EARLHAM TO MEET
WORST OPPONENT

Next Saturday in This City the Quakers Will Play Wittenberg.

LUTHERANS ARE STRONG

SO FAR THIS SEASON THEY HAVE MADE A REMARKABLE SHOWING—BULL STORIES ISSUE FROM QUAKER CAMP.

The Earlham College football team will meet its strongest rival on Reid field next Saturday. That game, which is to be played with Wittenberg, will be the hardest game of the season, either at home or abroad. The Lutheran college squad has a strong back field, the best full and half backs in Ohio, and a fine coach. The Quakers have a crippled squad, but a fast line and the game of next Saturday will certainly be one of the best ever played in this city.

That the game Saturday is to be the hardest contest of the year for the Quakers, is evidenced by the strong teams Wittenberg has played. That college opened the season by a game with Wilmington and won. The next games were with Ohio State university and the University of Cincinnati and the Lutherans lost both, but the games were close. Later, Wittenberg held the strong Kenyon team 6 to 11. Last Saturday they outplayed Western Reserve, but lost 5 to 2. This was an exceptional showing for Coach DePray's men, because Western Reserve won from Case 10 to 3 and Case held Michigan 10 to 0.

Heavy Back Field.
Wittenberg has a strong and heavy back field. Krigbaum at full and Frey at half, are considered two of the best men in Ohio, but that is not all; Sawyer, the Lutheran quarter, is a ten second man and a terror for Earlham. Last year he was a member of the Antioch squad and played the whole game for that college against Earlham. He has always been dreaded by the Quakers, but this does not help matters, since he will be a big gun in the Wittenberg-Earlham game.

Earlham, on the other hand, has at least four men on the hospital list. Bruner has a bruised thigh. Harworth is still suffering some pain from his side. Hughbanks has a broken toe and Cook has a sprained ankle. None of these men reported for practice last evening and unless there is a marked change they will be out of the game Saturday.

Changes the Outlook.
This changes the outlook at Earlham considerably. These men are some of the strongest on the Quaker varsity, and if they cannot enter the game Saturday, the Earlham stock will be greatly decreased.

Practice was held last evening on a wet, heavy field. The scrubs were given instructions relative to the Wittenberg plays, which will be used in practice against the varsity. Several changes are looked for on the squad, Turberville being one of the number who is being tried at his old position at quarter.

LABOR BRIEFS.

A state bureau of labor and statistics has been created by the Texas legislature.

W. G. Lee of Cleveland has been elected president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. The title is changed from grand master.

Max Morris, international secretary of the Retail Clerks' union and fourth vice president of the A. F. of L., died recently at Denver, his home city.

Patrick McKenzie was recently re-elected master workman of Boston Park Department Employees' assembly, No. 7570, K. of L., for the thirty-seventh time.

An Accommodating Boy.

A Newark woman who lives in an apartment house changed her ice man not long ago, and the next day the youth who drove the team for the new man put the piece of ice on the dumb waiter in the basement to be hoisted up. She pulled away.

"Heavens," she exclaimed, "that new ice man certainly gives good weight!"

After much effort she got the dumb waiter up to the kitchen level. To her amazement, there was a small boy sitting upon the ice. With what little breath she had left she demanded:

"What in the world did you make me pull you up here for?"

"Why," replied the youngster, "I thought maybe the cake would be too heavy for you to lift, so I came up to help you off with it."—Lippincott's.

CASE DRAGS ALONG.

The case of Crowe versus McConaha for $3,000 and permanent injunction to prevent waste drags heavily on the time of the circuit court. The case was started yesterday morning and will not be finished until possibly tomorrow noon.

A GALLANT WOMAN
FIGHTS BURGLAR

London Society Leader Takes Pistol From Her Assailant in Battle.

HER HUSBAND IS KNIFED

BY THE THIEF AFTER THE WOMAN THOUGHT SHE HAD DISARMED THE MARAUDER—DESPERATE FIGHT AT NIGHT.

