BURLESQUE FIGHT IS STILL RAGING

But Manager Murray Has Asked Conference Under Flag of Truce.

A MINISTERIAL MEETING

WAS HELD TODAY AND SECRETARY GOODWIN OF THE Y. M. C. A. MADE A REPORT ON THE RECENT STATE MEETING.

At the meeting of the Ministerial association this morning, the time was taken up by the report of George L. Goodwin, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., on the meeting of the state association at Kokomo last week.

The matter of the appointment of a committee to act as an aid to the police department in the inspection of shows which come to this city, came up. Discussion was held but no action taken. The ministers hope that now that they have made the suggestion that the action will come from without their organization, as they do not particularly care for the duties. A conference will be held this afternoon between a committee of the association and O. G. Murray, proprietor of the New Phillips theater. Ministers say that they do not know for what purpose the conference is to be held, it being requested by Mr. Murray.

Revival Services.

The assignment of ministers to the evening union revival services at the First Presbyterian church this week were announced and are as follows: Monday, Rev. W. N. Nelson, appeal by Rev. James; Tuesday, Rev. S. R. Lyons, appeal by Rev. J. Cook; Wednesday, Rev. R. J. Wade, appeal by Rev. Napier; Thursday, Rev. D. C. Huntington, appeal by Rev. H. Robert Smith; Friday, Rev. Kenworthy, appeal by different ministers who were engaged in the revival.

It was decided that each church should hold morning Thanksgiving services instead of holding union services as has been the custom heretofore.

A COMPROMISE MADE

After consultation lasting about three hours between John L. Rupe, attorney for the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and Henry U. Johnson, representing Bertsch and others in the condemnation proceedings instituted in the circuit court by the railroad company, both sides agreed to compromise. The figure determined upon which the company shall pay the defendants for their land is not settled, although the railroad company has made several propositions for their acceptance. The petit jury was dismissed until next Monday.

YOU NAUGHTY BOYS

Patrolman Arthur Oler broke up a lively foot ball game in the South Tenth street park yesterday afternoon. A gang of kids numbering about 15 or 20 had apparently run too much about the big games of the day previous, and bubbling over with the spirit, engaged in a little Sunday contest of their own. Residents in that vicinity, however, objected to the noise and made a complaint, to the police, who called a halt on the proceedings. Officer Oler snatched upon the ball, while the kids fled in all directions. The ball is now at police headquarters, and will be given to the first youngster who summons sufficient nerve to ask for it.

IN WHAT POSITION DID EARLHAM LAND

Coach Thistlethwaite Disputes Place Given Quakers By Critics.

HE PRODUCES HIS DOPE

AND SHOWS WHY EARLHAM FINISHED THIRD IN THE FOOTBALL RACE AND IS NOT TIED FOR THE SIXTH PLACE.

Coach Thistlethwaite of the Earlham college football team announced this morning that Earlham, after the victory over DePauw Saturday, was tied with Wabash, Purdue and Rose Polytechnic for third place in the rating of the Indiana colleges. Blaine Patton in the Indianapolis Star placed Earlham on a tie with DePauw and Butler for sixth place.

The Earlham coach bases his contention on the fact that DePauw won from Butler and Earlham won from DePauw by a bigger score than that which Rose defeated the Methodists. Of course a game with Rose would be the only definite way to decide who really has the best football squad.

What the Star Says.

The Star says that since DePauw beat Butler and Earlham beat the former, the three teams would divide honors for the sixth, seventh and eighth places, unless Wabash should lose to Butler on Thanksgiving.

The students at Earlham are still speculating on the men to comprise the all-state football team. The sporting editor of the Indianapolis News picked three all-state teams and gave three DePauw men positions but mentioning no Earlham man, for any of the three teams. The students at Earlham are therefore, suggesting that the selection to be made by "Heze" Clark should contain the name of at least one Earlham man on the all-state squad. This is Captain Stanley. Haworth the Quaker full back is also being pushed for that position on the state squad. Clark will make his selection next Sunday.

A BOY BRINGS SUIT

Earl Cotman, a twelve year old boy who was injured September 8, while attempting to cross the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at North Sixteenth street, has instituted proceedings in the circuit court for $10,000 damages. Ordinarily it is customary for a minor to bring such action by his next best friend, but Cotman alleges that he has no relatives and Judge Fox granted him leave to bring the suit.

