

even if politics were not discussed or mentioned.

The story now is that Senator Aldrich called off his proposed visit to this city because of this fact. It is said that he did not care to come in at a time when the fight over the party's position on the tariff was unsettled. It is said that he believed his coming might in some manner complicate the situation and embarrass Senator Beveridge, and he did not wish to do this. It is understood now that Senator Aldrich will come to Indianapolis in a few weeks, after the state convention has been held and the platform fight has been settled. It is also given out that President Taft will probably come to Indianapolis and make a speech in a short time.

RUNS DOWN WOMAN

In Blinding Rain Storm Horse Knocks Her Down, Rides Passes Over.

INJURIES ARE NOT SERIOUS

While crossing Twenty-second and Main street, yesterday afternoon, during the storm, Miss Emma Englebrecht was struck by a horse driven by Eddie Ruch, the well known florist, living east of the city. She was knocked down and both wheels of the buggy passed over her. She sustained painful and severe bruises.

Mr. Ruch was unable to see Miss Englebrecht, as he was practically blinded by the driving rain.

Miss Englebrecht was first removed to the home of Thomas Williams and medical attention summoned. Later, she was able to be taken to her mother's home, 43 South Nineteenth street. She is employed by George H. Knoebel and Company and it was reported there today, that she was resting much easier.

MEETING OF LAYMEN

Was Held Yesterday Afternoon at the Reid Memorial Church.

FURTHER PLANS ARE MADE

The following additional persons have been appointed on the committee to complete the organization of the laymen's movement: Mr. F. F. Riggs, C. E. Thomason, J. D. Foss, W. S. Taylor, G. L. Goodwin, E. G. McMichael, Chas. S. Farnham, Benjamin Johnson, Dr. L. C. Hoover, H. C. Haselemer, Geo. H. Knoblenberg, Mr. Mumbrum, Lee Eader, Lee B. Nusbaum, A. H. Bartel, J. O. Barber, John Taylor, B. B. Myrick, Richard Sedgwick, Caleb King, Sheridan Mills. These, together with those previously appointed on the executive committee, will meet tomorrow evening, at the Commercial club rooms for conference.

Tickets to the Indiana convention are in the hands of E. B. Haas, and can be obtained from him at any time but it will be necessary to send in name before Thursday evening to insure a seat at the banquet table in Tomlinson Hall.

The preparatory meeting, to the convention of Sunday, April 17, held at Reid Memorial church, yesterday afternoon, was attended by a large number. Addresses were delivered by Prof. Elbert Russell of Earlham College and J. N. Feasey of Indianapolis. An exceptionally interesting musical program was rendered.

UNIQUE WINTER PLOWING.

Snow Plowed Under is Said to Be "the Poor Man's Manure."

Most farmers unhitch and turn in when snow begins to fall, but here we have a picture of a Vermont man who finished his fall plowing after the ground was well covered with the whiteness.

Snow has been called the poor man's manure because it washes into the atmosphere as it falls some nitrogen in the form of nitrate of ammonia and sometimes nitric acid. The atmosphere contains varying amounts of these substances, but in very minute quantities. Just after an electrical storm the quantity is increased, as the electricity converts some of the free nitrogen of the atmosphere into these available forms. There are more nitrates and ammonia salts in the atmosphere near cities than in the country, as these substances are found in the escaping smoke of factories.

Rains and fogs and even hail wash the atmosphere of nitric acid and ammonia salts. After a dry spell a heavy shower will contain sometimes comparatively large quantities of these substances, and a late snow in the spring of the year, when the weather has been previously dry, will contain probably a larger quantity than even a rain, for the reason that the snow is more finely divided than the raindrops and washes the atmosphere more completely.

There are annually brought down in rains, snows and dews about nine to ten pounds of nitrogen available for plant food to the acre. This, if bought in the form of commercial fertilizers, would cost, say, $1.75. I assume, therefore, says M. A. Scovell of the Kentucky experiment station, that is why snow is called the poor man's manure, as it at least assists in bringing this much available nitrogen to the soil.

Jeffries Has Left Los Angeles to Start Training at His Camp.

