TO CLEAN SCHOOL

Investigation of Parochial Institutions Has Been Made.

COMPLAINT WAS HEARD

Frank Gausepohl, city sanitary inspector visited the three parochial schools of the city yesterday, and found conditions in some respects far from pleasing. He stated this noon that he had given orders that they be cleaned up, the floors scrubbed and the windows washed. The nature of the conditions were complained about in an anonymous letter, received by Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, which he turned over to Dr. J. E. King, county health officer, for action. The complainant said that the windows were not washed but once a year; the floors seldom swept or scrubbed and conditions generally were poor, but Mr. Gausepohl says that he did not find them as bad as set forth by the writer.

A PAIR TO DRAW TO

Robert Kelley and Frank "Snoops" Murray, both colored, engaged in a pugilistic encounter on South Sixth street last evening which resulted in Kelley's arrest. The altercation grew out of the fact that Kelley is alleged to have called "Snoops" a vile name. On the witness stand in the city court this afternoon Murray stated that if Kelley ever laid hands on him again he ("Snoops") would kill him. This declaration was greeted with laughter by Kelley and it was with difficulty that Judge Converse obtained order again. Kelley was fined $5 and costs.

A MARKET PRIMER.It Tells About the Butcher and the Way He Sells His Meat.

What is the man doing behind the counter?

He is selling meat. Let us watch him.

What is the lady going up to the counter for?

To buy meat from the greasy man with the white apron.

What does she ask for?

A five pound roast of porterhouse.

What does he give her?

A seven pound roast.

Then does he charge her only for what she asked for?

No, indeed. He charges her for what he chose to give her.

Didn't the lady know what she wanted?

Evidently the man didn't think so.

Can't he tell the weight of a piece of meat when he picks it up?

Certainly he can. Otherwise he would never be able to know that he is always selling you a piece of meat several pounds bigger than you wanted.

Why does the man do this?

It is impossible to associate constantly with greasy things and not become pretty smooth yourself. Now run and play.—Baltimore American.

FISHING LINES.The Very Finest Are Those Formed From Silkworm Gut.

Silkworm gut forms the best line for fishing purposes, partly on account of its great tenacity and partly because it is so transparent. Every year a sufficient number of Spanish silkworm grubs are selected for this purpose. After they have eaten enough mulberry leaves and before they begin to spin, they are thrown into vinegar for several hours. Each insect is killed, and the substance which the grub in the natural course would have spun into a cocoon is forcibly drawn from the dead worm into a much thicker and shorter silken thread.

The threads are then placed in pure water for about four hours and afterward dipped for ten minutes in a solution of soft soap. The fine outer skin is thus loosened so that the workman can remove it with his hands. The threads must be dried in a shady place and are often bleached with sulphur vapor until they acquire the bright appearance of spun glass.—London Telegraph.

The Waiters.

Usefulness of any man or woman lies principally in the willingness back of the hands to do as well as they possibly can whatever comes their way. As a rule, it will be found that the most useless persons in the world are those who are "waiting" for something to turn up. And by the same sign it is a fact that the most useful beings are those who have taken up the first thing that came to hand and done the best they could with it. These people usually find something to their liking in the long run, too, and if this be denied them they have the good sense to learn to like what comes.

Long Flight by Night.

Nearly all small birds make their long flights by night, spending the daytime quietly feeding and resting, so that if on any day in May the trees are full of sitting little warblers it is no sign that the following day will find them still there. Some kinds, like phoebe, song sparrows, meadow larks and bluebirds, come very early—as soon as the snow is all gone and the south sloping hillsides begin to feel warm and "smell of spring."—St. Nicholas.

MRS. HAZLITT WAS HER OWN WITNESS

Woman Charged With Practicing Medicine Without a License Is Heard.

MADE A GOOD IMPRESSION

SHE SAID SHE WAS A METAPHYSICAL TEACHER AND HAD PRACTICED OVER TWENTY YEARS—TRIAL NEARS END.

Mrs. Lida Hazlitt, who is charged with practicing medicine without a license, went on the stand at the circuit court, this morning, in her own behalf and made an important witness. Indications are that the case will be finished today, thus permitting the trial of the state versus Earl T. Hall, for alleged embezzlement, to begin tomorrow, as scheduled.

Mrs. Hazlitt testified that she was a metaphysical teacher and has been practicing such treatment for about twenty-one years. She said that in administering this treatment to patients, the laying on of the hands on the body was practiced and prayer pronounced in the behalf of the person being treated. She said that in her treatment she applied the promises of Jesus Christ to the healing of the sick.

Treated Miss Mays.

Mrs. Hazlitt testified to treating Miss Lillian Mays in such a manner. She said that three treatments a day were administered and that no medicine was used.

Miss Cora Hazlitt, a daughter of the defendant, and also an attendant, was on the stand and stated that she attended to Miss Mays who came to the sanitarium about May 22, where she remained until her death, about two weeks later. Miss Hazlitt denied that whisky had been administered when the deceased was near death, or that a hot water bottle had been placed on her stomach at this time by her mother or any of the attendants. She said that the girl's parents placed a hot water bottle on her stomach when she was near death.

The state closed its side of the case yesterday with the examination of witnesses who were directly familiar with the treatment of Lillian Mays, by Mrs. Hazlitt. All of the witnesses were New Castle parties.

The attorneys most active in the case are John F. Robbins, for the defendant, and James Gavin of Indianapolis, acting for the State Medical society, on the prosecution. Mr. Gavin has been especially active in objecting to questions of defendant's counsel on direct examination.