MISS MOORE WINNER

Miss Rachel B. Moore of this city, was one of the five hundred winners in the "Heart Song" contest which was conducted by the National Magazine. Over 25,000 contributions were made. Both Correct.

A schoolmaster in Liverpool one day asked the dunce of the school some very simple questions in arithmetic. He was surprised to find that he got the right answers, and when he had finished he said to the boy, "Correct; sit down."

"Now," said the schoolmaster, "see if you have sense enough to ask me some questions."

The boy pondered for a moment and then said, "Please, sir, what would three yards of calico cost if cotton was tuppence a reel?"

"I think you take me for a fool," said the schoolmaster.

"Correct; sit down," returned the boy.—Liverpool Mercury.

CENTERVILLE HAS A DEEP MYSTERY

An Alleged Grave Discovered Near Camp of Austrian Railroad Workers.

A MURDER IS HINTED AT

IT IS CHARGED A NEGRO LABORER STRANGELY DISAPPEARED—OFFICIALS THINK IT HOLE FOR ROASTING A PIG.

With the finding of a comparatively freshly dug grave in one of the most isolated places of Center township, two hundred feet northeast of the pavilion in Jackson's park, excitement runs high among the residents of Center township, who, unable to fathom the mystery, are suspicious that another murder has taken place in the Austrian camp, located along the Pennsylvania railroad.

The grave was found Thursday evening in the ravine in Jackson's park, by inmates of the county farm, who reported the matter to Captain Jackson, who owns the park. Other than visiting the place nothing was done until Saturday, when George Moore, marshal of Centerville, was called in and an investigation made but to no avail.

Scout at the Theory.

Sheriff Linus Meredith and his deputy, Oscar Mashmeyer, were also called to the scene and scouted the theory that a murder had taken place. They made an investigation and are of the opinion that the Austrians held a jollification in the park and dug a hole in order to barbecue a hog.

However, Marshal Moore and other residents of Center township, who have visited the place are unwilling to accept the hole in the ground theory, giving several good reasons why this is improbable. Furthermore, coming as the discovery does, on the heels of the double murder in the Austrian camp, early this month, the residents are willing to believe the worst of the two suppositions.

Marshal Moore also claims that the theory of murder is given support by the mysterious disappearance of a negro workman from the Austrian camp about three or four weeks ago, and just about the time, when, in the judgment of Mr. Moore and others, the grave was made. The negro was a strapping big fellow and the only negro engaged in the gang of Austrians employed by the railroad company.

Captain Jackson, Tom Jackson and Marshal Moore opened the alleged "grave" but all that was discovered was decomposed leaves and a terrible stench. Moore, who was formerly a grave digger, hints that a body may have been in the "grave" at one time and removed lately.

WORKING FAST ON NEW HOSE HOUSE

West Side Building Will Be Finished by Time Contract Calls For.

MEANS ANOTHER COMPANY

NONE OF THE PRESENT DEPARTMENTS WILL BE LOCATED IN THE NEW BUILDING—WEST SIDERS ARE PLEASED.

Work on the west side hose house, which is being erected at the corner of West Fifth and Lincoln streets, is being pushed with all possible haste. The foundation is about completed and by the terms of the contract, the building must be finished by May 1, 1910. Unless the winter is very severe the structure will be completed by the time specified, it is said.

The new hose house will be known as number 5. On the first alarm that department will not respond to calls east of the river. The department will be fitted with a complete new outfit, consisting of four firemen, a combination hose and chemical wagon and a team of horses. None of the equipment from the present hose houses will be installed in the new building, everything being new. It will be up to date in every respect and constructed along lines very similar to department No. 4, which is located at the corner of South Ninth and E streets.

Views of Fire Chief.

It is not thought the new department will be kept very busy. Fire Chief Ed Miller, declaring that he did not believe they would have to respond to more than thirty alarms a year, in view of the fact that their duties will be limited strictly to the west side. However, there have been several serious fires in West Richmond within the past year, which plainly illustrated the need of a department in that section of the city. The residents across the river have been clamoring for better protection for some time and now that their want is soon to be realized, feel much better satisfied. The erection of the building and installing of a department on the West Side is the outgrowth of a strenuous campaign which has been waged for years by the citizens in that vicinity to provide better protection against fire.
