HE TAKES HIS LIFE

Notorious Prisoner at Reformatory Was Found Dead In His Cell.

HIS SISTER LIVES HERE

(American News Service)
Jeffersonville, Ind., Nov. 11.—Martin McGassney, alias Walter Moore, was found dead hanging in his cell at the state reformatory this morning. He was sentenced from Marion county and was notorious as a "Soap Eater" and "Dope Fiend."
McGassney was sentenced from Marion county in 1903 for forging a check.
He leaves a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Ryan, who lives in Richmond, Ind. He had previously served a term in the Columbus penitentiary.

FILES NO VERDICT

Coroner Bramkamp has not yet filed his verdict in the Austrian double murder case, west of Centerville. The testimony of all the witnesses is about completed and the coroner will probably reach a decision in the matter tomorrow. It is said. It is said the blame for the crime will be attached to Joseph Chupovic, the Austrian fugitive, whose whereabouts cannot be ascertained. It is possible that Joe Dulic may be released. While Rod Redic engaged in the fight, it is thought the coroner's verdict will be to the effect that he had nothing to do with the death of the two foreigners.

SHANK CHASED WIFE

Harry Shank caused considerable excitement in the vicinity of North Fourteenth and F streets last night by chasing his wife through the streets of that neighborhood, alleging that he was going to kill her. The man was intoxicated. The woman was so frightened as a result of her experience that she is now confined to bed and her condition is said to be critical. Shank was arrested by Patrolman McManus and slated for intoxication. He entered a plea of not guilty to the charge in the city court this afternoon and the case was continued until tomorrow. It is probable that a charge of assault and battery will also be placed against Shank if his wife is able to appear against him.

PAULUS THE JUDGE

Judge Paulus of Grant County circuit court, acted as special judge in the case of Claude S. Kitterman versus George T. Kepled and others, to compel the payment of street improvement assessments which was tried this morning. The case was taken under advisement by Judge Paulus.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

KINGSTON SHUT OFF

(American News Service)
Holland Bay, Jamaica, Nov. 11.—Kingston has not yet been heard from. The hurricane still continues, an enormous sea is pounding the island.

VERY UNHAPPY BABY

Because his mother, a seventeen year old girl, could not support him and because his grandfather, who it is said is amply able to do so, will not, little two months' old James Tarr, who was born in this city but whose other relatives live in New Castle, was turned over to the board of children's guardians today. A home will be found for the child if possible and if not it will be turned over to a state orphan asylum.
The petition requesting that the above action be taken was filed by probation officer, Mrs. Elizabeth Candler, with Judge Fox this morning and he immediately took favorable action.

WILL CONSIDER IT

At the session of the county commissioners this afternoon, it was expected that the question of provision for the insane at the county farm would be considered. This morning the contract for supplying bridge lumber was given to W. E. Williams of Center township, the contract price being $3.15 per hundred feet of lumber. Contract was also given to an eastern firm for supplying a steel file case for County Auditor Demas Coe.

YOUNG WELL AGAIN

Harry Young, mail carrier who was taken seriously ill at San Francisco several weeks ago while enroute home from a pleasure trip, has recovered and is now home. He will take up his duties as a carrier immediately.

KNOUFF TO RETIRE

Prof. C. W. Knouff, principal of the high school, who is a member of the Indiana High School Athletic association and at one time president of this association, will retire from the board January 1. He has been a member of the board for three years which is the time limit any one may be a member.

Fresh Air Schools:—Are You For Them

What do you think of school children sitting at desks, studying and reciting lessons, out of doors in winter? "Cruel, harsh, inhuman," you say. Are you sure? Don't be so fast. They have such schools in Germany, in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York and other states; and the children who in the beginning were sick and weak, get strong, healthy, well and happy. It is the fresh, cold air and good plain food supplied to the weaklings that makes them well, strong and happy. The "Outdoor School" at Providence, Rhode Island, is a room two sides of which have been removed, making a pavilion. There is sunshine and air on all sides. The puny children who have been picked out of the schools, arrive at 8:30 a. m. They are immediately taken to a warm, well ventilated room, adjoining the pavilion, where they are examined as to their comfort. Their feet must be dry and warm, their hands and faces, necks and ears clean, their clothing dry and warm. A bath is given them if necessary. They usually have had something to eat at their homes, but now a cup of hot soup and bread, or hot cereal with milk and fruit, generally stewed apples or peaches, is given them. After this, the weather being cold, they put on a heavy woolen overcoat reaching to the floor, arctic overshoes, woolen gloves and woolen cap, and out into the outdoor pavilion they go and sit at desks as in the ordinary school room. Now the reciting of lessons and studying begins and the general school routine goes on. Sometimes the canvas curtains at the open sides are lowered all or part of the way to keep out storm or wind, but up they go unless the blustering weather makes it absolutely necessary to keep them down. Sometimes soap stone foot warmers or hot bricks are used to keep the feet warm.
It is simply astonishing what this outdoor school life does for the health, happiness and book progress of the children. Puny, catarrhal, consumptive, white-lipped, lack-luster, undernourished, soon begin to grow rosy, fat and strong. Colds are heard of no more, catarrh improves or gets well, the shine of health and the smile of happiness appears on the once wan, sad faces, and they advance more rapidly in their studies.
This is a great lesson in how to get well and keep well. Of all the medicines in this world—cleanliness of body, plain, well-cooked food and plenty of fresh air, beat them all. So long as we force children into unventilated bedrooms and into poorly ventilated, stove-warmed, poorly lighted school-rooms, just so long sickness among children and the trade in short coffins will be on the boom.

BIBLE FOR SCHOOLS

Township Trustees This Morning Provide This as a Necessity.

RESULTS OF THE MEETING

Hereafter, a Bible will be placed in all the district schools of the county, according to a ruling made this morning at the meeting of the trustees, with County Superintendent C. W. Jordan. The order is only effective to the extent that a Bible must be possessed by every district school. It is optional with the teacher whether he or she wants to read it to the students.
Attention to the fact that a number of road supervisors had given those, who worked out their road tax receipts larger than the amount of the tax was called by County Auditor Demas Coe. He has no instructions to add the additional amounts to next year's taxes and it was ordered by the trustees that those who did more work than the tax amounted to should be paid the excess by the trustee.
Next year, the trustees will institute a novel plan of instruction. It is called the Batavia plan. In every school where there are two teachers, one teacher will hear the class re-

SUSTAINED DEMURRER

The case of Charles Farnham versus the city of Richmond, to set aside a ruling, which was instituted several weeks ago in the circuit court was practically thrown out this morning when Judge Fox sustained the demurrer of the city. The original case, which Mr. Farnham brought more than a year ago for the purpose of having a reassessment made on the improvement of South First street, was lost in the local courts, but an appeal was taken to the supreme court where the case is now pending.
