Medina stepped into the ring the usual preliminaries were resorted to and the ring side weights of both men given, Medina weighing 202 and Dr. Roller 205. Medina looked the heavier. Roller did not have an ounce of surplus weight.

Referee Jack Rice of Indianapolis, called the two to the center of the mat and they went at it. Medina was noticeably excited and apparently afraid to play offensive with the doctor. Roller seemed to enjoy his advantage and simply toyed with his opponent by pulling his nose and lightly touching him in the face. Then by a performance, quick as lightning, which no one clearly understood, Roller had his man on the mat. The two rolled and tossed across the mat for fifteen minutes, then Roller asked the time, after which he began in earnest. Four minutes later Medina was pinned on the mat with a bar arm and toe hold which rendered him helpless. In fact Roller was giving his opponent so much pain that Medina patted Roller on the back.

Medina Was Mad.

Medina was mad through and through. The crowd had hooted at him during the first round and he was much excited. When he returned for the second fall, he asked to make a speech, and became greatly peed because the audience did not care to hear him. The second fall was just as exciting as the first and took 10½ minutes. Roller secured the fall by a bar arm and crotch hold. Roller gave a number of clever exhibitions of offensive plays and on one occasion picked his opponent from the mat and twirled him around his left arm.

Olson was outweighed by Coburn, which match was the preliminary to the Roller-Medina affair. Olson played the offensives much of the time, but on two or three occasions hauled up the distress signal. Olson secured the first fall in fourteen minutes with a toe and crotch hold. The second fall went the same time with Olson throwing Coburn by a bar arm hold.

finger billiardist of the world, and the only man in the world playing billiards with his nose. There have been numerous finger manipulators of billiards in the city, but chasing the ivories over the green with one's nasal organ acting as a cue, is a new feature of the game and will be watched with interest by local lovers of the sport.

Prof. Lewis will play a game of cushion caroms of 75 points, after which he will play the four best local players 100 points to their fifty with his fingers. He will then play the four 100 points to their 50, using his long nose as a cue. After this contest the professor will conclude his performance with a number of fancy shots with his fingers and nose, incidentally making a run of 300 points in ten minutes. Prof. Lewis is gifted with an unusually long nose, which he uses to advantage. He has been playing the game for 40 years, having given an exhibition in Richmond 32 years ago. After his exhibition at Simmon's cigar store, Prof. Lewis will go to the Elks' club rooms at 9 o'clock, where he will give another exhibition for members only. There will be no admission charged for the exhibition at Simmon's. Everybody is invited.
