Miss Edna Johnson, Daphne McKrill, whose propensity for mischief exposes the theories.

Mrs. J. H. Coffin, The play was written by members of the club.

RECITAL THIS EVENING.

The public is most cordially invited to attend the recital to be given this evening in the First English Lutheran church, by members of the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. No admission fee will be asked. Mr. Louis Frederick Haslanger, a celebrated baritone, will sing. The violin numbers will be played by Johannes Miersch. He comes well recommended. A dispatch from the Washington Post says:

"Mr. Miersch scored a complete triumph. He is an artist, and he has besides a magnificent instrument, which aids him in his excellent work. He was spontaneously recalled and gave the most delightful rendering of a serenade, into which he threw brilliant and exquisite cadenzas and embellishments, which removed the performance far from the usual one, displaying his brilliant and delicate technique."

Especial interest is being manifested in the concert pianist, Mr. Emiliano Renaud. The Morning Times of Ontario says:

"His playing was par excellence, the delicacy and clearness of his touch being shown up well in the rapid passages. His work is that of a gifted, well-trained musician. His technique is superb, and his wonderful temperament, colossal power, together with his rare poetic coloring, are most noticeable. His runs, trills, staccato and octave passages are all amazing exhibitions of the finest piano development, combined with which he possesses to a marked degree a warm personality that at once puts him in touch with his audience."

This affair will conclude the Y. M. C. A. lecture course for the season.

AFTERNOON TEA.

An afternoon tea was given Tuesday at four o'clock, by Mrs. Ray K. Shively at her home on South Fourteenth street, in honor of Miss Josephine Cates, who will be married Thursday evening to Mr. Herbert Lahr of Evansville, Indiana. The rooms presented a most attractive appearance, with artistic decorations of Easter lilies, sweet peas and apple blossoms. In the dining room, where the guests were served at five o'clock, sweet peas