(American News Service)
London, Nov. 2.—Grappling with a burglar, Mrs. G. H. Storr, one of the most beautiful society women of England, disarmed him of a revolver, only to see him draw a knife and fatally wound her husband last night. The affair took place in the magnificent country home of the Storr, Gorse hall at Dukinfield, Cheshire. The robber was discovered by Mrs. Storr. With great presence of mind, she closed in on him almost before he realized that she had seen him. Back and forth they struggled, and after a terrific fight, Mrs. Storr wrested the revolver from the thugs grip. Mr. Storr, attracted by the noise, dashed to his wife's aid, but before he had closed in on the robber, the latter stabbed him fatally. The intruder then fled.

ADVICE ON EXERCISE.

Good Points For Fat and Thin Women to Note.

With modern age and other ancient style revivals forever before her eyes it is only a blind woman who fails to think sometimes about her own figure and to consider methods of making it over into fashionable outline.

She who would acquire grace cannot accomplish everything by compression if she is stout. Neither can she do it all by padding when she is thin, for, while the heavy woman compresses, she spoils her complexion and her walk, and, although the thin girl puts on curves, she looks limp and bent.

Good health and vitality are required to carry present styles with distinction. A weak back allows the body to stoop forward from the waist line, flattens the chest and robs the finest princess dress or smartest tailored suit of every vestige of style.

Now, it is a curious fact that the exercises which help the thin to build up also help the stout to reduce. But fatness and thinness are both abnormal, and exercise tends to restore perfect physical conditions.

A very simple exercise will prove most beneficial, followed with persistence and regularity. It can be practiced night and morning, either in gown, kimono, gym or bathing suit.

The first position for this exercise is to rest flat upon the floor, face down, toes stretched back and palms down in a line between the bust and waist. Then while the body is stiff and tense, with knees unbending, it is raised up from the floor to the length of the arms. Thus the body will touch the floor only at the palms and the top of the feet and will make a hypotenuse of a right angled triangle, of which the arms and the floor are the sides.

The reverse of this exercise is to rest flat upon the back and raise the stiffened arms full length between heels and palms.

Though apparently so simple an exercise, it will be impossible for a beginner to repeat the experiment more than once or twice. Ten or twelve repetitions constitute a morning's practice for an expert.

Bedroom athletics should always be carried on before windows thrown wide open.

"Never Too Late to Mend."
Most of us associate the phrase "It's never too late to mend" with Charles Reade's famous novel, and very likely some of us think he invented it. But it is really one of the most ancient gems of popular philosophy. A correspondent of London Notes and Queries has discovered it in a petition from the commonalty to the mayor and aldermen of the city in 1433. It must have been of a respectable age even then, seeing that it is quoted as one of the "proverbs" of the period.

A Failure.
"There isn't enough analogy in the English language," proclaimed the bright young student. "If we say 'male and female' to distinguish sex, why not say 'lion and feline' too?" "Wouldn't distinguish," replied the practical professor, "considering both are felines."—Baltimore American.

Her Very Picture.
He (rhapsodically)—I adore everything that is grand, exquisite, eminent. I love the peerless, the serene, the perfect in life. She (blushing coyly)—Oh, George, how can I refuse you when you put it so beautifully?

A VOLUNTEER WATCHER

TWENTY ADDITIONAL ARRESTS WERE MADE IN NEW YORK THIS AFTERNOON AND THE CROOKS ARE BADLY FRIGHTENED.

New York, Nov. 2.—Robert Alfonso Taft, son of President William Howard Taft, went on the trail of election thieves this afternoon and after twice calling on the police to help him, he had the Tammany henchmen who were violating election rules, thrown out of the polling places. Taft was a member of the volunteer watchers' committee, and together with other college students got on the job at daylight. Women watchers of the Political Equality league and Suffragettes also did duty as watchers. Twenty additional arrests were made this afternoon for illegal voting and this seemed to frighten that class. Voting all over the city continued rapid.

Staggering into police headquarters yesterday afternoon and approaching Patrolman Westenberg, Emmet Roach, a man probably 40 years of age, requested that he be locked up. He said that he realized that he had been drinking too heavily, and was in no condition to be on the street. In the city court this afternoon Roach was fined $1 and costs and went down for 11 days.