IN SPLENDID CONDITION

(American News Service) Los Angeles, April 4.—Jim Jeffries has said good bye to Los Angeles until after the battle of the century, and is today speeding northbound for San Francisco. He was accompanied by Mrs. Jeffries, his two nephews, Roy Boyer and Russell Kiesel, the pet dog of the family and four trunks and a hat box. He will remain in the bay city less than 24 hours and, Tuesday night will find him in his camp in the Santa Cruz mountains.

Jeffries' last day in Los Angeles was a quiet one. There was a family reunion, at which both of Jeffries' parents were present, at his mother's house near his own residence, where the champion's intimate friends came to say goodbye.

For fifteen minutes previous to the departure of the train, the big fellow held a reception on the station platform.

"I never felt better in my life," Jeffries said, and his appearance bore out the statement.

"It's going to be a tough fight for me, all right," said Jeffries. "Nobody has ever been able to make the ding come to him and I expect to have to take the fight to him and do all the fighting. Talk about the fight being strung out for the benefit of the moving pictures is all nonsense. I am going to finish it just as quick as I can. The pictures will take care of themselves."

The only feature of Jeffries' condition which gives his friends an uneasiness is a bad cold which the former champion has had for some time. He went to Mount Whitney expecting to get rid of it, but it has stuck to him faithfully. Otherwise Jeffries' condition is such that when he gets into regular training he will probably round into his old time form.

FIRST LOCAL GAME

In one of the first games of the season on local lots, the Nationals defeated the Swastikas, yesterday afternoon, on the Beavlyview diamond by the score of 11 to 2. The Nationals have dated several out-of-town games and are also making arrangements to play local organizations. The game yesterday was called at the end of the eighth owing to rain. The score by innings and batters was:

Nationals 1 2 1 3 0 2 2 0 x—11
Swastikas 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 x—2

Hits: Nationals, 11; Swastikas, 6.

Errors: Nationals, 4; Swastikas, 7.

Batteries: Stegman and Hawekotte, Van Zant and Helmig.

Memphis Bugs Disappointed Because Many of Stars Were Absent.

FIGHT NEARLY STARTED

Memphis, Tenn., April 4.—Members of one division of the Detroit baseball team, including Donovan, Crawford, Mullin, Killian, the Joneses, Schmidt, and others who have helped to win three pennants were again subjected to taunts and howls of criticism Sunday from dissatisfied baseball fans who expected to see the regular team, including Ty Cobb.

In addition the Tigers under command of Wild Bill Donovan, suffered their third defeat in four days by a score of 4 to 1, and by a general display of lifelessness and muffed fly balls that came as easy chances were accused of hippodroming by irate southern fans.

Mullin and Killian worked hard, but the reported dissension among the fielders on account of Manager Jennings' splitting the star squad, taking one half west and sending the other half in this direction, was apparent. Davy Jones taking the lead by "crabbing" at local spectators and players.

The affair almost ended in a battle when Pitcher Frits of the locals took exception when Jones accused him of an intentional aim at Jones's head with a pitched ball. Ty Cobb wired Donovan that he would join the squad in Louisville on Wednesday.

WINSHIP TO SPEAK

Noted Educator Will Lecture Before Teachers of Public Schools.

WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW

Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the Journal of Education, of Boston, Mass., will arrive in Richmond tomorrow for the purpose of visiting the schools and delivering a lecture to the teachers at the Garfield school building in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. The public, who are interested are cordially invited to attend the lecture.

Dr. Winship is well known in Richmond, having frequently visited here. He has not been in the city for the past three or four years, however, and his return tomorrow is being looked forward to with pleasure by his many local friends. Dr. Winship is regarded as one of the foremost educators of America and is a lecturer of very marked ability.

The injured girls leaped from the windows on the second floor.

Those who jumped sustained broken limbs and internal injuries. The cause of the explosion has not been learned.

INSPECT THE PLANS

At the meeting of the county commissioners, today, plans for new quarters for the women and for a kitchen and dining room at the county infirmary, were reviewed, but no final action taken. Dr. J. E. King, county health officer, was before the board and told of the necessity of some action being taken, intimating that unless the ward was made sanitary he would condemn it and thus compel the county commissioners to construct another.

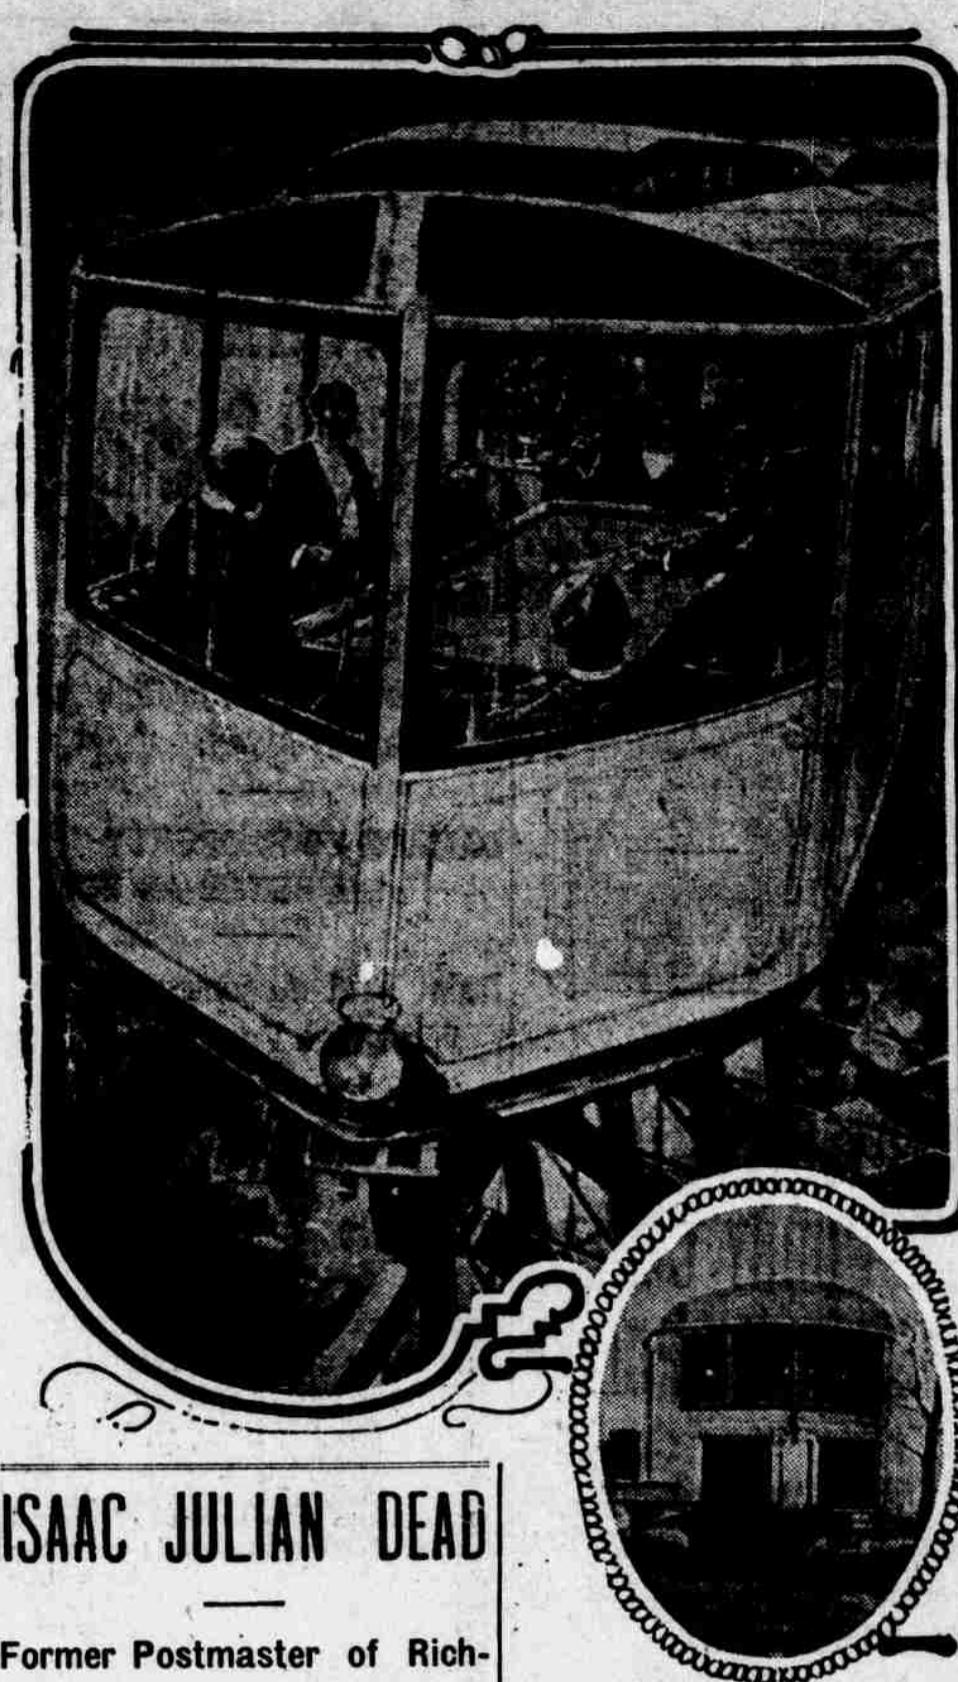

A WOMAN SUICIDED

CHAS. KOLP DIES

AT TRENTON, N. J.

Expires from Pneumonia After

Being Ill for Only a Short Time.

WAS A VERY POPULAR MAN

PROBABLY THERE WAS NO BETTER KNOWN MAN IN THE CITY—WAS IN THE EAST VISITING HIS SISTER.

After an illness of five days with pneumonia, Charles Kolp, aged 42 years, a prominent resident of this city, died Saturday night at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. S. Beattie, in Trenton, N. J. The body will arrive from Trenton tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and will be taken to his late home, 326 North Tenth street. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

For over seventeen years Mr. Kolp was a clerk in the shoe store now owned by Charles Feltman, with the exception of a few months when he clerked in a store owned by Frank Correll. He was very popular among a large circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the county. Always with a cheery word and a smile for every one, his pleasant and agreeable manner made him extremely popular, not only among those with whom he transacted business, but in social life as well.

Entered Clerk Race.

The deceased entered the race for county clerk at the republican primary last fall, but dropped out because of failing health. He went to Martinsville to recuperate from a nervous breakdown and returned several weeks later, much improved. However, his health began to fail again and about three weeks ago he decided to visit his sister in Trenton, in the hopes that the change would improve his condition. He contracted a case of pneumonia last Tuesday and on Friday his condition became so alarming that word was telegraphed to his wife in this city to hasten to her husband's bedside, as his death was only a matter of a very short time. Mr. Kolp died before the arrival of his wife.