Fear of Rats Spoils Elopement
Of Farmer's 14-Year-Old Daughter

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 2.—When William Hunckley of Vernon, a few miles up the Allegheny, on his return from church Sunday was told that his 14-year-old daughter Mary, had eloped that morning with George Mitchell, a neighbor's son, he got out the old family shotgun and started in pursuit. He went to the home of a relative of Mitchell in Sandy Creek, and there found the pair, who had been waiting for night to take the late train to Buffalo.

Hunckley ordered George and Mary to walk before him a few miles to Vernon. Mary declined for a moment, but after being soundly smacked by her father, decided to travel. Hunckley marched them down to the town jail in Vernon, where he asked that they be locked up until he could make information this morning. The faithful little Mary declared she would elope with her lover the first moment they had their liberty.

The town marshal placed Mary in a dark cell where she could not even shout to George, and then stood outside within easy hearing distance of Mary and talked in a loud voice to the father about the great number of rats that were in the jail.

Mary stood this for about three minutes, then gave forth screams of capitulation. She would promise not to elope with George; she could stand anything but rats for George's sake. The town marshal and her father had some difficulty in getting Mary to come down from the cell bench, where she had sprung at the first mention of rats.

George will be given a hearing tomorrow on charges preferred against him by Mr. Hunckley.

Pastors and Stage People Can't
Agree; Uplift Society on Rocks

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Church and the stage did not mix well in the theater uplift society, so the Actors' Church alliance went to pieces yesterday. The ministers affiliated with it preached sermons, it is said, and the actors decided that they'd let the ministers remain as "headliners" in the alliance, while they started the Playgoers' club, a new society, divorced from the religious uplift movement.

Resignations of most of the officers followed a stormy session at the Grand Pacific hotel. Dr. Nathaniel I. Rubinkam, chosen as president in order to straighten out the difficulties that developed because of the conflict between the church and the stage elements, started the row.

"I find," he said, "that this club is somewhat of a misnomer. There can be no alliance between church and stage, and I will not attempt one. The club has been less successful since it attempted such an affiliation.

"The churches have no special interest in such an affiliation. Why should they have? There is no real reason for such an alliance.

"I am firm for an uplifting of the stage. The Playgoers' club will do that. It will take in all legitimate professions and playgoers whom we believe will strengthen the new society."

Dr. Rubinkam's resignation was followed by that of Miss Ellen M. Sanders, secretary; the Rev. Dr. James Blake, pastor of the Unitarian church of Evanston, vice president; Mrs. Frank Warren Holder, treasurer, and a score of members.

A few remain faithful to the old Actors' Church alliance. Miss Inez Lane and Miss Margaret Wernerson lead them. They declare they will reorganize the old society.

RELEASE A FIGHTER

George Orcutt was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with assault and battery on Joseph Doherty on Fort Wayne avenue. Orcutt admitted striking Doherty but asserted that the latter called him a vile name. Judge Converse thought the punishment inflicted on Doherty was justified and released Orcutt. Doherty was fined $5 and costs for intoxication.

Newcomb's Definition of "Magnet."

Personally Newcomb was an agreeable companion and a faithful friend. His success was due largely to his tenacity of purpose. The writer's only personal contact with him came through the Standard Dictionary, of whose definitions in physical science Newcomb had general oversight. On one occasion he came into the office greatly dissatisfied with the definition that we had framed for the word "magnet"—a conception almost impossible to define in any logical way. We had simply enumerated the properties of the thing, a course which in the absence of authoritative knowledge of their causes was the only rational procedure. But Newcomb's mind demanded a logical treatment, and, though he must have seen from the outset that this was a forlorn hope, his tenacity of purpose kept him, pencil in hand, writing and erasing alternately for an hour or more. Finally he confessed that he could do no better than the following pair of definitions: "Magnet, a body capable of exerting magnetic force," and "magnetic force, the force exerted by a magnet." With a hearty laugh at his beautiful circular in delirando he threw down his pencil, and the imperfect and illogical office definition was accepted.—North American Review.