The deceased was born at Union City and came to Richmond about 21 years ago, engaging in the shoe business. Shortly after taking up his residence in this city, he was married to Miss Gertrude Paxton. For the past few years both the deceased and his wife had become particularly well known among the younger society folk of Richmond by conducting, each winter a select dancing school.

Besides his wife, the deceased is survived by one daughter, Elizabeth; four brothers, Alvin of Fort Recovery, Ohio, Howard and James of Greenville, Ohio, and Bert of Union City; four sisters, Mrs. Charles Beattie of Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. Thomas O'Brien of Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Maud Crinell of Ohio, and Mrs. Lottie Denson of Union City.

Mr. Kolp was prominently affiliated with the fraternal organizations of the city, being a member of the Elks of Richmond, the Lodge of Masons and the order of Red Men. His sudden death is the occasion of deep regret in these societies.

There is no medicine so safe and at the same time so pleasant to take as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup. It is a specific cure for all diseases arising from stomach trouble. The price is very reasonable—50c and $1.

J. P. MORGAN CANNOT UNDERSTAND DAUGHTER

Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the greatest promoter of the United States, J. Pierpont Morgan, who is an object of the greatest curiosity to her millionaire father, because of the radical stand she has taken in favor of labor unions. Miss Morgan recently spent several days in the stockyard district of Chicago trying to form a national union of workingmen and women, the nucleus of which she selected from those who attend the stockyard settlement house. "I believe in unionism; it ought to be taught in schools," says Miss Morgan.
